NATURAL HISTORY NOTEBOOK

STAR-NOSED MOLE

CONDYLURA CRISTATA

Like others of its kind, the star-nosed mole is very peculiar in addition to its star-shaped, its plastic shaped hands together with its fascinating motion of its compressed body. It conducts its network of tunnels in soil or just beneath the surface, but above the water table. Its nostrils are made of chondrils and other cartilage.

Found over most of eastern Canada as far north as James Bay this animal is about 10 cm (4 inches) long, of which 5 (2 inches) is tail. The tip of the snout is expanded into a fleshy pink disc, which supports 21 finger-like cartilages or bristles and which give this creature its name.

Active for 10 months of the year, it spends a good deal of its time in the water where it is in the summer and has often been observed swimming under the ice in winter. The star-nosed mole preys on worms, insects and crustaceans. It has few natural enemies but sometimes falls prey to the Great Horned Owl and to some of the larger fish.

Killam couple wed 59 years

On Sunday, May 21, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Erickson of Killam celebrated their 59th wedding anniversary at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Myrtle and Glen Roggemack of Lougheed.

The day was also a happy birthday celebration, as Mrs. Ted Erickson was 77 years old.

In attendance were Gill and Irene Erickson of Edmonton (their oldest son), and Mrs. Helen Kelsdorfer of Calgary, their oldest daughter. Mrs. Kelsdorfer arrived on Friday to spend a couple of days with her sister Myrtle and together they made ready for the big day.

Irene Erickson brought two beautifully decorated cakes for the occasion.

Also attending were Helen and Ron Tustin and family, Ardis and Bruno Bihault and boys of Sedgewick, Bob and Pat with little Kelly of Lougheed, all grandchildren and great grandchildren of Judith and Ted.

An afternoon of music and visiting was spent, and then everyone enjoyed a lovely turkey supper. Congratulations and best wishes, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Erickson and may you have many more.

Committee members gave reports of their activities throughout the year. There was the first call for nomination of officers. Plans were made for the official visit of Assembly Vice President on June 14. Lodge closed in harmony, after which a delicious lunch was served by Sisters Cookson and Johnson.

Rain enemy of Highway 36

Rain was the biggest contributing factor to the deterioration of a portion of Highway 36, said Al Fossen, foreman of Regional Transportation Services out of Killam, May 29.

The stretch of Highway 36 affected by over two inches of rainfall is located about 12 miles before the town of 18 and has been a bone of contention for some residents of the area who think the road should have been had topped many years ago.

The grade on this quarter mile stretch of highway was raised approximately five feet late in the fall of 77. Unfortunately, the material used for that work had an excessive moisture content which caused it to wash away.

Texans visit
Hugenheden ranch
Mr. and Mrs. G.A.N. McFadden of the Plum Nearly Ranch, Beaumont, Texas, together with Lorne A. Cameron of Winnipeg, Keith and Betty Williams of Telford, Allan and Cheryl Glover of Edmonton and Jim Stevens of Austin, Texas took time out of a busy schedule on Saturday, May 20 to stop at the Burpee Ranch near Hugenheden. They were all in the Wainwright area in connection with Durks Unlimited and the unveiling of a cairn in recognition of the completion of the Ribstone Creek Development Project, a multimillion dollar project in which the McFadden family were major contributors.

Mr. and Mrs. McFadden were anxious to see Mrs. Burpee's fine old Arabian stallion, Khern, and his band of brood mares and their foals. They liked what they saw.

As Mrs. McFadden said, "When Arabian owners meet we always have such a lot to talk about."

The McFaddens are relative newcomers to the breed but their horses share various common ancestors with the Burpee Arabians. They are looking forward with enthusiasm to also being breeders of horses with superior quality and type.

While at the ranch the Durks Unlimited folks had a quick look at the muck oven. "Now that's something we couldn't show you in Texas," said Mr. McFadden.

FOCUS ON DAYSLAND

Recreation participation high

Possibly one of the most distinctive features of the town of Daysland is the near central location of the golf course. As the town grows around the eastern and southern perimeters of this carefully tended area, a beautiful green space is being preserved for the future. Even now it provides easy access to the club and course and satisfies the eye and human need for space to walk and reflect. Come the first snows and the skidoo and cross country skiing enthusiasts replace all the golfers.

Downtown the curling rink, the covered arena, the community center and playing field space for two baseball diamonds forms the core of the Centennial Park recreation area. In terms of sport and community support, Canada's national sport is Daysland's.

The Minor Hockey Association has developed a hockey program at all levels from Mites to Seniors, for boys, girls and adults. The Daysland Pee Wee, Bantam and Midget teams have made fairly successful showings in provincial play-offs and the Daysland North Stars are the leading team of the Battle River League.

The whole layout and continuing development of sports and athletic facilities has been furthered by the high level of cooperation between the Agriculture Society and the Recreation Board in the areas of grant sharing and general planning.

Along with the use of these facilities, the school gymnasium used extensively in the winter months for the extra-curricular sports program which involves teachers, students and community individuals in coaching and competing in sports like volleyball and basketball.

Here too, meets the Daysland Birdies, a group of badminton enthusiasts.

Along with the Recreation

Board's excellent record for encouraging participation with in the Adult Education Program and the opportunities that people have to get together as spectators at anyone of several sports events that are likely to be happening on a winter evening, Daysland provides remarkable opportunity for social interaction in a variety of establishments.

The Community Centre, another Lions Club contribution, offers the auditorium, a dance floor, bar, club rooms and kitchen facilities.

Named after citizen

Daysland got its name from E.W. Day, one of the prominent citizens of its earliest history. He built a fine large house here in 1905 which was bought in 1972 by Mrs. Maxine Fraser who restored it to much of its original beauty. It is now a showplace and attracts many visitors.

One is aware of on going activity in the town - renovations, people building homes, garages etc. but the total picture, we think is rather attractive.

In 1975 and 1976 there have appeared a total of sixteen residences on site construction: twelve mobile homes, fifteen garages, one private swimming pool, and eight additions to existing homes, one restaurant (Bia's Steak House), a ten room motel, one large wedding shop, a C.P.R. tower, Plumbing, Heating and Electrical shop, and a shop for small engine repair and sales. Extensive interior renovations took place in the Roman Catholic Church, with beautiful golden cedar on ceiling and around the altar and P.A. system.

In 1977 there is to date a 4+1/2 apartment under construction, additions to and remodeling of curling rink facilities, and six residences being built - also several garages.

Extensive restoration and renovation have been completed at the Daysland Elementary

Daysland medical facilities advanced

One of the principal industries in Daysland, the provision of medical services to the community and surrounding area for miles around is facilitated by the presence of hospital services in the town since 1909. The Daysland General Hospital first opened under the auspices of the Sisters of Charity and after 60 years of commendable service to the Flaxstaff Hughesdon Hospital Board assumed responsibility running and maintaining of the present modern 30 bed hospital facility.

In 1976, new X-ray equipment was installed and in terms of health programs, a special emphasis has been placed upon mental health with the services of a family counsellor now available. The hospital employs a nursing staff of 24, a diagnostic and therapeutic staff of five plus an administrative and support staff of 24.

The Daysland Medical Centre, offices three doctors, provides doctor appointment services and also basic medical attention and minor surgery in lesser emergency and treatment situations. There are three resident doctors. The most recent addition arriving five years ago.

Their longtime residence in the town, the most senior has lived in Daysland for twenty some years, contributes greatly to their effectiveness.

In addition to extensive physician, surgery and medical-examiner services, a 24 hour emergency service, offers hours six days a week, these three men and their families contribute much to their community in areas other than medicine.

The present clinic has a support staff of four and seeing that the needs of the public, plans have been drawn up and presented to the government for approval. As soon as the government agencies involved present their okay, construction will begin on a new building which will be situated on Main and 52nd Street, just south of the Crystal Villa apartment block.

Pharmaceutical services in Daysland are as old as the town itself. The first druggist was owned by J. Heber Burrows who served for many years on town council and as mayor.

Sam Lianek, present owner and principal pharmacist at the S&S Pharmacy maintaining this tradition of community service, currently completing his first term as mayor. Up until 1974, the needs of the community were met by two pharmacists; however, since 1974 the professional staff numbers three with a support staff of six.

The pharmacists and their work in Daysland have been used as a model, hosting a workshop on Pharmacy Services in Small Hospitals, at which 22 individuals associated with pharmacy in central and northern Alberta participated in a full day seminar of assessment and discussion. Projections on pharmaceutical services include the establishment and use of a computerized patient profile system providing the pharmacist with instant data on the patient's medication history thereby assisting him in determining possible negative or harmful response by the patient to various medications.

In Forestburg there's some recreation for everyone.

FOCUS ON FORESTBURG

Year round recreation available

The residents of Forestburg can be active all year round. In winter the Arena is the popular place. Recently the Arena Association had a bingo to raise money for proposed artificial ice and are now having a car rally.

There are three ball diamonds where there's lots of excitement, especially on Sports' Day.

Forestburg has a recently constructed tennis court. An outdoor swimming pool is located near the school, being open from May to early September.

The Lion's Club sponsors Forestburg's two playgroups with swings, merry-go-rounds, teetertots, and slides. There is also a large playground at the school.

Many residents enjoy the Gun Club about six miles south of town.

A Games Room is situated in the Dairy Bar. This is a play area with ping pong, a jukebox, and an air hockey game. This room keeps many young people active on day of the week.

The Forestburg Community Band has been in existence for several years. This prize winning band has a membership varying in age range from elementary school to that of St. Cuthbert.

A senior citizen's Drop-in centre was opened on main street early in 1977. It is open six days a week, morning and afternoon. Shuffleboard, pool tables, a piano, and kitchen are among the facilities.

Every Thursday there is provision for a group gathering, and a planned entertainment is provided. A senior citizen's orchestra has been formed.

For the many curries in Forestburg, the Town and Country Centre provides three excellent sheets of artificial ice. The Provincial Mixed Bantam, sponsored by Saganaw, was held in Forestburg this year, bringing many visiting teams. It has kitchen facilities used for bonapetes and other events.

During the summer, the ice surface is converted to a dance floor. Many wedding dances as well as the Grade 12 graduation assembly have been held there.

In the building the ceramic room downstairs has a pottery's wheel, a kiln, and many molds. The ceramic club has a sale each year selling their work and displaying a number of different painting techniques and glazes.

Each Sunday morning, a pancake breakfast is served at the Town and Country Centre for anyone interested.

Just outside is a lovely 9-hole golf course.

Forestburg is prospering

How Forestburg was named is not quite clear but these theories are most accepted: 1) An old timer coming from Forestburg, South Dakota, in the late 1800's or 1900's named it after local herds; 2) There was also supposed to be a Forestburg in Ontario from where one or two old timers came; or 3) In 1915, when the CN Railway was built there, the Post Office, located approximately two and a half miles south of the village was called Duxbury. Partly because the name Duxbury was not appropriate and partly because many children cross on their way to school.

The small but friendly village of 800 people are mostly Alberta Forestry employees who move often but in spite of that signs of growth are appearing. The first traffic light was installed to slow traffic near the intersection at the subdivision where many children cross on their way to school.

With these developments we must conclude that the village is official growing.

Forestburg's newest and pre-eminent business is the Treasury Branch and Courthouse. Opening in the spring of 1978, the large brick building is of modern architecture. Driven testing takes place here. The district agriculturist, a social development worker and a home economist come to the Provincial Building twice a week.

The first station located on Main St. holds three fire trucks. They are manned by volunteers. Next door to it is Dr. Kinnear's office. He works in St. Joseph's Hospital in Graveland.

The R.C.M.P. have two or three officers stationed here patrolling Forestburg, Hilder, Alliance and Graveland.

There are four churches for spiritual needs. Forestburg has a Kindergarten and three schools: the Elementary, the Junior High, and the Senior High. A teaching staff of about 30 teachers 300 to 400 students.

Forestburg has a library too, looked after by the Eastern Star Ladies. There are many shelves filled with books.

All these facilities make Forestburg a fine place to live.

Articles collected by Glen Carby and Lou Huxson.

These two people, in a joint effort, have given the people of Forestburg and area a truly memorable tribute. Glen and Lynne are both contributors of the Flaxstaff Creative Writers Club.

Town offers many attractions

Forestburg has many attractive businesses which draw people from all over the country and province.

They have 6 service stations, one of which includes a body shop and towing service. There are two groceries, a ladies' and children's clothing store, a men's wear, a ladies' and children's shoe store, a hardware, lumber yard, Simpson's order office, a bakery, 3 car dealerships and 2 plumbing, heating and gas fitting establishments.

In addition they have an electronics and TV shop, sheet metal business, transit, mix, stained cedar, and a variety of 4 transport, a car wash, drug store, 4 hardware stores, 2 banks, a theatre, a blacksmith shop, a flower and plant and food mill. The Alberta Liquor store is a clean modern store with a good selection of merchandise.

Increased water storage facilities, up to 300,000 gallons, and fortification of the water supply are planned for the near future.

A new wet subdivision is being developed. Where only one house stood 2 years ago now streets and cross streets are visible with provisions for houses, trailers and mobile homes.

A hotel with tavern, a 25 unit motel and 8 restaurants, mix, stained cedar, and a variety of 4 transport, a car wash, drug store, 4 hardware stores, 2 banks, a theatre, a blacksmith shop, a flower and plant and food mill. The Alberta Liquor store is a clean modern store with a good selection of merchandise.

Power plant major

The Alberta Power Plant is located ten miles south-west of Forestburg. A staff of 75 full-time workers are employed in the operating and maintenance departments with staff on construction projects.

To illustrate the enormous size of the plant, there are two major stacks, one weighing 2,000 tons at 400 feet above the ground, and the other at 480 feet, weighing 4,000 tons.

The station has four generating units with a generating capacity of 960 megawatts, 460,000 H.P.

The fuel to feed the plant is coal from two coal companies near by. The plant can receive up to 1,000 tons of coal per hour and at full load, will consume 5,000 tons a day.

In 1956, the year the plant was opened, the dam was completed. It created a water reservoir of 750 acres of surface area. The plant needs 90,000 gallons of cooling water per minute.

Plans are now being made for future construction of a fifth unit with a capacity of 975 megawatts. The completion is set for the early 1980's.

The Society was incorporated in March, 1976. It is dedicated to the preservation of the local heritage.

It's main achievement to date has been the publishing of a local history, "Early Developers", authored by Merton Shillinglaw.

A book-launching night was held April 9, 1977 with a varied program, ribbon cutting cere

Coal mine important to community

The Forestburg Collieries Coal Mine is located six miles south and four miles west of the village.

The coal mine, constructed in 1949, was built to handle the heavy amount of coal the Power Plant demanded. The underground mines were too small and not capable of keeping up with the growing power plant.

Three stripers (two above and one dragline) are now in operation to dig the coal. The larger shovel's size is thirty cubic yards, the dragline: eleven cubic yards. Four thousand tons of sub bituminous C coal is trucked to the Power Plant daily.

Approximately fifty-five workers are employed at the coal mine. More staff is added for construction projects such as the new dragline, presently being built under a large dome-shaped building.

For reclamation of land, many other machines are operated. There are three loaders, six trucks, four cats, a grader, a water truck, and a TS-24 scraper, in use. There is also a fill of farm machinery as well.

For conservation purposes, the first ten or so inches, or top soil, is removed. The land is then stripped for coal below.

After the coal is extracted, the top soil is replaced, smoothed over, and grass and legumes are planted for a couple of years. The soil is then ready for cereal crops or trees.

FOCUS ON HEISLER

Heisler is an agricultural service village located in the south-west corner of the County. This area is particularly noted for its dairy farming and travelling in any direction one can come across fine herds. Twelve miles north on a paved road connects Heisler to Highway 13 and Dayland. Six miles south and six miles east on a paved surface connects it to Forestburg.

"A line of the Canadian National Railway passes through Heisler as at connects Camrose with Alliance to the south east of Heisler. This railway travels for the entire distance of sixty miles without a curve. It is reported to be one of the longest perfectly straight sections of railroad in the entire Dominion." From Leaves of the Parkland - History of Heisler, Alberta, compiled by Heisler Junior High History Classes, 1971.

The beginning of Heisler was in 1913 when a post office was set up with the mail being brought from Wetaskiwin. The first postmaster in Heisler was Zachewski. A post office called Sigmars was established a little earlier on John Raider's farm but this was closed when Heisler was established. The first store soon followed. The site chosen for these first buildings was north of the present village. When the rails came, they left little room for expansion on the original site because of the presence of a large slough just to the north. This move was dictated and accomplished to the present site which was on the homestead of Martin Heisler and hence the name of the new settlement." (From Leaves of the Parkland - History of Heisler, Alberta, compiled by Heisler Junior High History Classes, 1971).

The people who settled in the Heisler area were predominantly of the German Catholic origin. They built large two-story houses to raise their large families and many of these beautiful structures still stand, their attics an antique lover's delight. You are still able to see some living room windows with the top floor in stained glass panels.

Heisler is a friendly community where a newcomer is soon made to feel welcome. On the very day we had moved into our new home we were surprised by a knock on the door. We opened it to find the neighbor had sent over a freshly baked batch of cinnamon buns. This kind neighbor continued to keep us supplied with mince and carrots and other garden produce throughout the rest of the summer. It is several years since we have moved but I will never forget our first day in Heisler. Whenever I hear of town friendships, I think of Heisler.

Fire department efficient

Everyone in Heisler knows that Fire Prevention Week is in October. Every year the Fire Chief makes a house-to-house inspection giving all residents advice on how to prevent a fire starting in their own homes. Heisler has 2 fire engines that are kept in a relatively new fire hall on main street. The fire alarm operates on a 8-phone system, ringing in three different places, which quickly summons the volunteers. For proficiency in handling their duties, the Heisler Fire Department has been awarded the National Fire Award.

Heisler ready for expansion says Mayor

Heisler was incorporated as a village in 1961. The 1976 census shows its population to be 301 people. Its businesses include 4 elevators, 2 general stores, a hotel with a cafe, a motel, 2 hardware stores, 2 garages and 3 trucking services.

Heisler has the distinction of being one of the two communities in the County with a woman mayor. A capable administrator, Mrs. Louise Blaeser has been the mayor of Heisler since 1975. One of her most recent accomplishments and one to be proud of was getting Alberta Power to remove a huge evergreen which had the power line going right through its branches.

"Their representative couldn't believe why nobody had done anything about it a long time ago," she said. "It was a dangerous temptation for a child." Heisler can be proud of their mayor who is concerned for the safety of their children.

The past couple of years has seen several new residences being constructed in the village. In anticipation of Forestburg Collieries moving west of Heisler along the Battle River in their never-ending search for coal and the need for housing for their employees, the village council has had lots surveyed for housing on the west side of the village. "We will be ready for expansion," said Mrs. Blaeser, co-chairman of future development is that the mayor stated that there is prospects of a lumber yard coming to Heisler in the near future. Heisler is looking forward to a growing future.

Heisler mainly Catholic

One Heisler grandmother stated that she can remember when she was a little girl that there were teaching sisters at Heisler and she was sure they were there a long time before. Certainly one can say from this that since Heisler's early days the Ursuline Sisters have had a convent here. In 1900 a brand new convent was built and the old one sold and converted into a family residence. The new convent was situated directly across from the school, a modern looking bungalow style dwelling, the home of 5 teaching sisters and their cook. After 10 years of operation in the new convent the Ursuline Sisters moved it and sold the building to the County. They converted it into a three-apartment unit.

Christian Doctrine is still taught at the Heisler School with the parents carrying out the teaching duties.

Heisler and district support 3 Catholic churches: St. Martin, which stands at the extreme south end of main street; St. Peter, about 6 miles east and 1 mile north; and St. Boniface, 6 miles to the north at Spring Lake. The community was dedicated in May by the loss of their parish priest, Father Schmecker of Spring Lake. About 780 parishioners, friends and relatives paid their last respects in an outdoor mass at St. Boniface Church, Spring Lake. St. Martin Parish is now being served by the Priest from Heisler.

Sausage famous

"Hello. Do you have any Heisler sausage?" a traveller inquires at Jodi's General Store. The proprietress beams and cheerfully replies, "We sure do." An opened freezer reveals a mound of brown paper-wrapped parcels. "Mmm, I can smell that sausage cooking. Whenever we are near here, we try to pick some up," the traveller explains. Every family of German descent in and around Heisler has its own recipe for making this delicious tasting sausage which is proudly served to visitors.

The meat is ground, various secret spices in the right proportions are added and mixed in and this sausage mixture is stuffed into casings with the help of a machine called a sausage filler. The sausage are smoked in the smoke house for about 10-15 minutes to blend the flavor and it is now ready to cook.

That many people do come and eat Heisler Sausage is proven by the tremendous success of the C.W.L. Annual Sausage Supper which is held the last Sunday in October. The women are busy preparing 900 pounds of sausage in anticipation of 700 people. As many as 870 have been served. Former Heislerites, relatives and friends from as far away as Edmonton and Calgary return to Heisler for an evening of a delicious meal and meeting of old friends. Sausage to take home is sold at the supper but lovingly it is sold out long before the last person is served. Next time you are in Heisler, buy some sausage. You will come back for more!

FOCUS ON GALAHAD

Formerly the old railway station site, turned into a lovely park area.

Galahad finds new community spirit

When a town nearly dies, it's not just the buildings that get run-down. People lose heart too. They stop fixing up their properties but they also stop supporting clubs and organizations. They lose pride in their community and its activities and soon the activities cease. And sometimes it seems that only a miracle can reverse the trend.

Maybe that's what happened to Galahad. But maybe it's just the concern and hard work of some very determined residents. Certainly things are happening there now that weren't a few years ago.

For example, a Lions Club was formed 3 years ago. In the time since, they have already taken over the community hall and renovated it, purchasing the materials themselves and hiring workers under the government L.I.P. program.

The Lions have also built 2 ball diamonds on the school grounds. As a result, a men's football team and several junior teams have been organized and now use the diamonds regularly.

Some 25 to 30 Senior Citizens have gotten together, rented a vacant building on Main Street from the Village Council, and established a Senior Citizens Drop-In Centre housing recreational and social facilities.

Even the teenagers are getting into the act. A new youth group has begun under the co-ordination of the Flagstaff Preventive Social Services office and the young people are beginning to plan their own functions.

Within the last 2 years, a public library has been established. At the moment it is operating in conjunction with the school library but there is talk of it moving to a separate location when its current 3 year contract with the school is completed.

The Flagstaff Further Education Council has been induced to offer courses at Galahad and last winter saw the school open its doors for adult classes in Upholstering, Blue Jean Sewing, Cake Decorating and Social Dance.

And speaking of the school, perhaps it provided the spark for the greatest growth in community spirit. At one point last year the school seemed in danger of being closed down. A school official even made a comment that Galahad residents didn't seem to care what happened to their school. That did it. The citizens were incensed. The coffee shop became the center of heated discussions and people grew determined to show the world that they did care.

Letters were written. Meetings were held. Government officials were contacted. Even T.V. and radio stations were enlisted in the fight for the school. And the residents won at least a partial victory. The school remains open, perhaps with one less teacher, but still offering grades 1 to 8.

But more important than the actual victory is the force of the community spirit that grew out of it. Galahad is a village with a lot of it now.

Medical facilities good

For a town of only 184 population, Galahad boasts excellent medical facilities. With a resident doctor, a county ambulance and a 50 bed hospital, the community is exceptionally well served.

Dr. T.A. Kerne divides his practice between Galahad and Alliance, where he holds office hours two days a week, but his patients in both villages are served by St. Joseph's Hospital in Galahad.

Run by the Sisters of St. Joseph, the Galahad hospital is a particular source of pride for the local people. The hospital has recently achieved accreditation which means that it has met the tough safety, health care, cleanliness, employee and managerial standards set by the Canadian Council on Hospital Accreditation. This is a much sought after honor which many small hospitals across Canada have not yet achieved.

The Ambulance service in Galahad is also worthy of note. Manned by volunteers, it offers emergency transportation to the Galahad hospital or to larger hospitals in Camrose and Edmonton when necessary.

Galahad is a good place to live

Why would anyone want to move to Galahad? Because it's friendly, quiet, economical and great for kids.

That is the consensus of opinion given by the Galahad residents I spoke to.

Certainly the villagers are friendly and helpful to strangers as I can testify. They are also supportive of all community activities and events such as the recent Blood Pressure Clinic where an exceptionally high percentage of the residents turned out.

There is no doubt, either, that it is economical to live in Galahad. Lots are cheap. Houses sell for much less than the inflated prices demanded in larger centers. There is a greater sense of community - hence more neighborliness and more exchanges of labour instead of demands for pay for every favor.

And a great place for kids? Well, kids will have a new playground shortly. They can skate, play hockey, football or curl. They can attend meetings of the Merna 4-H club of the newly established Youth Club. But best of all, they can play anywhere in town and parents know that they get into trouble, someone will know them and get them out of it or call the parents so they can. And that is good to know.

Articles submitted by Sharon M. Chevrux.

A member of the Flagstaff Creative Writers, Mrs. Chevrux has successfully illustrated the Galahad story.

Galahad receives facelift

"I don't believe that any small town has to die," says attractive mayor of Galahad, Mrs. Lois Brausen, and her own village proves her point.

Five years ago Galahad was dying. "It had hit rock bottom and we could only go up," Mrs. Brausen states.

The village had acquired several vacant, run-down buildings through tax recovery. They started their re-vitalization project by hiring students under the STEP program to tear them down and clean up the sites. Then they made the restored lots available to prospective residents at $1.00 per lot with the proviso that the purchasers actually use the land and pay for the servicing.

"Most of those sites now contain new mobile homes," claims Mrs. Brausen.

Of course, the village eventually had to raise their prices. Lots now sell for $100.00 plus private servicing with a further increase expected as new land now being surveyed for sale. Nevertheless, lots remain cheap and a definite inducement to anyone looking for attractive housing or business sites.

Galahad has purchased a new fire truck. After years of talking about it and saving for it, Galahad has purchased a truck and had it fitted for fire-fighting use. They are now in the process of organizing a volunteer brigade to man it, and a phone system to sound the alarm.

A second re-vitalization project of village services is also under way with the extension of sewage and water systems to more areas of the community. The present water tower, although nearly paid for, is now inadequate and decisions are pending on whether a new tower will be erected or a different system altogether will be installed.

These improvements, together with the natural gas hook-up installed almost 5 years ago, raise the level of village services to a par with much larger centers.

But the re-vitalization project didn't stop there. Residents were inspired to clean up their own properties, re-paint houses and stores and fix their yards.

"My earliest memory of Galahad is long grass everywhere," Mrs. Brausen laughs. "It's trying to do something about that."

And they have. Visitors to Galahad today are impressed with the cleanliness and beauty of well-kept homes, lawns and gardens. Even their vacant lots are kept mowed. There is ample evidence of community pride and spirit in their healthy, growing village.

FOCUS ON KILLAM

Killam is a thriving community with many amenities

Killam, named in 1906 after Judge A.C. Killam, Chairman of Railway Commission, lies near the crossroads of Highway 18 and 96 and is in the center of Prairieland Country.

It is the home of the Manitou Shrine, the largest chunk of meteorite ever recovered in Canada, and an idol revered by the Plains Indians for centuries. Killam is proud of its past and feels assured of a prosperous future.

It is well planned, attractively laid-out towns with tree-lined streets and modern residential sections. The avenues and main thoroughfares are paved. Residents take pride in their homes, gardens and flowers.

As the heart of an excellent farming community, Killam is a busy shopping center, catering to over 1,000 local residents and a trading area extending in a radius of 75 miles.

Killam has all the ordinary business outlets and boasts a few not found in all small towns such as 2 banks, 9 real estate offices, 2 major machinery depots, a photography studio, barber shop, beauty salon, car wash, tire shop, variety store, drug store, appliance and furniture store, funeral home, body shop, plumbing and sheet metal, a car dealership, real construction company, and an oil well servicing company.

Killam has a manufacturing company making Frontier Feeders, a transit mix, feed mill, and auction mart.

In addition we have the Alberta Dept. of Highways Maintenance Shop, a 5-man R.C.M.P. detachment and a Province Courthouse.

Health services for the community are provided by a dentist, two doctors, a volunteer ambulance service and a fully accredited modern hospital complex comprised of 30 bed active treatment centre and a 80 bed auxiliary. A Public Health Nurse holds a Well Baby Clinic each month and a Preventative Social Services office has recently been opened.

Killam boasts six churches, Anglican, Presbyterian, Baptist, Catholic, Pentecostal, and United.

The Anglican, Presbyterian and United Churches jointly sponsor a Community Church School during the usual school year and during the summer holidays joint church services are held fostering co-operation and understanding.

A Community Choir drawing members from many parts of the country is based in Killam. Their 80 member group, under the direction of Dr. R. Beggs, produce two fine concerts per year.

In 1976 the existing I.O.D.E. Library and the Public School Library were merged in the Killam Public School. Over 4000 books were made available and the public was invited to borrow them during school hours and at other posted times.

The Elks and Royal Purple, Old Folgers and Rebekahs are active in Killam. The Knights of Columbus are also active. The Lions have hosted a U.S. Canada ball tournament for the past 10 years. They use the proceeds to further their projects such as the children's play grounds and their latest one, Manitou Lodge, the Senior Citizens' Apartment.

FOCUS ON STROME

Strome recreation good

The building which was formerly the Legion Hut has been made into a very nice Drop-In Centre for the Senior Citizens. The Centre was started in 1975. The present membership is 50. It is well furnished with tables and chairs, a piano and a bookcase as well as other smaller articles that give it a cozy and comfortable appearance. There is also a Pool Table and a Shuffleboard.

The kitchen is well equipped with a stove and fridge and some very nice cupboards. Some of the equipment that helps to make the Centre such a useful and comfortable place to visit, was donated by interested citizens.

During the Fall and Winter seasons the Centre is open to the Public, as a Coffee Shop in Strome. It is also a place to chat with the St. Citizens and others.

Last fall the Recreation Board had an Outdoor Skating rink with all the necessary facilities. It was much enjoyed by all who like to skate or play hockey.

The winter workers are a group of active young parents. One of the most recent projects has been a Playground for the children.

The Curling Club have always been very active. They now have artificial ice in the rink. It's the best place in town during the winter when the hospitals are on.

A new avenue, 46th, running just north of J. Borge's and east to the Auxiliary Hospital will be completed in the next two months. This will open the land immediately south of it for the land north of it for a walk-in park.

This fall will see the start of other major construction jobs in town. Several more houses are scheduled to begin building before freeze-up. So is a new 20-unit motel to be located south of the Texaco station. And the spring of 1978 was the beginning of construction on the new 20,000 sq. ft. Co-op Shopping Centre. When completed, this centre will contain grocery hardware, dry goods, livestock medicine and riding tack departments plus a bakery, cafeteria, gas bar and lumber yard.

With its planned rate of growth, Killam offers valuable assets to prospective residents and businesses.

Strome industry flourishing

Strome is located in a good farming area. In 1963 the Strome Co-op Seed Cleaning Plant was built. It serves a large area and cleans up to 340,000 bushels a year. Last year some new equipment was installed and some renovations made. The Plant employs 2 fulltime workers and 1 part-time. The Seed Cleaning Plant has 488 regular customers. It is share-owned by Farmers.

Quicksilver Manufacturing Ltd. is located in Strome. It is an unusual Manufacturing Plant for a small prairie town as it manufactures fiberglass canoes. The Company started in Strome in 1973. They employ 7 persons.

Last year they manufactured 8000 canoes. Some of the canoes are shipped as far east as Thunder Bay and as far North as Whitehorse. The Company manufactures for the Link Hardware Co. Quicksilver Manufacturing Co. is the only remaining

When the Mill was operating it employed 37 people and operated day and night. The flour was shipped to China, Russia and England as well as to all parts of Canada.

It is a large building and it is three stories high. The building is still in very good condition. The equipment used when it was operating is still there, the rollers and the rows of rollers and all the other machinery used. Swedish immigrants settled area 1906

The name Strome originated from a family of Swedish immigrants that located in that area in 1906. The Railway came through Strome in that same year.

The present population is 238 persons. Strome was somewhat larger years ago but due to fire and other circumstances, it has maintained its present size for some years now. In the past few years the Village has made somewhat of a comeback, there have been several new homes built in the last few years. There has also been an addition of Mobile Homes. This year 5 new homes are being built.

The Mayor of the Village is G.C. Curtis. The Town Secretary is A.M. Pender. There are two Churches in Strome, the United Church of Canada and the Roman Catholic.

The trees that line the streets add greatly to the appearance of the town, while the natural gas, electricity and a water and sewage system make for comfort in the homes.

FOCUS ON ALLIANCE

Residents enjoy involvement

The residents of Alliance have kept involved through their many organizations. An active Lions Club helps to make this community such an enjoyable place to live. They have equipped a playground adjacent to the grocery store, so that children are safely and happily off the street, while mother shops. They also keep the hall in good repair for the many community activities held there. In fact they do so much for the community we couldn't possibly mention it all.

The Masons have a chapter in town and their meeting room is well used by many groups. The Legion are famous for their annual Mother's Day breakfast, served by the Fathers. They also work at a number of other projects such as keeping the Sports Ground in repair. The Legion Auxiliary is where the ladies do their part helping the Legion and catering to social events.

The U.C.W. are often found catering to banquets, raising money to keep a church in the town.

The WI has a long history of serving the community and is still one of the most active organizations.

Young people have opportunities to be involved too. In the two 4-H clubs they can take projects such as "cattycorn", sewing, cooking or, in the newest club, horsemanship. The youth group is another organization for Junior and Senior high school young people.

Started by Senior Citizens the Fun For All club involves both men and women and the young people.

Another organization which we must not forget is the curling club. Its executive is busy all winter keeping two sheets of artificial ice in good condition.

Arts and Crafts Club

This spring the Crochet Club which is sponsored by the WI organized the third annual Arts and Crafts show in Alliance. It was bigger and better than ever. The whole of the Rec Centre was used to display such a variety of things, one wished for no time to examine them. The Mason's lodge was filled with knitting, crocheting, sketches, tiny ornaments made of crystals most of us were able to see, ceramic, beautiful work and heirlooms. In the basement local artists displayed and sold their paintings. One was amazed at the variety and the quality of the latest display.

Just two miles off highway 36 and within easy walking distance of the scenic Battle River Valley is the village of Alliance. Bore in 1915 when the railroad was coming in, the town was named by Mr. Edwards who purchased the right of way for the Canadian Northern railroad. He asked that the town be named for his home town - Alliance, Ohio.

A drive around will convince you that the residents take pride in their town. Well cared for houses surrounded by flower beds and trim lawns make a pleasant place to visit.

So many people find it a good place to live that all homes are occupied, all serviced lots spoken for and new lots are being serviced. Among the newcomers to town are approximately six families from B.C.

Something attracted them to our little town. The friendliness of the people? The adequate water supply? The beauty of the surrounding country? Or perhaps the taxation rates which are kept surprisingly low. Apartments for Senior Citizens are being planned. Six units should be ready for occupancy by late next month. They will be located on Main Street within easy walking distance of stores. Across the street is a vacant lot which is being fixed up for the enjoyment of the apartment dwellers. A cement pad shaded by awnings will have benches. There people can sit and watch horse shows and croquet games on the lot. Plans for that lot also include the installation of a gas barbecue.

More painting is planned. Old abandoned buildings are being torn down and removed. We hear more people are coming to town so the future looks bright - Alliance will continue to grow and improve.

Thanks to the L.L.P. funds, groups have been kept busy the last few winters improving the town. Old unsightly buildings were removed. The hall has been renovated with extra washroom space. The kitchen has been recognized and now has two sinks. The hall also has a new entrance and not so noticeable but very important a fire-proofed furnace room.

New steps were built on the curling rink. At the skating rink insulation was added and the furnace room was fire-proofed. Painting finished the job. And made these much more attractive. Repair at the Sports ground was done by various groups. Backstops were replaced, fences rebuilt and the whole grounds made ship shape for the annual crowd on July 1st.

New at the grounds is a curling shed and built by L.L.P. workers and 4-H fathers. It was finished in time for the Lakehead College course in horsemanship. It was also used for the 4-H achievement day.

The latest group working are hired under the S.T.E.P. They are busy with lawn mowers and clippers keeping the boulevards neat.

Rec. Centre useful to community

Several years ago the WI, whose library meeting room was a former school house, were wishing for a building with better heating and with plumbing. The Senior Citizens in their Plan for All Club were wishing for room for their activities. The two groups began discussion and the idea of the Rec Centre grew. With help, both financial and practical, from many people the plan evolved and now the two buildings are one and no one would guess they had ever been country school houses.

Besides the library and nap-on meeting room, it is a place for Fun for All activities. On a winter evening you'll find team skating, groups playing pool, pairs playing table tennis and a couple playing shuffleboard. Others are watching or having a cup of coffee at the kitchenette or the hallway.

The Rec Centre also has a craft room with an oven for pottery and ceramics. So far they have kept the cost down to $20. per family or $10. per person for an annual membership.

Those who organize the Rec Centre are just proud of the good looking facility paid for by the community. A great asset to the town!

No shortage of activity

Feeling bored? There's lots to do in Alliance. Twice a week a movie is seen at the Rainbow Theatre. Bingo is played one evening a week in the Alliance Hall.

Summertime, you'll find lots of activity on the ball diamonds at the sports ground. In the winter the Alliance curlers are found at the curling rink, having a bonspiel or playing their regular round-robin games. Alliance also has a skating arena.

Shi fans have only to go five miles from Alliance to find the Valley Shi Club's popular hill. Last winter they installed a snow-making machine to insure the maximum of skiing. July the first is the day to be in Alliance. You're sure to meet interesting friends at the Annual Sports Day. The parade, always an exciting event, is held on the 16th. The day follows a parade, ball games, a merry-go-round, bingo, games of chance and 4-H fathers. It's the best make for good times. The whole community co-operates to make it a success.

FOCUS ON SEDGEWICK

Sedgewick made town in 1966

"I think it was in 1907" replied the secretary-treasurer, in answer to my query as to when Sedgewick came into being. He brought out the old seal and stamped it on a piece of paper. There it was "Sedgewick Incorporated 1907." So Sedgewick, named after the Honorable Robert Sedgewick (1846-1908) Justice of the Supreme Court in Ottawa 1906, began its official life as a village. So it remained until 1966 when it achieved town status.

Situated in the scenic parkland area of east central Alberta Sedgewick lies in a district of mixed farming. A town of around 825 people it is on Highway 18 about 120 miles east and south of the capital city of Edmonton. It is served by the Canadian Pacific Railway and Greyhound Bus Line.

A mayor and six councillors make up the governing body of the town and for many years now Sedgewick has been the business centre for the surrounding area. (Formerly Municipality of Flaxstaff, The County Workshop and Maintenance Building is also here.)

Unlike many towns, Sedgewick's streets and avenues are not numbered but all have names, most of them names of Canadian former politicians. Some of the streets are hard surfaced and all are cased and well maintained.

Over the years many trees have been planted, both by the town and private individuals, making Sedgewick a pleasant green made in the prairies. Many folk are ardent gardeners and smooth green lawns and colorful flowers attest to this.

Sedgewick has come a long way since those distant days of 1907 but in one respect it is the same. The friendly small-town spirit which these pioneers had is still with us as you'll find if you decide to pay us a call. Or better yet, stay awhile!

Flagstaff Lodge

In 1978 a home for Senior Citizens, Flagstaff Lodge, was officially opened. Made of single and 3 double rooms plus the usual kitchen etc. this building is all on one floor. Two outdoor gardens are featured and there's ample recreation. An administrator, maintenance man, 2 cooks, 6 housekeepers and a part time housekeeper keeps things running smoothly and there's usually a waiting list for admission.

Since its inception Sedgewick has grown slowly but surely until this past decade when it has experienced a real building boom. Most of this expansion has been to the north where a crescent of beautiful new houses are on land which was formerly part of the Golf Course. Other new houses are to be found throughout the town while a trailer park containing many fine homes lies on the northern outskirts. The lot in this park is fully serviced and are purchased by folk who wish to make their trailers their permanent homes.

In the past year the Main Street has received a face lift with some new buildings and renovations on older ones. A modern new bank building was officially opened on January 8th of this year. The Drug Store was enlarged and renovated in the spring. New buildings house a Fashion Shop, a Men's Wear Store and a Land and Insurance Office. The Sedgewick Coop officially opened their $250,000 Building Centre and Warehouse in June 1977. Also housed in a new building, a Gas Co-op's business premises.

One of the town's modern structures which is a hive of activity is the Flaxstaff County Building which was opened in April of 1968. This is the headquarters for all County business and here is where the County Councillors hold their meetings in a well appointed Council Chamber. Also housed in this spacious building are the offices of the District Agricultural and the District Health Nurse, as well as of the School Superintendent and other school officials.

Opened just this year on the northern outskirts of town were the new County Workshop and Maintenance Building. A pipe line company purchased and uses their former buildings in town.

In 1964 Sedgewick's first apartment building containing 8 suites was opened. A second apartment building, the renovated and modernized former Senior Citizens' Lodge, now contains 11 suites and 8 offices. Although some suites have been occupied since 1974 the last two were completed in 1976.

On the southern outskirts of town is a large C.I.L.I. farm implement depot and repair shop. This was opened officially on April 18th, 1976. Another farm implement depot and garage was opened in 1971.

And on entering the Town Office the other day I found that alterations and renovations have been carried out there, right where the building permits continue to be issued. So far there's no sign of a let-up in the Sedgewick Building Boom.

Activities galore

In common with most small, unique towns, Sedgewick is the home of a host of clubs, organizations and things to do. Depending on the season there are swimming, fishing, boating, water skiing (Lake Sedgewick is a mile north of town), golfing, tennis, baseball, softball, horse back riding, cycling, curling, bowling, hockey, figure skating, cross country skiing, ski-dogging, bingo, bridge, whit and crib games, ceramics and continuing education courses. There of course there are all various club meetings.

A large Community Hall on Main Street is used for dances and other functions.

Sedgewick's Library is at present housed upstairs in the Community Hall.

Sedgewick rich in water

Sedgewick is unusual, maybe unique, in the fact that when a water sewage system was installed in 1962 no water system was put in. This was because Sedgewick is blessed with an abundance of water and each house has its own well and pressure system in the basement. The engineer said that a water system for the whole town obviously was not necessary, although it was the only place he knew of where a sewage system was installed without one. In most places in Sedgewick an hour's work (or less) with a post hole auger will produce water.

In 1975 it was found that the sewage system was inadequate to serve the needs of a growing town so a new sewage lagoon and pumping station were installed, coming into operation in the spring of 1977.

Since 1966 Sedgewick has been served by a sewer owned natural gas system, so homes enjoy the same conveniences of water, sewage system, gas and electricity as do the big city inhabitants.

And businesses are heated by this method. Electricity is supplied, as it has been for many years, by the Calgary Power Company.

JULY 1ST

July 1st is Sedgewick's big Sports Day. First a Parade. Breakfast on Main Street and a Parade. Then out to the Recreation Centre for Ball Games, Horse, Pony Check and Chess. Races, games of chance, including bingo, a Beer Garden and plenty of food. Everyone seems to "come home" for the event and Sedgewick's population swells as folk visit and catch up on the news as well as enjoying the events.

Golf club still strong after 50 yrs

One of Sedgewick's major attractions is it's nine hole golf course which is a busy place from the time it's dry enough to play in the spring until the snow flies in the fall.

The original course, just north of town, was laid out in the early 1920's. Over the years continual improvements have been made. In the early years a farmer's sheep were turned onto the course to keep the grass cut but more up to date mowing methods have been used for a long time now. As the town expanded part of the Golf Course was incorporated into it for sites for new homes. So the Golf Course did its own expansion to the north.

The Centennial Year saw the building of a new Club House on which an addition is being built at this time. A feature of the summer is the Sunday morning breakfast served for a surprising low charge at the Club House. These breakfasts are open to all and many non-golfers partake of a hearty meal and a visit with friends on a fine Sunday morning.

But what makes the Sedgewick Golf Course a rarity in a town of this size is its grass greens. Membership in the Club totals around 160 at this time, ranging in age from 90 to pre-teens. I couldn't find the date of the start of the Golf Club but an older member told me that since there's been a course there's been a club.

Guest players are welcome and are happily surprised to find such a golf course in a small country town.

The tournaments held attract players from a wide area. Competition is keen with local golfers taking their share of the honors.

Such is the Sedgewick Golf Course and Club, still going strong after 50 years and improving all the time.

The Recreation Centre, the first of it's kind for a small town was opened in 1965. This houses a lot of about curling, a hockey arena, a three lane bowling alley, a snack bar and dressing and storage rooms. An Annex, Pony Check and Chess added in 1975. The spacious grounds house a baseball diamond; 8 soft ball diamonds, 20 baseball courts and a horse racing track.

FOCUS ON LOUGHEED

Lougheed history interesting

Our friendly village of Lougheed was not named after an early homesteader of the area as is often thought, but rather, by the officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who named various towns after prominent people of the time.

Thus, although the small village had been referred to as "Holmstown", it was renamed "Lougheed" after the Honorable Sir James Alexander Lougheed, Senator of the North West Territories, Counsel for the Canadian Pacific Railway Co., and grandfather of the Honorable Peter Lougheed.

Although Holmstown was apparently the Post Office address between 1890 and 1905, the name "Lougheed" existed as a place in its own right before 1908, as stated in the Edmonton Bulletin of 1905, in which Lougheed appears among the names of 1500 new towns set up since 1886. Lougheed was officially incorporated on November 7, 1911.

The friendly spirit of giving and sharing has not changed since Lougheed's early beginning. The land of opportunity - Lougheed is still small enough to be warm and friendly, and yet it is large enough to facilitate the needs of the community.

Lougheed celebrated its 54th Annual Fair on August 18, 1977, with an attendance of approximately 1400 people participating and enjoying the activities.

The day began with the pancake breakfast, followed by a Parade more colorful than ever. The marching band played on into the early afternoon.

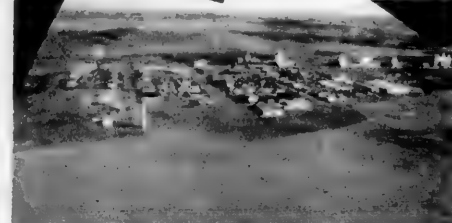

Ball games, horse judging and cattle judging began at 11:00 a.m. and carried on throughout the day.

The bingo, pet show, races and handicraft booths were carried on in the new Arena. Only a few A's emerged from all over the curling rink as everyone looked at the judges' displays of competitive bidding, flower arrangements, arts and crafts.

The tiny tots of the community spent most of the free time at the Merry-Go-Round, where who could blame them for a good long ride.

Adults and children enjoyed the antique machinery and the refreshing demonstrations and a peak through our lovely Iron Creek Museum.

The day ended in what a good many people called "the best Barbecue ever!"

Lougheed expansion in progress

Lougheed Community Hall: Construction on the Lougheed Community Hall is slated to commence during the fall of 1977, with the addition of a new basement and banquet room on the north side of the hall, parallel with the north wall of the present kitchen. Improvements will include a new front entrance containing new coat rooms and washrooms, and upgrading of the old basement area.

Application has now been made for a grant through the Department of Culture, Youth and Recreation, and plans tentatively made for application to the Department of Manpower's visitor works Local Initiative Program.

Lougheed Curling Club: With the aid of an $8,000 grant through the Department of Culture, Youth and Recreation, improvements to the local Curling Club were completed in 1976, with the installation of cemented ice in order to facilitate a longer curling season, and to make the building more serviceable to the community during the spring, summer and fall months.

Lougheed Arena: The new Lougheed Arena, which will remain under construction in 1977, with possible completion in 1978, the Arena and temporary dressing rooms were in constant use during the winter months of 1977.

Kirkness Legion: The Kirkness Legion Fight will be the financial assistance of a grant through the Department of Culture, Youth and Recreation, and a grant from the Recreational Board, will be spent on new stoves all around the kitchen in the near future.

R.F. Smith and Sons have constructed a new service centre 60 x 100, adjacent to the present Smith's Service, to be in full operation by October 31. The new building will contain office facilities as well as bays for convenient service to all the many dealers throughout the county, the building and contents are constantly restored and upgraded. Plans are being made, with the aid of a $6,000 grant through the Department of Culture, Youth and Recreation, to acquire a new gas plant east of the Town of Lougheed, constructed with the Alberta Gas Trunk Line. The compressor unit will be housed in a metal building and is designed for 30 million cubic feet daily, with Sogder pumping through the plant. The present daily consumption is 1 million cubic feet per day. The approximate cost of the 4-acre facility is $1,000,000, to open 24 hours a day and operated by Wayne Swainson and Tom Watkins. The gas line travels north of Lougheed, due east into Saskatchewan and on South into the United States.

History alive in village

If you have not browsed around the Iron Creek Museum in Lougheed, then you are in for a most pleasant surprise. Upon entering during the month of July and up to August 18th from 9:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., you will be greeted by a gracious lady, who would be very pleased to show you around the various artifacts and historical household items, antiques, hardware and farm machinery.

The history of the community is alive in every shelf, cabinet, railing and wall space. A homesteader of the 1800's would feel right at home in the furnishings of an entire house arranged and roped off at one end of the building. Lougheed newspapers from the early twentieth century would make good reading by the grandchildren, and many a household item would warm the heart of a grandparent.

Thanks to the members of the Iron Creek Museum and the many donors throughout the county, the building and contents are constantly restored and upgraded. Plans are being made, with the aid of a $6,000 grant through the Department

Senior Citizens housed

Four new Senior Citizen low-cost housing units are to be constructed in late 1977 or early 1978 by the Alberta Housing Corporation, across the street west from the present fire hall in Lougheed.

Each unit is complete within itself, and rental will fluctuate according to the monthly income of each tenant. The building will be insured by the Alberta Housing Corporation, with the tenants providing insurance for their own contents.

The purpose of Senior Citizen Housing in the small towns is to ensure that it is not necessary for a senior citizen to leave home, family and friends in order to live in a safe, modern environment.

Expansion of the present hall will necessitate re-application by the sponsoring committee, made up of the Lougheed Rebekah Lodge, the Lutheran Church, Women's Institute, the Church Women's Institute, Legion Auxiliary and Kinross Legion Auxiliary, and representatives of Town Council.

Kindergarten started

The Kindergarten is being organized in Lougheed to facilitate 15 students this fall, with a definite need for such a facility projected for three years. Mrs. Heiga Aikoff will teach the students four half days per week until the winter months, at which time the Kindergarten will continue at two full days per week.

The year has been tentatively planned by the Kindergarten executive to include parental involvement, with visits to professional, historical and athletic sites, physical activities to strengthen co-ordination, with a very definite emphasis on individual learning in specific areas.

Welcome Club active

In 1974 a group of Senior Citizens purchased the Red and White Store on main street and turned it into a "Welcome Club" for anyone over the age of 14 years. The Club, of 150 members, contains pool tables, shuffleboard, darts and ping-pong.

The club directly north of the Welcome Club is presently being upgraded for the use of the game of "kicker shoes."

FOCUS ON HARDISTY

Town has much to offer residents of all ages

The Town of Hardisty was named by officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway after the family of Belle Hardisty. In 1884 Miss Hardisty married the Honorable Sir James Alexander Lougheed, Senator of the North West Territories and Counsel for the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Hardisty is a town of opportunity for young people with big ideas. The town and its population has grown steadily since 1900, with a present population of 604 aside from the farmers in the area.

Businesses include service stations, grocery stores, hardware, a drug store, theatre, Pop Shoppe, fabric store, gun repair shop, photographer, Simpson-Sears Catalogue office, bank and taverns and a full service and cocktail lounge.

Industry is in the building of the Interprovincial Pipeline Co., the most easterly oil terminal in the Alberta corridor; Gibson Petroleum Ltd. Tank Farm, oil collection for injection into the Interprovincial Pipeline; Oil Company, underground propane storage and pumping plant and Air Agro Service, crop spraying by aircraft.

The community is served by two doctors, one hospital, ambulance, R.C.M.P. patrol, three churches, kindergartens and one school facilitating 185 students this year.

Building permits in the last three years have exceeded $2,500,000 with construction of 37 new homes, 1 motel and addition, addition to Gulf Oil Plant, 1 store, 1 garage, the Happy Hour Drop-In Centre, addition to the Community Hall, 1 Truck Shop and a licensed dining lounge.

Improvements to the area in the last two years include a new sewer line serving 1200 people, a new fire truck, new licensed Airport south of the Town will sit for night flying, new subdivision for 16 lots plus 19 parcels, water system extended to industrial subdivision, new water reservoir and pump-out, and a new 28-lot subdivision for mobile homes.

HARDISTY LAKE
The Town of Hardisty owns and manages the very beautiful Hardisty Lake and Hardisty Park adjoining the town to the south west. Thirty-five cabins border the lakeshore with excellent room for public use of its many beaches for swimming and boating activities. Swimming lessons have been offered for the 25 years during the summer months to as many as 150 students a year. The camping site is more than sufficient to accommodate many a weary traveller, or host a fun holiday for families on vacation.

As for the adjoining 36-hole golf course, it is said to be one of the most challenging golf courses within many miles because of its rolling hills and ridges around the Lake.

The Hardisty Stampede corral is situated on land adjoining the lake, as well as softball and baseball diamonds.

Farmer's market

The Hardisty Farmers Market, sponsored by the Hardisty Agricultural Society, is open on business Saturdays at the Arena. Participants simply rent a stall at a charge of $1.00, and set up their handicrafts, baking and vegetables. Although the Farmers Market is a fairly new establishment in Hardisty, it is said to be very successful and well supported.

Feed lot beneficial operation

Hi-Grade Feeders is located on a quarter section of land about 4 miles south of the town of Hardisty. The feed lot is owned by 28 shareholders and managed by three employees.

The feed lot opened in the fall of 1960, and is presently the second largest in the province, accommodating 14,000 head of feeder cattle at various stages of growth.

The feed lot has been known to finish as many as 36,000 head of feeders in one year. It boasts its main contribution to the community as employing 30 people in its daily operation, with about 400 other companies and individuals being involved in supplying one-and-a-half million bales of grain from surrounding farms per year, as well as approximately 5,000 tons of silage and 5,000 tons of hay.

RAILWAY - HARDISTY

At one time Hardisty was a divisional point for the Pacific Railway, with several train crews employed at the round house and station. Since passenger trains were discontinued, there are four operators employed at the station 24 hours a day.

The Hardisty station is referred to as a "half way station", serving trains from the east carrying farm and industrial machinery, trucks, cars and grain, passing from Winnipeg en route to Edmonton; potash from Saskatchewan to be delivered to the Coast; butane and propane eastbound to Winnipeg

Hardisty on oil corridor Senior Citizens enterprising

Plans for the development of the Alberta Oil Sands Corridor were unveiled in early October by Premier Lougheed. The announcement was the culmination of many months of planning, studies and public hearings.

It is a plan for decentralization of industry. As such, it will change the economic and social bases of many predominantly agricultural towns and villages. It will mean growth and stability. More services will be available and greater opportunities for employment will result. School, hospitals and other facilities will improve in the smaller centres. The tax bases of many municipalities will be broadened, giving more stability.

The Corridor will follow a route north Fort McMurray to St. Paul.

It will also move oil east along a new corridor to Myram, feeding new refineries near Anadarko, Two Hills and Myram and then south to Hardisty.

The north-south corridor from Hardisty will extend into the Gold Lake Oil Sands north of St. Paul. A petro-chemical complex is to be built near Hardisty. A terminal will allow the new system to tie into the existing Interprovincial Pipeline system at Hardisty.

Parkland Manor houses 26

A 26-unit, self-contained Senior Citizens Manor has been constructed on main street in the Town of Hardisty. The building has two storeys with lounges on each floor, a hobby room, extra storage rooms and laundry facilities. The building is very beautifully designed and landscaped.

Public opinion seems to be quite confused on the aspect of monthly rental. Monthly rental is charged on a percentage basis of what a resident receives per month, and not on what assets he or she has in store. For example, if a resident receives $500 from pension or other sources per month, his rental will amount to 25 per cent of that amount, which is $125. As the monthly income decreases, so does the percentage of rent charged.

HARDISTY ARENA

The Hardisty Arena is sponsored by the Hardisty Agricultural Society, and managed by a Management Committee, who hosts a skating club, hockey club and curling on artificial ice.

The annual events include competitive hockey games with other towns, the "Big Carnival" and "Winter Weekend Days" where all aspects of winter sports are enjoyed by all. Bonaparte are carried on at the beginning and end of the regular curling season, with participation from other surrounding towns.

Senior Citizens enterprising

The Senior Citizens of Hardisty acquired the old Raybush School, renovated it into a bright colorful building, moved it into Hardisty onto a lot offered by the Town, and set up the building for the benefit of all those people in the community above the age of 14 years, who enjoy shuffleboard, pool, cards etc. The Club is greatly successful, and the pride of the Senior Citizens of the Community.

They then forged ahead, and with a great deal of time and energy and money, set up a library for use by the entire community. They certainly deserve a vote of thanks from everyone!

HARDISTY KINDERGARTEN

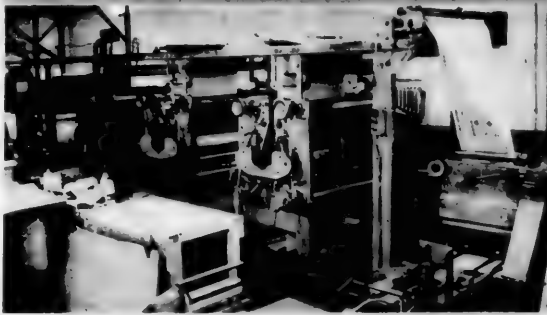

Kindergarten is not a watered-down version of Grade 1," says Mrs. Gutman. The children are very involved with visiting senior citizens and professional offices and industrial plants and businesses in and around town, as well as being taught by the professionals which will enlighten them to the formation and organization of a Town.

They have a full range of creative activities throughout the year, with a great emphasis on learning by doing, creative dancing and the sharing of real experiences as well as make-believe. While weighing and measuring their own bodies, feet, arms, they compare for the "tallest" body, the "largest" feet, etc.

When Mrs. Gutman was asked why she taught the kindergarten students, she replied enthusiastically, "It's Fun!"

Focus on Progressive Print

PRINTING DEPARTMENT

The Community Press has been using the offset printing process since the middle of July of 1978. Prior to that, the letterpress process was used. This process employed lead to form the type.

Offset is considered the more efficient of the two and allows for faster production.

For instance the offset press can run off in excess of 7,000 newspapers per hour with a capacity to run off a 24 page paper, whereas using the old letterpress, it took about two hours to run off 2,000 copies with a maximum capacity of running off a 16 page paper.

The rolls of paper running through the offset, weigh about a ton a piece producing about 17,000 newspapers. It takes about a month to use up one of these rolls.

For commercial printing purposes, three letterpresses are used for work on envelopes, invoices, stationery and business cards. The two commercial offset presses in the shop are primarily used for printing brochures, posters, flyers and catalogues.

Advertising

An integral part of publishing any newspaper, is the advertising department. The financial lifeline of the paper whether it be the classified ads, retail or national advertisements.

Barry Nordstrom, who has been with the Community Press for over two years, heads the advertising department.

It's his responsibility to make sure all the local ads do effective work for the merchants from the time he creates an idea to the time the finished product appears in the newspaper.

Barry puts his ideas on paper with the aid of the Computer 4TG. This machine operates in the same manner as Dianne's computer but on a more sophisticated level that enables Barry to use a wide choice of type styles and sizes suitable to the character of each ad.

All of Barry's work isn't carried out at the art table or the computer, he also makes regular visits to businesses in the area to make sure last week's ad was satisfactory or make changes if they request it.

In addition to all this Barry also does some of the commercial printing in the shop.

A newspaper in the making Publishing a newspaper requires the combined efforts of a network of people continually working against a deadline. In the case of the Community Press and the Enterprise, it's a weekly deadline.

Monday morning, the news starts coming in from all our various correspondents which is edited for any possible errors and passed on to Dianne McMahon, the typesetter responsible for typing all the news copy into the format the readers see in the paper.

Dianne has a typesetter known in the trade as a Computer. It operates similarly to an electric typewriter but is computerized and the paper used is photo-sensitive and must go through a development process before the print is seen.

Dianne has been with the staff for about three years and has set copy under two systems. The first was linotype, it utilized setting the type with hot lead slugs. A more cumbersome process but not necessarily a slow one according to Dianne.

As the publishing deadline draws closer, and the news stack gets higher, Dianne is ably assisted by Nancy Keith on the computer.

Besides relying on the correspondents for news, staff reporter, photographer, Ingrid Knodel covers any events she thinks may generally be of interest to all readers of the Community Press or the Enterprise.

Ingrid has just recently joined the staff. She studied journalism at SAIT in Calgary and has worked in advertising for the last two years.

Spearheading the entire operation is Monte Keith, publisher and editor.

Once all the news copy has been set and proofread, all the advertisements are checked. Monte and Ingrid get together and decide which news items, photos and advertisements go on the various pages. After this planning stage is completed, they get to work with Barry in advertising and start putting the actual pages together into the format you see in your paper each week.

All this and more goes in to the production of our newspapers in striving to present the news in the most interesting and informative ways.

Responsible for the final stages of newspaper production is Rick Truss, publisher and pressman. Rick began his career in the publishing business while still in high school. He helped with job work and putting the newspaper together as well as doing odd jobs. He later went on to learn more about the graphic arts industry at SAIT in Calgary.

After the newspaper pages are pasted up with all news copy, headlines, pictures and advertisements positioned exactly as you see them in the final product, Rick makes photographic negatives of the paste-up on the process camera in the darkroom.

The next phase involves burning the negative images onto photo sensitive metal plates. These plates are then developed until a photographic image appears.

When the final plate is placed on the large offset press, the press starts to roll and within five minutes, the first papers are coming hot off the press.

While the press is running, Rick has to make sure that sufficient ink is reaching the paper, keep the metal plates clean and see to it that the newspaper is rolling through the press straight.

Darkroom

A picture is worth a thousand words. An old phrase but photos are still a very valuable source of news for the newspaper. We use 35 mm black and white film for the photos seen in the paper. The Community Press has full darkroom facilities where film is developed and made into prints.

Once the prints have been made, they have to be "screened" with tiny dots which pick up the grey areas or half-tones of a photograph which otherwise wouldn't show up when the picture got to the newspaper stage. This phase is carried out with a process camera, also located in the darkroom. The process camera is capable of making enlargements of screened photos, and advertisements of up to 3 times the original size or reductions to 1/4 the original size.

Monte Keith, Editor

Front end office

As in any other business there are people who work in the background, not receiving much recognition but very essential to the success of the entire operation.

Looking after much of the front end office work such as the bookkeeping, answering phones and filing, is Elaine Keith.

Cathy Keith also gets involved in the operation by being in charge of the mailing lists, making sure everyone is receiving their paper at the right address and checks to see whose subscription is due, generally keeping the list current.

Helping with odd jobs like sweeping and occasional job work, you'll likely see Billy Keith and Don Lemna in the shop after school or on the weekends.

Rick Truss, Publisher and Pressman

County briefs presented

Provincial cabinet ministers heard briefs from the County of Flagstaff Council and Board of Education during the recent cabinet tour held May 29 at the Sedgewick Club.

Representing the cabinet was the Hon. Hugh Hornor, Minister of Transportation, the Hon. Graham Harle, Minister of Consumer and Corporate Affairs and Mr. Henry Kroeger, M.L.A. for the Sedgewick Corridor constituency.

County Reeve Alce Blatz presented the brief on behalf of the Council.

A major portion of the brief concerned itself with AGT buried a cable.

Mr. Blatz explained that in 1965, AGT launched a province wide project which saw many of the telephone cables being buried in the road grade itself without the consent of the municipality involved. Although the road allowances are to be held by the County and the County is responsible for upkeep, AGT charges the County for damage to these buried cables.

The County does not regard this expenditure as justified since the cables were placed in the road allowances without consent and requested that the cabinet review the AGT policy.

Dr. Hornor replied he was in agreement with the county on this matter and would start to take action on it.

Another matter pertained to the development of the Bott Lakes located along Highway 13 between Loughheed and Hardisty. County also requested a change as to how monies are doled out in regard to weed control programs on private land.

A brief for the Board of Education presented by Al Cleveland, School Superintendent, made recommendations to see changes in the school bus transportation grant formula.

The Board is required to incorporate into its grant calculation, the capacity established by the bus manufacturer, regardless of the actual number of students being transported.

However, as enrolment continues to decline, two alternatives are left open to the Board. One alternative is to realign bus routes which is sometimes impractical or to reduce the size of the buses. One way of achieving this goal is to purchase smaller buses (a large dollar investment) or renovate the bus by removing seats. This last procedure is acceptable to Alberta Transportation but not to Alberta Education.

The end result is a frustrating situation for the County Board of Education.

Dr. Hornor said he would look into school bus loading contradictions.

The Board of Education also expressed concern about the Declining Enrollment Grant. While the grant offers assistance in this area it is inadequate inasmuch as it requires a two year averaging procedure. This time lag in receipt of monies has minimal potential for assisting school boards in such out the impact of severe enrolment declines.

First auditor - general

Just keeping track of Alberta government costs $3.96 million this year and employs 110 mostly professional audit staff full-time.

The legislature this spring approved the expenditure which was a quiet and elevated D.W. Rogers to make it as the first Alberta auditor general.

The cost is barely a tenth of a per cent of the $3.9 billion budget, which is far less than the true measure of the public finances now managed as savings, investments and assets as well as spending.

On top of expenditures, the officers are forecast to bulge by next April with $4.8 billion in the growing Heritage Fund and more than $12 billion in steadily accumulating additional surpluses.

Rogers estimates that in 1978-79 the government's 23 departments will collect $5.9 billion, make 3.5 to 4 million separate payments and conduct up to 6 million financial transactions.

A senior cabinet minister privately said the Conservatives, by enacting a 1971 election promise to create the auditor general, have opened themselves to some "self-inflicted stings."

Rogers, provincial auditor since 1974, is a soft spoken 57 year old accountant and Royal Air Force veteran. He served in the Edmonton area during the Second World War. He immigrated from Birmingham, England, in 1946 and has worked in Alberta's auditing system ever since.

His investigation of a bull semen deal prompted a judicial inquiry and led to the firing of a senior deputy minister plus a sharp reminder of prudent practices to Hugh Hornor.

Awards night held at Central High May 30 was particularly special for Becky Johansson of Hardisty as she was the recipient of the Fred Sparrow award, presented to her by Fred Sparrow, shown left.

The Fred Sparrow award was instituted in 1977, with Miss Johansson being the second honouree student to receive the award.

Awards were also presented to several other students for achievement, school organizations and sports.

BLOCK'S GARAGE

MARKING 34 YEARS OF SERVICE
PHONE 374-3822 DAYLAND, ALTA.

IT'S YOUR BODY AND YOU CAN DO A LOT WITH IT.

You can make a decision now that may save or greatly enrich someone's life later. That decision is... whether or not to donate vital organs or tissues to those who urgently need them.

Consider it carefully... discuss it with your family. Organ donation is a very personal decision and you should consider what it will mean to you... and to the life of someone else.

You cannot know the future, so think it over soon. If you wish to make this commitment, fill in the Donor Consent Card that is now available.

It comes with the issuing of your new drivers license, or you can obtain one now, from your nearest motor vehicle outlet, liquor store or your doctor's office.

Once you have filled out the card, carry it with you at all times in your wallet or purse. In any organ transplant, time is crucial. A delay of hours, or perhaps even minutes, could mean the tissues or organs are no longer healthy and useful.

You can help people to see again or give them a new lease on life.

Important things are happening in medicine. Eyes are in great demand for corneal transplants and other treatments for the blind. Kidneys are needed by many people who are now being kept alive by artificial means (dialysis) while waiting for a donor. Pituitary glands can be used to supply vital growth hormones. Middle ear drums, skin grafts for severe burn cases, heart muscle tissue, segments of bone, whole bodies for research... these and other organs are all needed now, and others may be needed in the future as new transplant techniques are perfected.

You may qualify.

If you are over eighteen years of age and in good health you may qualify.

If you have questions about the medical acceptance of any or all of your organs or tissues, ask your doctor.

Sedgewick farmer passes

As dawn broke over Hanna on the morning of May 15, Dick Clarke passed quietly from this world. Dick left to mourn his loving wife Marcella of Hanna; sons Ronald of Edmonton, James of Ryley, Roger of Ladue, sister Mary Unes of Sedgewick; and three grand-children.

Dick was the first born of Albert and Pioneer Clarke at the homestead fifteen miles south of Coar during the late summer of 1918. Seasoned by farm life and prairie winds, his youth gave way to manhood as he passed through Good Luck school and then on to graduation from high school at Coar in 1936.

During the autumn of 1939, Dick married Marcella Hall of Provost where he farmed until volunteering for military service in 1941. After serving overseas as an engineer with the 86th Bridging Company, (serving the historic battle at Anabom) he returned home to receive an honorable discharge on the 1st of Feb had fought to protect.

In 1946, Dick and Marcella purchased a farm at Sedgewick where they moved with their two sons Ronald and James. A third son Roger was born to them in 1964. After farming for fourteen years in the Sedgewick area, Dick became among the first freedom to be hired by the Farm Credit Corporation.

Moving to the Vegreville office of Farm Credit in 1960, Dick became an active and well known member of that community for thirteen years. In 1973, Dick transferred to the Farm Credit office in Hanna and served in that area until his early retirement in 1977.

Dick was an active man with many interests. He was an ardent ball player in his younger years. Among his hobbies in pastimes were hunting and fishing. He held memberships with the Odd Fellows Lodge, the Royal Canadian Legion, and the Fish and Game Association. Dick will always be remembered for his energy, humor, love of children, and dedication to family and friends.

Funeral services were held at Hanna on May 17.

Galahad student excursions

Tuesday, May 30, the Galahad Grades 5 & 8 travelled by bus to Edmonton to tour the Muttart Conservatory and Fort Edmonton and to experience first hand the world of computers by using the teaching machines at the University of Alberta.

Wednesday, May 31, the Galahad Grades 1 - 4 travelled to Edmonton to tour the Alberta Museum, the Planetarium and the Westmount Shopping Centre.

Both groups reported an enjoyable time and the stop at MacDonald's was a sheer delight.

(On June 1, the annual Galahad Tabloid was held. The entire student population is divided into three teams and they compete in various events. Standards are established for the events and age groups and the participants obtain points for achieving the various standards set. To recognize the individual boy and girl who achieves the greatest percentage of his total possible points, the Galahad Junior Students Union awards trophies. This year's recipients are Kathy Blumhagen and a three-way tie for top honors for the boys saw Darryl Geier, Paul Kuefler and Kyle Burkhoff each receive a trophy.

Numerous parents were out to cheer the youngsters on.

BUYING A TENT:

Test Size and Style
For an individual or a couple backpacking or hiking, a light-weight nylon pup tent would probably be the choice. Weight and bulk would be deciding factors.

A couple with no children who are interested in sleeping space only, would find a 10m x 2.6m (W x H) "umbrella" adequate. The "umbrella" has a frame on the outside, on which the tent is suspended. It is easily set up. The sleeping walls reduce living space.

Families will generally require a larger tent - minimum 2.6m x 5.5m (W x H) with straight walls. Tents enlarged with an adjacent room or screened "porch" may be needed for large families.

Sleeping bags, luggage, toys, the dog, and people take up a lot of space so don't select too small a tent.

Usually the pole supporting the roof peak will be inserted into a "cleat". Excluded sleepers as the best support but if used the "cleat" will hold rain water.

Alternate solutions are: (1) a half dozen fabric loops stitched into the seam joining roof and wall. The tent pole is inserted similar to the pole for the peak, but the loops are easily torn. (2) frame wedged into the "avens" from the inside. Not as easy to do, but the chance of tearing the tent is eliminated.

QUALITY
Buy the best tent you can afford in the size you think will suit your needs for the next few years.

Inexpensive tents can be found for around $50.00 but their "satisfaction span" would be short - 2 years at best. They are loosely woven and are not waterproof in heavy rain.

More expensive tents (the most expensive tent you could find is the $175.00 - $250.00 range) have very desirable added features. Rubber coated floors, lighter weaves for added water repellency, and bedgirders.

Most tents have doors and windows are examples.

FINISHES

Most tents have a waterproof finish, but very few have a flame retardant treatment. Wax makes up a large part of the waterproof finish. Filter to help seal the fabric weave; coloring for attractiveness and mildew-inhibitor to discourage mildew are important components of all finishing treatments.

Flame retardants can be applied at home. "Flamcoat" from Safety Supplies Companies is one example. They should be reapplied each season.

PRETREATING

Before you set out on your first camping trip, assemble the tent in the backyard. It usually takes extra time to figure out which pole fits where. While it is set up, soak it with a fine spray to pre-treat it, and to detect any leaks. Be Sure Guy Ropes and Poles are not too tight.

Leaks from needle holes can occur but should stop after a couple of soakings. If not, re-treat to seller.

Dry the tent thoroughly before rolling it up.

Killam queen contestants

The Killam Rodeo being held the weekend of June 8 and 9 will be graced by five lovely queen contestants.

Riding competitions are scheduled for 5:00 p.m. June 8 at the Arena.

SUSAN BONNETT

Susan Bonnett is representing the Killam Agricultural Society. She is 16 years old and is presently attending Central High School. She is undecided about her future and enjoys the outdoors and horseback riding.

Also sponsored by the Killam Agricultural Society is Lorraine Clark. She is 17 years old, favorite pastimes include horseback riding and cutting cattle. She has chosen nursing as her future profession.

Central High

The school was shocked and saddened on the death of one of our grade twelve students, Leon Wart, on the weekend. We extend our sincere and heartfelt sympathy to the Wart family.

Our track team performed extremely well at the Northern Alberta Provincial Meet at Sherwood Park on Saturday, June 3. Seven of our students have advanced to the Provincial competition in Edmonton on June 10. They are Jackie Coates (2nd - Long Jump), Lorne Cox (2nd - Shotput), Kelinda Sax (1st - Shot put), Shelby Dion (2nd - Discus), Greg Clarke (1st - Intermediate pole vault), Rudy Ramcharan (1st - Junior pole vault, new record) and Mike McConnell (1st - Javelin).

Absenteeism during the last few weeks has been very high. Absenteeism on Monday morning, June 5 was 16 per cent compared to an average of 5 - 6 per cent. We believe that attendance is always important but are particularly alarmed when students miss the crucial lessons at the end of the semester. Students who perform poorly at school are very often those students who have poor attendance.

A FEW OPINIONS

ON CENSORSHIP

If the word "censorship" is introduced into a conversation it will invariably start a discussion, maybe even an argument as to whether it is or is not necessary. So here are a few of my ideas and opinions on this very controversial subject.

First of all I think that there is a vast difference in the necessity of censorship for children, adolescents and adults.

When I grew up (many years ago and many miles away) most parents practiced a form of censorship on their children's reading. And most children still managed to read what they wanted. I know that from a very tender age I read my father's murder mystery magazine whenever I could sneak it away. And I don't think it harmed me in any way. I do think though, that parents should take an interest in what their children read and, according to their feelings and beliefs, exercise a certain control over it.

But what of those children who read very little but spend hours glued to the T.V. screen lapping up the violence presented to them. Especially in many of their favorites, the cartoons. Does watching this harm them? Or do they identify vicariously with the characters portrayed and thus have the violence they need. People who have studied this cannot agree on an answer so it would seem that some form of censorship is desirable here until we can be sure no harm is being done to the young watchers.

On to the adolescents. Here I think that the biggest problem is the exploitation of sex in movies and novels. How much should these young people read or see? Then too, since adult exercise may stretch from ages twelve to twenty that which is suitable for an eighteen year old would not be for a twelve year old. I think the harm on those under eighteen from seeing certain films is great. There are years ahead when youngsters may view such films if they wish.

Reading matter should be looked over too. Although I think what a book is trying to say is more important than a few not so nice words. So in this age group parental censorship is desirable as well as in the case of films, governmental censorship.

Then comes the adults. Surely any normal, level headed adult should be able to act as his own censor, to judge for himself what he wishes to read, see or hear. But what of those who are not normal and easily aroused or upset by these things? If we believe that we are "our brother's keeper" should we not protect them from this danger? If do these things seem, heard or read at as catharsis, doing more good than harm? Can we protect one group without infringing on the liberty of others to do their own censoring.

What conclusions can we come to from these brief thoughts? I can only speak for myself and I think that censoring of some form is desirable for children and adolescents. But for myself I do not want or need censorship and I think that we may face more dangers with it than without it.

Heisler District News

A large crowd enjoyed fine weather although it was a little hot at the Heisler Parish Picnic on Sunday, June 4. The ball games were as follows: Spring Lake defeated Heisler 8 - 6. Spring Lake also defeated Dayland 10 - 2. Dayland won over Rawlin and Erskine took the game from Forestburg. So Spring Lake and Erskine played in the finals with Spring Lake taking the game by 7 - 1. The Heisler 10 and under and the 14 and under boys defeated the Forestburg teams. The 5 cent Bingo game was also enjoyed by young and old who are not so interested in the ball games, and who enjoy a good chat, besides the prizes were very nice.

Dennis Badley of Inouik is home with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Herb Badley. Irene Jacobs has received an academic award at the Lutheran College with an average of 84%. Keith Jacobs graduated at NAIT May 24. He received his diploma in Industrial Engineering and will be employed with Howell of Canada on June 6.

Brian and Gary Sunderman of Dunesview Bridge near Peace River and Brian's fiancée Miss Janet Mouris of Edmonton were on the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sunderman.

Robert Degenstein of Dunbar near Peace River was home over the weekend. His wife Phillis and two children are returning with him on Monday to Dunbar where he is employed.

Joseph Kuntz and his fiancée Louise Rivest of Edmonton were home on Sunday with Joseph's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Kuntz.

The Heisler Parish Hall is being moved to Forestburg, where it will be used as a youth centre.

The Robert Froehner family are nearly ready to move in their new home on the farm. Sympathy of the community is extended to the Heisler families in the passing of Mike Reuther at the age of 82 on Wednesday, May 31. Funeral services were held in St. Martin's Roman Catholic Church on June 3. Interment followed at St. Martin Cemetery in Heisler.

The senior citizens enjoyed a potluck supper on Friday, June 2 at the Club House, which was followed by a card game.

Small businesses receive a boost

Small business plays a vital role in the economic life of Canada. There are over 800,000 small businesses in Canada employing over a third of the private sector work force. They account for over 50 per cent, or $77 billion, of sales and contributed almost 50 per cent to the GNP. Small firms are the backbone of our free, competitive enterprise system.

The government, recognizing the importance of the small business community, last week introduced measures to provide entrepreneurs with positive incentives and to relieve them from longstanding irritants.

Amendments to the Excise Tax Act will exclude about 1,500 manufacturers, whose annual sales are less than $50,000, from the federal sales tax.

They will provide new flexibility in the frequency of filing federal sales and excise tax returns thereby reducing the paperburden on smaller firms.

Thousands of firms will now file bimonthly or quarterly, rather than monthly returns. Almost one half of Canada's small business manufacturers will find their filing frequency reduced.

Substantive tax changes for small businesses, provisions that range from the Income Tax Act, and allowing much broader deductions for capital losses, were also announced.

Legislation will be introduced to permit the tax-free transfer of small business holdings from parent to children or grandchildren.

The changes allow a deferral of up to $200,000 in capital gains when shares of an incorporated small business are transferred between generations of a family.

Qualifying small businesses will include those involved in manufacturing, processing, mining, logging, farming, fishing, construction, wholesaling or retailing.

The $200,000 figure compares with the amount of money available for loans to farmers under the Farm Credit Corporation.

I think it's a good move and one which should be welcomed by the small business community across Canada.

Allowable capital losses on shares or debts of Canadian controlled private corporations will be deductible for tax purposes against income from any source. The changes will apply to losses incurred after 1977. If the loss exceeds income in the year it occurs, the balance may be carried back against income of the previous year or forward against income for the next five years.

This measure will free up more capital to be invested in small business. The establishment of a Venture Enterprise Investment Corporation program will also create more investment capital for the small business sector of our society.

The VECI program will stimulate the flow of equity and equity-related capital, which is normally available to small businesses, for their growth, expansion and modernization ensuring, at all times, maximum participation of private financing sources.

In the supportive environment that we're helping to create with these new measures, the strong innovation tradition, the high flexibility and the rapid response time of small business should help it to become one of the important elements of our tradition strategy for the 1980s and 90s.

Flagstaff District Brownies hold rally in Forestburg

The District Brownies Rally was held at Forestburg on June 9 with 55 girls, 10 leaders and myself in attendance. They came from Killam, Sedgewick, Holden and Ryley to join with Forestburg in this day of fun and activities. Upon arrival at 10 a.m. we were treated to fresh doughnuts and juice or coffee. The girls were then divided into groups for the different competitions and enjoyed a bouncy hunt and relay races before lunch. Each girl then found her lunch partner by matching nursery rhyme names or verses, this way mixing the girls up to meet new friends. After lunch and a half hour of staging, the afternoon activities continued with races and games. The closing ceremony was followed by an ice cream treat before leaving for home.

The District Busy Bee Rally was a visit to Storyland Valley Zoo. Ten girls and their parents and leaders from Killam were the only ones that went. All enjoyed the train rides, the merry-go-round, seeing all the animals and the pop and ice cream.

A special ceremony was held in Drayton Valley on Saturday for the presentation of Canada Cards to Guides and Rangers from our area. Ranger Kathy Keith from Sedgewick received her card which was presented by the Provincial Deputy Commissioner. Six girls from Viking were also supposed to receive cards but were not present. Congratulations girl! The wearing of this card shows that you have worked hard and learned much that will be a great help to you in the future. Keep up the good work.

A belated piece of news somehow overlooked in your reporters notes, was that of April 7, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roibner became the proud parents of a baby boy, Kris Michael and is the first grandchild for our genial postmaster and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Al Roibner.

Congratulations to Barbe Matthews brother, Mr. Gerald Hutchinson for receiving the N.D.P. nomination by acclamation for the Drayton Valley area, after a very successful meeting held in Beaton.

"The news is out all over town" that Mrs. Agnes Barn who has acquired her first grandchild. A little boy was born to Jim and Fay Brown at Dayland Hospital May 29 and he weighed 7 lbs. 5 oz. and his name is likely to be Dean Alvin.

Mrs. Maryon Drager and her sister Gipsy went to visit Belle and her family in New Brunswick, a nice surprise for Belle.

Mrs. Mary Parsons recently entertained Mrs. A. Parsons at a birthday party. There was a lovely birthday cake and relatives and friends to enjoy the afternoon with Mrs. A. Parsons.

Then your reporter forgets to put in the date, celebrating Al Nelson's 90 birthday, which will be June 11. See in "Coming Events."

We are glad to hear that Lorne and Debbie Brown have their baby home now and she is a happy healthy little girl who weighs eleven pounds.

We wish to send congratulations to Herb Bricker who has been named "Wesleyan Citizen of the year 1978". Herb was born in Vegreville and educated in Vegreville. Garden club on tour

On Tuesday last, 12 members of the Hardisty Garden Club enjoyed a days tour of the countryside. Leaving Hardisty in mid-morning, they went to Vermilion, where they had a picnic lunch in the park before driving out to the greenhouse and conservatory which were the main object of the trip. The exotic plants in the conservatory were most interesting, and the proprietor answered many questions on bedding plants, house plants, and greenhouse management. She then served coffee and iced tea on the patio. Before leaving Vermilion the ladies drove through the grounds at Lakeland College, but were disappointed at the lateness of the landscape work there. Proceeding home, a stop was made at the Wainwright greenhouse. Then afternoon tea at the Fabian camp ground and so home. The beauty of the countryside and the abundance of fruit blossoms delighted all the ladies, and one and all declared it the most enjoyable day ever.

The Pot Luck supper and card party held at the Drop-In Centre on Saturday was well attended, and much enjoyed. This was the last supper to be held until fall, but card parties will continue. There were 6 tables of progressive wafers, winners being: Gents: 1st Gerald McGhie, Gents Cons. John Houcher, Ladies 1st Lena Hope, Ladies Cons. Alvina Parson.

BABYSITTING COURSE

The Kinetic Club of Sedgewick sponsored a babysitting course which was held May 1 to May 32. Classes were held every Monday evening with Ruby Rawcliffe as leader.

The fifth meeting of the Killam 4-H Light Horse Club was held on May 10 with 10 members present.

The business discussed was a date for our achievement day. It was decided it would be on July 17 at 10:00 p.m. and two practice days on June 18 and July 9 at 1:00 p.m. They are going to be held at the Killam Animal Market. Before the meeting, Debbie Quast gave us several judging tips and what to look for.

On April 23 a trail ride was held at Jim Tindall's. After the ride we had hot dogs and pop. Everyone had a great time. The 4-H Cleanup was held on May 6, when we cleaned up 10 miles of highway.

Sharon Wheeler (Dolly) and Mimi DeAhrens (Babe) were presented with fillies this past month.

Prince Rupert location best

Higher volume grain exports from the west coast are the focus of attention for grain producers and their industry. Canadian grain markets are under going a shift from Atlantic access ports to Pacific access ones. In response to this change, four grain terminals at Vancouver have proposed or are constructing new storage facilities. Even with the expansion of existing terminals, a projected west coast throughput of over 500 million bushels by 1985, brings additional terminal facilities into consideration. Prince Rupert appears to be the best location for a new terminal elevator.

Vancouver terminals are expanding their storage capacity by 10 million bushels. This represents a 40% increase in west coast grain storage and brings storage capacity to 88 million bushels. Present terminals in the port are able to receive, process and ship at least 370 million bushels annually. With the increased storage, the terminal elevators will be capable of handling 450 to 460 million bushels of grain.

As Canada's export grain movement shifts from eastern ports to west coast ports, shipments are estimated to reach 500 to 550 million bushels by 1985. The shift gives financial advantages to farmers. Grain shipped from the west coast is sold at a premium above the price at Lakehead or St. Lawrence ports. In late May, 1978, the Canadian Wheat Board's selling price for wheat at the west coast was 46 cents per bushel above Thunder Bay prices and 14 cents per bushel above St. Lawrence port prices. As a result, as more grain is sold for west coast shipment, the greater are the returns to producers.

If west coast terminals will soon be able to handle 450 million bushels each year, and projections show markets for 550 million bushels, a facility to handle 100 million bushels would be required. As railway traffic to Vancouver continues its growth, both the rail lines from the prairies and the port itself become more congested. It becomes less desirable to locate a new export grain terminal in Vancouver. Prince Rupert is the other major west coast port with adequate railway access and traffic capacity. Prince Rupert is 475 miles north-west of Vancouver on Kaien Island. It is described as one of the three finest natural harbours in the world, being sheltered by both an island and a peninsula. For the Japanese market, Prince Rupert is 400 miles closer than Vancouver. Port development for general cargo, bulk commodities and grain is underway. Canadian National's rail line to Prince Rupert is constructed of heavy steel and is able to handle a westward fold-increase in traffic. While the port is 190 miles further from Edmonton than Vancouver, the rail line tends to experience fewer winter rail roading problems than the lines to Vancouver.

Agriculture Minister Whelan recently announced an $11 million up-grading program for the two million bushel Canadian Government Elevator at Prince Rupert. Transport Minister Lang has proposed development of Ridley Island for grain and bulk commodity export facilities. Ridley Island is south of Kaiaen Island on which the city of Prince Rupert and present grain and cargo facilities are located. Sites for grain terminals also exist on Kaiaen Island with sixty feet of water depth in close proximity to shore. This would allow the largest ocean vessels to load full cargoes in port.

Both the federal government and the government of B.C. are committed to further development of the international shipping capability of Prince Rupert. Alberta's government is encouraging construction of a new export grain terminal in port. Alberta grain producers have expressed their desire to increase grain handling through Prince Rupert. It is the logical location for expanding grain exports from the northern portion of Alberta and Saskatchewan to the Orient.

Sedgewick and District News Items

A total of 75 relatives and friends gathered at the Legion Hut on Sunday, May 21 for a surprise birthday party in honor of our Aunt Hilga (Mrs. Willmann) on the occasion of her 81 birthday. As she entered everyone joined in singing Happy Birthday accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Anita Mayne. Then a lovely lunch was served by her nieces and nephews. Her birthday cake was decorated beautifully by her niece, Mrs. Hilfred McGregor.

A time of visiting then followed. Out of town guests were from Edmonton, Sherwood Park, Fort Saskatchewan, Viking, Killam and Loughheed. Among them were many friends whom Mrs. Willmann had not seen for many years.

All then joined hands and sang "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow". In her gracious way Mrs. Willmann thanked everyone for coming and for making the day such a memorable one. I'm sure the community joins Mrs. Willmann's friends in wishing her many more Happy Birthdays.

Mrs. Beth Blanner and sons of Heister were at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Welch, on Tuesday afternoon to pick up Tricia who had been staying with her grandparents since last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Draper of Elk Point visited the Charlie Lane's after attending the funeral of Mr. Bill Green of Loughheed.

Mr. Sherman Lane of Calgary spent last week visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Lane and his sister, Mrs. Dennis Fisher of Hardisty.

While here he attended the funeral of Mrs. Thelma Fisher of Hardisty.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve McGuire of Edmonton spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Lane. On Sunday they called on Mr. and Mrs. John Branner.

On June 1 several friends and relatives dropped in on Mrs. Hilfred McGregor to help her celebrate her 71 birthday. Everyone present enjoyed a delicious cake baked and decorated by her daughter, Peggy.

Constable and Mrs. Dale Dijn and family of Kelowna B.C. are being transferred to Houston, B.C. where Constable Dijn will be second in command.

Jill, Louise, Stacey and Rodney and a couple of friends were all weekend guests at the home of their mother, Mrs. H. McGregor.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kendrick of Edmonton visited his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jamieson on the weekend. They also visited with his father, Mr. Lloyd Kendrick.

Mrs. Gwen McBride and son Byron of Edmonton spent the weekend at her parental home, the George Jenveys.

Mr. and Mrs. Brian Koehli of Edmonton spent the weekend at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Koehli. On Sunday afternoon the family all enjoyed a get together.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Clark (nee Vera Tatro) of Montclair, New Jersey, U.S.A. and Mrs. Hazel Tatro of Edmonton visited at the Ernest Koehli residence on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Frances Hall of Edmonton visited with her folks, the Hardings over the weekend. On Sunday afternoon she dropped in on the Henry Jamiesons.

Mr. and Mrs. Barbara Cumberland and her children to town. They are living in the former Coastal house where Mr. Colin Cumberland will be joining them at the end of the month.

Six tables of what players were at the Legion Hut for the usual Wednesday afternoon Senior Citizens' Card Party. Mrs. Helga Willmann and Mr. Harry Putney were the high scores prime while Mrs. Myrtle Arntsen and Mr. A.B. Falls received consolation awards.

The Card Parties will continue throughout the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill McPherson were accompanied by Mrs. Betty Galletty to Edmonton on Monday, May 29. There they attended the Spring Convocation of the University of Alberta at the Jubilee Auditorium where Marguerite received her Bachelor of Education Degree. Congratulations Marguerite.

Mr. Fred Cunningham of Warwick, England is spending 3 weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Jenvey. Mr. Cunningham is a cousin of Mrs. Madge Jenvey.

Happy to report that Mr. and Mrs. Roy Krause are both home after a stay in the Killam Hospital. Their daughter Peggy and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Don Reed and children of Port McMurray visited them over the weekend.

Rev. Richard Connor is back with us. He arrived home on May 29 after spending a month in England.

A former resident of Sedgewick, Mrs. Elsie Korth, passed away suddenly in an Edmonton Hospital, on Monday, June 5.

The funeral will take place in the Sedgewick United Church on Thursday, June 8 at 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. Violet Leake, mother of our editor, Monte Keith, passed away in Red Deer on May 30, a victim of cancer. Funeral services were held at Sylvan Lake on Thursday afternoon, June 1.

On Saturday, June 2, Kathy Keith, accompanied by her parents, attended a Canada 'ord Certificate presentation in Drayton Valley, at which time Kathy was one of the recipients.

Killam rodeo well attended

Jackie Costen, sponsored by the Loughheed Agricultural Society, was the lucky girl named 1978 Killam Rodeo Queen.

Fifty per cent of the contest was judged on the basis of riding skill, 25 per cent on ticket sales, 15 per cent on personal appearance and 10 per cent on personality.

First runner up was Nadine Thompson, sponsored by the Battle River Light Horse Club and second runner up was Joanne Doody, representing the Sedgewick Agricultural Society.

Heavy rain couldn't dampen the enthusiasm of rodeo fans who flocked to performances held June 8 and 9. Entertainment included the usual run of exciting rodeo events plus a well attended dance and casino.

The bronco busting event on Friday night lacked the usual excitement due to a number of reserves that had to be awarded to cowboys sealed on horses that didn't feel like doing much bucking.

However, the clowns during the bull riding kept the audience entertained during their death defying antics with the huge beasts.

Alberta's growth problems unique

They are the kind of problems other provincial politicians in Canada would love to have, but the Loughheed-Alberta is running into increasing concern over what can only be called "the problems of growth."

The latest example to come under public scrutiny is the boom caused by Imperial Oil Ltd.'s planned $4.7 billion heavy oil plant in the Cold Lake region in northeastern Alberta.

Most of the concern over the plant so far has been about how it will be financed, what sort of tax deals might have to be struck and whether it will call for government investment on the level of that required to get Syncrude Canada Ltd.'s oil sands plant into operation.

But for residents of communities like Cold Lake and Grand Centre, there is a far more serious set of questions - how are they to deal with a population that will double if the project goes ahead.

While officials of the two towns support the project with concern over the expansion of the services they provide will be financed, and at the same time, the province's committee brought the matter to a head during the recent cabinet tour of the region.

Contractor Tom Turner showed up with a 276-man petition calling for an independent inquiry that would pay special attention to what impact the project would have on local services and the environment.

He drew a quick rebuke from Energy Minister Don Getty who said the "philosophy of control" has not been an Alberta philosophy at all. Getty's implication that there was something anti-Alberta about the local concern brought a quick rejoinder from Turner who said that "with that kind of attitude Albertans wouldn't have built the fine communities we have."

Cold Lake Mayor Doug Wold and Grand Centre Mayor Russ Robinson were more restrained in their comments but equally concerned about what the impact of the plant would be on the Hospital and school facilities in the area are already strained and area residents are worried about who will foot the bill for new facilities the plant and its employees would require.

The Cold Lake plant is exactly the sort of development that the Alberta government has been trying to encourage. It means expansion outside of the metropolitan areas of Edmonton and Calgary and the yearly operating cost of roughly $1 billion means creation of a large number of permanent jobs.

Cold Lake and Grand Centre are not unique in their problems either. With continued economic expansion in Alberta likely in the near future - and with the apparent success of provincial efforts to make sure at least a portion of it takes place in smaller centres - the problems of growth look like they will be around Alberta for a while.

COME ALIVE

R. Chappell

"Is it really possible for an ordinary human being to enjoy a deep and lasting relationship with the immense and awesome creative power that has come to be known as God?"

This question was the topic of a tape recording made by Dr. Naramore a Christian psychologist. This, of course, is a very important question for us to consider, for after all, what would be more influential to our lives than the answer to such a question. To be brought into an amazing union with the originator of all that has been created, is a thought that must have top priority in our minds.

In the Holy Scripture we read of how in the beginning, "God breathed into man the Spirit of Life", and man became a living being.

The truth that is being expressed, of course, is that something of God was placed within man. Somewhere deep within us his hidden powers and treasures of indescribable beauty. The beloved Master once said: "The Kingdom of Heaven is within you." And he exhorted his followers to search for it, for the shining inner world which once discovered, will enable the discoverer to enjoy life and have a more abundant life. Paul was to ask: "Do you not know that you are the dwelling place of God? The Spirit of God is within us. What an incredible thought. All this surely whispers to us that we are much more than we have been able to realize; and that somewhere deep within our being there is in fact an "inner sanctuary" in which we and the Father can be one.

When you allow your mind to dwell on such thoughts, you cannot but marvel at the wonder of it all. How utterly impossible it seems that the wonder and beauty of the life of God could be brought into an amazing union with that of our own life. However mysterious and impossible it may sound... nevertheless it is precisely what Jesus taught and lived for. To his life. He demonstrated that it's God's intention that man be restored to what God intended him to be; and when His work has been completed, men and women will reflect the image of the One who has created them.

"I live, yet not I, but Christ who lives within me." Such were the words of the Apostle and they are the same words that can and should echo within our hearts and minds. For after all, they are but the answer to the prayer request once made by Jesus when He said, "Father, my prayer for all of them is that they will be of one mind and heart, just as You and I (are) I in them and You in me, so they will be one in us."

My friend, to be one with God must surely be our deepest hope and the most frequent of our dreams.

Farmer's advocate appointed

The Farmers' Advocate of Alberta, Helmut P. Estrup, has announced the appointment of Bard Haddrell to the position of assistant Farmers' Advocate of Alberta.

Mr. Haddrell will assist Mr. Estrup with problems and complaints received from farmers, which arise from the action of parties other than the government and its agencies. However, they include all matters pertaining to individuals versus rural municipalities.

Mr. Haddrell joined the office of the Farmers' Advocate with a background of experience in farming, police work, the food industry, consumer and corporate affairs and agricultural marketing. He received his degree from the University of Victoria. Because his background has given him wide contact with the agriculture community, he should prove a beneficial addition to the office of the Farmers' Advocate.

At a recent ceremony in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Mr. Wayne A. Strome, son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Strome of Veterinary Medicine degree from the R. H. H. John Diefenbaker, Chancellor.

Dr. Strome attended the U of L and received his B. Sc. at Simon Fraser University in Vancouver.

Dr. and Mrs. Strome, the former Laura Mae Strome and their son Chrl have taken up residence in Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Killam O.O.R.P. installs officers for 1978

There were 19 members, 3 Dayland visitors and 6 Brother Elks at our installation meeting on May 29. The meeting opened with our H.R.L. Dene Hart in the chair. We had some regular business to discuss, then we went into installation. District Deputy Anne Zwack from Dayland did this duty for us. Her assistants were: Lady Frances Leeb (assistant installing officer) and Lady Mary Pansik, assistant installing secretary. Following is the new list of officers: Honored Royal Lady Olive Grant, Past H.R.L. Dene Hart; Associate Royal Lady Irene Peters, Loyal Lady Jo-Ana Forster, Lecturing Lady Jessie Fossen, Secretary Elaine Keith, Treasurer Anita McGowan, 3 yr Trustee Adolph Young, Historian Lily Moore, Chaplain Grace Stables, Conductor Millie Schulte, Inner Guard Rose Wegman, Outer Guard Leona Miller, Pianist Dot Morgan.

Following this part of the meeting our new H.R.L. Olive Grant received the gavel from Installing Officer D.D. Anne Zwack. She thanked D.D. Anne Zwack for her assistance, as well as Lady Frances Leeb and Lady Mary Pansik for their help.

Mary Ward will swim in the swim-a-thon for $4 possible. The Elks Barbecue is June 15 at Haria at 7:00 p.m.

We are to meet at the Hall on June 7 at 8:00 to travel to Sedgewick Lodge as this is Royal Purple Day and we go and entertain the guests at the Lodge.

Irene Peters received her 16 year pin. Congratulations Irene. Congratulations also go to our pianist Dot Morgan who is going into her 16 year in the same office. Congratulations Dot.

The attendance prizes were won by Monte Keith and Milie Schulte. On behalf of myself and the Lodge we would like to thank P.H.R.L. Dene Hart our sincere thank you for a job well done and also welcome our new H.R.L. Olive Grant.

Lunch was served by Ladies Joan Prichard, Lily Moore and Rose Wegman. It was really delicious.

United Farmers of Alberta - owned by the farmers of this province - can save you money in many ways. Take the petroleum division.

First on your mind is, of course, quality. UFA agents provide top quality petroleum products, reflecting the latest technological advances. Rigid tests ensure that these products meet or exceed manufacturers' specifications.

And these agents are not high-pressure strangers. They are independent businessmen in your community, with a knowledge of you and your needs, the ability to help you plan intelligently for the future and the capacity to make available to you an information service which will keep you advised of new developments in your industry.

Then there's costs. Despite rigid quality control UFA offers its products at competitive prices.

Further, UFA is a co-operative. That means that, by becoming a member, you not only have a voice in how the association runs its business, but you also share in its profits by way of patronage dividends, based on the amount of business you do with UFA. These dividends are not taken. This year alone UFA distributed $2,894,000 in patronage dividends to the farmers of Alberta.

That's why most Alberta farmers belong to UFA. If you're not one of them, contact your local agent.

RCMP pleased with Alberta posting

Once a member of the Armed Forces, Cat. Yvan Teasdale decided to change careers in mid stream and join the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in April of 1977.

Yvan is now part of the five man detachment that operates out of Killam covering a territory that reaches from Days land to Amisk Hugenheim and west and approximately a 20 mile area going north and south of Highway 13. An area which Yvan admits is a large territory for just one detachment man to cover.

After completing a rigorous six month training period at the RCMP centre in Regina, Saskatchewan, Yvan said he was surprised yet pleased that his first posting was to be in Alberta.

"I expected to get transferred to the west but never thought it would be Alberta because B.C. needed most of the men at that time."

Being of French-Canadian heritage didn't make Yvan feel apprehensive about coming out west due to the fact that while with the Armed Forces, he was stationed in Edmonton and Calgary for four and a half years. He had also travelled extensively in the west and knew what to expect.

But he wasn't sure what small town reaction would be at first since Yvan hadn't had any dealings with small communities.

"I have to say that I have been impressed to see people so friendly," says Yvan since his posting to the Killam detachment seven months ago.

"Coming to a small community was a big change after living in cities all my life."

Cat. Teasdale found that he had to become familiar with a fair amount of unfamiliar farm law such as that of cattle and grain and trespassing. That required a lot of extra reading, talking with farmers and people that sell farm equipment.

Working in a small community, it's important to also get involved in community activities, remarked Yvan, who managed to find time to play hockey for the Killam Old Timers and bowl during the winter.

Having spent time in the Armed Forces, has helped me cope with some parts of my work in the RCMP, especially the physical and disciplinary aspects of the job.

Cat. Teasdale ponders thoughtfully when reminded about the years spent in the Armed Forces.

Joining at age 17 in 1970, Yvan says he was attracted by some of the careers in the Armed Forces.

"At the time, I thought it would be a very exciting life." The first portion of his time in the forces was spent as a supply technician, maintaining control of supplies and services in the accounting department.

Later on, I decided to go for more action and became a parachutist and served with the Canadian Airborne Regiment in Edmonton, something I found very challenging.

When Yvan joined in 1970, his English wasn't too good so he had to go to school for six months to study English. In Quebec, English was learned like French in here.

"It wasn't too easy to pick up at first, says Yvan in his now almost perfect English.

While with the forces Yvan had the opportunity to travel all across Canada and Europe and was even stationed in Egypt for six months in 1975-76 as part of an emergency peace keeping force.

Looking back at those years, Yvan, says without hesitation that it wasn't an easy decision to leave the forces after six and a half years of satisfying work, up to a point of corporate generally having established myself but I felt it was time for me to go into a different career, different type of work, even though it meant another training period.

As for the future, Cat. Teasdale will be putting in duty at the Edmonton Commonwealth Games and expects to be transferred to the Lethbridge detachment in September.

Long term plans involve ambitions to work with the drug squad in his career as an RCMP officer.

Hardisty and District News Items

A visitor to town recently after an absence of 81 years was Mr. Jim O'Neil of San Francisco, California.

Frank Oxford brought him to Hardisty where Frank was happy to renew acquaintances. Mr. O'Neil found a number of his old school friends around here, namely Cyril and Dick Drever, Lloyd Gravett, the Selkirk sisters, Gladys, Ava, Crone and Hazel Rubenok.

Cyril Drever kindly gave me more information as the Nelsons had always referred to Hardisty Lake as Pete's Lake.

Well Mrs. O'Neil cooked at the hotel and enjoyed giving readings at entertainments and with her Irish brogue, was much enjoyed by all. Later she married Pete Christianson who lived at the lake, where Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thorpe resided and so it was Pete's Lake.

He went to school in Hardisty from 1906 to 1916 and left in 1917. He returned now after working for U.S. customs.

A few were at the river on June 4 and Tim McNalley caught a goldfish. The record length is 16 inches and his measured 16 1/2 inches. The Leadways and Andy were all there too.

The members of the O.O.R.P. entertained St. Citizens at the Drop-In Centre. A nice lunch was served and among the guests was Hilding Anderson with his daughter, Shirley Hawk who lives in Kamloops, B.C.

Cambridge Association offers two scholarships

The ladies of the Cambridge Community Association enjoyed a lovely afternoon at the home of Donna Martin on May 30 when they held their monthly meeting. There were seven members present, one visitor, Sandra Roniechuk, and five little visitors.

The usual business was dealt with. This year we are giving two scholarships of $10 each to the top two students of the Loughheed Junior High. Usually there is only one presented, but it's nice to see two this year with outstanding marks, so our congratulations go to these two.

We discussed having a Community meeting for Mr. and Mrs. Jack Potter. This will be held on the 18 of June at the Cambridge school in the afternoon. Anyone is welcome to come. We will combine our Annual Picnic with this, so anyone coming is welcome to bring their picnic lunch (potluck) and Shirley went to school here and later worked in our bank, leaving in 1964.

Maribel Bell and her sister Lana Helen of Edmonton visited with Doris Powell on Saturday, also the Irving Bells.

Cora Paulson of Strome attended Olaf's 90 birthday celebration, another old-time friend and neighbor.

Isabel Nelson spent the weekend of June 4 with Howard and Gladys Stoner and really gave it ever warm those two days Stayed in Camrose Monday night and came home on Tuesday.

However a new bus had to come to Camrose and take us to Hardisty and while waiting there, she and I started talking and she had lived in Hardisty years ago.

So it was Mrs. Iva Herder of Roseland and she used to be Iva McInyre and knew the Nelsons so I invited her to Olaf's 90 birthday celebration and she came and met many of her old school friends after leaving here many years ago.

She really enjoyed herself and we all enjoyed having her. Another old friend of Olaf's came too, Martha Carson who lives in Cranbrook, B.C. and sang a song for Olaf and happy birthday. She also says she keeps up with the news via the Press.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Nordfors of Red Deer (Elma Anderson) brought Jean (Kelley) Kyler of Ponoka with them, all neighbors of Olaf's years ago.

Hopefully someone will send in a report of the Air Strip Project and we would that the furthest plane to come was

We all signed get well cards for Pauline Butcher and Roger Kroeitich.

Verona thanked the club for the fruit basket and get well card.

Sandra Roniechuk was the lucky winner of the raffle.

An interesting contest was enjoyed, given by Donna, in which we had to guess what ingredients went into the soup pot from hints supplied by Donna. Rita and Verona were the top guessers in this with Verona going to Valda and Elsie Cookson.

Meeting was adjourned, we repeated the Lord's Prayer, and enjoyed a delicious lunch served by Donna and Rita.

Next meeting will be held at the Cambridge School on the 27 of June, on which we will hold a clean-up day.

Sympathy is extended to Albert Schvedsky on the passing away of his father in Humboldt, Saskatchewan recently.

Sympathy is extended to all the Korch families and relatives in the passing away of Elsie Korch nee Hughes, also Hughes relatives. Elsie stayed with her uncle Ed Hughes one year and went to Lacombe school with your reporter. A big thanks to Mary Griebel of Castor for picking me up to go to the funeral in Sedgewick.

We were sorry to hear of the drowning in Hardisty Lake of a young 17 year old son of the Wiert family near Alliance so sympathy is extended to his family.

Annie Whitehead had moved her materials etc. to the other side of the store and Alwyn Moser is setting up a Fun Centre in that part. Her brother, Vernon Landale, operates Leisureland in Camrose.

It was good to see Mr. and Mrs. Bill Landale at the Camrose Jambores. They, like me, found it nice to sit and play bingo, and Mrs. Landale is improving more all the time after her operation.

To Whom It May Concern

I wish to thank the person who took my purse last week. The money was nil, but the purse itself was valuable, plus the 2 wallets that were gifts and can never be replaced, and of course my personal cards. If you feel as good about it as I feel bad, it will certainly give you a lift. Gladys Goodrich

Double ring ceremony in Hardisty

On Saturday, May 20, 1978 at 2:30 p.m., Luanne Golla, daughter of Lou and Charlotte Golla of Hardisty was united in marriage to Dwight Nixon, son of Ralph and Eleanor Nixon of Nanton, Alta. in St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Hardisty. The double ring ceremony was performed by Father Perron.

Recorded down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a V-necked sleeveless gown of polka-dot tulle covered by a full-length lace coat, trimmed with peach colored ribbon and a matching lace picture hat also trimmed with peach colored ribbon. She carried a bouquet of Woburn Abbey roses and white daisies and her jewelry was a single strand of pearls and matching earrings borrowed from her aunt, Pat Bell of Edmonton.

The groom was dressed in a medium brown tuxedo with dark brown tie. His boutonniere was a white carnation and a Woburn Abbey rose. All four parents joined Dwight and Luanne at the altar to give them their blessing for their life together.

The matron of honor was Dawna Ettinger of Coar and the two bridesmaids were Cathy Cook and Cheryl Grundberg Olson of Ft. McMurray and Edson respectively. All friends of the bride, their dresses were made of printed white and peach polyester with short sleeves, a sweetheart neckline and A-line style skirt. They carried bouquets of white and yellow daisies and a single Woburn Abbey rose. Small yellow straw flowers were pinned in their hair. The best man was Chuck Schneider of Medicine Hat and the two groomsmen were Larry Ross and Wayne Robertson, both of Calgary. All are friends of the groom. All three wore dark brown velvet tuxedos with white daisy boutonnieres.

The scriptures were read by Shelley Huton, friend of the bride and Paul Nixon, brother of the groom.

of the groom. The bride's cousin, Patricia and Christine Golla of Viking, Alberta played and sang the songs "Today", "Evergreen", and "Ave Maria". The ushers were Brian and Kevin Golla, brothers of the bride, and Paul Nixon.

The bride's mother wore a yellow polyester jersey dress trimmed with beige lace. The groom's mother's dress was a flowered poncho-style sheer over green polyester silk. Both mothers wore corsages of Woburn Abbey roses and white daisies.

The bride and groom compared their own vows and realized them to each other from memory. The entire ceremony was thoughtfully planned by the couple themselves with the help of Father Perron in an effort to make it meaningful, relatively relaxed and unique.

An informal buffet reception was held outside at the home of the bride's parents. It was a perfect day and photographs were taken outside by Bryan Shanks of Nanton. Friends of the bride's family were on hand to ensure that all of the guests were well fed. The bride's table was centered by a three-tier wedding cake baked by the bride's mother and decorated by Mrs. Fannie Wilder of Hardisty. The top layer was adorned by fresh white roses and white daisies. Mr. John Golla, uncle of the bride, was the Master of Ceremonies. The toast to the bride was given by Mr. Doug Welliver of Edmonton, a long-time family friend. Cynthia Nixon, sister of the groom, took charge of the guest book.

In attendance were six grandparents, Dwight's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hargreaves from Linton, Ontario and his paternal grandmother Mrs. Margaret Nixon from Nanton, Alberta. Luanne's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Milne of Irma, Alberta and her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Lenora Golla from Edmonton. Other out-of-town guests were from Seattle, Washington, Kimberley and Kamloops, B.C. Grande Prairie, Peace River, Viking, Vegreville, Edmonton, Calgary, Innisfail and Nanton, Alberta.

For going away, the bride chose an orange and blue printed cotton eyelet sundress with matching orange shawl and white orchid corsage. The groom wore a three-piece light brown suit. Following a short honeymoon to Fortuaria, Mexico, the couple are residing in Lloydminster, Alberta.

Loughheed A.C.W. meet

The Loughheed A.C.W. was held May 18 at the home of Dorothy Kowchuk. The ladies and their children in attendance.

Meeting opened with members prayer and devotionals was read by Verona Cookson. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Treas. Pauline Hutchings.

We raised the money raised by our cash raffle towards the garage siding on rectory garage.

We sent cards to Mrs. Cyril Drevy and Mr. Tom Keany. Next the Treas. report was read and we paid our donations which we do each spring and half instead of having lists and bake sales.

The roll call was answered with each member recalling how many sick visits and cards were sent during the month.

Sandra Rosiechuk won the hostess prize. Two members contributed to the birthday box.

The president gave a report on the annual A.C.W. Regional meeting held at Telford in April. The meeting closed with the Lord's prayer. Our next

WHITE WHALE

Found mainly in Arctic waters the Beluga, or white whale still journeys via the Gulf of St. Lawrence and other northern waters to spend its summer months in the Gulf.

In the fall, the skull and part of the skeleton of a young white whale were found in a well excavation near Dawson City. This was heralded throughout the city and down the coast. The skeleton was one of the Atlantic Ocean which contained the skull about 1,000 years ago.

Goose Creek Club report

On Wednesday afternoon, June 7 the Goose Creek Ladies Club met at the home of Margaret Simpson. There were seven members and five visitors present. The business meeting was very brief. We were very pleased to have District Home Economist Miss Diane Bourne as guest speaker. Miss Bourne gave a very interesting talk on information relevant to women who have been singled by widowhood, separations or divorce. Lunch and social hour concluded a pleasant afternoon meeting.

You can make more friends in two months by becoming really interested in other people, than you can in two years by trying to get other people interested in you.

Lougheed Kindergarten

The Lougheed Kindergarten ended its first year of operation on May 31 with a final class-up. The group has had a very busy year especially since our last report.

The children hosted the Women's Institute to an Easter tea which was enjoyed by all. In connection with the safety course the children visited the police station in Killam and the fire station in Lougheed. A visit from Mr. Vanderweide also helped stress safety. Two other visitors brought health ideas - the home economist with some films and the dental hygienist with her puppet friends.

Joining with the Hardisty Kindergarten they went by boat to the Camrose Hatchery and a short train ride. Later in the same week this group went to the Historic colony at Irma. The Kindergarten visited the Killam Hospital and on another occasion went to a puppet show in Hardisty. They have completed their second set of swimming lessons at the Killam pool.

On May 31 a family picnic and hayride was enjoyed by all. Mr. Coles' horses were not ready to give us many children a ride and after some sawdust in a line and a short run, the group had a fine ride.

The children had their final story time at the library on May 28. The Kindergarten certainly has enjoyed the weeklies given by the ladies, especially "Little Red Riding Hood", complete to the basket of goodies and the gifts.

The year has ended with many happy memories. The year's success has to be attributed to Mrs. Affolder and the entire Lougheed community for all their efforts and encouragement.

Crop Insurance Participation

Participation in the Alberta crop insurance program is down slightly from last year.

The threat of drought at seeding time last year prompted about $21,000 farmers in the province to take out insurance. With the anticipated good weather for the coming crop year, about 19,500 Alberta farmers have indicated they will take part in the 1978-79 federal-provincial crop insurance program. This is about 95 per cent of eligible farmers in the province.

Total liability for Alberta farmers is projected at $500 million and the premiums paid in the province could amount to $30 million.

Under the program the farmer pays half the premium with the federal government contributing the other half. The provincial governments pay all of the administrative costs.

Across Canada, 114,000 farmers are enrolled this year. This figure is up from 111,000 farmers last year. Total premiums paid into the insurance program for the 1978-79 crop year will be about $140 million of which the federal and provincial governments will pay $70 million.

Total coverage across the country will be about $1.5 billion. Despite the fact that more farmers are enrolled across the country, both premiums and liabilities are down from last year because the additional farmers are mostly from Quebec where the smaller farms mean smaller premiums.

Of the Canadian farmers covered by the crop insurance plan, 70 per cent live on the prairies. From the Federal contribution to the plan, 82 per cent or $57 million is paid to the three prairie provinces.

Last year, total premiums paid across the country reached a record high of $140 million because of the threat of drought. As the drought never materialized in many areas payouts have been less than anticipated in most parts of the country. Total indemnities have so far totalled $109 million but more claims are still expected, particularly on the corn crop in Ontario.

In the West, most claims were made on hail damage and losses caused by the wet weather in the fall.

Alberta farmers insured under the program last year will receive about $30 million in payouts.

CORPORATION INCREASES LENDING LIMITS

In addition to a number of other things, recent amendments to the Farm Credit Act have raised lending limits.

The lending limit for a farm operating with one qualifying applicant is now $200,000, regardless of age. The previous maximum loan was $150,000 for an eligible applicant under 35 years of age and $100,000 for an eligible applicant over 35 years of age.

The amendments also provide for a loan limit of $400,000 for farm units with two or more qualifying applicants. Previous limits were $200,000 for all farm units, regardless of the number of eligible applicants involved.

Harry Wane of Alberta Agriculture's farm business management branch says this new provision will be useful for joint farming operations and for families who wish to expand their farming unit to enable a son or daughter to work into the business.

Another amendment provides for all loans to be secured on a market value basis. In the past standard loans to people under the age of 35 could be secured on a market value basis, but those made to people over 35 were secured on an appraised productive value basis.

Still another amendment provides for the elimination of the penalty interest charge on loans that are in arrears.

The $55 a year charge for supervision, which was applied to loans exceeding 75 per cent of the appraised value of the farm business, has been dropped. Advisory services will now be provided only when needed and requested.

To qualify for a standard loan under the present Farm Credit

Act, a borrower who is over 35 years of age must have a full-time farm business. However, a person who is under 35, and who wants to "phase into" farming, may retain an off-farm job for up to five years.

The average loan made by the Farm Credit Corporation last year was $78,995 compared with $47,510 in 1976. Approximately 72 per cent of last year's loans were made to farmers under the age of 35.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

The last week's edition of the Community Press carried, among other things an article titled "Focus on Hardisty" (also Focus on other towns along the line).

This article was well written as far as it went, but it didn't go far enough. Why weren't our three Churches mentioned? Many people, in considering moving to town feel they would like a Church to attend. Rightly so. After all, a Church is, or should be the focus point in any community.

We are aware a pastor is always called upon to conduct baptisms, weddings, funerals and here in Hardisty there is a very thriving United Church, an equally thriving Catholic Church and "Home" little Anglican Church.

To me, a community without a Church is a dead community. The Church is a necessary asset to any town.

Also we wonder why our beautiful summer resort "Hardisty Lake" was not mentioned? Surely this is an asset with its dozens of beautiful modern cottages and sandy beach as well as being so close to town. So, Miss Pope, you did a splendid job in writing up our little community. (Not forget the many paved streets) to me, neglecting to mention two of the most important "Drawing cards" to our little town was a dire oversight!

Respectfully yours,
Mrs. F. Cantlon

Nazarene church hosts Englishers

Sedgewick visitors from Manchester, England, are Lois and Bill Rolland. They arrived Monday evening and will be spending a week at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Abelparents of Lois.

While staying in Sedgewick, Bill is a guest speaker and Lois will be singing at a musical extravaganza and welcome reception being held in their honour at the Nazarene Church Sunday, June 18 at 7:00 p.m.

Mr. Rolland is a registrar at the British Isles Nazarene College, an educational institution for the Church of Nazarene in Britain.

Lois is a high school teacher specializing in music. The Rollands have two children named Heather and Eliza. After a week's stay in Sedgewick, the Rollands plan to go to the United States where Bill intends to work on a doctoral program in Minneapolis.

Everything that is done in the world is done by hope.

Editorially

Our Editorials

It has been said that some editorial policies of newspapers oppose just for the sake of being negative. Although this may be true with some media, such is not the case with the majority of weekly newspapers.

Rather, we feel Alberta weeklies like The Community Press have a personal interest in their communities and have the interest of the area at heart. The real purpose of newspaper editorials should provide and promote discussions on the issues of the day. They can be the opinion of the writer and therefore are one person's opinion or they can present a number of facts and let the readers draw a conclusion. Either way, the opinion of the reader should be aroused and ideally some action should result.

All too often, if the editorial is pointed at a problem with individuals, governments or businesses, pressure is "brought to bear" against the editor. Sometimes it may be a slight objection or as has been my personal experience, direct economic pressure has been exerted. The editorial writer appreciates comment whether derogatory or complimentary and will accept criticism if facts are incorrect.

It should be noted however that pressure is not the way to counteract a difference of opinion. Each and everyone of us is entitled to an opinion, including the editor of a weekly newspaper. It would seem much more constructive to express any objections to editorial opinion through the vehicle known as "Letters to the Editor". These letters can take opposing views or may even open up a new area of concern.

We have always held the idea that an editorial page is important to any newspaper. One's ideas whether they are those of the editor or the reader, needs a sounding board, which is provided through such a page.

What Others Say

LET'S KEEP THE DRUNKS OFF THE ROAD

We have recently been told by a number of local parents how their children are being picked up by the local police, picked up for speeding and other offences such as drunk driving. We are sorry to say we have no sympathy for these people. If their children have been charged with a lot of driving offences it is because they deserved them. Instead of defending their children they should be asking themselves how they would feel if their Johnny ran over a child while he was drunk. It is time the parents of these children started taking a closer look at what their offspring are doing when away from home.

The local police force is a good one. The officers are not carrying on a personal vendetta against anyone. Think for a moment. If you were a police officer taking stop checks, would you stop the ones with a bad record and let the others go? We would like to see the law in Alberta changed so that any driver convicted for impaired driving a second time should have his license taken away for life. A drunk driver is a criminal and does not deserve any respect from anyone. Stop blaming the local police and put fault where it belongs - on the shoulders of the people who do not deserve the privilege of driving.

We clipped the preceding editorial from another newspaper and feel it should be mandatory reading for any driver, particularly all new drivers.

Squealing tires and red rodding is a sign of ignorance, not manhood.

The Third Column

by Trueman

"Never, no never, will we ever pursue the vocation of Printer, Editor or publisher". So remarked the writer of this column in these many years ago. Too many deadlines, too many frustrations, too many public abuse, too many long hours of toil, etc. etc. Finally frustrated by over work and being trampled at every turn, we obligingly turned over the job to the present Editor. We then swore again that never, never, would we take on the job of meeting writing deadlines again. So what happens? Here we are again, sworn to prepare

FUTURE COLUMNS will not be so self centered. We just felt that at the start we had to introduce ourselves as a contributor to what is going to be a new page in the Community Press containing editorials, events of the past, and other features which usually occupy such a page. We like this, for we always consider an Editorial Page a must in any thriving newspaper. Whether we like it or not, we wish this page a long and useful life.

The editorials may be controversial sometimes; the columns may be the same. We are both free to write as we see fit. Just always remember that the opinions expressed are our own and may not always be right, wrong or acceptable. If you like it, tell others; if you don't tell us

FOR ZEAL AND TEST OF LIVING

An eager beaver never stops working. He just keeps digging and building dams across the streams. He has zeal.

A young man was in love. He wrote: "I could swim the ocean to the west with you. I could endure the cold of the North Pole, or cross the burning sands of Africa or climb the steepest mountain, if only I could be in your arms." He had zeal but I wonder how much ardor he had, for he added a postscript: "I will be over on Wednesday, if it doesn't rain."

Zeal means enthusiasm. Johnny was enthusiastic about his new football. Jane was enthusiastic about her new doll. The whole family was enthusiastic about their new station wagon. We are all enthusiastic about our church? We have zeal.

Just to be alive is wonderful. I like it. In fact, I get enthusiastic about it. I have fervor for it. I feel the seal of living, and at this Thanksgiving Season I think we should all thank God for the seal of living.

Another word we use is zeal. When we look at a picture with keen enjoyment, that is zeal. When we watch the sun setting, or listen to beautiful music, or see a beautiful horse running, this is fun, and we have zeal for it all.

I have seen boys and girls dive into a tank with gusto. Or you should see someone go through three hamburgers and top them off with six bottles of pop. That is gusto, or zeal. And some of us feel that way about living.

Thanksgiving is a wonderful time of year, when we count our blessings. Let us count our blessings. What are the joys that have come to your home this past year? Is it a new child in the home? Or is it simply the love that we find among the members of the family? Or is it simply the love that we find among the members of the church? Or is it the friendship of our friends and neighbors? Or did someone do something special that we are grateful for? Is it the time we spend at church worth thanking God for?

The blessings of life are commonplace. It is the sentimentality that we find in the world that is the problem. Perseverance and determination alone are omnipotent. The slogan "Press On" has saved, and always will save, the problems of the human race."

KEEPING IN TOUCH

by Arnold Malone, M.P.

THE MOVEMENT OF GRAIN

On Sunday, June 11, 1978, I, along with several other people, met in Members of Parliament, met in Winnipeg with the Port of Churchill Development Board. It was indeed a most interesting day. Our meeting was filled with discussion, proposal of charts and data, and most of all the sharing of common concerns.

Compared with years gone by, today's modern trains are much longer, have considerably larger hopper cars, and are pulled by larger horse power and more engines. Unfortunately, the fact still remains that we only move the same amount of grain on the prairies as the steam engines did in the 1920's. Yet, while our movement of grain has not increased we have the recent experience of tremendous congestion in the Port of Vancouver. At the present time there are 8 ships loading, in Vancouver and more than 20 ships waiting, some as long as 30 days. The demurrage charges at the Port of Vancouver could equal $30 million this year.

By contrast, the Port of Churchill, which is 700 miles closer to the Alberta-Saskatchewan border than the Port of Vancouver, could double its capacity from 30 to 60 million bushels without any additional capital costs. It is important to note that the Port of Churchill has zero demurrage charges; ships are not held up at that Port. Farmers will be interested to note that the additional cargoes through the Port of Churchill could accrue from filling the present undercapacity loading without extending the present shipping season. In addition, there is excellent evidence to indicate that we could extend the season another 30 to 30 days and still stay well within reasonable safety requirements.

What is also unfortunate about the Port of Churchill is that the majority of the rail lines leading to the Port are built out of 100-pound per foot steel rails except the last 180 miles which is constructed of 90-pound per foot rails. The result is that hopper cars could travel at full load at normally high speeds over most of the rail line. However, because of the lighter rail for a short distance at one end, it necessitates very slow approach leading hopper cars to a fraction of full capacity.

Because of the very short shipping season in the Port of Churchill the history has been of very excellent labor relations. Employees are very cognizant of the fact that if they go on strike during the shipping season they will place themselves in the vulnerable position of losing a whole year's shipping. Once freeze-up comes a strike would have no effect on management. The result is that the laborers at the Port of Churchill have a very conscientious work ethic and a tradition for efficient production.

Interestingly, if the Port of Churchill could have attained the demurrage charges that were required at the Port of Vancouver across the past 10 years, then they could have more than doubled their storage and shipping capacity and become one of the major grain shipping ports in North America.

I was also surprised to learn that in the make-up of the trains, the majority of the cars are operating on friction reduced bearing axles; however, in the majority of these trains there are at least one or more cars connected into the linkage that has the old style bushing axle. The result is that you could have a hypothetical train with 90 cars equipped with friction-reduced bearings and one car with a bushing axle; therefore the maximum speed for the whole car with a bushing train would be reduced to the top speed of a bushing axle box set.

In recent weeks I have been making inquiries about how to get into the field of transportation,

Control wild oats early or late

Endeven or Mataven will clean up your wild oat problems! And your Pioneer Elevator Manager can help you decide which of the two you should use, to get better yields.

Endeven is a most effective post-emergent spray when wild oats are in the 4 to 6 leaf stage. It can be used on all wheat varieties (except Selek), and on rapeseed.

Mataven is a product you can use effectively from the 3 to 6 leaf stage of wild oats.

Rely on Shell's Endeven or Mataven, and your Pioneer Elevator Manager's know-how, in your fight against wild oats.

Endeven and Mataven are products of Shell Chemicals. Read label instructions before use.

MY LIBERATING DILEMMA

Oh, it's been a long, hard struggle - two or three thousand years, or maybe even more - but it looks like women's liberation has finally arrived or, at any rate, it's just around the corner. We've waited a long time for equality, freedom and independence, and heaven knows we deserve them, after all the meals we've cooked and the diapers we've washed. Two years ago, when I graduated from university, I was convinced that this freedom and independence would open a whole new world for me, a world my grandmother could never have imagined.

But, for me, liberation has created more problems than it has solved. Of course, I believe in equal pay for equal work. But I've chosen to be a wife and mother, and who could afford to pay a wife and mother to work twenty-four hours a day 365 days a year? Anyway, as every mother knows, her salary is paid in hugs and kisses and homemade Mother's Day cards - and they don't count toward the Canada Pension Plan.

Then too, there's that constant pressure, not just from other people, but from within myself, to have a career, to do something. Surely cooking and housework can't keep an intelligent, efficient young woman busy all day - unless, of course, she's a gourmet cook, does all the sewing for her own family and everyone else on the block, spends two days a week doing volunteer work, and keeps a huge garden. Well, I do a bit of volunteer work, but I'm just an average sort of cook. I can't sew anything beyond split seams and buttons, and I'm quite happy to leave the gardening to my husband. Yet if I pursued a career outside the home all day, where would I find time to freeze the garden produce, comfort the friend

Of course, I'm happy that the Pill and modern birth control have permitted me the freedom to choose whether or not to have children and how many. Grandmother could face such pregnancy with a happy smile or a tired sigh of resignation, and in either case, attribute it to the will of God. But I'm faced with deciding whether we can afford to raise a child, whether I should bear my children early or wait until my career is well established, whether I have the physical and psychological capability to be a good mother, whether I am contributing unnecessarily to the population explosion. Is the awesome burden of responsibility for making such decisions really worth the freedom of choice?

If there were ever a time to delight in being a woman, that time should be now. But freedom and independence have brought with them so many dilemmas, so much responsibility. To be liberated, I feel pressed into being superwife, supermother, superworker, superwoman. Sometimes I feel so disenchanted with the entire liberation bag that I could cheerfully drop the whole thing, and go back to being my husband's chattel. But only sometimes. Because I know that, when I can struggle through these growing pains and reach the point of true and complete liberation, then I'll be able to accept myself as being just that - Me. And as long as I can set and meet my own standards for liberation, I won't have to worry about other people's.

Daysland school news wrap-up

This school is proud to announce that Dennis Perrie and Sally Jo Kopas will be going to the AMA safety patrol camp. They will learn all about safety patrol so they will be able to take over the patrol from the present patrol members. Present captain, Darren Green, says he began the new patrol number will be as well as the old ones did.

On May 15, Dr. Puppert came to the Community Hall and showed plays to our school children. We enjoyed these puppet plays.

On June 7, the Daysland Elementary track meet was held. The Cree team came out on top. Here is a list of the top athletes for the day: Grade One: Shelby Gude and Jason Wilson; Grade Two: Jenny Davidson and Sheldon Koloff; Grade Three: Corinne Robbins and Ted Conner; Grade Four: Tracy Gable and Cheyenne Stenrud; Grade Five: Evelyn Nakajovich and Colin Davis; Grade Six: Rhonda Braussen and Giraud Guble. The parents of these kids have something to be proud of.

Grades 4, 5 and 6 almost became wrecks from the middle of May. This was caused by C.T.B.S. tests. Grade six students had five tests within two weeks. Grade six student, Doug Heck, says tests like that should be done away with. Many of us probably agree with him. There was one set of tests from Red Deer, and another from Edmonton.

Have a good summer!

Junior High News
This year the Junior/High track meet was cancelled.

The grade nine class went on a field trip to Edmonton. They toured the Provincial Museum, Parliament buildings, Edmonton Public Library, City Hall, Art Gallery, St. Joseph's Cathedral, AGT Tower, Bonnie Deon Shopping Centre, and of course MacDonalds. We would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Shanks and the bus driver, Mrs. Danelson of Sedgewick. The Junior High held a dance on June 2. The Grade 9 Choir has been asked to sing at Award Day on June 30. Choir members are: Janet Aueron, Nandy Narine, Kim Meyer, Shanna Ashary, Bev Karjavech, Jona Campbell, Audrey Loeach, Sharon Erickson, Susan May, Maria Lussend, Debbie Longhe and pianist Wendy Campbell.

The grade 9 class held a Canadian Unity Night on May 13. Guest Speakers were James Lang student, Alex Blais County Reeve, Stan Linnack - Mayor, Gordon Stromberg M.L.A., Lloyd Gillespie - principal, and special guest speaker was Dave Courvoisier, member of Teat Masters.

The grade 9 class presented a brief to the touring cabinet on May 29. The grade 9s suggested there be more social studies subjects provided throughout schools. This was brought on by a survey conducted by grade 9s where 78 per cent of students surveyed could identify Alberta's premier, but zero per cent could identify Canada's Government.

Senior High News
On Monday, May 15, the Lobstick Band gave a concert to grades 1-12 that lasted approximately 45 minutes. The band was composed of 50 Junior and Senior High students from Nanton, Wildwood, and the Evansburg - Yellowhead School Division.
On May 17 an afternoon of puppet and marionette shows were enjoyed by the Junior and Senior High students. The Daysland Activities Recreation Board sponsored this show. Our thanks Recreation Board! Senior High Exams will be held June 25, 26, 27 and 28. No students will attend school on the 29, since it is teacher preparation day.

Annual Sports days will be held in the School gymnasium on Friday, June 30. Many Junior High students are involved in the Quarter Exchange program. They will have games on the 24 for 10 days and then students from here will travel to Quebec for 10 days. This program is organized through the 4-H.

The Law 20 class enjoyed a field trip to Edmonton Court on June 5. At the Track and Field Meet held in Camrose on May 31, Tom Fries won a Silver Medal in the Hurdle competition and Joanne Hahn won a Bronze medal in the 1500 meter.

Senior High Students Union 78-79 Executives will be elected on Friday, June 16.

The coming year will see a reduction in teaching staff for Daysland School which really affects the students and the courses available. Mr. Shanks has resigned and Mr. Young will be teaching in Poremba this coming term. Good bye, Penny Porpington

LET'S KEEP A WORKING M.L.A.

In a weeks time you, the people of the Camrose Constituency will be, in a sense, choosing the person who will represent you in the provincial legislature after the next election.

As you are probably aware, our current M.L.A. Gordon Stromberg is being considered for the nomination for the P.C. party candidacy.

Our candidate, Gordon Stromberg, has worked both hard and effectively for us in the past 7 years, and we know that he will be an effective voice for us in the next government.

As the Camrose Constituency has now been increased to take in an even larger number of people and towns it is pretty tough for Gordon Stromberg to see everyone personally — however, Gordon will be visiting as many towns and villages as possible and talking with as many of you as possible.

Look at Gordon's record — this is the man we want to represent us — this is the man you want to represent you in the next government.

On Wednesday, June 28 — come to C.L.C. Convocation Centre and cast your vote for Gordon Stromberg.

Our Campaign Office is now open located in the old Wilson Electric Building next to Groves Drug on the Main Street of Camrose.

If you have questions or require a membership, or want a ride to the nomination meeting or need babysitting services, please phone us at 878-9836 or drop into our office and we will be pleased to make all these arrangements for you and it is all free.

Please get out on June 28 and support your working member

Farewell to Fanders

A farewell party for Betty and Joe Fanders in the form of a pot luck supper took place on Thursday, June 15 at 6:00 p.m. in the Senior Citizens Lounge with 55 members present.

After the spontaneous supper, the program consisted of two musical selections namely "My God and Me" and "It's Good to Know You" with revised wedding song by Tim Blumhagen. Ruth Granger and Annie Bursell accompanied by accordion. It was very appreciated and enjoyable. A game was played where a number was drawn out of a box, winners were Laura Colton, Mary Laypage, Fred Blumhagen, Joe Fander and Mae Anderson.

Roy Manning, M.C. made the presentation of gifts, a mirror, candle holder ensemble, Killam spoon and cash in a good luck card signed by all present. A very appreciative thank you and an invitation to visit Betty and Joe in their new home in Good Fall, Saskatchewan where there are many lakes and good fishing. The evening concluded with playing card games, shuffleboard and pool. Twenty-six senior citizens boarded the school bus driven

CANADA THISTLE CONTROL.

Now that the crop's in we can devote some time to spraying and summerfallow, the cultural control of thistle problems should be in effect.

To most farmers in east central Alberta, Canada Thistles are well known and have quickly become a problem. Their control is difficult and can take two basic routes. One is cultivation control in summerfallow, the other a combination of cultivation and chemical control to be used in cropped land.

A good control program should do 3 things, prevent seed production, kill underground parts, and prevent reinfection by seedlings. The basic principle to remember is, attack the thistle when it is the weakest.

Because a seed can lie dormant in the soil for four years or more, a problem can emerge suddenly in new or previously controlled areas. As the plant matures its root system increases as does its resistance to control.

In a summerfallow situation it is important to note that the thistle is weakest in the period of time from mid-June to mid-July. It is at this time when stored food from the roots are being used up to produce top growth. Its weakest point is just shortly before bud stage. Therefore, permitting the thistle to grow to until nearly the bud stage, and then keeping it until freeze up actually starves the plant out. If it is still alive at freeze up, the winter frost seems to finish the job.

Now, the second area of control is in crop land. The 'Canada Thistle' can be eradicated from crop land without difficulty. However, more time is required and both chemical and cultivation are needed.

A control program should begin in early fall after the crop is harvested. Fall growing thistles should be sprayed with either 2-4-D, or Dicamba mixtures. Then after several weeks, when the new growth appears, repeated cultivation appears, until freeze up should be done.

The following spring deep working with an HD cultivator will destroy the thistles to a deeper depth than crop and give the crop a head start. Then when the thistles do come in the crop, they should be suppressed by applying a top control chemical to which the crop has tolerance. Come fall and the harvesting is done, the aforementioned sequence should be done again. After 2 years the thistle population should be greatly reduced or non-existent.

Finally then, thistles are difficult, but they can be beat.

Remember, good control involves no seed production, killing the roots, and preventing top growth.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cunningham and Tyler visited a few days recently with Mr. and Mrs. Homer Elm, then on their way home visited relatives in Edmonton and Calgary.

A very nice crowd attended the "open house" and dance at Brownfield Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Barry Stoy of Vegreville, Darlene and Barry were married in Mundare on June 3, 1978.

A lovely shower for Marie Steadman was held in the Battleford School last Sunday afternoon. Marie received many lovely gifts. Marie and Robert thanked all for coming and for all the lovely gifts also invited everyone to their open house and dance in Killam on Saturday, June 17, 1978.

Sorry to hear that Mrs. Evelyn Livingston was a patient in the Camrose Hospital later being transferred to Edmonton. With her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Daley Jensen and Mrs. Helen Sakahak were in Camrose one day last week.

Mr. Bill Dixon of Edmonton and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bell from Sherwood Park dropped in to visit Mrs. George Whitehead in the Parkland Manor after visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Ellinger at Caar.

Mrs. Ethel McCracken was an afternoon caller at the Jensen home last Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Peterson from Summerland, B.C. were Wednesday morning callers at the Jensen home.

The Sunbeam club met June 14 in the community hall with 21 members present, and 5 tables of whist were played. The high score went to Mrs. Margaret Schmidt with 37 and low went to Mrs. Benoit with 7. The next card game will be June 28.

Gloria Mockford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Mockford of Saskatoon, and David Armstrong, son of Rev. and Mrs. Chas Armstrong of Daysland were united in marriage at the residence of the groom's parents in Daysland, on Saturday, June 10.

Relatives and friends attending the out doors service came from Calgary, Edmonton, Innisfail, Saskatoon, Taber, Edson, Red Deer, Wetaskiwin, Peace River, and Prince George. Following the reception held in the church basement a wedding dance was held in Stromer. The young couple will be residing in Red Deer.

Visitors at Mr. and Mrs. Bill Davidson's home in Killam is Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davidson from Kelowna, B.C. They also visited Emily Hill and family on Saturday. Weather permitting we plan on having a family picnic at Big Knife Park on Sunday.

Hardisty and District News Items

It was surely nice to see Nellie McHane of Edmonton attend Olaf's birthday party and we understand that she has just returned from a trip in England.

Later on Nellie and Leo McShane called on Cyril Drevers, Marguerite still got the cast on her leg but is hoping to soon part with it.

Another visitor at Cyril's home was a cousin of Marguerite's from Ontario with his cousin.

Different people remember where Mrs. McIntyre (Iva) Hardisty's mother had a boarding house in Hardisty for high school girls in the house where Herman Schlossers now live.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Morrison of Aldrie were down to visit Lorne and family and also to be with Walter Kobitzel at Bert Soverholt's had been quite ill for some time.

The next ones we see are Elmer and Edna Dods of Lac La Biche. They are going to stay with brother, Walter Kobitzel for awhile.

Baseball fans of East Central Alberta are reminded that the Kilam Lions Baseball Tournament will be held on Saturday and Sunday, July 8 and 9 at Central Park in Kilam. Swimming and Free Camping Available.

PUT FUEL & PROFITS IN YOUR TANK IN YOUR POCKET

United Farmers of Alberta — owned by the farmers of this province — can save you money in many ways. Take the petroleum division.

First on your mind is, of course, quality. UFA agents provide top quality petroleum products, reflecting the latest technological advances. Rigor tests ensure that these products meet or exceed manufacturers' specifications. And these agents are not high-pressure strangers. They are independent businessmen in your community, with a knowledge of you and your needs, the ability to help you plan intelligently for the future and the capacity to make available to you an information service which will keep you advised of new developments in your industry.

Then there's costs. Despite rigid quality control UFA offers its products at competitive prices. Further, UFA is a co-operative. That means that, by becoming a member, you not only have a voice in how the association runs its business, but you also share in its profits by way of patronage dividends, based on the amount of business you do with UFA. These dividends are not taken. This year alone UFA distributed $2,894,000 in patronage dividends to the farmers of Alberta.

That's why most Alberta farmers belong to UFA. If you're not one of them, contact your local agent.

Sedgewick News Items

On Sunday afternoon all the brothers and sisters of Mrs. Len (Berrie) Berg met at the Berg home for a potluck dinner. The special occasion was in honour of Terry and Shannon who were recently married in High River. Terry's godparents, Lars and Isabel Sorheim were also present to wish the young couple well. Shannon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sandgate and their family, of High River, had driven up on Saturday afternoon and stayed to be present at the happy event.

Guests at the Bert Whitten home this past week were Mr. and Mrs. Hector MacAuley of Calgary. Mrs. MacAuley is Helen's aunt.

There were five tables of players at the Norwegian Whist Party held by the Senior Citizens at the Legion Hut on Friday evening. Mrs. Gunda Storbakken and Mr. G. Hope won prizes for the highest scores while consolation awards went to Mrs. Vera Hopkins and Mr. David Black.

Just found some news which should have been in the paper some weeks ago. With my memory I forgot until I found it tucked in my purse. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ross and children are back in Canada after spending 5 years in Germany. They are now stationed in Edmonton.

We are sorry to hear that a former resident of Sedgewick, Mr. Walter Hallum, who now lives in Camrose, is a patient in an Edmonton Hospital. We wish him a speedy recovery. Mr. and Mrs. W. Hallum visited him on Sunday taking along his wife, Mrs. D. Hallum.

Seven tables of whist players, including some guests from Killam, enjoyed the Senior Citizens Card Party at the Legion Hut on Wednesday afternoon. Prizes for the highest scores were won by Mrs. Minnie Dijn and Mr. H. Jamieson while Mrs. Margaret Watt and Mr. Charlie Lane received consolation.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walsh and sons of St. Albert, and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Blawie and children of Heister were Sunday dinner guests at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walsh.

Mrs. Janet Jasswin was in Oshon on a business trip on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jamieson were in Drayton Valley on Saturday to attend the 25 wedding anniversary celebration of their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. B. (Bill and Jessie) Dupperon. They visited old friends and had a really enjoyable time, arriving home Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Watkins and son left on Monday for Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ross and children are back in Canada after spending 5 years in Germany. They are now stationed in Edmonton.

Sedgewick pioneer passes

Ernie Leah, a long time Sedgewick resident and ardent community supporter, passed away at the age of 90 on June 20, 1978.

Born in England on July 16, 1888, Mr. Leah crossed the Atlantic in 1912 to come to Alberta. He began by working in the Merchant's Bank in Sedgewick until the outbreak of World War I at which time he went overseas and returned to Sedgewick in 1918.

Upon his return to Sedgewick, he opened a law office with Mr. Miller. Mr. Leah worked in the office as a clerk until Mr. Miller left the practice a few years later. At that time, Mr. Leah ran the business by himself as long as seven years ago when he sold the business to Mr. R. Potage.

Mr. Leah held the positions of Secretary-Treasurer and Justice of the Peace at St. John's Anglican Church for 80 years.

He was also closely affiliated with the Masonic Lodge which was raised in 1914 and in 1974. Mr. Leah received his 64 year membership pin.

As a lifetime member of the Golf Club, Mr. Leah was a key figure in keeping the club alive during the depression years.

Mr. Leah was also a lifetime member of the Sedgewick Legion, president from 1927 to 1938.

He served as Town Secretary for a number of years.

Besides being an avid golfer, Mr. Leah was an active cross country skier and swimmer.

Mr. Leah is survived by two brothers in England, Thomas and Wilfred; one sister-in-law, two nephews, one niece and several grandchildren.

Services will be held Thursday, June 29, 1978 2:00 p.m. at the Anglican Church in Sedgewick.

Sedgewick's July 1 activities are starting off with a hearty pancake breakfast, followed by a colourful parade. There'll also be plenty of action for those who enjoy ladies' and men's football.

Horse lovers will be enthused with the chuckwagon and chariot races lined up for the day. There will also be plenty of fun for those who enjoy playing bingo, horseshoes and bowl.

The day will come to an end with a dance at the curling rink.

3 bingo winners

Three people tied for the major $1000.00 prize in the Killam Legion's Cash Bingo on June 19. Picking up $333.33 each were John Semialuk of Edmonton, Eva Anderson of Hardisty and Colin McLennan of Killam by proxy.

The second major prize of $500 was won by Daley Champash of Hardisty while the advance ticket prize was won on the joint ticket of Debbie Golka and Brian Bugdan, who shared the $100.

Other winners (including some tied) were Harold Dobbs of Foreburg, Lily Visk (by proxy) of Viking, Evelyn Karringstien, Fred Dibbin (by proxy) of Foreburg, Alma Murray of Killam, Cathy Lewis of Alliance, Phyllis Manning (by proxy) of Hardisty, Ray Potage (by proxy) of Sedgewick, Mills Schulte of Killam, Grace Stables of Killam, Bonnie B. Storer, Sherril Lane of Sedgewick, and Mahel Quast (by proxy) of Lougheed.

Mr. John Armistage was the lucky winner of $1000. in the June draw of the Sedgewick Legion Bonanza Club. He joins previous winning supporters Matt Kobner, Roby Bury and Ralph Storbakken. Mr. Armistage's ticket was drawn by Miss Peggy MacGregor at the Annual Legion Barbecue on June 10, 1978. The Sedgewick Legion will be sponsoring Peggy in the Agri-Days Queen contest.

The preliminary plans for a new legion were approved by the membership on June 6, 1978. The drawing of blueprints and disposal of present buildings should facilitate a construction start prior to mid-summer. We thank the general public for their past and continuing support.

Harry Hargrave, a well known arboriculturist from Edmonton, was the featured speaker at the afternoon ceremony.

Lakeland College is also the only interprovincial college in Canada. Representatives from the Saskatchewan Department of Continuing Education and Alberta Advanced Education and Manpower attended the exercises.

Harry Hargrave, a well known arboriculturist from Edmonton, was the featured speaker at the afternoon ceremony.

The exercises were held outdoors in the campus arboretum. This is the first graduation for Lakeland College as a public college. Until April 1, 1978, Lakeland College was one of four colleges in the province administered by the Alberta Department of Advanced Education and Manpower.

FABRIC'S GO METRIC

At the beginning of July fabrics will be sold by the metre.

Since the metric system is based on decimals, measuring lengths of fabric will be easier with this method than it was by the imperial method. The terms that will be used are the metre, centimetre and the millimetre.

According to Doreen Al-Adra, assistant clothing and textile specialist with Alberta Agriculture, patterns sizes will not change. You will buy the same sized pattern as before (a size 12 is still a size 12). The only difference with the metric system is that body measurements are recorded in centimetres. "All you need," says Ms. Al-Adra, "is a metric tape measure to find your new metric self!" Since all pattern books have charts which list body measurements in metric, it will be easy to check the size of pattern you need.

The three common measuring units for home sewing are: metre (m) - to measure fabric lengths; centimetre (cm) - to measure fabric widths; millimetre (mm) - to measure width of trim, elastic, buttons, etc.

Fabric widths will be expressed in centimetres - the four most common are:

90 cm (36 in) - for cottons and cotton blends

115 cm (45 in) - for cottons and cotton blends

140 cm (54 in) - for wool

150 cm (60 in) - for doubleknits

Since a metre is slightly larger than a yard, the price you pay for a metre will be slightly more than the price per yard. It is important to remember, however, that you will need the same quantity of the same width of fabric as you needed under the imperial system. Hence, the cost of the same quantity of fabric will be the same under either system.

Ms. Al-Adra says many sewing notions are already sold in metric units. Zippers, for example, are sold in centimetres (48 cm is a common skirt zipper; 65 cm is a common necktie zipper). Thread is measured by the metre, while tapes, elastic widths, and button diameters are measured in millimetres.

KEEPING IN TOUCH

At the present time I have 3 Private Member's Bills before the Parliament of Canada. If you have other ideas that you would like submitted as Private Bill I would be pleased to hear from you. In the next weeks or months I will detail the substantive points of each of my Private Member's Bills commencing with this week's column.

In this article I wish to share the content and importance of one of the Bills I have placed before our Parliament. The Bill I refer to is one that would amend the dates of Federal election to a 4 year fixed term.

It is my belief that the government of the 1977 the Liberal Party was riding high on the political polls, the Tories by Arnold Malcom, M.P. an election date in order to seek political advantage. That is not democracy in action.

Many constituents have already voiced their protest at the manipulation that centers around the calling of an election. Most claim that it should not be the prerogative of the Prime Minister to choose the date he personally favors. After 4 years of parliamentary experience I agree; but I also see a far larger concern.

The larger concern I have respecting the "election guessing game" is the tremendous and ridiculous inefficiency that it imposes upon Parliament.

Most of you will recall that in the summer of 1977 the Liberal Party was riding high on the political polls, the Tories by Arnold Malcom, M.P.

SEDEGWICK MAN WINS TRAVEL TRIP

Mr. Nelson Bergum of Sedgewick won Two Weekend Excursion Passes (Returns) to Vancouver during the recent Jaywalk.

DA reports excellent crop potential

There is tremendous potential for 1978 crop yields in the Pigstail area, said DA, Glen Warner on Monday, June 28. Based on what has been completed in comparison to 1977 figures, the precipitation has had an excellent effect on the 1978 crops with only one or two excessive amounts of rain having been reported south of Killam. Damage there is all likelihood be negligible, in Mr. Warner's estimation.

Fortunately, no hail damage has been reported yet. Last week's frost also had no real negative impact on crop formation.

In looking the area over, Mr. Warner observed excellent hay and pasture stands this year with only the odd field being over grassed. "I also noticed some nice flat fields this year."

The rape fields are looking good with an almost 50 per cent increase in planting over last year's figures which showed approximately 70,000 acres ill.

Free hotline to Ottawa to provide quick action

Ottawa, June, 1978 - Any small business in Canada can now telephone Ottawa free of charge for ombudsman service to cut red tape and eliminate paperwork problems.

The hotline, (613) 905-9197, operates Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.

Eastern Time. Ombudsmen will accept collect calls from any business in Canada.

The agency providing this help is the Paperbuden Office, a small and temporary trouble-shooting arm of the Federal Government. The Paperbuden Office has established the telephone hotline to provide information and quick action on problems involving red tape or confusing, duplicate, or excessive paperwork.

After callers describe their problems, ombudsmen will go to work on their behalf to seek solutions immediately. If a problem is not solved within five days, the ombudsman will provide the caller with a progress report and follow up until the case is resolved. If the complaint does not concern paperbuden, the ombudsman will refer the case to the federal department responsible for it and provide the caller with the name of an official in that department for further contact.

Paperbuden is excessive, unnecessary paperwork which can be eliminated without harming government programs. The Paperbuden Office has been established as a two-year project to take quick action on individual cases and recommend long-term solutions for basic problems. The Office is committed to reducing the cost of Federal paperbuden by at least $100 million.

Travel, Dugan Mall, Camrose. The Bergum was delighted and are anticipating a very fine holiday.

If caught early, any insect problems can probably be controlled enough to cause only minimal damage, said the DA on an optimistic note.

On an overall picture, Alberta crops are germinating evenly and growth has been rapid. The hot weather interspersed with timely showers has been ideal for the 1978 crops. All other districts also report excellent pasture and hay stands, according to an Alberta Wheat Pool report.

Back Mott that almost reached Alberta. This moth comes in on south winds from the United States. It caught early, any insect problems can probably be controlled enough to cause only minimal damage, said the DA on an optimistic note.

A $50.00 voucher will be given by Murry Klitz if he buys a Heifer. The trophy for the best Angus was won by Allen Hirdlicka. George Cranston presented $10 for the best Hereford Calf won by Allen Beddoes. Mr. Lloyd Gillespie Public Speaking Judge gave a very interesting talk on the 4-H club and the good work they are doing for the Community. Joe Hirdlicka gave a thank you to the parents for the lovely supper and the need of Adults to help keep the 4-H together.

Herb Robinson reported on the 4-H Conference he attended in Calgary and it was the different kinds of 4-H. He spoke of the lovely piece of land that all the 4-H members have purchased at Battle Lake west of Wataskiwin. It is being prepared for a campsite. If anyone would like to know more about it just ask Herb Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cranston then showed slides on their trip to Nigeria and Nairobi Kenya which was very interesting.

Marriage vows renewed

A large crowd of over 500 people gathered at the Community Curling Centre on Saturday, May 13 to help Mike and Orlean Mickla celebrate their 25 wedding anniversary.

As afternoon was held at 2:00 at Our Lady of the Prairie Church, when the Micklas renewed their marriage vows. Father Elkin performed the ceremony.

At 6:30 p.m. a Smorgasbord supper was served to all the guests. Grace was said by Les Dolan. Following supper hour the M.C. George Cranston opened the programme by paying tribute to Michael as Truck Driver of the day. Then he gave a history of the past 25 years of the Micklas from their courtship days to the present time. He spoke of quite a number of happenings throughout these years, some of them on the hilarious side. Mike then thanked all the people who had come

The Agricultural meeting was held June 23 and plans are being made for the Fair on August 12 and 13. More classes in the beef fair are offered and higher prize money in cattle classes.

Anyone having pioneer effects or antiques they would like to display in the place contact Roy Carlson or Betty Koehl. The Agricultural society has hired a student through the S.T.E.P. program.

The entertainment this year features "Harry Rusk". So watch for posters as time and place will be given.

The Seed Show and Sale was a success again this year and also a success with the price averaging 78.80. The Agricultural Society has donated $100 to Arnesen for the use of the Arena for those sales.

A shower crowd attended a shower for Colleen Cuckers June 21 in the United Church basement. Seated at the head table were the bride Colleen, her maid of honor Roxanne Davidson and her bridesmaid Marian McTavish, the bride's mother Chris Cuckers and the groom's Aunt Mary McDougall of Strome. They played 3 contacts which all enjoyed, then they began to open the many lovely and useful gifts. Colleen then thanked all the ladies for coming and for the lovely gifts. A delicious lunch was then served.

Colleen and Doug Wolman will be married July 14 in Daysland. A shower was held last week for Doris Olette in the Roman Catholic church basement, with many friends and relatives attending. Doris received many lovely gifts which she thanked the ladies very graciously for. A delicious lunch was then served. Doris and Gerry Lorenz of Strome will be married July 15 in Strome.

Mike and Orlean Mickla, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Panik and Bob and Norma Harnahan spent last Sunday afternoon visiting at the Nick Josephson home in Sylva Lake.

There are few, if any, jobs in which ability alone is sufficient. Needed also are loyalty, sincerity, enthusiasm, and co-operation.

Around 10 couples met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Erickson for an enjoyable barbecue, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lay, Bob and Gary will be leaving to make their new home at Port McMurtry. On behalf of those there, a purse of money was presented to them.

When Irvin Eshpeter does things he does them double. Most people only expect one cast, well Irvin has two, having both arms in casts, due to a bad fall. We hope you're not in casts for too long Irvin.

Mr. and Mrs. Knud Jensen of Vito and Mrs. Dagney Bandeen of Hespung, Denmark, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ervald Larsen, and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Pederson and family. Knud and Dagney are brother and sister of Anna's. While here, Ervald and Anna took them for a walk through the mountains, which was really enjoyed by them all. Ervald and Knud were visiting at Wolf Lake on the weekend. We hope you enjoyed your stay in Killam and hope you can come back for a visit real soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fossen spent the weekend at Sandy Lake, while there the Williamson district fish and game Association held the opening of their new Pavilion. A real old fashioned picnic all day. Mel and Bill entered the horse show tournament, and came out first place, playing six games undefeated. They each were presented with a trophy, their names go on the big trophy to be kept at Williamson. M.L.A. Don Mackintosh of Vargerville was a guest speaker and of course always nice to shake hands and have a chat with Don.

Mr. and Mrs. Reinhold Wegman spent the weekend attending along with wine, cheese and crackers.

STROME WORKERS' MEETING

On June 23 in the Strome Rec. Centre, community workers ranging from small lots to senior citizens gathered for a joint effort to keep their town clean.

At 6:30 they gathered together at the Centre for a pot luck supper. Then, equipped with large plastic bags, began a town clean-up. Within a couple of short hours they returned to the centre for coffee and a rap session.

One teenager who was there proudly said "Thank You" to all those who shared an idea and took an interest to keep their town clean.

STROME C.W.L. MEETING
The June meeting of Our Lady of Fatima C.W.L. was held Monday, June 12 in the Elks Hall.

Annual church cleaning will be July 4 and 5. A work sheet will be posted in the church. We have a membership of 35 members, three new members having joined recently - Janet Allers, Florence Stiel and Carol Vuk.

Tickets were sold on the booked rug and bedspread that Mrs. Dumont so kindly donated. Lorraine Lorenz won the rug and Katie May, the bedspread. Following adjournment, all ladies and Fr. Perron enjoyed a social evening of Pirate whist.

"Roundup" kills the roots but saves the soil

"You can clean up patches of personal weeds like quackgrass or Canada thistle, and kill the weeds around sheds and barns and in shelterbelts with Roundup."

"What makes Roundup different from most other weed killers is this: it works right down at the roots, and although it totally controls the growth of the weed, it does not persist in the soil."

IN SEARCH OF AN IDENTITY
The Canadian character, the Canadian personality, the Canadian identity, call it by any name you wish - does it exist? Where can you find it? Where do you look? What is it? Who are we and what are our chief characteristics?

It is always hard to pin a personality on any ethnic group, yet this has been done. You will hear that the French are extroverted, the Irish like to fight, the English are reserved, the Scots are miserly, the Latins great lovers and so on. Here in Canada live people of these nationalities and many other. If they have the characteristics they are thought to have by reason of racial origin, what more do they have that is truly Canadian?

Thirty years ago when I came of Canada the first thing I noticed about Canadians was their humility, almost amounting to servility. Everything was much superior if it came from another country. Whether it was found there, made there or originated there it was much better than anything Canadian.

"Yes, it's the best, made in England" and "Naturally, it's the best, made in England" and the States were comments with which I became very familiar. Over years this attitude has changed somewhat although we are still surprised if anything Canadian is the best. It seems this national humility emerges as the dominant facet in the Canadian personality.

Then we are a conservative people. This is typical of a growing nation. Just as an adolescent must be the same as the and then continued on to Banff for a few days and then to Edmonton and spent the week with David and Cheryl Allers and Jim brought his parents back home.

Mr. and Mrs. David Allers and Jim Allers spent last week at their parental home. They were as busy as beavers, moving grass and doing carpenter work on their parents' home.

Mrs. Nina Curtis, Lois Rowe and Alice Pooler went to the retreat at Hardisty Lake U.C.W. camp last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael McCulloch of Winfield and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lunn and Rebekah of Edmonton visited with their mother, Alice Pooler and Susan last weekend. They all attended the wedding of David Lunn at Bruce.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Pooler of Vancouver and Mrs. Grace Linn of Bruce were Sunday afternoon visitors at the Pooler home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Haack visited with Mr. and Mrs. Murdock at Vegreville last Sunday.

their peer group so must Canadians be like and act like longer established nations on which we would model ourselves. We like to stay with the tried and true; we are too unsure of ourselves to attempt anything different. New ideas and developments frighten us and if we do get bold enough to try something different we are amazed if it is successful. Yes, we're a conservative people.

Our one overwhelming positive characteristic is our awareness and love of our land. Over the years this love seems to be growing, maybe because we have more leisure time to explore and appreciate our country. Among the few things we will boast about are our mountains, lakes and rivers, our wide prairies and the general abundance of our land.

We are also very conscious of how few people we are in such a vast country. Maybe because of this we like to get together. To join this club or that group. A sense of loneliness seems to be a Canadian characteristic.

So have we found the Canadian personality or don't we have one? Some of our characteristics are rather on the negative side but they are a real part of us, and along with our strong positive ones, give us an identity which is different from any other in the world.

Canada is still a young country and our character, like a young person, is still developing. When we hear a joke that begins "An American, an Englishman and a Canadian" we shall know that we finally have an identity recognized not only by us but by the rest of the world.

A load of grain was brought in by Paul Mazure aided by his father Jack Mazure.

Oaf Nelson, Eddie Manning and Jack Mazure were three of the original pool signers and it is, that, with people such as they, with their foresight, that made the Alberta Wheat Pool what it is today.

Mr. Frolickson showed pictures of the building of the elevator and Henry Flade, ex. delegate, commented on this elevator having the capacity of 7 older ones and run by two men. The Pool delegate and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Chynoweth of Wainwright attended as well as many former committee members and some Wheat Pool agents, now retired, one being Perry Powell.

The Manager, Don MacFadyen and his helper Harvey Maul from Calmar were there to show people around and the slides shown by Red Fricke-ton of the various building stages of the elevator were taken by Don MacFadyen.

Among ex-committee members were Jim Jackson and Ben Oibert.

The cutting of the ribbon was granted to Park Dobson of Paradise Valley.

Over a hundred people attended this very important event in Hardisty as with small elevators being replaced by larger modern ones. Hardisty is very fortunate to have been chosen for the location of this one.

Mrs. Cantlon's sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. E. Bradshaw of New Westminster, B.C. spent a few days with her sister and family last week. She said she felt right at home as far as the weather is concerned with so much rain!

Mrs. Bob Quast and Isabel Nelson called on Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mazure for a little while and who should come in but Sonya (Mazure) her husband and little daughter. It was surely great to see Sonya again after an absence of 8 1/2 years. Her little brothers when she left here have all grown up into big brothers now and she has the chance now to get acquainted with nephews and nieces that she had never seen.

Well your reporter is going on a Fun Tour across R.C. so won't be back till July 1.

Hardisty takes honours in Run and Splash event

On 17 June, 1978, the 8th annual County of Plagiatl Hose Laying Contest was hosted by the Town of Hardisty Fire Department. The weatherman provided a clear, sunny day and a temperature of nearly 80 degrees F.

There were six men teams and four ladies teams entered. As follows: from Hardisty - Ralph Halls team and Arthur Dwyer; C. Lindseth, Killam; Larson - Dayland; Halls - Forestburg; and Prior - Irma. Ralph Halls won the two events for Hardisty with a time of 22 seconds and .37 seconds.

The ladies teams were: Larson - Dayland; Lynne Zbeeshko - Hardisty; Swaham - Forestburg; and Prior - Irma. Lynne Zbeeshko won the event for Hardisty with a time 41.5 seconds.

The events were followed by a social hour sponsored by Superior Emergency Equipment of Red Deer and a barbecue followed. There was a good turn out for the Snack and Dance in the Elks Hall which ended a fun filled day enjoyed by all who attended.

COME IN SOON!

Shown to the right is Mr. R. Pettigrew, president of the Hall Board, receiving a cheque for $900 from Dale Johnson on behalf of the Sedgewick Kliment Club. The money is to go toward the cost of putting a new front on the Community Hall. The presentation was made on June 14 at a Kliment meeting.

Sedgewick

Congratulations to the Sedgewick Golfers who won the Baseball Tournament in Hardisty on Sunday. In the first game they beat Clair, then received a bye into the final. They met Lougheed and defeated them by a large margin. Nice going, fellows.

Mrs. Janet Jean Bricker of Dayland was visiting at the home of her parents, the Bob McEwen, and with other relatives in town on Sunday. Nice to see her about again after a stay in the Dayland Hospital. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. David Murdoch of Yellowknife on the birth of a daughter. Kelly Ann arrived on Tuesday June 27. Mrs. E. McEwen, the proud grandmother, couldn't remember the exact weight but she knew it was 7 pounds something!

Mr. and Mrs. E. Freeman and Mrs. Agnes Carlson spent a recent weekend visiting with their children and grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Duane Freeman and family of Sherwood Park.

Mrs. Beth Blaser and children of Heiler were present at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walsh on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walsh, Mrs. Vivian Koehl and Mrs. Molly Bruce were in Edmonton purchasing books for the library last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Anderson and daughter Kerry were home for the weekend. They left on Monday for Mandare where Don is now employed.

Doug Erickson is holidaying in Calgary and the States. Please ring me your news, 884-3578, any time at all. Thanks.

Mrs. Anne Baker, who was rushed to Kilham Hospital by ambulance last Tuesday evening (June 30) is progressing very well and hopes to be home soon. Get well wishes from Don to any of our local folk in any hospital.

Kathy Keith left Saturday, June 24 for Ottawa where she is participating in "Young Canadian" applied through school. She is returning July 1.

Trinity L.C.W.

Trinity L.C.W. held their June meeting at the home of Jerry Johnson with six members present and one visitor. President Jenny Mae Twedy opened the meeting and welcomed guests Shirley Johnson.

Preamble was repeated by all with Shirley Mae taking Devotion. Irene Potter led in the Bible Study.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. No treasurer's report was read. A motion was made by Jerry Johnson that any children clothing be handed in to Donna Stenhus in August for the Orphanage at Cranston. Shirley

Our July meeting will take the form of a picnic potluck supper at the Lake. Invitations will be sent out to all the members and their families.

Offering meditation was read by Donna Stenhus and we closed with the Lord's Prayer and Benediction. Lunch was served by Jan, Jerry and Norma.

Chamber of Commerce News

Mr. T. Lyons, M.L.A. from Vermilion, was the guest speaker at the Sedgewick Chamber of Commerce meeting held on June 20. The meeting took the form of a barbecue at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Pettigrew. About 40 members and guests were present.

At President Dr. Hebert's request, the brief which had been presented to the visiting cabinet members here on May 29 was re-read and reviewed by Mr. A. Easty for the benefit of those who had not heard it.

Among the items regarded as top priority were lights for the intersection at Highway 16, six highway signs for our town, the joint airport with Kilham and mobile telephones. Mr. W. Badry, reporting for the town, said that work on the road paving and storm sewers is progressing slightly ahead of schedule. The new subdivision has been named Meadow Lark Crescent and is developing according to plan. A meeting with government officials regarding the airport is scheduled for the near future.

Mayor Koehl said that the 60 Anniversary of the town's July 2nd celebrations will get under way with the free main street breakfast directed by Mr. A. Easty.

All the usual entertainment will be offered: baseball, horse racing, games, beer garden. In his remarks to the meeting Mr. Lyons commended the Chamber for its well-presented brief and other activities and promised to follow through on our behalf.

The Chamber resumes its meetings in September.

SEDEGWICK JUNIOR GOLF TOURNAMENT

On June 10 the first Junior Golf Tournament was held at the Sedgewick Golf Course. Twenty-one enthusiastic golfers took part in the event. Golfers came from Camrose, Vegreville, Dayland, Hughenden, Kilham and our own ardent young golfers were out.

The Trophy went to Cam Hattik of Vegreville, with Garret Eckstrand coming in second, lowest handicap trophy was won by Rod Archibald of Viking with Greg Sparrow taking second place.

Numerous hidden prizes were given with winners being Rod Archibald, Cam Hattik, Garret Eckstrand, Ben Swain, Dave Anderson and Frank Hawk.

This tournament turned out to be a great success and we are hoping to make it an annual event, the second Saturday in June every year.

A Scandalous Waste

Most of us are in agreement that pornography is an evil in our society that must be checked if not totally obliterated.

Yet it lives . . . through the grace of the Canada Council (an organization supposedly devoted to supporting creative talent).

A few months ago, Arnold Malone, MP for this constituency brought evidence to the attention of the media that the Canada Council was giving grant money to people who in his estimation and now many others are of the same belief, were producing nothing but pornographic poetry.

As a result of his and others statements of protest, Mr. Malone and his cohorts now find themselves named in a lawsuit involving malicious defamation.

It doesn't take the mind of a great literary critic to recognize almost instantly that this so-called poetry is nothing but sewer language that taxpayers' money is being handed out so casually for. It's an outright insult to human decency. Surely the members of the Canada Council can't be proud to know that they've lent a very helping hand in seeing this "poetry" published.

If and when this lawsuit sees its day in court, it is sincerely hoped that the people of this country will stand up in defence of Mr. Malone and those who rallied with him. If justice is to be done, Mr. Malone and the others named in the lawsuit will have to come out victorious in the name of all those who oppose the perpetuation of pornography and the scandalous waste of taxpayers' money. Both are issues which need to be placed under close scrutiny.

Censorship is certainly not the issue here but closer screening by the Canada Council of future projects must be demanded if our money is to be used constructively and not immorally.

What Others Say

Live With It

The recent accusation by Finance Minister Jean Chrétien that the cost of living increase was the sole responsibility of the beef producers is so much hot air. Where, oh where, was he when these same people, who are now just beginning to see a little light at the end of the tunnel, were starving and leaving the ranching business in droves. That a man with so-called intelligence should stand up in the House and make such a statement, shows how little he knows or cares about the ranching and farming community of this nation.

The beef industry has been giving away its products for too many years and without at least two or three years of higher beef prices these same people will have to get out of the beef industry or go bankrupt. We suspect the finance minister is just trying to justify an increase in the importation of off-shore beef which will surely lower the price of beef but will also guarantee the eventual downfall of Canada's beef industry. We can all live with beef prices at their current level even though we might have to eat hamburger more often.

It is time Ottawa realized where tomorrow's beef supply will have to come from and start helping the much maligned beef producer. To retaliate what we have said before, where will we get our beef from if the off-shore producers decide it is time to increase their prices and Ottawa has destroyed our own industry's ability to supply. It is better to live with high priced beef today, than with no beef tomorrow.

-The Nanton News

Leaders have two important characteristics: first, they are going somewhere; second, they are able to persuade other people to go with them.

Keep on going and the chances are you will stumble on something, perhaps when you are least expecting it. I have never heard of anyone stumbling on something sitting down.

COME ALIVE

R. Chappell

THIVING LIFE IN CHRIST

Commitment to Christ is spontaneous when our attention is wholly upon Him as it is in a holy hour of worship. The laboratory, however, for this new life is in the world around us. It is first of all in the home, then in any other close relationship in which we are involved, in, in our daily living. No matter how difficult the problem, how unhappy the situation a Christian's way must be found to meet it. This way may not always be easy. Jesus went to the Cross because that was the only way God could reveal His great love to the world. As He revealed the Father we must live to reveal His life and love. To accept God's grace makes me feel good; to appropriate it makes me want to make others feel good. If God's grace is not full without both acceptance and appropriation, God has been so good to me I could not but give Him thanks for it.

In reading the letter to the Ephesians, one's mind and spirit are stretched by the magnitude of the great thoughts presented. Jesus as the center of history, the power of God available to us for any situation in individual or group experience, the Christ who dwells in our hearts and who is the head of the church which is His body on earth. The general principle to apply to all relationships is stated in Ephesians 5:1. "The substitution is one another out of reverence for Christ." With this you can go through the frustrations of the day remembering your Lord whom you represent to everyone that crosses your path. Being submissive to one another is an attitude usually disliked by Christians at it is by others. Much less is it over considered a kind of spiritual law. If we really understand the power of Christ's life we would be less afraid of this idea which if the basic principle of love.

Real love is not getting, but giving. How is Christ the head of the Church? The answer to that question is quite clear: "Who ever among you wants to be great must be your minister and whoever would be first shall be your servant, just as the Son of Man did not come to be served but to serve, and to give His life as ransom for many." Christ is the head of the Church by being the servant of the church.

Be everyone who loves is a servant. The circle is complete. In Christ's life-giving, serving love for us we have real definition of the spiritual law for human relationships. "Be submissive to one another out of reverence for Christ"

TO CONSENT: OR NOT TO consent. That's the question. It seems that nothing is sacred anymore. I used to be that the skilled hands of the Doctor or Surgeon were respected and revered by lay people. Not any more. If he has failed to get consent from the patient his consent could topple on the decision of a Judge. You see, according to medical authority, in order for a Doctor to treat you, he must have your consent. If he treats without it he is open to a charge of assault and battery. The patient may sue him and his scalp for untold thousands. Treatment does not only include surgery, but also the prescribing of drugs and the laying on of hands, and in all of it except true emergencies when a life is in danger it is imperative to get consent. To prove negligence the patient must prove injury, but to prove assault no injury is required. Because, you see, any intentional interference with your body, merely touching, is considered trespass, or assault.

OF COURSE NOW consent may be explicit and in writing or orally implied. If you go to the doctor you admit that there is a malfunction at one junction or another in delicate anatomy of accessories which compose your anatomy. By going to him, you seek assistance, and in asking for help, you imply consent for him to probe, examine and prescribe. Yes indeed. CAN'T YOU JUST SEE the results of such straying away from the traditional trust of the past. A quick buck is better than health. You tell him you've got that low-down feeling and you want to be lifted up. Well now, Charlie, he's got to know where that low-down feeling is located. So may he take a look and take a probe? If you lift your shirt you consent; if you don't he's stymied. You choose Charlie. All he's going to do is his radar listening device and a pair of cold hands. You implied consent. Remember? So let it go. He no longer helps you.

IN ANY CASE CHARLIE the decision is that you go into confinement. If he books a cell for you, you have implied consent, otherwise he'll just save the toll charge. It's up to you Charlie. Oh, you'll go, eh? Fine. ONCE YOU ENTER solitary confinement you do not leave your consents at home. They go with you. This could open up a whole new cat of worms, or germs or something. There's a lot of staff over there Charlie, and you still have your rights and your consents. So guard your dignity and your pride. Never mind your health. There are things more dear than that Charlie.

YES THIS COULD GO far beyond the M.D. and include all of his instructions while you catch up on your rest. It could stagger the imagination.

WHAT IS THE CONSEN-SUS of consent? Of Dignity? Of Pride? Read the startling facts next week.

Killam pioneer, Blanche Grant, passes at 86

Blanche Mae Grant was born June 21, 1892 at North Branch, Michigan. She moved with her family to a farm southeast of Killam in 1907.

On January 7, 1914 she married Joseph Grant and they farmed south of Killam. They moved into town in 1971.

Mrs. Grant was predeceased by a daughter Olive in 1964, a brother William in 1964, a brother Gordon in 1970 and a son Harold in 1978.

She had been in failing health for the past year. She passed away on June 17 at the University Hospital.

Mrs. Grant is survived by her husband Joseph, three sons, D'Arcy of Killam, Russell and Hylton of Killam and Florence of Camrose; 16 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren plus many nephews and nieces.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Peter McKague at the Killam Presbyterian Church on July 21, 1978 with interment in the Killam Cemetery. Joe and Sons were in charge of arrangements.

Flowerbearers were six grandsons: Douglas, Glen, Bernard, Gerald, Wayne, and Darwyn. Lunch was served in the Canadian Legion Hall by the Presbyterian ladies.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to sincerely thank all our relatives and friends for their floral tributes, memorials and cards during our recent bereavement.

A special thanks to Rev. P. McKague, the choir and organists. Also thanks to the Canadian Legion, Joe & Sons Funeral Home and to the Presbyterians ladies for serving lunch. Joseph Grant and family

Killam farmer passes

Edward Allen D'Arcy, only son of Isabel and the late Gordon D'Arcy, passed away in the Edmonton General Hospital Saturday, June 17, 1978 after a very short illness. He was 36. Edward was born in Viking, September 3, 1941. He started school at Woodham and finished first term at Lakeside. He also attended Cobourg and Viking schools before finishing his education at Killam. He farmed with his father until Gordon's death in 1970 and continued farming until his passing. He was survived by his loving mother Isabel, many aunts, uncles, cousins and close friends.

Edward was an avid sports fan and was usually on hand to cheer for his favorite team. Edward could always be counted on to lend a hand. If he had a rule to live by it must have been: Do something for someone everyday. Do scatter the sunshine on your way. Be kind to your neighbors. Be thoughtful, pray. Do something for someone everyday.

The funeral took place in the Killam United Church with Rev. R. Conrad officiating. Interment in the Killam Cemetery with Pae & Sons in charge of arrangements.

Palibearers were Norman Burgess, Rich Chisholm, Mac Eschewen, Eugene Hoffman, Dick White and Melvin Mackey.

Floral tributes: Mother, Uncle Oscar, Aunt Ethel and Brad, Aunt Phyllis, Uncle Alan, Norman and Iria, Ron, and Joyce, Mabel, Lawrence, and Bernice Hoffman, and Mrs. Robert Glennie and family.

Flowers to the house: Ken, Phyllis and boys, Butch, Diane and family, Doug, Jack and boys, Carole, Myrna and family, Mrs. Anne Hagen, the manager and staff of the Viking Treasury Branch.

CARD OF THANKS
I would like to thank all those who made donations of flowers, cards and brought food to the house. Special thanks to Jean White, who played the organ for the service. Rev. Conrad for his comforting words; the neighborhood ladies who supplied and served the lunch after the service and to Pae & Sons Funeral Home. Your kindness and thoughtfulness at this very difficult time is something I will not forget.

Strome District News

Mr. Ken Loesch of Dayland was the winner of the June lottery draw of the Strome Curling Club.

Nice to see Mr. Elmer McDougall back home again, after having surgery in Edmonton. Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Wade Loesch on the birth of a son, born July 27. Also to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Loesch, a daughter born on June 30. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Prober, a daughter on July 1. Grandson for Johnny and Hat Blauk.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kretsch and family of Calgary, holidayed at the Maynard Hill home last weekend. Russell and Darrel Hill returned home with them for a few weeks of holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Schulte of Quenest, B.C., a former Strome resident, are holidaying in the district. They spent last weekend with Johnny and Frances Albers and attended Mr. John Niehaus's birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Brian Albers

A good supervisor, they say, is someone who can step on your toes without stepping on your shins.

Daysland people tour northland

The Friendship Club held a very enjoyable one of the year picnic June 29 at the competitor. There were about 30 members present. We sang some farewell songs to Mrs. Viola Erickson, one of our members left the next day to enter a home in Port Asiniboine where her son and family live.

Those that attended the Wheat Pool Tour from Daysland were: Kay and Mel Wolbeck, Bert and Martin Olson, and Perna and Elmer Twichell. They visited Whitehorse, Inuvik, Dawson, Skagway, Haines. The tour was an 8 day trip which was very enjoyable.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wirth, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wirth, Yvonne Dietz, Mrs. Kathie Wirth and Mr. and Mrs. George White and Dwayne went to Kamloops, B.C. to help Mr. and Mrs. Ted Matter celebrate their 50 wedding anniversary on June 24. Mrs. Matter is Sam Wirth's sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Scholte enroute home from Edmonton to Shell Lake, Manitoba spent Tuesday with Mrs. Anna Boggie.

Mrs. Oscar Olson and daughter Evelyn Huseby, Mrs. Mattie, and Mrs. Jim Brown

—THE LOWEST FIGHT WITH SLICES LASTED ALMOST 8 MINUTES

Fought in New Orleans, April 6, 1991, between Jack Burke and Andy Brown. Fight was a draw.

Only eight working hours per day, but we always find time to give each and every customer personal and friendly attention. The same complete service goes with our Used Equipment. Don't swallow everything you hear, but when you hear of the great buys at KILLAM FARM EQUIPMENT, it's a FACT!

Heaton 1014 Hydro Swing Windrower
Total maneuverability and big capacity plus gentle, thorough hay conditioning.

With the 1014 you can work your field in any direction or road back and forth. The also center the harrow behind the tractor for easy transport through narrow gates, or down country roads. And the 1014 operates efficiently with tractors as low as 50 PPT hp.

With hydraulic harrow drive and hydraulic harrow positioning, you get the capacity and control to last the weather to catch your crop at peak. And every adjustable harrowing and fluffing blade lets you use the quality with weather to catch your crop at peak. The 1014 Hydro Swing. Maneuverability capacity and thorough, gentle hay conditioning from Heaton.

A car-truck collision west of Sedgewick resulted in only minor injuries to Mr. Popping of Surmont on Tuesday, July 4. The accident occurred one and a half miles west of Sedgewick during the afternoon hours. The driver of the other vehicle involved was Michael McConnell of Sedgewick. Cause of the accident has still not been determined. Both vehicles have apparently been damaged beyond repair, according to RCMP at the scene. Mr. Popping was hospitalized but was expected to be released on Wednesday.

GREEN ACRES

GREEN THUMB CALENDAR
FOR JULY

Here's a few things you might want to look after to keep your yard healthy and green before you pack up and leave on your summer holiday.

Hot summer days can take a lot of moisture out of your lawn. To keep grass green and lush a good soak once a week is the evening will do much more to supply adequate moisture than several light daily waterings. Keep the grass cut short, 2-3 inches, and remember to collect the clippings. This prevents the clippings from forming a mat of non-penetrable organic matter which later inhibits water and fertilizer utilization by the grass. Early July is also a good time for a second fertilization. Because the grass may need more phosphorus, 9 lbs. of 11-48-0 per 1000 square feet, applied evenly will maintain the green coat desired summerlong.

Mid summer has definite advantages for a weed control program. Usually optimum temperatures, and less windy days are abundant, making it an ideal time for chemical weed control. For established turf, 2,4-D Amine is widely used for most broad-leaf weeds. At this time seedlings of perennial weeds are susceptible and you will also be reducing the chance of dandelions becoming a nuisance next spring. Elsewhere on the yard, you should take note that your birch trees will also need a regular soaking to avoid dieback, and will show yellowing signs if water is insufficient. Maple and birch trees may require some pruning to late July, and keep inspecting your spruce trees for the yellow-headed spruce sawfly. It is at precisely this time that it becomes active. The proper action in time will do much towards promoting a healthy, long living green yard.

Hardisty District News

It is very gratifying to drive around Hardisty and see some of the beautiful yards; the well kept lawns and flowers coming into bloom.

The Bitners are to be congratulated for the tremendous sale now front added to the Vista Theatre. It's quite an improvement on main street.

The "Fabric Shop" and the "Cameo Room" are also an asset on main street.

Mrs. Gert Musson of Neuhall spent last week with her daughter, Mrs. Bob Lachman.

Mrs. Phyllis Smith and Son of Camrose visited last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kitchen of Camrose and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Everett of Vancouver visited at the Louisa home last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lawson renew old acquaintances in Hardisty last. Arnold will be remembered here as one of our great hockey player.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Renahaw have purchased one of the new town lots and will be moving their trailer home onto it soon.

The much needed eight unit apartment block, being built in the east end of town, is taking shape very quickly.

Well, your reporter returned from the Fun Tour trip Wednesday night along with Mary (Hays) Thompson of New Norway, Mrs. Bob Quast and Mrs. Lydia Quast from Hanna. Everyone was tired but happy.

Your reporter phoned the Leo Newman in Vancouver and they talked about Hardisty and Sedgewick.

Home's Elm's father had to get out of bed to answer the phone at 7:00 a.m., but said he was glad I called and he would love to have attended Olaf's birthday party.

Millie (Peterson) Browncombe of Hinton, B.C. next greetings to all her Hardisty friends. Mrs. Quast talked to Mrs. Walsley in Ponikonia and she used to live where Louis deKock lives now. She also phoned Mrs. Pervanoff who sent greetings to all.

Then when we got to Wetaskiwin there was Dore and Perry Powell waiting to get on the bus. They had been to Calgary and had supper with Harry and Esther Moody.

When they went to see Harry he was surrounded by Community Presses, catching up on the Hardisty news.

By the way, nearly all the ex-Hardisty residents take the Press to keep up with Hardisty happenings.

Your reporter saw two of her cousins and enjoyed every minute of the trip. A lot of the scenery was still not spoiled by man and the huge machinery he uses nowadays.

Among the friends of long ago to attend Olaf's birthday party was Mrs. Iva Herder of Rosinland whose mother used to have a boarding house for school girls where Herman Shlosser now lives.

Joan (Kelley) Kyle used to go to St. George School and gave me a nice picture of it, of which I am getting several copies made.

Mrs. Elsie Nordfors went to school at Arundel, all schools now.

Elks receive money

Hardisty Elks BP0167 were the recipients of a $500 cheque from the Alberta Provincial Elks for the Hardisty Lake water safety program being implemented this summer.

Russel and Art Collier. Also present was Gail Rouds, one of the four swimming instructors at the lake.

The $500 donation will be used to pay the instructors and go towards the purchasing of new equipment.

There are 190 children participating in this water safety program with eight divisions of instruction.

The Hardisty Elks are also funding this program.

Lougheed ball scores close

Lougheed engaged ideal was their for their baseball tournament on Sunday, July 9. The day featured some very close scoring games, only one being by more than two runs.

In the 10 a.m. game, Car best Lougheed 7 and the next game between Sedgewick and Amisk was again won by one run with Sedgewick being on the long end of a 7-6 score.

Holden beat Hardisty 9 in 2 in the third game of the day and Holden received the bye into the final. So Sedgewick and Car met in an exciting semi final game with Car winning by 5 to 4.

The final between Holden and Car was another game in doubt until the end with Holden emerging the victors by a 5 to 3 score. All in all a day of very good baseball was enjoyed a nod towards.

The first day of the Tournament had: Carrose Coles over Killam Braves, Edmonton Cardinals over Car Royals and Cold Lake Cardinals over St. Albert Saints, with the closest game of the day at 6:00 p.m. between Calgary Odessa and the Seasmith Raiders ending 9-7 for Calgary.

The semi finals starting at 10:30 a.m. Sunday saw the Edmonton Cardinals advance to the finals over Carrose and Cold Lake trouncing Calgary 11-1 at 6:00 p.m.

The finals started at 6:00 a.m. and, with the awarding of trophies and prize money at 7:15 p.m., wrote title to another successful and crowd pleasing baseball tournament.

We for one are proud to be associated with even one segment of the arts, in that we provide them with a vehicle of expression. This vehicle of expression, the Ritters Ramblings column, is made possible with the financial assistance of the Alberta Department of Culture, who provide a yearly grant in support of the literary arts. It's all so worthwhile, especially when a shining star like this comes forth.

Faith...hope...and love... Maybe it's true, as newscaster Lloyd Robertson writes in the "Presbyterian Record", quoting a US university president, that "the Christian experience has become acceptable again."

porters of food at the present time. By the year 2000 it is expected that in dollar value all Canadian provinces will be net food importers. Each year Canada has an ever decreasing amount of productive agricultural land available as a food resource. In the past 60 years the farm land in the narrow strip between Quebec City to Windsor, Ontario has been decreased 28 percent by urban sprawl. Of the 21,000 acres of Class 1 and 2 soil in climatologically favored areas at best by the year 2000, and at worst, 9,000 acres in the same time-frame.

In regard to the press coverage on this important matter, I can only say that the lack of publicity was a real disappointment and a shameful way for keeping in touch.

Who should Shop Canadian?
Every day, most of us have the choice. Whether we're buying groceries for the home or supplies for business, farm or industry.

If each of us added only $10 a week to our Canadian-made purchases, Canada would be over 10 billion dollars better off in just one year.

Who should Shop Canadian?
You should.

Sometimes it doesn't. Sometimes a sign says "Produit en PEI" (It "B.C. Apples" or "Fabrique au Québec" or "Made in Manitoba" or "New Brunswick & Sardinia" or "Grown by Saskatchewan Farmers" or "A product of Alberta" or "Fresh from Newfoundland" or "Manufactured in Ontario" or "Nova Scotia Lobster").

The point is, if you take the trouble to find out, you can usually tell.

And, if it's made anywhere in the ten Provinces or the territories, it's made in Canada.

This ad was made in Canada. Making this ad employed (for a period of time) a writer, an art director, an account executive, a media buyer, a media planner, a typewriter, an engraver, a platemaker, a traffic cop, several work board operators, various mailmen, shippers and sales representatives, publicists, reps, publicists and people, not to mention all their various suppliers.

Everyone of these people lives and works in Canada.

Youth program underway

The Strome Working Women, with the co-operation of Preventive Social Services, are sponsoring a Youth Summer Crafts and Games Project for the children of Strome and District Community.

The skating rink and the playground will be the centres of activities. All children 3 to 18 years inclusive are welcome, free of charge, except for any odds and ends that may be useful, to be brought from home.

The program hours begin Tuesday, July 11 and continue on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday until Thursday, August 24, as follows: Tuesdays ages 7 to 9 years 2 to 5 p.m.; Wednesdays ages 3 to 5 years 9 to 12 a.m.; Wednesdays ages 13 to 18 years 2 to 5 p.m.; Thursdays ages 10 to 12 years 2 to 5 p.m.

Rita Mitchell has been hired by the Working Women to be Program Director and will be receiving some supervision as-istance from interested parents and other members of the community and from some Working Women members. Please realize this is not a babysitting service, merely a chance for children to do something constructive in their spare time.

Each child will take his own cup and snacks. If required, each day. Anyone interested in assisting in any way with the program, or with any questions to ask, please contact Rita at 376-3331, or 376-3423.

Portrait of a pregnant girl

A fifteen year-old girl who still chews mouthfuls of bubble-gum and watches cartoons, who is halfway through high school yet has no idea of what she'd like to do with her life, who experiments with make-up and steals sips of whiskey from her father's glass, who is naive and vulnerable but very attractive, gave birth to a baby. A human life. This girl who can't understand Shakespeare and doesn't see the logic in algebra, has a child. And people say it's her fault.

She complains to her friend he be the father, no one shakes them one day during her pregnancy that women give her looks of disgust and point at her accusingly. And her friend turns to her and says, "That's because you're cheap."

The girl walks away bewildered. Her friend has humiliated her. Why? Because she's pregnant? Because she's soon to bring another person into the world? Because she's soon to have an experience that fills a woman? Or is it because she didn't say no?

Chances are the latter one is the correct answer. The girl, barely out of dolls, is soon to replace that doll with a human baby. Can such a young woman life has changed. She has been forced to become a woman in those short nine months. She cannot run away as soon as it is born. She is responsible for it for she's it's mother. Will she keep it or put it up for adoption? And she's faced with a dilemma: how can she support it if she's still in school? If she quits school and get a job, she'd need to pay a babysitter. Could she afford that? Or could she bear the guilt after she gave her baby to another set of parents? Meanwhile, while the boy is out surfing and going for coles and feeling as carefree as ever.

But the girl...well, her whole

Is it fair? Sure, she should have held out. "No" was in her vocabulary. Why didn't she use it?

This girl, as she walks home, tells no one in particular that she did say "no." Many times. But he insisted. He said it would make her happy and he'd love her if she would and he kissed her and whispered assuring words into her ear and she relaxed and suddenly she was pregnant. And just as last, he didn't love her anymore like he said he would and she should have taken a precaution and it was all her fault.

A precaution. She had heard of the pill but the doctors in this small town knew everyone so she would be too embarrassed to ask for some and the doctor would probably tell her mother... She had suggested that her boyfriend by something but he said there was no chance that he'd do that. So the precaution problem was pushed aside and neither thought of it during their passion together. And now that the baby is born and she's recently quit school to support it with her mother babysitting for her, she is very happy. She ignores gossip women and when she holds the little girl in her arms, she sees herself. And she thinks, "You are going to look just like me, my child. And I, as your mother, can't prevent you from making mistakes, but you will say "no", my child. You will say "no"."

7 teams. First game at 10:00 a.m. Saturday.

Sponsored by Loughheed Rockets.

Beaver - Mosquito ball tourney

In the Beaver (12 and under) Division of the Killam Tournament held June 23, the Killam team coached by Walter Frendrich, won top honors and the league trophy.

They defeated Loughheed 26-8 in the final game. Loughheed is coached by Al Martin. Earlier in the day Loughheed eliminated Sedgewick in a game that took an extra inning and Killam defeated Strome 27-17.

Strome is coached by Barry Stiel and Sedgewick by Dale Johnson and Roy Wilson.

The Killam Recreation Board and minor ball association did a fine job in staging this first annual league tournament.

Victorious Killam Beavers

Mosquito Division champs

Sunday, June 25 saw perfect baseball weather at Centennial Park in Killam for the 31st Way 13 (Flagstaff) League Finals. In the Mosquito Division (10 and under; players 11 after January 1, 1978 eligible), it was Sedgewick over Loughheed (coached by Robert Draper and Darrell McClements) and Strome over Killam 15-14. Killam coaches were Robert Berth and Dennis Russe. The final game saw Sedgewick (coached by Ralph Stiel and Garret Wahlund) defeat Strome (coached by Larry Gehring) by a score of 18-17, giving Sedgewick the league championship and trophy.

Loughheed and District News Items

So sorry I left out of my news last week. Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Rosemary Kampen and family also relatives on the passing of Mr. Kampen a couple weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Wally Vard De Work and 3 children of Oakland, California were visiting Bill Paterson, and other relatives. They found Canada very beautiful and enjoyed their visit very much. Wally is a grandson of the late Wallace Van De Work and he will be remembered as a pioneer of the Maroon district.

Jeannette and Kevin Wright from Quilcom, B.C. are visiting their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. John Wright and Mrs. Campbell also other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Schmidt and family were visiting in High River and Calgary last weekend. Robin will be spending a few days longer in these places before she comes home.

Seems like people are busy taking their children for swimming lessons at lakes also fishing and spending a few days in their campers and trailers. Happy days it all of you.

Mrs. Joan Blumhagen, Karan and Kathie of Glendale and Mrs. Betty Tridder and Jeannette of Haskin spent a few days with mother and grandmother Margaret of Desham, helping with some housecleaning.

The curling rink has had new siding put on the north end which has made a big improvement to the looks of it. The Deraghs' house has had a new look to it also. It is a big improvement to the town when things are done like this. The back alleys are also getting to look a lot better since hedges, trees and grass are being cut and trimmed. Keep up the good work.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Johnson (Marguerite) of Edmonton and Miss Janet Robertson of Ontario paid a short visit to old friends of Loughheed and a visit to Mr. and Mrs. James Bell of Hardisty.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Harding and family have moved to Camrose. We will miss you all. But hope you will like it in Camrose too. Mr. and Mrs. Hunter White were supper guests at Mary Albrect's and Edwin's recently. Then Mr. and Mrs. Keith Davis also Allan and Debbie and daughter Terry Ann were visiting Hunter Whites two different evenings.

A group of friends, neighbors and relatives had a surprise party for Mr. and Mrs. Dale Grieve one evening recently in their new home. They presented them with a decorated bus with money in it for them to get something for their new home. Your new home is lovely and we enjoyed being in it. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Horricks and Mrs. and Ethelyn Leslie are touring around in the Peace River country.

Sorry to report Mrs. Minnie Jahnson is in an Edmonton hospital. We wish you well soon. Her son Melvin, and daughter Ruth and husband also other relatives are here visiting her. Ed Reider of Red Deer visited with Mr. and Mrs. Rick Irwin for a couple days last week.

Hazelwood Goodie club

The big day finally arrived. We held our annual picnic at Hardisty Lake on Tuesday, July 4.

A big thank you to Alvina and Orma for getting down to the camp ahead of the rest and cleaning up the camp kitchen, where we had our supper and what a spread.

We all enjoyed eating someone else's cooking. We even had ice cream for everyone. What more appropriate day than the fourth, when all the big legends are playing ball.

But one would have to be there to see the game we had. It was the best. Big and small joined in and made their bases whether they came in first or last, or head first, leap frog or all four, as long as the base was touched.

Nice to have you with us Grandma McLemments. Thanks everyone for being there and making it an enjoyable after noon. We all missed you Allen.

OBITUARY

Bertha Sowerbut

On a farm near Truro, Ontario, she was known as Bertha Elva Sowerbut. She was known as Bertha Elva McCabe.

Later on she met and married Jim Sowerbut.

She came to Hardisty in 1901 to keep house for the Gub-Kobach family. She leaves to mourn her loss, three sisters in Nova Scotia, one brother in Toronto as well as many nieces and nephews.

Also the Kobach families and a host of friends in the Hardisty district.

Funeral services were held June 21 in St. Paul's United Church, Hardisty with Rev. B. Jackson officiating.

Palbearers were Gordon Churan, Ken Williams, Stanley Larsen, Fritz Cross, Ben Flade and Arne Bush. Honorary palbearers were Harry Chew, Art Woyen, Eddie Manning, Paul Masare, Francis Blue and Perry Powell.

Many floral tributes were received from relatives and neighbors, also many donations.

Interment was in the Hardisty Cemetery with Fee and Sons Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Launch was served by Roxyth Uniform Ladies in the Elks Hall.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere gratitude and thanks to my relatives, friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness, messages of sympathy, floral tributes, those who sent lunch to the house, or made donations in memory of a beloved friend. To Rev. Jackson for his comforting words, to Mrs. Rahn, the organist, to Doris and Dorcen for their lovely duty, to the palbearers and honorary palbearers.

To Fee and Sons Funeral Home and the Roxyth Uniform Ladies for the delicious lunch served.

Your kindness and thoughtfulness will always be remembered. To all who helped in any way a very special thanks.

Hobby Club

On Wednesday, June 21 the Amalgamated Hobbyists of Flagstaff organized a potluck supper at the Burns Bridge. The weather was pleasant and the drive in the beautiful countryside a real joy. The homeward journey was spiced with an electric storm, rain and some hail - also a flat tire!

The next meeting of the Hobby Club will be on Wednesday, July 19 in the Sedgewick United Church Hall at 8:00 p.m.

A colorful entry from the Library

Hardisty Round Up Parade

(published by Alberta Agriculture's Food Marketing Branch)

In all probability beef prices will continue to increase as the summer progresses. Hamburger prices at this time are increasing at a faster rate than the higher quality meat cuts, mainly due to a shortfall in the domestic slaughter of non-grain fed cattle. This is evident in both Canada and the United States. In Canada this situation is still being aggravated by the value of the Canadian dollar relative to the U.S. dollar, and there will be a further reduction in non-grain fed cattle available for slaughter this summer.

Pork supplies, although up from 1977, are still not sufficient to offset the decline in beef production. Consequently, pork prices will increase as well. It has become evident that a combination of factors such as adverse weather and reduced pig litter sizes have contributed to the reduced North American pork supply.

What can you the consumer do to combat higher prices? The first thing to do is to recognize that red meat supplies in 1978 are going to be smaller than they were in 1977. Second, higher prices are not necessarily unjust. It should be recalled that for the last two and a half years meat prices, particularly beef prices, have been low. These lower beef prices reflected record supplies of beef, and resulted in cattlemen selling their cattle herds because they were unprofitable. As cattle inventories declined to the point where cattlemen are now making some profits on their operations, beef prices have increased. This is not just a local or national occurrence, it is worldwide.

In order to extend the purchasing power of your food budget, there are several things you can do. Two of them are: Try for a mix of lower and higher-priced meat cuts. The nutritional value will be the same and water for advertised meat specials to make bulk purchases. They will provide an opportunity for considerable cost saving.

Rise on meat prices forecast

Retail lamp prices are continuing to rise in 1978 due to reduced supplies of slaughter lambs and a devalued Canadian dollar. Fresh Alberta lamb could be a tasty alternative to other red meats, particularly in late summer and early fall as supplies and prices tend to moderate.

Despite escalating retail prices for other foods, the consumer cannot help note that both chicken and egg prices have not risen at the retail level in the past year. In fact, egg prices were down this spring by 2¢ a dozen in retail stores in Edmonton compared with last year. It is not surprising, therefore, that housewives have been re-examining their recipe books to use more eggs in the daily diet. Per capita consumption in 1977 held at 19 dozen for Canada in contrast to drops in the previous four years of about 0.4 dozen per year. In Alberta it is estimated that consumption could be over 20 dozen per capita.

Commercial sales of chicken in the province were up 12 per cent in the first quarter of 1978 (30 per cent over the same period in 1976) with retail prices comparable to the same period last year. Increased supplies can be expected during the summer months. Alberta barbecuers will probably be using more chickens than last year in view of the rapidly rising prices for red meats. Even turkey consumption has not been dropping. Per capita consumption rose in the first quarter of 1978 by approximately 10 per cent. However, supplies of this commodity will be limited as a result of quotas being reduced by the national agency in response to higher than desirable storage levels.

Alberta per capita fluid milk consumption took a dramatic upswing in 1977 compared with smaller per capita increases in other parts of the country. In the first quarter of 1978 fluid sales in the province were up 9 per cent, representing a continuation in the upward swing towards fluid milk consumption. Despite the fact that butter prices were more competitive with the price of margarine, 1977 butter disappearance was down 0.4 pounds per capita, while margarine consumption increased by 0.5 pounds. On the other hand, Canadian cheese consumption held in 1977 and could even increase in 1978 as consumers recognize the increased value of cheese relative to red meats. The trend towards greater consumption of low fat cheeses including cottage cheese is expected to continue in 1978.

Since fresh produce supplies peak in both variety and volume during the summer months, the prices are usually most reasonable during this time. For June and early July, Alberta is still very dependent on imports for fresh produce and potatoes. Exceptions are Alberta greenhouse cucumbers and tomatoes. The outlook for early summer is one of improving supplies. Early summer U.S. new crop potatoes will be in lighter supply than last year because plantings are down, and the weather appears to have hampered new crop development in some areas. Prices will likely follow a similar pattern throughout the summer.

Sugar supplies remain very good and prices are expected to remain low and stable throughout the summer. Honey supplies are also reasonable. With the usual summer slowdown in use, prices will likely remain relatively stable.

Sedgewick TOPS

The July 10 meeting of Sedgewick TOPS was a very inspirational night. At the weekly weigh-in, a net loss of 5 lbs. was recorded with Lilly M., Queen of adult and Gail R. Queen of Teens when 21 weighed in.

Leader Joyce Bergueh presented the very deserving members with charms. A charm meeting is a very encouraging occasion. Leader Joyce then crowned a new KOPS, namely Judy Perrier and presented her with a diploma and a red rose. A song was sung to all KOPS, led by Molly M.

A few contests were conducted by Joyce and Mary Ann. Lilly M. read a very true to dining reading. Joyce then presented Mary Bombough with a red rose for her many hours of encouragement and enthusiasm towards the club and also a gift to King Ken from Hardisty TOPS chapter.

Co-leader Mary Ann, on behalf of the club, presented cheques to King Ken and members Thelma T. and Ruden R. who are going to L.R.D. at Montreal. Eleanor T. was unable to attend the meeting but will be presented with a cheque also. Many thanks to Thelma and Molly for the delightful luncheon.

Civic Pride

It never ceases to amaze me as I drive each week to the towns and villages in the country. Almost every week something new has been added, like new stores or business renovations, and homes and new paint is evident everywhere.

But perhaps the most noticeable is the clean-up and sprucing up of the landscape. Without exception every community has undergone a transformation from blight areas to ones that reflect pride and well being. This is good!

To me if one keeps things in order it reflects a feeling of well-being and in tune with their environment as well as a measure of pride and I am sure other people got the same impression. Now if whole communities show these traits and even the larger country has an air of well-being just imagine the effect on visitors to the area. They must know that rural Alberta is a satisfying place to live.

What Others Say

WITHOUT A COUNTRY

As one of the speakers at last Friday's Citizenship Court in Camrose said, most natural-born Canadians take citizenship too lightly, and too much for granted.

So the comment of Judge Evans as he addressed the gathering in the court was of considerable interest, as she drew attention to the fact that one of the group of twelve new citizens has attained citizenship for the first time. "He has been one of those stateless persons" said Judge Evans, who are so numerous in some parts of the world.

To us in Canada it hardly seems conceivable that every baby isn't born into some sort of citizenship, which he keeps until he formally adopts another. But there are countless persons in war ravaged areas, who are protected by no state, who enjoy no statehood, and who cannot even pass on citizenship to their children. Concentration camps in the Arab-Jewish countries, for instance, offer no citizenship, for neither country wants them. And in the Far East where battles have raged for years, where various ideologies have in turn flourished and been superseded are millions of stateless persons.

Sometimes when we travel abroad we can glimpse the importance of citizenship, especially Canadian citizenship but all too often it's one of those things that we won't prize sufficiently until we lose it.

It was interesting and highly enlightening during the same citizenship court session to talk with a young woman born in Poland, but who has lived in this country for several years, and who with her husband recently travelled back to her earlier home and her relations.

Though she had spent several years there in growing up, her life in this country, with all its freedoms, had left her unexpectedly unprepared for the regulated, even regimented, form of living in that country, nor could her family believe her reports about the freedom, the lack of restriction, and the ease of travelling in this country. Her family and their friends, she recalled, always had to have papers explaining their reasons for being in a particular area, where they were going and why, and for how long. In war-time we might expect this, but today? To us, it seems inconceivable.

Travelling with a nation of the country, and being treated as part of the family, her husband, too, found many strange and unexpected views of the country and its life which would completely escape the ordinary traveller. New needs, they found, had to apply for a place to live, which might be available in as little as fourteen years. Meantime, the new couple move in with the parents of one or the other. Cars are almost unavailable. They must be completely paid for, in cash and only when all the money has been put up can the application be made for purchase, with manufacture some time in the future, and delivery even further off.

We've certainly got problems in Canada as we enter our 121st year, but compared with circumstances like these, we've got a bowl of cherries. We should all be concentrating on maintaining every bit of freedom we have, and extending it as much further as we can, rather than apinely watching while government, bureaucracy, and underworld nibble away at its edges and cornerstones.

But before we can do that, we must learn to recognize just how very fortunate we are and to prize our good luck.

KALEIDOSCOPE

The following is an article passed along to me by Betty Birch, DHE at Stettler.

Prisoner Jam:

If you have extra room in your freezer and not a lot of shelf storage space, you may want to try preparing jam by freezing.

It's also great in this hot weather because you don't have to cook it. Remember that since the jam is not cooked it will spoil quickly in a warm place, so keep it in the refrigerator while you are using it. It's a good idea to prepare it in small containers as large ones would be open for longer periods of time. In other words use open supplies fairly quickly. But don't worry, it won't last long once you open it at the breakfast table anyway.

Prosen Strawberry Jam
2 cups mashed strawberries
4 cups sugar

1/2 bottle liquid pectin

Prosen Raspberry Jam

3 cups mashed raspberries (seeds if a smoother jam is preferred)

6 cups sugar

1/2 bottle liquid pectin

Prosen Nanking Cherry Jam

3 cups cherry juice

6 cups sugar

1/2 bottle pectin

Cover the cherries with water and simmer until tender. Press through a sieve or colander and 1 teaspoon almond flavouring is the juice. The jam will not be quite as firm as the others.

Method: Combine berries and sugar. Let stand about 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add pectin and stir about 2 minutes. Pour into jelly glasses or freezer containers and seal with paraffin. Cover and let stand at room temperature for 24 to 48 hours, or until jelled. Store in freezer. It will keep several weeks at refrigerator temperature.

The fruit should be very finely washed. To prevent the formation of crystals, jams should be covered as soon as poured and sealed with paraffin. For Black Raspberry, Cherry, Peach, Apricot and Plum jams, use the same proportions as in Strawberry Jam. For Peach and Apricot jams also add one teaspoon citric powder to the mashed fruit.

For Blackberry and Damson Plum jams, use the proportions given for Raspberry Jam. Grape jam made the same way but first the seeds have to be separated by heating and straining.

The Third Column

by Truicute

IT HAS BEEN DAYS since we read the "Portrait of a Pregnant Girl" under the heading of Ritefingers. Blaming the tear-jerking, heart-rendering disclosure forced us to our "Mac Word" to keep from being inundated in a maelstrom of torrential righteous tears. Such a well-written disclosure deserves praise even though it was itself open to a thrust or two. Of course, anyone who writes is vulnerable, so we know the author won't mind if we expander a bit. The article proves a few salient facts of life.

THOSE OF US who are well past the age of puberty recall popular song of the past, part of which went like this: "Took a rib from Adam's side and made Eve live for to be his bride". The rib was taken from the weaker side of man and thereafter constituted the basic structure of the female anatomy. The Almighty knew what He was doing when He made woman subservient to man, thus it is obvious that man is stronger and woman is weaker. Why do you think that down through the centuries MAN has carried the symbolic trophy O.K.? So therein lies the problem of the pregnant girl.

SHE IS WEAK because she submitted; he is strong because his persuasiveness overpowered her. Did she for one moment believe that those sweetly whispered platitudes of "winning the deepest ocean or climbing the highest mountain just for her" were for real? He had no intention of taking such and such enterprises as this. He had something far more delicate in mind, and that was the point where he did not want her to go.

WHY OH WHY did she leave her No's at home on the fateful occasion? She used it well apparently on previous occasions. Why did she succumb to senseless platitudes? Why did she substitute a "No" for a "Yes"? She was the boss; she was in the driver's seat. She was the one who was to take the vehicle in the direction of her choice.

EVER SINCE ADAM pursued Eve in the bridal path of mythical Garden of Eden man has been in pursuit of woman. When he catches her in the world proceeds in the original intention. It is when he stops catching her that the world is going to be in difficulties. As long as woman wants to be caught man is going to catch her. That is an absolute fact of life. Procreation is a Divine Ordinance, but it was never intended to be carried out the nefarious way it has always been accomplished by mankind, who in his total disregard for edict has caused countless thousands to suffer.

HAD THE SUBJECT of our discourse remained steadfast in her pursuit of chastity, she would not now be half educated, her mother would not now be a babysitter and her friends would not be calling her "Cheer". She just sacrificed all this on the altar of submission. Had she remained steadfast in the hour of danger, she would not now be working to buy Pampers but could be saving her shekels for a possible vacation in Hawaii.

OR THE VILLAIN in the drama! Forget him. He's a second-rate and a wastrel, and his totally unbecoming of consideration, little Mother. We wish you the best of luck with the hope that some day you will meet up with a Gentleman. There are some around you know. After all we're strong but we're not all roads and liars.

KEEPING IN TOUCH

PRIVATE MEMBERS BILL

The power of the Private Member to have his Bill introduced and accepted by Parliament has been greatly eroded in the past decade. There was a time when a significant number of Private Members' Bills were considered by Parliament and many were given Parliamentary approval.

The fact that our system of representative government has largely deteriorated into an executive-type administration by a very powerful Cabinet, which denies the populace power through their representative, is not reason enough to give up on the Parliamentary system. Westminster, the mother of Parliament, has as its most fundamental concept the principle of representative power.

It is with the belief that the Private Member ought to be able to introduce legislation and have it considered by the Commons that I intend to continue the practice of placing Private Members' Bills before the Clerk of the House. The policy of the Official Opposition is to increase the role of the Private Member both in Parliament and in the Standing Committee.

A few weeks ago I wrote about a Bill to be introduced in my name that would fix election dates to a 4 year term except in situations where the government "fell" from the loss of a budget bill or a vote of confidence.

In this column I would like to give a broad description of another of my Bills that would restrict the government of the day, irrespective of political party, from using public funds to hire private staff for Cabinet Members and then succeeding staff for party purposes at election time. At the present time public servants hired in the ordinary way through the Public Service Commission are prohibited from participating in campaign work for any party or candidate. However, employees hired by the Minister on his personal staff are exempt from this prohibition. Such employees, though paid out of public funds, are often loaned out to do political work for candidates of the government party. My Bill, if accepted, would prohibit such activity except in accordance with clearly defined restrictions in the case of the Minister's own personal campaign. The Bill I have prepared would be titled "An Act to Amend the Public Service Employment Act". It would state specifically the following, "no person who is employed in the office of a Minister shall engage in work on the behalf of any candidate for election as a member of the House of Commons, whether officially nominated or not, other than that Minister". In the case of the Minister, specific limitations would be defined.

Moreover, the Bill would place limits on the number of paid personnel that the Minister could retain for political purposes during elections and more importantly require that the costs of the retained government staff would have to be included as an election expense under the "Federal Election Expenses Act".

The intent of this particular Bill is to remove any undue advantage for government paid employees for election campaigning. I believe that if this Bill were enacted it would be a fair way for keeping in touch.

Agri-Insight by Alberta Wheat Pool

Wild oats cost farmers

What costs prairie grain producers almost $300 million in lost income each year? Wild oats is the answer. Lower crop yields due to wild oat competition meant losses of almost $300 million in 1977. In addition, the herbicides used to control wild oats on a portion of the crop acreage cost farmers over $30 million. The prairie's most notorious weed is far from being under control.

While a third of Alberta's crop acreage was treated with wild oat herbicides, about 8 per cent of the potential wheat and rye and 6 per cent of the barley yields were still lost wild oat competition. Wild oats are a troublesome weed due to the dormancy of the seed and its longevity in the soil. Within the last decade several new wild oat herbicides have been developed, but chemicals are not the only method of keeping wild oats in check.

Two well-known products have been effectively killing wild oats for many years. Avena BW is a popular pre-emergent herbicide and Carbyne is a recognized post-emergent product. Nine companies now manufacture ten products for wild oat control. Their pre-emergent wild oat herbicides are Treflan, Eptam and Coker. All require incorporation into the soil to be effective. Fall application is often best.

Six products, including Carbyne, are available to spray wild oats growing in crops. Depending on the crop in which the infestation exists, new post-emergent herbicides to provide effective broad-leaved weed and wild oat control.

Not all wild oat control methods involve chemicals. Cultural practices can reduce the problem, but are especially effective in conjunction with herbicide applications.

Clean seed can reduce the number of wild oats and other weed seeds planted with the grain. Elevator-cleaned seed is not good enough. It could contain up to 100 times as many weed seeds as certified seed.

An early spring cultivation, followed by a waiting period for wild oats to germinate, then a second cultivation, followed by a waiting period for wild oats to germinate, then a second cultivation before seeding, is an effective method of controlling wild oats. However, seeding delays can reduce crop yields and two tillage operations may deplete topsoil moisture.

For fields known to have a wild oat problem, the choice of grain and variety becomes important. Barley and rye are better competitors with wild oats than wheat or flax. Yield losses due to wild oats will be smallest with the most competitive grain, barley. Early germinating varieties can be effective in competing with wild oat seedlings. Winter wheat or fall rye begins their spring growth before wild oat germinate and can reduce wild oat populations.

Seeding depth is a critical factor, particularly for barley and wheat. A slow germinating crop does not provide adequate competition for wild oats. Higher rates of seeding also help to reduce wild oat infestations. After seeding and before the crop seedlings are over 3/4 of an inch long a red wheeder will give effective control of wild oats.

Wild oats will benefit from the fertilizer intended for grain crops. But, playing phosphate fertilizer with the seed produces more competitive grain crops, helping to check wild oat growth.

Cutting cereal crops infested with wild oats for greenfeed or silage can reduce wild oat seed production. Burning straw and stubble can destroy many of the wild oats passed through a combine, but because of the effects on soil organic matter, erosion and snowcover, the practice is not recommended.

Fall tillage and summer-fallow are not recognized as effective wild oat control methods. However, minimum tillage or zero tillage practices may become one of the most effective cultural controls.

Methods of cultural wild oat control are not 100 percent effective. Best results can be obtained by using both chemical and cultural control practices to gether. Wild oats are unlikely to be eliminated but their significance can be dramatically reduced.

Recent visitors at the Sig Johnson home were Sig's cousin from Norway, Mr. and Mrs. Kolbjorn Skare and Mrs. Magne Austin and daughter, Gyda.

They were very much impressed with the vastness of Canada, as in comparison to Norway it is only half the size of Alberta with some 4,000,000 population.

Sig and Dot had a phone call from Paul Tarasenko last week and he wishes to be remembered to all his friends in and around Strome.

Wayne Cowan, nephew of Ralph Cowan, was up to buy grain for the old Independent Grain Co. was a visitor at Sig Johnsons. Also Les Seward from Langley, B.C. visited.

Mrs. Mary Mohler has been in Camrose for the past two weeks looking after her mother while her sister is away on a holiday.

Sig and Dot Johnson attended the wedding of Doug Wollen and Colleen Cockburn in the United Church in Daysland last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ziehl and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Staszko spent a few days fishing last week at Mann Lake.

The families and friends of Eddie and Connie Hahn had a supper on Friday night, to celebrate Eddie's 70th birthday also the wedding anniversary of Gordon and Beverly Pottle.

Get well wishes are extended to Thelma Rowe who is a patient in Killam Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hill and son John of Orillia, Ontario visited the Maynard Hill family last Thursday evening. Maynard and Allan are cousins. Allan had worked here in 1944 for Grandpa Hill during harvesting and is well remembered for his work with the Blue crew. He could see many changes in the countryside over the years.

Congratulations are extended to Gerry Levens and Doris Coubette who were married last Saturday.

A stag party was held last Friday here for Clifford Hill who will be married on July 29. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Somers of Calgary were here last Sunday morning for coffee at the Maynard Hills.

Visitors at the Ernie Asburn and Honey Curtis home last week were cousins, Mrs. Hilda Forkes of Port Alberni, B.C. and Mabel and Jess Bruner of Evansburg.

Mr. Jim Allan is on holidays with his parents, the Johansens.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Pottle and Sheila accompanied by Mr. Don Erickson and Mr. Larry Zimner returned from a week's holiday in Saskatchewan.

Congratulations to Doug Wollman and Colleen Cockburn who were married recently.

Owing to our reporter being on holidays please let Connie Hahn have your news by Monday morning. Phone 378-3681 for next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Benn and granddaughter and great grandson of Katie May's from Stettler spent last Thursday with her. Also Mrs. Gerald Hauser of Rosalind.

Congratulations to Robert

RITERS RAMBLINGS

MY RAMBLING THOUGHTS

You know I made a promise a promise to write a poem. I guess I'd better get with it as we'll soon be going home.

I'll tell of a mistake we made as we went along our way. It was when we left Hinton after our two days stay. We arrived at Prince George as black clouds darkened the sky. We had nothing else to do but all weather clothes to buy. When we were back at Byline's I'd hung things neatly out of sight. I should have realized then that forget them I just might.

As we were driving down the road my mind was wandering astray. Hubby said, "Look at the map. I don't think we're on this way." That was the end of my dreaming about something I could write. I couldn't seem to get back to it but maybe would that night.

We went to a circus and enjoyed it I must admit. In that certain section decided to sit.

Local 4-Hers return from Quebec trip

This year a very memorable and enjoyable event of the 4-H Clubs of the Flagstaff District came to an end on July 14 when 12 members from the Heister Club plus 22 others from clubs in the Flagstaff district, returned from a 10 day exchange trip to Granby, Quebec.

Those in the exchange from Heister were: Roseanne Hihn, Elaine Hihn, Joanne Hihn, Jane Malt, Darcy Martz, Michelle Strauss, Karen Luny, Shelly Sommer, Cathy Zimmer, Judy Roth, Iva Schulte and Susan Zimmer. Previous to this 24 members from the Optimal Club in Granby spent 10 days here with host families from June 24 to July 4. The trip was sponsored by Open House Canada party to promote better relations between French and English speaking Canadians. Some problems in communication were encountered as many of the French members spoke very little English and our members very little French, but over the period of 20 days this was overcome by all.

During their stay here, the Quebec members were all taken on a 2 day tour of Drumheller, Calgary, Banff and Lake Louise. Also, a day was spent at the Ponoka Stampede plus other events each family held on their own. The members from here were taken on a tour of Old Man River and the Plains of Abraham in Montreal, city hall, the famous St. Joseph's Oratory, the Olympic Stadium and the amusement park in Granby, a tour of the city including the zoo, auto museum and city hall where they were greeted by the Mayor and presented with remembrance pins and gifts from the city.

A general feeling of those taking part in the exchange was that the people in Quebec were very friendly and did not want a divided Canada. All felt it was a very worthwhile experience and one they would never forget. To the Flagstaff District Council who organized the trip and the chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Gamroth, the 4-H members are very grateful.

Lougheed and District News Items

Mr. and Mrs. Gordie Coates and family are home after spending 2 weeks at the Hardisty Lake. They also have Mr. and Mrs. Doug Bone (Tryka Coates) of Edmonton, and Mrs. Sharon Ann Whitehead and Leslie Ann from Kerrobert, Saskatchewan visiting them.

George Hots is home after spending a week visiting in Wetaskiwin and also spending awhile in the hospital while there.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Routledge spent their vacation in England while ago and of course I did not put it in the news when they got home. Sorry about it being late getting in. Mrs. Warren Waite and daughter Shirleen returned a week ago too from a vacation in England. Glad you are all back from wonderful trips.

Recent visitors at the Graham Beaton's were Mr. and Mrs. Don Beaton, Mark and Kelly from Veteran, Mr. and Mrs. T. Herial from Edmonton and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Chapman, Christopher and Carrie from Jakarta.

Susan Shore from Olds has been visiting around in the district.

Congratulations to Mr. John Wright who is 80 years old today, July 15. We want you to have many more birthdays John.

Recent visitors at the Lloyd Schmidt home were Lloyd's sister, Shirley, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hoenig and family from Weyburn, Saskatchewan also Glen and Barb Gressell and family from Red Cliff, Alberta.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Black, Esie Drager, Deana and Kelly Drager is in place of going to the Lougheed Ball Tournament a week ago this past Sunday, went on a camping picnic to the Fabian camp site, and then on the Wainwright Army Camp to see a nephew and family but they had gone on to Saskatchewan for the weekend. So they came back to Blainy, Sedgewick and had supper on their patio. Then they came back to Esie's and waited for Shirley and Robert also Ramin to pick up their children for home. When their car drove up who should get out was Susan Drager and Cliff and Annette Ljung of Camrose, they also had been to the ball games. So it was enjoyable time had by all.

Dani Davis from Edson has been staying with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Davis the past week.

Travelling across Canada, Gary and Sharon Jeffery (Probst) stopped in Sudbury, Ontario to tour the coal mine on July 14. While there they happened to be chosen a "Tourist of the Week". As lucky winners they were treated royally - a five dinner and nights accommodations were given to them by the city and their pictures were taken for the local paper. Congratulations Gary and Sharon.

Mrs. Agnes Wright is home after spending a holiday with her brother, George and family at Pincher Creek. Joan spent the weekend with her mother also.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Probst spent last weekend in Cypress Hills.

Nice to know that Mrs. Pauline Butler is home, she was in town last Saturday, too. We missed you Pauline. She has her sister staying with her for a while.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jeffery and son of Ganges, B.C. were overnight guests recently with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Probst. They are Gary Jeffery's parents.

Don't forget the official opening of the Verdant Valley Villa in Lougheed Monday, July 24 at 2:00 p.m. at the residence, 48 Street and 60 Avenue. All are cordially invited.

Killam Sr. Citizens report

The July 13 meeting of the Killam Senior Citizens was called in order by Vice president, Amy Robinson at 2 p.m. with 22 in attendance. Minutes of the June meeting were read and adjourned.

The treasurer's report was given and bills presented. Thank you cards were read by Secretary, M. Gibb from Betty and Joe Penders, also from the Rotary committee for making and serving panakes and for sponsoring a swimmer in the Swimming.

Nine members worked 2 hours in the booth at the Lions Ball Tournament for which a thank you note was received.

Members report the parks and flower boxes on main street are being well looked after in spite of some blooms pulled off by children playing in the area of the parks.

After adjournment, a delicious lunch was served by Gerlie Brodie and Lillian Coates assisted by Annie Rancier. Card games and pool followed.

Lougheed Rebekah Lodge

The members of Lougheed Rebekah Lodge met on Wednesday, June 28 for their regular meeting, as well as installation of officers for the ensuing term. Sister Phyllis Lawson D.D.P. was welcomed to the meeting.

The members reported having served lunch at the home of Sister Rosemary Kampen following the funeral of her husband.

Several sisters were reported ill or having a family member indisposed. Each one is wished the best.

Sisters had visited in the surrounding hospitals as well as in Edmonton.

Severin Hans Kampen passes after long illness

Severin Hans Kampen passed away after a long illness, in Camrose Hospital on June 28, 1978.

Severin was born in Paving, Godbrandsland, Norway on February 18, 1907, and came to Canada in 1929 where he worked in the Lougheed district till 1942. In that year he married Rosemary Hagen and they lived in Vancouver, B.C. where Severin worked at the shipyards and at Home Oil Co. H. H. Severin forced his retirement in 1967. In 1973 he and his wife returned to live at Lougheed.

He leaves to mourn his loss his loving wife, Rosemary, daughter, Sonora of Chetwynd, B.C., son John of Lougheed, son Robert and daughter-in-law, Karen and two grandsons of Lougheed, and two brothers and four sisters and numerous nieces and nephews in Norway.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Richard Conrad in All Saints Church, Lougheed on June 28, with interment in Lougheed Cemetery. Fee and Sons of Killam were in charge of funeral arrangements.

Palbearers were Ted Butler, Jim Butler, John Ann, Herbert Loanes, Adolph Russell and Harold Haugen.

Lunch was served after the service by the Lougheed Rebekah Lodge at the home of Bob and Karen Kampen.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to sincerely thank all our relatives and friends for their understanding sympathy and kindness during the loss of our husband and father. Special thanks to Rev. Conrad, the palbearers, Nora Beresh for playing the organ at the service and the Lougheed Rebekah Lodge for serving lunch. Thank you to Fee and Sons Funeral Home. We will never forget the kindness of everyone at this sad time.

Sedgewick and District News Items

The Lyne Patiens arrived at the Bert Whitten home on Thursday to collect their children who were staying with their grandparents while they (Lyne and Elaine) were on a holiday. Then they spent a few days with the Whitten family.

Mrs. Betty Gallie with daughters, Mrs. Margaret McPherson of Alliance and Mrs. Pat Erickson left Friday for a vacation in England, Scotland and Switzerland.

The Sedgewick Oilers won their first game at Car on Saturday but lost out in a very close semifinal game. They lost out in the first game at Dayland on Sunday.

The six young people who have been holidaying in Quebec: Herbie Whitten, Tim Gould, Heather Parsons, Melva and Kathy Hope and Sheldon Tindall also flew from Car on Friday. From all I've heard so far they had a wonderful time.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Reid and Becky of High Level are guests at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Potlatch.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lunberg of Minneapolis, Minnesota are spending a vacation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brian Berg. Mrs. Berg is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lunberg.

There were 5 tables of whist players and a couple of crib players at the Wednesday afternoon Senior Citizens Card Party at the Legion Hut. Prizes for the highest scores were won by Mrs. Ida Black and Mr. Steve Potlatch. Congratulations went to Mrs. Harriet Wilson and Mr. Bill Russell.

Mrs. Regina Bradley (nee Wilson) of Edmonton was an overnight guest at the Tommy Wilson home on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Le Loeur (nee Agnes Romberg) of Surrey, B.C. were in the district on Wednesday visiting relatives and friends.

The Fire Brigade was called out around 6 p.m. on Friday to put out a fire in a half ton truck on the road south of town, near to the C.C.I.L. We understand that the truck belonged to Brad Stoner of Hardisty.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. DeBock on the birth of a daughter, Janina Marie, on July 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Are Eastly and children of Calgary spent the weekend here with his father, Mr. Art Eastly.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Reid and Becky of High Level are guests at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Potlatch.

Donna Matheson spent the weekend in Camrose at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ratland.

Mr. Clark James is visiting in Edmonton.

Mrs. Boyd and Kelly Stuart of Edam, Saskatchewan arrived at the Larry Truss home on Thursday. Kelly went with his cousin, Kevin Truss to spend the weekend at the Calgary Stampede.

The Fire Brigade was out early on Sunday morning, around 4 a.m., to put out a fire on a bundle stack at the Reine farm east of town. The stack was quite near to another building but prompt action stopped it spreading although we understand that all the bales were lost.

Tom Watkins, Vernon Berg, Graham Anderson and Fred Watkins enjoyed a three day fishing trip at Christina Lake last week. This was a prize they had won at the Oilers' Bonspiel last winter. The lake is only accessible by air so I bet the fishing was good there. Ian Erikstrand was unable to make the trip so Fred Watkins went along instead.

Saw Mr. Chester Falls of Edmonton around a week or so ago when he was around visiting relatives and friends in the district. Also Mike, Mike, Mike (nee Ben Falla) of Edmonton dropped in to say hi.

The sympathy of the community is expressed to Mr. and Mrs. Colin Kinner and their families in the death of Saturday of their infant son, Terry.

Apologies to anyone who tried to ring with news on Monday or Tuesday. Jim and I will be away from Monday morning to Wednesday noon babysitting at the Grant Blaser residence at Heister.

Mr. Fred Howells and family of Edmonton were weekend visitors in our town.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nordstrom this past weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Nordstrom of St. Albert, Mr. and Mrs. Tennis Berge of Kimberly, B.C. and Corinne Nordstrom from Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Matthews returned Thursday evening from holiday after spending a week at Myra's sister's and visiting other relatives in Hanley, Saskatchewan.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Gailley and family returned Friday evening after spending a week at Sylvia's parents in Hanley, Saskatchewan.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Matthews and David, Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Matthews of Hardisty and Linda Torpe and Johanna moved to Pigeon Lake on Sunday for a Hutchinson family reunion at Rundle's Mission. This was quite an event as Johanna is the start of the fifth generation and pictures were taken to provide permanent record of the 5 generations.

On the whole, the year has been successful. The facility is perfect and is well furnished, is stocked with books donated by patrons, the Canada Council and Library Services. Also a number of children's books have been bought with money from the book budget. More new books will be bought, catalogued and shelved during July-August.

The library board was successful in applying for and securing the services of a S.T.E.P. student to work in the library during July and August. In light of this the library opening hours for those months have been revised as follows: Tuesday 2-5 p.m., Wednesday 2-5 p.m., Friday 2-5 p.m.

Those of you who saw the Hardisty Parade during Round Up Days will remember the theme of the Hardisty Library fast entry "Be a Bookworm".

We are proud to say that the first won a prize and buttons denoting the theme are on sale at the library.

The most disappointing first use of the library's first year was the relatively poor circulation. Despite a 1976 Chamber of Commerce survey which reflected that a library was a primary desire for the community, the actual patronage of the library has been poor. There have been a few "regulars" including four graduates from Hardisty School for whom the operation of the library has been wholly worth while.

"Be a bookworm" at Hardisty library

The Hardisty Public Library completed its first year of operation at the end of June and so once again it will be subscription renewal time! Please check to see when yours expires.

On the whole, the year has been successful. The facility is perfect and is well furnished, is stocked with books donated by patrons, the Canada Council and Library Services. Also a number of children's books have been bought with money from the book budget. More new books will be bought, catalogued and shelved during July-August.

The library board was successful in applying for and securing the services of a S.T.E.P. student to work in the library during July and August. In light of this the library opening hours for those months have been revised as follows: Tuesday 2-5 p.m., Wednesday 2-5 p.m., Friday 2-5 p.m.

There have been a few "regulars" including four graduates from Hardisty School for whom the operation of the library has been wholly worth while.

The board realizes that using the library is a habit and one which is developed over a period of time. So hopefully as the years go by more and more people will take advantage of the facility. This may happen as more new books are purchased and thus the selection is improved. The basic reference collection has arrived from Nflds.

Any new volunteer wishing to offer 2 or 3 hours every 2 months would be more than welcome and could contact my wife or Bea Hahn.

A workshop for volunteers and trustees has been tentatively arranged for Thursday, September 7 in a choice of two sessions either in the afternoon or evening. This workshop has been arranged through the Department of Culture, Library Services and Miss Olga Gill will be explaining and demonstrating basic circulation procedures, cataloguing and shelving. A discussion on book selection may follow for those interested. Please watch for more details and go on...Be a Bookworm!

Getty to leave politics

The list of possible successors to Peter Lougheed is one name shorter following Don Getty's announcement that he won't be seeking re-election after his current term ends.

The Conservative premier has indicated that the next election is likely to be his last - and Getty's name has been on the list of possible successors at most since the conservatives took office in 1971.

But the popular energy minister, formerly an Edmonton Eskimo quarterback, decided eight years in government - after four on the opposition benches - was long enough in politics.

"We all know the premier is likely to say this is his last four years," Getty said. "I probably would have to run for the leadership - and don't think that it's hard to say no."

But Getty decided that would mean sticking with politics for at least eight more years and that would have been just too long.

As Lougheed believed after receiving Getty's letter, the Edmonton MLA has been a "key member" of the Conservative cabinet.

He first shot to prominence in the cabinet during the war with Ottawa over energy prices. As Intergovernmental Affairs minister, Getty did most of the tough talking - and many say was the man behind most of Alberta's politics.

A dedicated free-enterpriser, insiders say Getty was also the source of one of the Conservatives' most surprising decisions. He was the first person to suggest outright purchase of Pacific Western Airlines during inner cabinet talks about maintaining some Alberta control over the regional airline.

Lougheed also noted that Getty had played a key role in the difficult negotiations to keep Syntex Canada oil sands project alive.

Getty becomes the third minister to announce he will not be back in the next Lougheed cabinet. Bill Yuko has already moved to the back benches as he has current term ends.

Several others are likely to follow with the names of Hugh Hornor, Allan Warrack, Bob Dowling and Roy Farran most often mentioned as retirement possibilities. Another senior cabinet member, Hospital Minister Gordon Minnie, is facing a spirited fight for the nomination in his home riding.

Liberals hold annual meeting

About 250 people enjoyed an outing at Elk Knoll Park on Sunday, July 16 when John Horner was present.

A picnic lunch was held at noon. At the meeting held in the afternoon, Milt Harverson of Calgary introduced Mr. Horner to the crowd. In his remarks, Jack explained how the West could benefit under the new constitution proposals. Also it is his hope that when the election comes, he will get the vote of the constituents.

An election was held at which time, the following were elected for the Crowfoot constituency:

PRES. Doug Herbert, Stettler
VICE PRES. Lou Golla, Hardisty
TREAS. Peter Sheperd, Camrose PAST PRESIDENT Jack Noonan.

Several regional directors were also elected.

A pot luck supper was enjoyed in the evening.

Excellent music was provided throughout the day by "Radience," whose members are from Stettler and Bashaw.

LOVE

The world's main problems are not scientific. We are doing very well in that area. The real problems are in human relations. Our fears are not really of bombs, but of men who might explode them in sudden anger or thoughtless retaliation. Our enemy is fear. Do we believe the Word: "Perfect love expels fear"?

Jesus is the One who turned the other cheek and He was not weak. The question is: Was Jesus a fool, or was He revealing the laws of God for the Universe?

A mother went to the store to buy her child a toy. She found a puzzle and tried to work it herself. Then she turned to the clerk and said, "How can you sell this for a child's toy? I can't put it together." The clerk answered, "Oh, that's all right. It is an educational toy to teach a child how to live in the world today. No matter how you put it together, it won't work."

Suppose we believe that all human history will be consummated in Christ (Eph. 1:10) and acted consistently with that belief. If we accept God as the Creator of the universe we'd better take the rules that come with "the chemistry" etc. If we believe in God we will know by faith that "The things that are shaken are obviously things which can be shaken. They are thus revealed to be man made, passing, or temporal things so the very fact that they are shaken may remain" (1 Cor. 12:7). Who wins after all? And who victim? Those who God's law of love, to the limit of their own margin of free choice find lost. He is the victor who is never circumstantial-conditioned. He is the victor whose reactions are determined by what others do to him.

Guides enjoy
camp at Big Knife

Girl Guides from Sedgewick, Killam, Forestburg and Donald enjoyed a four-day camp at Big Knife Park last week. Although it rained every night the girls were out, they managed to keep dry and well fed. During the four days, the girls went on a hike of the park, went swimming in Forestburg and toured the Alberta Power plant, plus a look at "Mr. Biofoot".

Taking part from Sedgewick were: Donna Macdonald, Susan Harris, Charlotte Lewis, Debbie Stiel, Debbie Stiel and Pat MacArthur. From Forestburg: Carol Frank, Marie Pells, Carmaine Voltner and Terry Hruska. Cathy Slavik from Killam and Shelly Vanderhoof from Donald also attended.

Rangers Sue Frank, Lana Ross, Charlene Miller and Kathy Keith were part-time assistants, while mothers Verna Stiel, MaryAnn Lewis, Soojie Frank and Donna Lewis assisted Captain Elaine Keith during the week.

The business world says, "Courtesy pays." A man with a difficult client said, "I'll be courteous, even if it kills me." And it might, for if he doesn't have it in his heart, he will likely get it in his stomach in the form of a lawsuit. Only genuine love and courtesy brings results, all imitation attempts backfire. Having genuine love is really a necessity of life. We often wonder why so many gates are closed to us. Perhaps the secret is here. "We want to do good knocks at the gate; he who loves finds the gate open." (John 4:1).

RITERS RAMBLINGS

by Flagstaff Creative Writers

HEE, E TO THE RESCUE
She saw him first copped in the hands of Harvey, who regularly cut her lawn.

"Look what a crow dropped on your lawn," he said. The mother and father robins were chasing the crow and he dropped this one. Can you look after him?"

He was a plump little bird probably five days old but completely helpless. She wondered what she would do with him as she took him from the boy.

A small shallow bowl was lined with quilt batting to make him a nest. Then she went to the garden to find some worms for him to eat. When she had a dozen she returned to feed him. As the worms were dirt covered she picked them up with a pair of tweezers and dusted them in a can of water before dropping them into the Robin's throat. He swallowed several and then appeared to dose.

For the first week she fed him every hour all day long. Soon a few worms didn't fill him. He needed more.

All her spare time during the next five weeks was spent digging worms to satisfy his insatiable hunger. The whole garden was dug over about five times and then she dug in her neighbors' gardens and they helped her.

By the end of the first week he had feathered out and when Harvey came to see him he exclaimed, "He's sure grown big!"

The weather was warmer so she put his box outside in a screened patio. She was feeding him every two hours now. In the morning he was so hungry he would fly against the screen chattering incessantly when he heard Mrs. R. open the door.

She kept worms in a shallow dish of moist earth and hoped he would get the idea of finding his own food if it was available.

When he was eating about 75 worms a day, she thought she could feed him some moist bread but he indignantly spit it out so it was back to digging for worms again.

When he was able to fly about the patio Mrs. R. thought it was time for him to try his wings outside so she put him up in a tree. He flew to the top of the garage and wouldn't come down till hunger forced him.

He was outside more often so Mrs. R. tried to get him to pick up worms that she put on the ground. He eyed the worms but begged her to feed him. She lengthened his feeding time to three hours to encourage him to find his own food.

Mother Nature helped her in that it rained heavily and worms came to the surface of the lawn. Mrs. R. saw her Robin busily gobbling them so at last she had hope that he could take care of himself. He had been able to chase away another robin who came too close so that encouraged her also.

The day came when he didn't answer to her call and she was fearful for his safety until a few days later a robin lit near her chirping cheerfully. She talked to him and he talked right back. Then she was sure that Robin was all right and her care of him was finished.

Lougheed and District News Items

Eric and Betty Toppo and boys spent last weekend with their parent the H. Toppo of Sedgewick and the M. Larson of Lougheed.

Visiting with Mrs. Bertha Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Herb Johnson and family were Bertha's sister and husband from Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, also Garth MacBeth of Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Cairns from Burnaby, B.C. were recent visitors with Ken's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Wylie and family.

Mr. Harry Barton of Camrose was visiting in the district with friends last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Newman from Vancouver, B.C. also Mr. and Mrs. Bert Blackman (Lorraine Stokke) also from Vancouver were recent visitors with the Herb Lougheed family.

The Herb Lougheed home in where Lorraine lived when her dad was a blacksmith man for many years. His shop was where Andy Grievie hardware store is now.

Mrs. Bessie M. Black of the Killam Auxiliary Hospital spent a few days on the farm with her son, John.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Clouston are home again after holidays. They visited with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reister and family of Calgary before going to B.C. They motored to Salmon Arm, B.C. and visited with Ruby Solbraken (Hess).

Then from there to Coeur d'Alene to visit cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Rawley and family. Came home through the Yellowhead route.

Robyn Schmidt returned home after a 2 week holiday in Calgary and High River with friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Frost have returned from a lovely 3 week holiday in Sudbury, Ontario with their daughter, Sheila and husband and family. They also visited in Ottawa and other points of interest. When they arrived home Lorraine's mother, Mrs. Cora of Calgary had fallen and broken her hip, so they went down to see her. When they arrived there they found her mother out of the hospital and doing quite well.

While I am writing my news, this Saturday afternoon, the Lougheed Sports Ground is being amalgam all over with ball games. The Rockets are doing well so far. There a trailers and campers almost everywhere you look. This is a 2 day event, yesterday they had a Treflon demonstration, then on Monday will be the opening of the Canadian Valley's Villa Senior Citizens residence. So Lougheed is a real busy place for a days now.

"Roundup" kills the roots but saves the soil

"You can clean up patches of perennial weeds like quackgrass or Canada thistle, and kill the weeds around sheds and barns and in shelterbelts with Roundup."

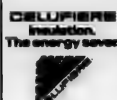

"What makes Roundup" different from most other weed killers is this: it works right down at the roots, and although it totally controls the growth of the weed, it does not persist in the soil."

IN MEMORIAM

ZIMMER - In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Peter (Bob) Zimmer, who passed away July 15, 1978. My heart will aches with sorrow.
46-1c

What secret tears still flow,
What I want to lose you,
When I am old and lonely,
And everything goes wrong,
I seem to hear your whisper
Cheer up and carry on.
Each time I see your picture
You seem to smile and say
"Don't cry, I'm only sleeping We'll meet again someday."
Lovingly remembered and admired by wife Levia, children and grandchildren.

Hardisty and District News Items

Visiting at the home of Phyllis and Harold Alderidge during Hardisty Round-up Days were her mother, Mrs. Lavina Zimmer from Wainwright and Donald Zimmer, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Alderidge and family from Prince Rupert, B.C., Mrs. Amelia Kneib and Mrs. Madeline Watt from Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, and Mr. and Mrs. Hank Draves from Kerrobert, Saskatchewan.

Mrs. Keboe and Mrs. Draves are sisters of Mrs. Zimmer and Mrs. Watt a daughter of Mrs. Keboe.

Gloria Bird brought her mother from Medicine Hat to visit with Isabel Nelson. It was a case of Mrs. Nelson meet Mrs. Nelson. It was surely nice to meet Gloria's mother as she had promised to bring her up when she came to Hardisty.

Also visiting for a day was Isabel's sister Florence from Calgary. Then she went on to Shorncliffe Lake at Cur to help her sister-in-law, Ida Todd look after the six grandchildren who are all taking swimming lessons.

Congratulations to Helene Buek and Shirley McKenzie who won the Elks blackout bingo at the Elks Hall, Helene won it alone last time but won't let the rest of us in on her method. Jim Cavanagh spent while in Calgary and took in the Stampede. He returned with daughter, Marlene and 2 grand-children.

Eva Cookson has had a letter from Mrs. Perkins and she is a great-grandmother and very delighted about it. That makes her daughter Gwyneth a grand-mother, so congratulations to both.

Elaine Parkin and her sister, Hilma Reason have returned from a visit with their brother, Harold and family at Haney, B.C.

The Cantlon and Harold Moody's homes have enjoyed quite an influx of visitors lately.

Russel and Cheryl Lassalle and son from Fort Nelson, B.C. spent 4 days here last week. Wes and Dorothy Clark from Morden, Manitoba are with us for a week.

The Perry Powells spent a weekend at Cap Ayre Lake and met their daughter, Carol and family there. They brought home with them their 2 lively grandsons, Grant and Ricky to stay with them for a week. Darrel and Gloria Cantlon spent a week visiting Darrel's mother, Mrs. Cantlon and his sister and brother-in-law, Harold Moody. They motored out from Vancouver.

Mrs. Cantlon's son from Fort St. John, B.C. spent a day with Mrs. Cantlon and the Harold Moody family.

Eva Cookson, like a number of us not too meticulous house keepers, finds that is when company usually comes. Unexpectantly, Horne's cousin, M.L.A.-Jack Cookson, his wife and daughter, Sally called early one morning on their way to Provost as their son was playing ball there.

The Cooksons live at Lacombe. Later, Horne's cousin, Phyllis (Culshaw) Corne and husband, Prosper and son of Calgary called as well.

There were 3 tables of cards played at the Drop-In Center Saturday night. High lady - Barb Matthews High man - Bertha Chapman, Low - Lillian Sherlock, Low man - Ruth Longman.

It seems too bad that when people put out nice houseplants in their yard for others to enjoy, some people have to come and destroy. Why in the world aren't children taught a little more about respect for the other fellow's property?

This is belated news but one of the lady's in town thought it a thing not to see one flag flying in town on Canada Day, Dominion Day to a lot of us.

It was nice to see Stanley and Jessie Maure of Edmonton around at the Farmer's Market the other day.

Just seen in town were Roy Elm and his daughter, Helen Newman of Vancouver. Helen and Les Newman have been in Toronto to see Helen's son.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Matthews, with son Dick and family of Sedgewick attended a family gathering at Rundle Mission, Pigton Lake, on Sunday, July 8, when some 70 family members and a few close friends were in attendance. The oldest was Barbe's uncle, Alex Middleton, 88, of Victoria, the youngest being baby, Johanna Torpe of Sedgewick.

A public worship service was held on the beautiful Mission grounds, with Rev. Gerald Hutchinson taking charge. Young people from neighbouring camps attended and led the singing.

Dinner was served in the Mission dining room and games and visiting were the order of the day.

A highlight was a telephone call to brother, Charles Hutchinson of Albuquerque, New Mexico, giving the 5 sisters and 2 brothers a chance to visit.

Bell reunion at Hardisty Lake

The Bell Family held a family reunion at Hardisty Lake on the 15 and 16 of July, 1978. Among the guests were Sam and Edythe Bell and family of Sherwood Park. Paul and Annie Gillard and family of Kamloops, B.C., Walter and Pearl Bell and family of Coronation and Rod and Doreen Stuart and family of Hardisty.

Also attending were Tom and Sarah Stokala and family of Drumheller, cousins of the Bell family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brownson and family, old friends of the family.

The reunion was held at Kamp Kajo, Walter Bell welcomed one and all. He presented each family with a beautiful book outlining the Bell and Miller families, dedicated in memory of their mother, Mrs. Margaret Thompson. Walter was able to trace the Bell family back 150 years where they lived in County Tyrone, Ireland. William Bell and his wife, Margaret with 2 small children, Sam and May, emigrated to Canada in July, 1928, to settle in the Choice School District. From this small beginning over 70 family members were present for the reunion.

ONCE UPON A TIME

Once upon a time, Canada had a national postal system that was considered quite effective, even on a world wide scale. In recent years however, this has changed drastically. As a matter of fact, we wouldn't be far out when saying the system is in a complete mess.

Many of us probably wouldn't have any qualms about paying 14¢ a letter or even more than that to communicate with people from all across Canada, if we could be given assurances that our letters would reach their final destinations within a given time. Unfortunately, that's just not the way it is. We may as well spin a roulette wheel and we'd have the same chance of guessing the arrival time of our letters.

One of the pet peeves we have with the postal system as a national network is the spasmodic delivery of the Community Press, especially to those people who live any distance from the Flagstaff area. It's very aggravating and frustrating to have subscribers write and say, "I haven't received my paper more than three times in the last few months. For that reason, I'm forced to cancel my subscription even though I enjoy getting the hometown news." How can you blame these people?

Now we hear the rumblings of yet another postal strike. This one's about the state of the delivery trucks.

It's too bad we couldn't go on strike to protect this epitome of inefficiency which exists within the confines of this incredibly clumsy organization. Someone out there must hear our cries of frustration and be able to do something about this unbearable mess. Surely the goodness there must be some element of hope left in this Pandora's box.

What Others Say

PRISON RIOTS

Prison riots and escapes have been a major happening in Canada and the United States in the last weeks. Escapes in Canada have resulted in the death of prison guards. Hostage takings by two prisoners serving life terms, while they didn't involve any loss of life, certainly caused concern to the afraid and their families.

I'm afraid I have great difficulty in mustering any great amount of sympathy for prisoners who resort to such tactics. I can well appreciate that prison life is far from being ideal, but then should it be designed to be ideal?

The citizens in this country have certain rights and as well they have certain obligations. If we wish to enjoy the rights and privileges accorded those who live in Canada, then we must also be prepared to fulfill some of the obligations. And, one of those obligations is that we live in accordance with the laws of the country. Obviously our elected representatives pass the laws on accordance with the desires of the majority of the people. At the same time they lay out the penalties to be paid by those who break the laws.

Police forces across the country are retained to apprehend law breakers and to present them to the court, and it is in the courts where innocents or guilt is established. There is very little alternative to having a system which operates in any other way.

At one time courts the world over were barbaric in their handling of prisoners, and no tolerance was allowed. Theft for instance was theft, and guilty verdict brought the same punishment with little or no concern being shown as to the value of the item stolen. Today, theft is judged by its monetary value.

The courts have modified their outlook considerably and so have the law makers. Penalties are today in most instances far more lenient than they were, say at the turn of the century. How much further can we afford to go?

Not too much further, I think. It is about time Canadians woke up to the fact that the world's future depends upon a systematic and law abiding society, and the continuation of a law abiding society rests with the individual. Each of us has to do our part.

The Third Column

by Truncate

THESE ARE SOME THINGS which we find difficult to grasp. Recently we listened to an interview on the "This" with an Ontario farmer who had in crop 700 acres of commercial corn. No rain had fallen on the crop for 42 days and the corn which normally should be standing shoulder high at the time, was only knee high to the average man. The farmer, according to his own statement stood to lose $50,000.00 in the year's operation, and even if it rained at once his crop would be a failure. This we understand having been raised in an area of grain production. Such producers are at the complete mercy of the weather. No rain, no sunshine, no crop.

WHAT WE COULD NOT understand was two statements made by this Corn Grower. Firstly, "I am mad at the Government," and secondly, "I do not want a bailout." We failed to grasp the reason why he should be mad at the Government. We were brought up to believe that the supplying of rain was a Divine prerogative, so it can't be that. Maybe the Department advised him to plant corn, in which case he should have planted turnips. Perhaps he's mad at the way the Gov. spends money on enterprises, in which case it seems he was leading up to his second statement. He doesn't want a bailout. What is he hinting at? A subsidy? Compensation for crop loss? Interest-free loan to tide him over? Any one of them is basically a "bailout".

GIVE MONIES are not obliged to ensure success for every private enterprise. He has an obligation to insure his own crop against failure. WE HEAR A LOT these days about Governments staying out of our business. Leave us alone to conduct our own affairs. But do we really mean this? Sure we do as long as everything goes along hunky-dory. But the minute we get into difficulties we want the Government back in our business affairs right now. That's why Governments are shoulder-high in corn which normally should be standing shoulder high at the time, and where we haven't there we've sneaked in on their own. That's just the way it is today.

ANOTHER THING that got our "gut" recently was the fact that people refuse to take jobs if it inconveniences them in the least way. Three men recently heard there were job openings, and so they went to check it out. Yes, the jobs were available immediately; the pay was $8.00 an hour. They were happy with it all until they were told to report for work the following morning at such and such a site. It was out of town employment, and when they learned this they turned thumbs down. In other words, get us jobs at good pay right here in our own locality, or we are not the least interested. They would sooner be living on a "handout". We very much dislike attitudes like that and if they are living on the hog so be it. They are getting what they deserve. What if they don't deserve it? They are getting what they deserve. The quicker we cut them off the better for society as a whole.

WE ARE GETTING TIRED of hearing about high unemployment figures when we are convinced that a good percentage of them will accept work under any conditions. Oh yes, we are tired of some other things too, in fact we are "tired" of them, and we're not the least interested in them in a future column. The fact is that in spite of what may be wrong in Canada today, we never had it so good. We better start acknowledging this fact before we talk ourselves into complete incapacity.

PRESERVING YOUR PRODUCE

If you're breeding vegetables for the first time this year, you may be wondering whether blanching or scalding is a necessary step. The answer is YES! Blanching helps retain the natural freshness of newly picked vegetables by stopping enzyme action. Blanching times vary for different vegetables and can be found in the booklet "Preserve by Freezing". Please write my office to obtain a free copy. Booklets are also available on canning and making jams, jellies, and pickles.

ODDS AND ENDS

Gerber Products of Canada no longer add any salt to any of its baby foods, and has restricted the use of sugar to 25 of its 130 products, which include strained vegetables, fruits, meats and cereals.

Personal heater goes metric after Jan 1, 1979. There will be jars in 11 sizes from 250 g to 2 kg.

KEEPING IN TOUCH

by Ronald Mahone, M.P.

Loto Tax
Last week I wrote about the unfortunate deed of the Department of Finance and Amateur Sport purchasing, without tender, 20 million dollars of computer hardware without consideration for Canadian firms. The computers are to be used in the new electronic lottery sponsored by Loto Canada.

What is taking place is a new Las Vegas style of taxation: you gamble to be taxed. The concept commenced originally to support specific projects. The federal government embarked on the Loto Canada concept with the view of relieving the Olympic deficit in Montreal. The Lottery was to be phased out in 1979.

Now we learn that Loto Canada will not be phased out but rather, will be enhanced by a system of eye-catching computers to aid your gambling. Some 4,000 computer heads will be installed in supermarkets and department stores across Canada. Colorful signs will be made to entice citizens to "take a chance". "You could win $500,000 or become an overnight millionaire".

What tax! One statistician has calculated that you have just as much chance of being struck by lightning as winning 1 million dollars in a lottery. The more important question however, deals with the ethics of how a government collects its revenue. Since the time of King John and Magna Carta democracies have been attempting to seek a fair and equitable system of taxation. A progressive system of taxation scales a person's tax relative to his income. Such is not the case with lotteries as they are very regressive.

In purchasing a lottery ticket the poor pay just as much as the rich. Also, the poor have just as much chance of not winning, but more important, the glittering appeal of winning a million dollars drains more money from the upper-lower class and lower-middle class citizens than the rest of the economic spectrum.

I have no concern with church lotteries, lotteries approved for special community projects or as a one-time financing scheme. However, I find I have grave doubts about the equity of a permanent system of financing government projects by means of lotteries.

Governments in Canada provided by 250 million dollars from lotteries in 1978-1979. This system of financing has a very high operational and administrative cost. Lottery collections have a cost-to-profit ratio of 36% to 50 percent. By contrast, most of her general taxes have a cost-to-profit ratio of 1% to 9%.

It is my personal view we pay too much by way of taxation at the present time. In particular, I believe that Capital Gains Tax should be abolished. Likewise, I am of the opinion that transferring Revenue Canada into Las Vegas' Golden Nugget Balloon is the wrong way to finance a nation.

The government of a country is a steward-in-trust. The citizen must be treated with vigilance. Spending money irrespective of its means or source is an unacceptable approach for keeping in touch.

Arnold Malone, member of Parliament, has obtained a mobile home and converted it to a mobile office. For the past three years he has utilized a holiday trailer for a mobile office to serve constituents at Fair, Stampede and local community office days. With almost one hundred towns, villages and hamlets in the riding, it is necessary that a mobile unit be available to adequately serve the public.

It is the intention of Mr. Malone to follow the local fair circuits and other important community events with the new mobile office and also to establish meeting days for constituents in the various communities.

The mobile office concept has been highly successful and large numbers of constituents have expressed opinion and sought help by making visits to the office. When the mobile office is in or near your community be sure to stop in for a visit.

Lougheed talks about Alberta

While he has never come right out and said it, there is little doubt Premier Lougheed believes the opportunity to sit back and talk about just what things are in Alberta.

The emphasis on these speeches is not on the government programs, or the program, or the property - although they are all obviously mentioned. Rather it is a chance for the premier to dispel some of the "myths" about the province, to talk about the expectations people have and how some of them are too high.

It is an indication of how things have changed in the province in recent years, that these "state of the province" speeches are being made at home - in the early years of the Lougheed government, more often than they were made in Ontario.

The premier had the perfect kind of forum for this summer's effort - the annual convention of the Canadian Public Relations Society in Calgary. The location of the prestigious convention is just another indication that Alberta is being taken so more seriously by the movers and shakers who count.

"I thought this might be a good place to deal with some of the myths," he told his image-selling audience.

One of the first points to note is that has been very familiar to most Albertans - the wealth currently accruing in the province is a one-time thing. Again, he reminded his audience that quickly spending all that money would be akin to an individual selling their house and then spending the proceeds.

"Surely you would put the money in the bank and save it for a time when those depleting resources are gone."

The option for Alberta is to diversify the economy now, he said, or risk again becoming a have-not province when the oil and gas wells dry up.

It has been years since the incident of the bumper sticker that read "Let the Eastern bastards freeze in the dark" but the premier felt he had to again point out the sentiments don't represent Alberta policy.

"That's not our attitude and it wasn't in 1973," he said. "In fact, when the oil embargo was on, we let everything go in terms of capacity, we strained and damaged some of our producing wells and certainly resulted in a dramatic way to Canada's need for oil."

By accepting less than the world price for oil since then, Alberta has continued to do more than its share to keep the country together and keep the economy functioning, he said.

Albertans recognize that the Western separated there is a small minority, but the premier went out of his way to tell the national audience claims of separatist strength here are "sheer nonsense." Alberta is committed to a strong federation, he said, and believes that one way to achieve it is to ensure that regional powers and responsibilities remain strong.

The month of July has come to a close. Past activities include the Poker Rally, skateboarding, Children's Theatre, afternoon at the lake, trampoline and things-to-do at the Headquarters. Various kids have built the Kool-aid stand, flower-box and crawl-through tunnel out of the building.

Stateboarding on Monday nights on main street is turning out quite well. Hopefully, the number of participants will increase and the number of vehicles entering through the barricades will decrease.

Feeling that some days turn out to be glorified babysitting, Kathy Keith (known to the kids as "The Boss") feels that parents should be aware that misbehaviour, disobedience, etc. will result in the child being turned out, or parents phoned to collect them. Trouble-making or ill-mannered children disrupt the rest of the children busy with their projects.

But what about safety? In your child's? Under certain conditions - yes. The program is covered by Town of Sedgewick insurance, as long as kids are abiding by the rules (all of them). Kathy Keith, the program co-ordinator, also has St. John's Ambulance First Aid Certificate. First aid supplies follow organized activities everywhere, and the Headquarters is equipped with a phone for emergencies. Parents are also welcome to help out with their children's activities.

That's all for this week, except that try and drop in at the office this week or phone at 384-3835.

Sedgewick youth busy

Project Summer is now well underway. This week's main activity in the Town of Sedgewick, starting Friday.

Registrations are slowly coming in for the August programs. They involve youth from the ages of 4 to 18 years covering a variety of activities. A few crafts and games are presently active at the Headquarters each day, but the full program cannot be started off without more registrations.

Patriotic fervour

Canadians showed their true colors at the opening of the 11th Commonwealth Games upon the arrival of the Queen and then again when Team Canada emerged onto the field at the Commonwealth Stadium. The stadium radiated with pure strong feelings of patriotism and nationalism. A truly inspiring feeling and sight to witness as a crowd of well over 40,000 gave standing ovations in the name of our country and Queen. Such intensity of nationalistic emotions is rarely displayed so fervently by Canadians. It was wonderful and exhilarating to experience such patriotic fervor.

If this crowd of over 40,000 is any indication as to how the remainder of the Canadian population feel about each other at the core and the monarchy, then watch out! The government of the day had better not even try to remove the monarchy from our constitution and I can clearly see hope of us becoming a more united and optimistic nation at some point in the near future.

Unity, however, will require concentrated effort on the part of each and everyone of us, as Queen Elizabeth so aptly pointed out in speeches across the country.

If nothing else for the time being we can all join together and do everything in our power to make sure we retain the monarchy, an extremely strong unifying force in itself and an integral part of our system of government.

What Others Say

NO ABUSE

No explanation is given for widespread provincial differences in a recent report from Statistics Canada on therapeutic abortions in 1977, but there are wide differences from one end of the country to the other. B.C. heads the list, with a record of abortions of thirty percent of live births, ranging to a number of provinces where the figure is lower than ten percent.

Alberta, at 17.4 percent, is just slightly above the national average of sixteen. It's interesting to note, too, that Canadian figures tend to be lower than those in England, Wales, and the United States.

We realize there are widely differing views on the subject, but overall, it would seem there has been little change in the picture, although many viewers felt the number of abortions would soar as it became easier. Of the 57,131 women aborted, more than 60 percent were single, while another 11 percent were separated, divorced, widowed, or living common law. More than thirty percent were under age 30, while another thirty ranged from 20 to 24 years. And three percent were over 30.

Almost sixty percent had no previous deliveries, incidentally, while only about nine percent had three or more previous pregnancies.

The report contains many more statistics, some of which are interesting to speculate on, but without more definite reasons for the information contained, it becomes hard to form definite conclusions.

One factor we looked for, one which has often been a subject of concern and serious criticism, is the number of women who report to abortion time after time, but on this factor the report seemed curiously silent. Either the question had not been asked, or it was felt the information "was not in the public interest."

The report probably definitely indicates a higher level of activity, but it doesn't seem that it indicates any growth in carelessness, or for that matter, abuse. We have always felt that if women made the laws in these circumstances there would be greater freedom than there is at present, and it's a situation where they would gain our support.

The Third Column

by Truncate

Last week we mentioned that we are tired of indecent violence being used to get employment in the least, and those who want government out of their business until they get into problems.

WELL, THERE ARE OTHER things that make the "litter" issue, in fact that make me sick. What to follow and "blow" in part from an anonymous writer. I have added some to it just in order to fill out the space which is not safe for this column.

I AM SICK. If that title is not unorthodox it is at least different. A doctor can't help me because that is not the kind of sick I am, where you take an aspirin and call back in the morning.

I AM SICK - and there are many today who claim that ours is a sick society. That our country is sick, our government is sick, that we are sick. Well, maybe they're right. I submit that I am sick and I suspect that you may be too.

I AM SICK of having our police and law enforcers ridiculed and called "pigs", while Cop killers are hailed as heroes and kind of folk heroes. I AM SICK of being told that religion is the opiate of the people, and that marijuana should be legalized. I am sick of being told that pornography is the friend of a free press, but that freedom of the press does not include being able to read a Bible on school grounds and in classes. I AM SICK of commentators and columnists canvaressing anarchy, lawlessness, revolutionists and criminal rapists, but castigating law enforcement. If it brings serious criminals to justice I AM SICK of paying more and more taxes to build schools while there are heavily members encouraging students to tear them down and vandalize the contents. I AM SICK of the decisions made in our law courts and departments of justice which treat criminals as if it is inconceivable that other decisions try to make the means of protecting my home and my family foolish. I AM SICK of being told that our policemen are mad dogs and should not have guns, but that criminals who use guns to rob, maim and kill are not to be understood and helped back into society. I AM SICK of being told it is wrong to use Nipalim to end a war overseas, but it's a bomb or a Molotov Cocktail at home.

I must understand the provocations. I AM SICK of not being able to take my grandchildren to a movie unless I want them exposed to nudity, homosexuality and the glorification of narcotics. I AM SICK of not smoking entertainers degrading me with their condemnation of moral standards on late night television. I AM SICK of riots, marches, protests, demonstrations, confrontations and the most temper tantrums of people who are intellectually incapable of working with the system. I AM SICK of reading neo-fascist modern literature with its kinship to what I used to read on the walls of public libraries. I AM SICK of those who say I over the something because of the size of my forefathers who, they say, left a mess; this when I pay taxes and have the most temper tantrums of people who are intellectually incapable of working with the system. I AM SICK of the cynical attitudes toward patriotism and I am sick of politicians with no backbone. I AM SICK of the unprovoked and the law breakers. I AM SICK of the decline of personal honesty, personal integrity and human dignity.

There are several simple practices that can save the situation along with the clever rejections and headaches that usually accompany it.

The time to start preventative action against an insect infestation is now. All bins should be closed, sweeping walls and floors, and leave the doors open on warm days to thoroughly dry all surfaces. All holes or potential moisture sources should be sealed, and the entire bin should be sprayed with a 5% malathion spray or a pyrethrin-pyriproxyfen spray at a gallon per 1,000 per acre. It takes 1/2 gallon to treat a 1,000 bushel granary, pay particular attention to cracks and holes especially in wooden granaries.

The next step is to store the grain dry, having a crawl space at the top to allow for air movement. Insects do not reproduce

How to remake soft jellies

It isn't always possible to remake soft jellies so that the product will be satisfactory. However, soft jellies can sometimes be improved by re-cooking according to the directions given below. It is best to re-cook only 4-6 cups of jelly at one time.

To remake without adding pectin: Remove wax from tops of jelly glasses. Place glasses into a shallow pan and put into a pre-heated oven (275 degrees F.) for 30-40 minutes. Remove and cover with wax. (Use no water in the pan. The purpose of the pan is to make the handling of the jars easier).

To remake with powdered pectin: Measure the jelly to be re-cooked. For each 4 cups of jelly, measure 1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 cup water, and 1 tsp. powdered pectin. Mix the pectin and water and bring to boiling, stirring constantly, to prevent scorching. Add the jelly and sugar. Stir thoroughly. Bring to a full rolling boil over high heat, stirring constantly. Boil mixture hard for 1/2 minute (30 seconds). Remove jelly from heat, skin, and pour into hot jars. Seal.

well in grain with moisture content below 14.8% and dry grain is an insurance against molds as well.

To what look for Of the species of insects in grain, beetles and moths are most common. The larvae form of both pests are the most damaging, and are difficult to identify. Occasional sampling throughout the storage period of various locations within the grain pile especially heating spots will warn you of a pest infestation. Inspect for any signs of larvae chewing or insect waste. Pests multiply most actively in high moisture pockets.

How to combat it: In winter, slow moving of the grain will cool it enough to suppress an infestation. Chemicals in the form of fumigants or treatments are available, but must be handled with caution. They are extremely dangerous and proper handling procedures are a must.

Insect infestations can be transported by the wind, through equipment, or by an undetected pest infestation. Proper preventative action in time can insure you against needless loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Gehert of Warburg were visiting in Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reiser's this week.

Pre-Harvest Pest Prevention

More than 30 species of insects and mites have been found in farm stored grain in the prairie provinces. These grain pests often originate from poor storage practices on the farm, and cost all western producers dearly.

There are several simple practices that can save the situation along with the clever rejections and headaches that usually accompany it.

The time to start preventative action against an insect infestation is now. All bins should be closed, sweeping walls and floors, and leave the doors open on warm days to thoroughly dry all surfaces. All holes or potential moisture sources should be sealed, and the entire bin should be sprayed with a 5% malathion spray or a pyrethrin-pyriproxyfen spray at a gallon per 1,000 per acre. It takes 1/2 gallon to treat a 1,000 bushel granary, pay particular attention to cracks and holes especially in wooden granaries.

The next step is to store the grain dry, having a crawl space at the top to allow for air movement. Insects do not reproduce well in grain with moisture content below 14.8% and dry grain is an insurance against molds as well.

To what look for Of the species of insects in grain, beetles and moths are most common. The larvae form of both pests are the most damaging, and are difficult to identify. Occasional sampling throughout the storage period of various locations within the grain pile especially heating spots will warn you of a pest infestation. Inspect for any signs of larvae chewing or insect waste. Pests multiply most actively in high moisture pockets.

How to combat it: In winter, slow moving of the grain will cool it enough to suppress an infestation. Chemicals in the form of fumigants or treatments are available, but must be handled with caution. They are extremely dangerous and proper handling procedures are a must.

Insect infestations can be transported by the wind, through equipment, or by an undetected pest infestation. Proper preventative action in time can insure you against needless loss.

Former D.A. makes Hall of Fame

A highlight of the annual summer reunion of the Olds College Alumni Association, held on July 29 and 30 was the naming of two of its members to the Alumni Hall of Fame. The occasion marked the 60 anniversary of the founding of the Association.

Mr. L.D. Williams, a 1937 graduate of Olds College, was honored as one who is recognized throughout the continent as an able worker in the field of Agricultural Extension. He retired at the end of July after 30 years with Alberta Agriculture having served for six years as District Agriculturist at Sedgewick and for 24 years in the Camrose office. After six years, of active service in the Canadian Army, with the Calgary tanks, at Dieppe and in Sicily, Italy and Northern Europe, Larry completed the requirements for a B.Sc. degree in Agriculture at the University of Alberta and then began his career in the Extension Field. In 1946 he married Edna Anderson who is also a 1937 graduate of Olds College. They have two sons, Lloyd and John and a daughter, Marion. Mrs. Williams was one of the first District Home Economists in Alberta, being a graduate of the U. of A. in Home Economics and serving in that capacity until her marriage.

Mrs. Williams has maintained a grassroots approach to agriculture through farming policy advisory work with his twin brother Lloyd who operates the enterprise.

Throughout his career he has served in a broad spectrum of organizations - The Agricultural Society, The Royal Canadian Legion, the Agricultural Institute of Canada, the Alberta Institute of Agrologics, Boy Scouts of Canada, the Pesticide Research Council, Emergency Measures Organization (now Disaster Services), Agricultural Service Board, Agricultural Development Committee, formation of Basah Coop, Seed Cleaning Plant, or organization of a successful Camrose 4-H Show Club, promotion of the Lacombe breed of swine, promotion of the Danish Method of Swine Judging used by the Agricultural Society at their swine shows and sales as well as being a member of or advisor to a number of other organizations.

The impact of Larry's efforts has been most pronounced as enable and forthright counselor of farmers as a supervisor of 4-H clubs in his district and as a trainer of Extension workers. A large number of Alberta District Agriculturists received their basic training as assistants in the Camrose office. His achievements received international recognition when he was awarded the North Central Weed Control Conference Extension Award at St. Louis, Missouri in 1961. Larry Williams is highly regarded and respected by his colleagues, friends and those he has served.

 CHIEF ELECTORAL OFFICE

Provincial enumerators coming

Several significant changes have been made in the Election Act in Alberta, including the redistribution of boundaries. The constituency of Vermilion-Viking has been effected by the new boundaries, with approximately seventeen townships being added on to its area.

Now included in the Electoral Division of Vermilion-Viking are the villages of Loughheed and Alliance plus the towns of Sedgewick, Hardisty, and a new part of the Wainwright constituency which the Camrose Electoral Division takes in Dayland, Strathmore, Killam, Gadsden, Fort-Edmonton and Hinton.

Alberta's new Chief Electoral Officer is Kenneth A. Wark and serving as Returning Officer for Vermilion-Viking is Borden W. E. Kaminsky for Camrose to Mr. W. K. McDonald.

The most significant change to the Election Act within itself is the fact that enumeration will be carried out yearly, whether an election has been called or not by the Premier. This enumeration will commence on August 15 and will be completed by September 30, with revision of the lists of electors taking place in the last two weeks of October. Enumeration will be carried out by two enumerators per polling subdivision. Identified by special badges and they must visit every household in their area, leaving with each elector a notice of enumeration, known as Form 11.

By receiving Form 11, each citizen is guaranteed that his or her name is placed on the list of electors and is proof that each person has been contacted by the enumeration team.

To be included on the provincial voters' list, a person must be a Canadian citizen and an Alberta resident for six months prior to October 1, 1978. The citizenship regulation is a change from the past, when British subjects, resident in Alberta, who had not yet obtained Canadian citizenship were also eligible to vote. The change means that many voters in previous elections will now be ineligible without clarification of their citizenship. Those who are uncertain of their status are to contact the Court of Canadian

Fort McMurray can expect mass growth

A report prepared by the Northeast Alberta Regional Commission predicts three more huge oil sands plants will be operating in the Fort McMurray area by 2001 - and that they will lead to the creation of another new city with a population of more than 40,000.

The plan prepared by the commission admits the difficulty of making predictions when each plant involves an investment of more than $2 billion, but it firmly states future development "will be very large in magnitude" compared to what is in the region now.

Only two oil sands plants are now in the region (the second, Syncrude Canada Ltd., has just come on stream) and already Fort McMurray has gained the reputation of a busy - and overcrowded - city.

Problems resulting from rapid development and the large nature of the projects involved had been anticipated by the province. In fact, they were the reason for the creation of the commission which was handed full authority to oversee all local and provincial government services in the area.

The wide-ranging powers promptly got the commission the nickname of "craz" when legislation "will be very large in magnitude" compared to what is in the region now.

The plan, which has been presented to the Fort McMurray town board, suggests the three future oil sands plants will all be similar in size to Syncrude, producing about 100,000 barrels a day and employing about 2,400 workers each.

It also suggests that two "in situ" extraction plants extracting oil from underground, rather than surface mining) will also be operating with similar capacities. Each would employ about 1,200 workers.

Other developments in the area which will mean population growing from the current 28,000 to about 90,000 are:

- a pulp mill employing about 800 workers, about 40 percent as seasonal camp workers and the rest in the mill.
- several experimental in situ plants employing about 80 each.
- two uranium mines on either side of Lake Athabasca each employing about 300 people.
- a strip mine for coal, employing about 100, as well as a hydroelectric development employing about 30.

Total jobs from projects such as these (and construction) will be more than 12,000, the commission predicts. Other employment in the area will be service industries which require an equal number of people.

Fort McMurray's dominance of the area is likely to be challenged by a new centre, likely to be located about 100 kilometers north of the existing town. Both would have a population of about 40,000 people. The second town would be located near oil sands leases held by Shell Oil.

On July 29 we were in Wetaskiwin for a dual meet taking home 22 firsts, 30 seconds, 13 thirds, 5 fourths, 5 fifths, and 3 sixths. The total number of events was 71.

The Killam Aqua Aces hosted their second swim meet July 30. Entered were teams from Red Deer, Provost, Fort-Edmonton, Wainwright, and Killam.

Prior to the start of the afternoon meet, Ellen Tiffin, Chairperson for the swim-thon committee presented a trophy to the swimmer who collected the most money during our swim-thon. Low Black was the recipient with a total of $228.11. Honorable Mention goes to Michael North and Kim Prud'homme.

Janet North presented a trophy for the most lengths swam in 1 hour. Glen Black was the recipient who swam 138 lengths in 1 hour.

Total points at the end of the meet were Red Deer with 622, Killam, 298, Provost, 224, Fort-Edmonton, 116 and Wainwright, 108. Points per swimmer earned gave Red Deer 11.60, Killam 10.46, Fort-Edmonton 9.06, Provost 8.61 and Wainwright 7.27.

The trophy was awarded to Red Deer.
 Announcer Allen Freudrich thanked all the swimmers for their participation.

The Club would like to say thank you to everyone who helped make our meet a success. Good luck to all swimmers in their upcoming meets, especially - Regionals at Ponoka, long distance swim the evening of August 11, remaining events August 12 and 13. Provincials at St. Albert, long distance evening of August 24, remaining events August 25 and 26.

At this time the swim-thon committee would like to announce the results of our Fun Night, from participating swimmers - $3006.46, and from organizations - $369.90, for a total of $3376.36. As a club we donate a large sum to the recreation board and keep a portion to cover club expenses. Watch for further news.

Mrs. Dora Klugger won $40 on the water polo "pool" and Bill Felgate $10 at our Fun Night.

Come, be a spectator, cheer our club to provincials, we did it last year!

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Sorken visiting at the Fred Sorken and Dave Roughton homes last Sunday.

Rev. Jim Armour wishes to send greetings to all the Killam folks that remember him, when he was in Killam. The Bob McGowan met Jim in Newfoundland last week. Rev. Jim Armour, who was the Presbyterian minister 20 years ago, now has a charge in St. John's Newfoundland.

CARGIL GRAIN COMPANY
PICNIC AT SYLVAN LAKE
July 15 and 16 Calgary and Edmonton divisions gathered for a weekend of family fun at a private camp ground at Sylvan Lake.

Weather was just great, ball games, races, canoeing, swimming were enjoyed by all. Free T.V., shorts, caps, ball caps, etc. were a delight to the children.

Barbecued steaks, salads and refreshments supplied by Cargil were served to approximately 175 people. With a few hamburgers for lunch Sunday before campers left for their individual areas.

Killam wins tourney

The Killam Baseball Tournament on Sunday, August 6 was played in fine baseball weather although at times the wind was a little gusty and dusty. In the first game, Spring Lake beat their neighbors, Heston, 6 to 1.

The noon game only went 5 innings as Killam had no trouble defeating Viking 9 to 0. Sedgewick and Custer then met in a close and exciting game with Sedgewick coming out on the long end of a 3 to 1 win.

Sedgewick received the bye so Spring Lake and Killam met in the semi-final. This was another close game which Killam won 4 to 3.

Killam kept their momentum going into the final and shut out Sedgewick 4 to 0. The close games and some good plays made the tournament one of the better ones of this season.

Visiting at her home now with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Quast is Linda Quast, who works in Calgary now.

It was nice to see Sylvia Lundberg visiting her sister Gladys Goodrich and they called on Isabel Nelson too.

Mrs. Nettie Johnston attended her granddaughter Debbie Johnston's wedding at Blairmore on July 21. She accompanied her daughter Beatrice and Erving Kneller of Camrose to the wedding.

Vic and Norey Liddery of Ods celebrated their 35 wedding anniversary at the Club Cafe in Red Deer. The meal was a lovely one and most of Norey's brothers and sisters attended, also Vic's sister Annie Kjorlien and her husband of Kinella, with Esther Nelson and her daughters Verlene and Doreen of Hughenden attending too. James and Annie Whitehead were there also.

Joe and Esther Johnsen attended the 50 wedding anniversary of Esther's uncle and aunt at Wynard, Saskatchewan. They stayed with Joe's sister-in-law and saw many relatives they had not seen for awhile.

Congratulations to Allen and Joann Nelson who are proud parents of a young son born July 31 and weighing in at 8 lb 2 1/2 oz. and named Garrett Allen, a little brother for Aaron.

Belva Leadley and Andy Formanovich had a nice holiday in Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan.

Belva has wanted to visit her mother, Margaret Skoberg and Marie Nordness, both Overman girls from Hardisty, for some time and she thought Moose Jaw a lovely city.

United Farmers of Alberta - owned by the farmers of this province - can save you money in many ways. Take the petroleum division.

First on your mind is, of course, quality. UFA agents provide top quality petroleum products, reflecting the latest technological advances. Rigid tests ensure that these products meet or exceed manufacturers' specifications.

And these agents are not high-pressure strangers. They are independent businessmen in your community, with a knowledge of you and your needs, the ability to help you plan intelligently for the future and the capacity to make available to you an information service which will keep you advised of new developments in your industry.

Then there's costs. Despite rigid quality control UFA offers its products at competitive prices.

Further, UFA is a co-operative. That means that, by becoming a member, you not only have a voice in how the association runs its business, but you also share in its profits by way of patronage dividends, based on the amount of business you do with UFA. These dividends are not taken. This year alone UFA distributed $2,884,000 in patronage dividends to the farmers of Alberta.

That's why most Alberta farmers belong to UFA. If you're not one of them, contact your local agent.

Hardisty awards yard owners

Anna and Joe Saraga - 1st place

Rose Marie and Alan Thompson - 2nd place

Marv Anne and Jim Thomson - 3rd place

Judging for the second Annual Hardisty and District Chamber of Commerce "Beautiful Yard Contest" took place Sunday, August 6. Judges were Mariene Dion (last year's first place winner) and Ed and Paulie Manning. First place went to Anna and Joe Saraga, second to Rose Marie and Alan Thompson and third to Mary Anne and Jim Thomson.

Judges awarded points for initial good landscape planning, arrangement, appearance and care of flower beds, lawn areas, trees, shrubs and hedges and upkeep of boulevard areas where applicable. It was said to see a number of yards excluded from any chance of placing because of lack of maintenance to what initially had been well planned yards. The lack of watering on boulevards also eliminated many yards from further contention. It was also noted a noticeable increase over last year in the showing of flowers and it is to be commended as they add that touch of color to the landscape.

The judges awarded an honorable mention in the overall category to Mildred Frazier. An honorable mention for lawn and flowers only went to Mollie and Stan Larsen. Three new yards showing the most promise of being really lovely in a few years were those of Charlene and Lorne Alderidge, Debbie and Les Miller and Bev and Rick Sunjens.

The "Beautiful Yard Committee" congratulated the winners and as first place winners, Anna and Joe Saraga's names will be inscribed on the large plaque on display at the Town Office. The three top winners will be in receipt of their awards at the Annual Fall Dinner Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

Province honors Daysland family

Gene and Carl Waldorf and girls were honored July 24th at Klondike Days in Edmonton, as one of the Alberta Farm Family Award winners.

The Waldorf family was selected by nomination from the Chamber of Commerce Board of Trade and Agriculture Societies with the assistance of the provincial agricultural department. This award gives recognition for their services to the community, mankind community and also a family.

The Waldorf family met with other farm families from central and northern Alberta at the Coliseum for morning lunch, they then took the Rapid Transit for City Hall where they were greeted by Mayor Purves in the council chambers, then made a tour of the Legislative Buildings and the Muttart Conservatory.

They were treated to a smorgasbord dinner at Northland Inner Loop with Premier Lougheed, Lt. Governor Steinhauser and his wife, Mayor Purves and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. McEwen president of the Edmonton Ex. Assoc. Sweet City Sue, two R.C.M.P. and City Police and Tom Knight Pres. Alberta Farm Family Award Com.

Pictures were taken of award winning families. At 7:00 p.m. they were guests at a enjoyable evening at Klondike Palace, to end a most interesting day.

The Waldorf family wish to extend thanks to the Chamber of Commerce for being chosen to represent the Daysland Community for the Farm Family Awards.

Editorially Speak Out

Democracy and freedom, two rather ambiguous terms, relative to the type of society a person finds himself in or wishes to see himself in.

If anyone witnessed a T.V. program on Sunday evening called Macleair, he would have seen three nations which most of us would call autocratic, one of those nations exists within our own Commonwealth, namely, Singapore. The other two were Greece and Hungary.

Nations where too much government and or too much policing has taken basic freedoms right out of the hands of the people.

You might ask, "how could this happen?" As Macleair pointed out over and over again it was the "voice of silence." A people who became passive and didn't know how to speak out for their rights and wants loud enough or often enough.

What's my point, simply this, we should never stop speaking out for our rights and freedoms or one day we might wake up and find them gone too. It's a possibility that's not too ridiculous to give thought to.

What Others Say

REBECCAH Y.M.

Debate has been raging ever since Prime Minister Trudeau tabled his proposals for constitutional change, and there's every indication it will continue to rage until the government enforces the first stage proposals through.

Last week on this page Peter Ward wrote from Ottawa that Trudeau is determined to see the first proposals in effect by July 1, 1979. Which means there'll be no fall election this year. If Trudeau is so determined to see this measure instituted, he won't dissolve Parliament while there's a ghost of a chance of his not being returned.

Which brings us to this week's dire warning by Peace River MP Ged Baldwin, to the effect that what he sees in the package is a process and a vehicle for Trudeau to turn himself from a prime minister with responsibility to the House of Commons into a president with responsibility to no one or body except himself.

Mr. Ward suggests there is no disagreement in federalist Canada that we need a constitution which can be rewritten here without forwarding it to Westminster for approval, so we should get on with the job of agreeing on how change is to be effected. But we disagree with Mr. Ward on this point... we can see no great concern over the present need to refer to Westminster. If Canadians could agree on any recommendation, there'd be no problem whatever in the proposal being accepted.

We don't see it as belittling in the slightest, any more than when the housewife tells someone to ask "the head of the house"... everyone knows the matter has already been decided, and the referral is a mere formality.

But we see real danger in reform being forced through without the very broad and very general support of the provinces. We see provincial rights being endangered in the first place, and a lessening of the place of the provinces in the second place. And let it not be forgotten that the provinces came first in forming what all hoped would be a great and glorious federation. From the first, the major strength lay with the provinces individually, and the central government held only such strength as was ceded to it by the provincial units, and grew as it took over emergency powers from time to time, rarely to relinquish them.

Certainly there are arguments favoring the new legislation, such as those of Provincial Liberal Leader Nick Taylor, who scoffs at the opposition arguments of Joe Clark and Peter Lougheed, although giving them credit for several of the proposals in the legislation. But Mr. Taylor isn't nearly so convincing in his support of the legislation as was another Liberal in his opposition, this being the Hon. James Richardson of Winnipeg, who resigned his cabinet post first, then followed up by moving across the floor in the most dramatic way he could find to emphasize his opposition to the Trudeau proposals.

Maybe nearly every Canadian in the country wants to see the form of Senate reform, but we should be mighty careful of the kind of reform we get. Democratic freedom is just as vulnerable in this country as in any, and we shouldn't ever forget that we can't have any more right to democracy here than they do in Russia... only that which we continually maintain and insist on.

The Third Column

by Truncate

TO CONTINUE FROM LAST WEEK some of the things that I am sick of, it is, of course to find things to grumble about. However, preparations are under way to propose some of the things that we are more than pleased with.

I AM SICK OF HOMOSEXUALS, lesbians, transsexuals and prostitutes who parade their peculiarities on public streets in search of recognition acceptance and legality for their nefarious and mostly nocturnal activities. I AM SICK OF rapists who indulge their criminal activities on our teenagers and children. I AM SICK OF lawyers who plead for light sentences on the grounds of intoxication or temporary insanity. I AM SICK OF parole boards who don't do their jobs.

"cutting loose" habits. I AM SICK of magistrates and judges who are over lenient with criminals and allow them to be turned loose on an underserving public. And most of all I AM SICK of being told my country is sick—when we are citizens of a great nation, when fully 50 percent of the people on the face of the earth would willingly trade places with the most deprived and underprivileged amongst us. I AM SICK of the atmosphere of negativism which now permeates our society, which accentuates the social and seasonal at the expense of the good and the positive.

I AM SICK of unions and especially union leaders who care not a tinker's damn about the public but only of their income as objective; who are willing to put the nation in a state of paralysis to gain their demands.

I AM SICK of governments and and government leaders who know what to do about such things but lack the intellectual fortitude to do it, but put political security ahead of national advancement.

Yes, I guess I AM SICK. But I am only sick. I can get well, and I can help society to get well, and I am.

SO TAKE NOTE you people in high places. You will not find me under a placard. You will not see me take to the streets. You will not find me throwing a rock or a bomb. You will not find me ranting and raving to the wild-eyed mob. NO, BUT YOU WILL FIND ME at work within my community. You will find me expressing my anger and indignation in public utterances and letters to your political office. And you will find me refusing your periodicals and "cutting loose" habits. And every time it condones criminal acts and advertised filth. You will find me speaking out in support of those people and those institutions which contribute to the elevation of society and not its destruction. You will find me contributing my time and personal influence to help hospitals, churches, charities and those other volunteer agencies who have shown the true spirit of this country's determination to ease pain, eliminate hunger and generate brotherhood.

BUT MOST OF ALL, now, you are going to find me at the public polling booth; for there, soon you are going to hear the thunder of the common man. There you are going to see us cast our votes. Votes for a country where people can once more live the virtues without fear; for a land where brotherhood and understanding will once more prevail.

Farm Safety

The harvest season is an especially busy one. Down time due to weather or machine breakdowns can be costly, but not nearly as costly as the loss incurred due to a farm accident.

Within the two months of July and August, one quarter of all farm accidents this year will have occurred. These accidents will cost thousands of dollars in lost time, crops and hospital bills, but to mention grief and sorrow which has no price.

Surprisingly, one quarter of all farm accidents occur to children under 12 years of age, and one half of all accidents occur to the under 20 years of age group. The adoption of large powered equipment in both the shop and field have resulted in a drastic increase in the number of farm accidents. The time between 10 and 11 a.m. accounted for 17 per cent of all farm accidents and from 2 to 4 p.m. accounted for 28 per cent. One farm in four will experience a farm accident this year serious enough to require hospital treatment.

How can you avoid an accident? Here are some safety tips worth noting:

Small children are most vulnerable to injury. Be sure that they are not near the machinery. If they are, they are in a position to be a serious obstacle. They are there for a purpose! Never service a machine in operation, belts are notorious finger removers. A radio in a cab can be considered safety equipment by keeping you awake and alert as well as entertaining you on boring hours.

Long hours and the rush time are two factors that promote carelessness and lead to farm accidents. Take the time to take care of yourself and avoid becoming a statistic.

AIDS HEAL THE SICK

"And when the call came from the despatcher I and the impulse of your heart inspired you to pray for healing -- you discovered no relief came. So there you were surrounded by people who love you and whom you love, wondering what more can you do for their bodies as well as their souls."

COME ALIVE

R. Chappell

Such words I read in a book that was recently given to me by a very dear friend and they were words that seemed directed to my heart at the time of preparing this article. It has long been my personal belief that the preaching and teaching ministry should be combined with a ministry of healing. I cannot escape the fact that all three ministries were integrated into the life of Jesus. His preaching and teaching were reinforced with a ministry of healing that demonstrated the existence of an amazing power to bring healing to the afflicted. His disciples continued the work he had begun and reinforced their teaching and preaching with the works of healing. It has long been the cherished belief of the Christian church that there still exists a mysterious power that radiates love and healing to all with whom it comes in contact.

Does Jesus still heal today? It is this question that has never allowed me to have any peace until I have answered it to my satisfaction. I praise God for the benefits and advantages of medical science and technology, but I feel compelled to search for and explore other avenues through which God can bring healing. In fact, of course, to such ministries as that of prayer and laying on of hands; anointing with oil. Such things seem pale against the dazzling array of medical technology. Yet, I believe we should lovingly explore their use in the hope that we shall provide other avenues through which the power of God's healing spirit can flow.

Within the Church, I believe God has given us a unique community of fellowship and love that is to be treasured and used. Perhaps the time is not yet, or maybe it is close at hand, but I suspect that the church is on the verge of a healing ministry that will be integrated into the life and work of the church. When the call for help comes, then, together with dedicated medical personnel, we shall minister to those whom we love.

Before concluding this article I want to say something concerning those who called for help, and for whom no help seemed to come. In my explorations of the healing ministry, I must confess that I have encountered most frequently the heartache of failure rather than the joy of success. For many I have sought in vain the healing that I know God can make possible. Yet, somehow, all those to whom I have tried to minister and yet been unable to help, have in some strange way enriched my life and work. Many who have cried for help and for whom my heart has ached have in their affliction given something to me. I cannot explain even what I am trying to say, except that what they went through will somehow, I believe be used to bring healing to others. One thing of which I am sure...the time is close at hand when those who cry for help will receive the kind of help they really need. Praise God!

About 12 folk gathered at the Galahad Cemetery for the fall clean-up on Friday, August 11.

Four people had worked on Thursday evening also, so the cleaning job was accomplished. The holiday season and early harvest cut the number of helpers greatly.

Ray Farquhar of Camrose was a Galahad visitor on Friday. He joined the work crew at the cemetery.

Congratulations are extended to Rev. and Mrs. Hudson of Macoun, Saskatchewan. Kristie Marie arrived on August 1, 1978. She weighs 7 lbs. 4 oz., is a sister for Corwen, Cameron and Norman.

The Gene Whiteheads had Miss Elaine Leeder and Mr. Job Van of Calgary as Child Evangelism Workers. The clubs were held in Hastings Cooke, Alliance and Galahad. Job arrived in Alberta from Singapore last September to attend University in Calgary. Elsie is a student of Three Hills Bible College. Both enjoy their work with children. They travel between clubs and hold three meetings a day.

Job left Friday evening via Dayland by train for Drumheller where his next appointment is.

Elsie left Saturday morning by bus for Westlock where she will work with another club Monday morning. It is heart warming to see concerned young folk giving their time to spread the gospel.

Guests at the Fred Reister home were Perry and Sherry and Shelley Reister of Edmonton. They are Polly and Fred's grandchildren.

Mrs. Ray Wiseman and Mrs. Shirley Wood arrived from Ontario to attend the funeral of their brother, Mr. Harry Wiseman. Ray returned home while Shirley remained in Galahad to assist with the business connected with her brother's estate.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wagonat on August 10 at Dayland Hospital on the birth of a daughter weighing 7 lbs. 15 oz. She was named Desane, this will be a sister for Aaron.

The proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wagonat.

Mr. Bill Wise was a business visitor in Forestburg on Friday.

Daysland and District News Items

A large group of friends and relatives gathered at the nursing home in Daysland on July 19 to help Mrs. Mac Pryor celebrate her 90th birthday. Mrs. Pryor moved to the nursing home in February as she was unable to live alone in her own home in Edmonton.

She is enjoying good health only her eye sight is failing her. She was very active in playing bingo which she had to quit on account of her eye sight. She still loves to play the piano.

Mrs. Pryor was prevented with a courage to help her celebrate her day. A lovely turkey dinner was held on the patio which her family brought and a large birthday cake too.

Those that were there to help celebrate her birthday were her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Don Rhysan of Calgary, Edna and Allen, Mabel and Edwin Pryor of Daysland, Ken Pryor of Valley View was unable to come. Her grandson and wife, Randy and Yvonne Pryor of Calgary, Jean and Butch Bouchard and family of Ottawa, Mrs. Ella Spaulding of Denver, Colorado, Mrs. Elaine Williamson of Edmonton, two great grandchildren, Lonna Ray Johnston of Livermore, Colorado and Justin Johnson of Virginia, Colorado.

Mrs. Clegg and Mrs. Dumont also of the nursing home enjoyed dinner with her as they are friends of Mrs. Pryor.

Mr. and Mrs. C.J. Warnock of Daysland have returned to their home in Daysland after spending three weeks camping at Gull Lake and other points.

Edna Casotte spent a week with her grandmother, Mrs. her dad and wife were on their honeymoon.

Ethel Graham spent a week during Klondike Days with her aunt in Edmonton.

Those spending an enjoyable week at Fairmont and James B.C. were as follows: Radium and Vera and Ronnda Bransen, Linda Heck, Alvin and Leslie Koehli, Gary and Dorothy Meyers and family, Gene and Carol Waldor and family, Reg and Eileen and Sherry Spiller.

A lovely wedding took place in Daysland at the Roman Catholic Church on July 29, 1978 when Joan Loyola, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roman Dalweg exchanged marriage vows with Clifford Minkley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Hill of Strome.

The bride who was escorted down the aisle on the arm of her father, she wore a chiton sheer gown featuring butterfly lace trimmed sleeves, with a matching short lace trimmed cape and stand-up collar, her skirt had a lace trimmed ruffle and long flowing train. Her long veil flowed from a large beaded cap and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white daisies.

The bridesmaids, Glennis Naylor, Joanne Yoon and Marla Louisa, friends of the bride wore identical gowns of orange chiffon. They featured butterfly sleeves, and matching short cape with stand-up collars. They carried yellow and white daisies in their bouquets.

The groom was attired in a white Tuxedo with dark brown edge trim and wore three yellow rosebuds in his lapel.

The groomsmen, Wayne Weisner, Les Christensen, and Brian Borgel, friends of the groom. They wore dark brown tuxedos and wore yellow carnation corsages.

The solemn for the ceremony was Mrs. Jane Leeb, friend of the bride. A reception followed by open house and dance was held at the Dayland Community Hall. Master of ceremonies was Stan Kroetsch of Calgary.

For going away the bride and groom wore matching black jumpsuits and long sleeved pinst shirts.

After a honeymoon to Jasper and the States, the happy couple will reside in Strome where the groom is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Graeme Davidson and girls have been holidaying in B.C. for the past two weeks. But they returned on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ilett of Caledonia, Ontario are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. George Cooper and relatives of Dayland. Wainwright and Kerrobert Saskatchewan.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Alma Metavish and family on the passing of their son and brother, Norman McTavish on July 30th in Edmonton. His funeral was held August 2nd in the United Church with Rev. M. Poole officiating. Interment was in the Greenview Cemetery and a Hovland Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. Kamille Knudsen entertained 20 ladies on Thursday afternoon and 18 ladies on Friday afternoon to help her celebrate her birthday that was

Talk to us first if you need a 1st (or a 2nd) residential mortgage

A small difference in the interest rate you pay on a mortgage may not look like much—but does it ever add up over the full term of the mortgage! So if you're not familiar with our current rates, come in and discuss them with me or my staff. We think you'll like what you hear.

Residential First Mortgages for:

- Building a new home
- Buying an existing home
- Refinancing an existing mortgage or for any worthwhile purpose.

Our Terms:

- Up to 25 years to repay, with interest rate reviewed every five years.
- Monthly mortgage payments to be within 30% of your gross income.
- Financing up to 80% of the lower of appraised value, cost or purchase price to a maximum of $44,600.
- Prepayment in full may be made at any time without penalty or bonus.
- Lump-sum payments permitted on each loan anniversary.

Residential Second Mortgages for:

- Major renovations or additions to your home
- Debt consolidation
- Any other worthwhile purpose

Our Terms:

- Up to 15 years to repay, with interest rate reviewed every 5 years.
- Monthly mortgage payments (first & second) to be within 30% of your gross income.
- Financing up to 80% (all encumbrances combined) of the appraised value of the property to be mortgaged to a maximum of $25,000.
- Prepayment in full may be made at any time without penalty or bonus.
- Lump-sum payments permitted on each loan anniversary.

Former Hardisty woman passes

On July 24, 1978, Margaret (Kobitzsch) Quinlan of Chilliwack, B.C. passed away at the age of 89 years.

Margaret was born in Mora, Sweden on November 1, 1908 and came to Canada in 1914 to live on the Kobitzsch homestead, where she attended the Rosyth and North Rosyth schools.

She was united in marriage to Ernest Quinlan in 1933 and they made their home in Hardisty until 13 years ago when they moved to Chilliwack to retire.

She was most active in the Royal Purple Lodge and was always with a helping hand in the community.

She leaves to mourn her loving husband Ernest, two daughters, Mrs. Will (Verlene) Olsen of Coquitlam, B.C. and Mrs. Doug (Gayle) Hixon of Fort McMurray, Alberta, one son Gary of Portland, Oregon; six grandchildren; her mother Mrs. Marie Kobitzsch, three brothers and two sisters, nieces and nephews. Also many other relatives and a host of friends.

Hardisty teen romance makes 50th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Parsons of Edmonton, recently celebrated their 50 wedding anniversary when family and friends gathered at the King Edward Park Hall for dinner and an evening of dancing.

The couple were married July 10, 1928 in Edmonton following a teenage romance that started in Hardisty.

Mr. Parsons who was born in Calgary, lived in Hardisty until he moved to Saskatchewan in his teens. He returned to Hardisty shortly afterwards and

Mrs. Parsons was working for the C.P.R. at the time. After a honeymoon in Edmonton, they returned to Hardisty until they moved to Miller in 1938, Mrs. Parsons' birthplace.

In 1940, they decided to try farming on rented land outside Edmonton. They moved to the city when the land was sold in 1945 and Mr. Parsons worked for the C.N.R. until retiring in 1966.

Mr. Parsons is now 74 and his wife Doris is 70.

The couple raised three children: Mrs. Edna Williams and Mrs. Helmut (Verna) Schwarz, both of Edmonton; and Howard who passed away in 1975. They have nine grandchildren.

Out of province guests were Mrs. Maude Benham of Ontario and Mrs. William Howard of Winnipeg, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Woodward of Saskatchewan and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Arnold of B.C. and Mrs. L. Benham Jr. from B.C.

Hardisty and District News Items

Marion Elm had a nice family party for her birthday at her daughter, Claudia, Williams home on a acreage near Leduc.

All of her children, Claudia, Catherine, Adrian and Eugene with their families were present as well as her brother Art and Michel Wadde from Camrose. Her granddaughter, Karen Freeburn and family from Scotland, a great grandson from Winnipeg and her cousin Ruby Tuck from Toronto who has been staying with Marion for awhile.

Many nieces and nephews also attended from various points and one highlight was when grandson Colin Elm presented her with an enlarged picture of her parents. Colin is making quite a name for himself as a photographer at Fort McMurray. She was also presented with a microwave oven which she finds very useful. So we all with Marion many more happy birthdays.

Weekend visitors at the Barney Matthews home were their grandson, Gerry Matthews and son Bill, both from Rocky Mountain House. Gerry had a three week visit with his parents in Expts. recently and brought many interesting slides and pictures, giving the Matthews family a tour of Egypt. On Monday afternoon, Harry and Hazel Saville visited with old friends in town, including the Gerald Scotts and the Barney Matthews.

The gentlemen who came the farthest for Hardisty Round-Up days was Hilary Gray's father from England. He received a plaque, a commemorative of the Round-Up Days.

Bailey Williamson of Vancouver, B.C. was also present, he is visiting his grandmother Virginia Robinson for a week and then he is going to visit his aunt and uncle, Freda and Alvin Jackson and take in some of the Commonwealth Games before going home again.

Floyd and Jeanette Jarvis of Royton, along with a friend from Consort who had left there when a little girl, visited in Hardisty for a short time. Floyd visited his cousin Ruth Moor and he hopes to retire next year and come back sooner and stay longer.

Then Cathy wanted to visit her mother Mrs. Laugly, well known around Car and Melina, but living at the Hill.

Stopping at the Todd cabin at Car Lake were Edson and Bessie Wattle of Warburg, who recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. Bessie Wattle is Vera Hendricks sister, also Eddie Mannings too. The Paul Masurs have just returned from a trip to Anchorage, Alaska with daughter Sonya and family.

It was a real surprise when Ginny Gregoire phoned to say that there was an Annabell Galloway in the coffee shop and she wished to see me.

So I dashed down and there was her sister Doris as well with their cousin Delbert Galloway too. I had grabbed a picture of Strong school which I had had copies made of and Annabell was happy to have it.

It's a long time since they went to school at Strong and Annabell lives in Calgary while Doris has been in Edmonton for some time.

It's always nice to see and hear of our old friends and to keep in touch.

Doris is very proud of her youngest son Jeffery Vince, who is 17 and plays the trumpet in the Edmonton All City Band and they are leaving on a tour of Norway, Sweden and Denmark.

It's nice to hear of these young people playing such an important part in so many things today.

My daughter's sister-in-law, Lavonne Brown from Camrose said that she was amazed at how the young and older all worked together to make Car Homecoming such a success. I'm told that 1,000 chairs were put out for the interdenominational service Sunday morning and many people brought their own as well as no empty spaces, so it too was a huge success.

The collection money was presented to Mrs. Joan Fitzgerald who is working with the M.D. of Provost to provide services for the handicapped.

Karen and Darrell Rogge of Edmonton have been visiting their Uncle, Earl and other relatives at Hardisty.

Isabel Nelson had her cousin Jean Lyall from Kinross, Manitoba call for a little while, as well as two friends that were on a trip to Eastern Canada last year.

Very welcome visitors to Hardisty were Mr. and Mrs. Mary McCallery and their daughter, Colleen Thorn, driving them out around to see all their relatives and old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence MacIntyre attended Car Home Coming and Lawrence met his brother Norman.

Seen too, at Car Home Coming was Esther Skogheim Glickin Gissing either married the well known artist Roland Gissing but he too has passed on.

I hope she found some Hardisty people there, as she was hoping to meet old friends.

The Royal Women of Uniform have held open house at the Paul Masurs farm last Sunday to honor Sonya and her husband Bruce and daughter who are leaving for their home in Australia on Tuesday.

They are presenting with a pure of money, also a souvenir tray as a reminder of Alberta.

A lovely lunch was served by the women and Sonya and Bruce were given best wishes for a good trip home.

Attending the gathering at Masurs' home was Howard Cannavagh who is a cousin of Leo Tennis and he came from Seattle to help Leo celebrate his 58 birthday.

Howard had milked cows at the Masurs place when it belonged to Hugo De Tro so he saw some old friends on Sunday.

Another former Hardisty to call on friends in this area was Rae (Saville) Straghan of McKillop, Washington.

The Saville family had a reunion at Inisfail recently.

On July 30, a nice shower was held for Kim Drager at the C.E. building. Guests at the head table were Kim, the bride to be, her mother, Joan Drager and sister Billy-Jane, the groom's mother, Rae Goodrich, also his grandmother, Gladys Goodrich, as well as Kim's friends Les Salomon and Laurieanne Cantin.

Contests were conducted by Winnie Fraser and girls, passed around to be admired, by Bobby Goodrich, Kent Drager and Susie Syder.

Kim graciously thanked all for the lovely gifts and said that she would be making her home in Edmonton and she would be glad to have her friends call on her there.

"Everyone complains of his lack of memory, but nobody of his want of judgement".

IN MEMORIAM

BARTON, MRS. MARIE In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother who passed away August 15, 1970.

Two dear bright eyes, a tender smile,
A loving heart that knew no pain,
Deep trust in God that all was right.

Her joy to make some other bright,
If sick and suffering one she knew,
Some gentle act of love she'd do.

No thought of self, but of "the other".
I know He said, "Well done, dear Mother."

Safely missed and dearly remembered by Frances, John, Clive, Sandra and grandchildren.

ALDERIDGE In loving memory of our dear Mother, Grandmother and Great Grandmother, Annie Alderidge, who passed away August 16th, 1975.

Today recalls the sad memory of a dear one gone to rest. And the ones who think of her today.

Are the ones who loved her best.

Lovingly remembered by Allan, Ann and family, Alfred, Mary and family and Frank and family.

ALDERIDGE In loving memory of our dear Father, Grandfather and Great Grandfather, Joseph Alderidge, who passed away June 25, 1963.

Come but not forgotten, always remembered and sadly missed by Mary, Allen, Frank and families.

RITERS RAMBLINGS

I'm Five Today!
by Margy Boutin

I put the orange juice out of the fridge, set it on the table and caught sight of an eye peering around the corner. A body darted across the floor and two arms encircled my waist. I squealed her back.

"Good morning," I said. "I wonder what day it is today."

"Today is my birthday party!" she proudly announced.

"and I get to wear my blue dress. Can I put it on now, Mommy, please?"

I laughed. She had waited a long time to wear her dress and I couldn't refuse her.

She sidled up to her dad. "Daddy, I'm five today!"

"You are?" he said. "What vegetables did you say you would eat when you were five?"

"Yellow beans."

"Oh, yes, thirty five yellow beans you're going to eat today."

"No-five," she corrected.

"Yes - that's what I said - twenty-five."

A long drawn out "No-no, daddy," and an emphatic "Five!"

"Mommy, let's tie some balloons to the lights and have them hang down."

"Oh, no, balloons." We hurried to the store to purchase this very necessary item.

Back home we discovered we were out of yellow food coloring for the icing for the cake. I quickly dashed over to the neighbors. Soon we were up and running yellow icing on the sides of her cake. She and her little brother couldn't take their eyes off the decorating job. They were rewarded for their patience with the bowls.

"When is everybody coming?" she asked between sips. "Everything is ready."

Her dad teased, "Maybe they all forgot."

"No!" she contradicted and then squealed, "Here is somebody! Hi, Trent! Hi, Carol! Come in! It's my party today!"

Sitting down on the floor, she started to open her gifts. "Oh, someone else is here," she jumped up from her partially unwrapped labor to welcome another guest.

Upon sitting down again, she discovered a surprise. "Hey, you opened my present!" Her brother had decided to finish it for her.

Ribbons and papers and cards and presents and thank you to everyone.

After sorting it all out she took her friends to play house in her room with her new toys.

"It's time for the cake," I called.

"I'll set the table for you, Mommy," a very grown up five year old set out cups and plates and forks for everyone.

Her dad lit the candles. "Happy Birthday to you!" our voices sang out.

A very happy little girl took a deep breath and blew and blew and blew out five candles.

"I'm going to cut my cake," she announced as she took the knife from me. "There, Mom," as dad snatched a picture of the first slice, "now you cut the pieces."

Everyone had cake and ice cream and blueberry koolaid and gingerbread cookies.

After her guests had departed I asked, "Did you have a good party?"

"Oh, yes, and Mommy, you know what my favorite present is?"

"No, what?"

"My stroller. I can be a real mommy now. When you take my brother out for a walk in his stroller, I can take out my daily in here."

LEAST WEASEL

MUSTELA ERMINIA

Occupying most of Canada with the exception of the Maritimes, Southern Ontario and Quebec, this fierce little creature is scarcely larger than the mice on which it preys. Its body length seldom exceeds 100 mm. It is exceedingly quick and agile. These tiny predators are seldom trapped except by accident. The coat which is brown above, with white under-side, turns completely white in winter throughout most of its North American range. Least weasels exclusively on mice, shrews and lemmings. They also use the fur of these animals to line their underground nests. The Eskimos in particular look upon this small hunter with great respect and the capture of one was considered a good omen.

Almost an inch of rain. The first moisture we have received this month.

Galahad sisters honored

On August 14, 1978 a large crowd filled the Galahad school auditorium for an "Appreciation Night" of the Sisters of St. Joseph for 50 years of service to the surrounding area. Twenty two Sisters were present for the occasion.

The evening opened with the Forestburg Band playing "O Canada", they then favoured the audience with several more compositions. Other numbers were given by: Anderson Trio, Galahad Community Choir, Pat McPherson, Forestburg Choir, Alliance Ladies and Galahad Junior Choir.

The history of St. Joseph's Hospital was given by Mrs. Nadine Grovet. The Sisters were then brought to the stage and as each one was introduced was presented with a rose.

Allen Dietz presented the Sisters with a large centrepiece on behalf of the Village of Galahad.

Bill Sandmaier presented a bouquet of flowers on behalf of St. Joseph's Hospital Board. Jim Crawford presented the Sisters with a plaque of Appreciation, a duplicate of which will be hung in the hospital at Galahad.

Alfred Rands presented a purse from all the surrounding areas.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brown were presented with a rose as Alberta was the first baby born after the Sisters came to Galahad.

Lunch was served by the communities of Alliance, Forestburg and Galahad followed by visiting of many people from far and wide.

Sisters present for the occasion were: Sister Kateri, Fredrick, Scholastica, DeSales, Matilda, Isadore, Vincent, Monica, Marie Annette, St. Charles, Olga, Caroline, Rose, St. Bride, Rose Ellen, Antonette, Elizabeth, Loyola, Angeles, St. Gregory, Marilyn, Rose and St. John.

Czar wins Sedgewick Agri Days tourney

In spite of a cool over cast day and a few sprinkles of rain, the Sunday baseball tournament went off as planned on August 20. In the first game, Czar beat Forestburg 6 to 3. The next game between Hardisty and Sedgewick was close but marked by several errors so Hardisty won 5 to 3.

Loughheed beat Holden quite convincingly in the third game by a 10 to 5 score. Hardisty received a bye into the finals so Loughheed played Czar in the semi finals with Czar coming out on the long end of a 6 to 2 score. The final game was played with a light rain falling most of the time and darkness closing in but it was a very even game with Czar winning by a 2 to 1 score and taking top prize money. Some good ball played under very adverse conditions and a good wind up to the Sun day ball tournaments.

On Killam couple wed 25 years

On July 1 weekend, Laurent and Jeanne Basterach celebrated their 25 wedding anniversary with a big family reunion at Vincent Lake in St. Paul where 120 relatives and friends were gathered.

Starting Friday evening tent tailors and campers began pulling in to continue until Saturday. Sunday afternoon an anniversary mass was celebrated by Jeanne's brothers, Fathers Maurice and Jacques Joly - who were rings were exchanged and vows were renewed.

Celebrating at the same time were Jeanne's parents Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Joly 55 wedding anniversary, her dad's 90 birthday, her mother's 78 birthday and Laurents' dad Mr. Eugene Basterach's 78 birthday.

During mass gifts were presented at the altar for the celebrated couples. From their children, Laurent and Jeanne received a beautiful set of chandeliers. From Laurents' family, a beautiful set of silver goblets with initials and 25 engraved and a purse. From Jeanne's family also a purse and four other gifts among friends. The table was adorned by a beautiful two tier cake and a lovely basket of flowers.

Among relatives were Laurent's family from Richmond, B.C. St. Paul, also Jeanne's family from Edmonton, Calgary, Standoff and also an uncle from Onda.

In July also a surprise anniversary party was organized at Vern and Helen Neithaus' where a group of friends were gathered for the occasion. A beautiful cake was decorated and a purse was given to the celebrated couple. A lovely lunch was served.

Vandalism is no joke

Vandalism is a malady that is becoming a matter of strong concern in our communities. It has reached the point that the county has found it necessary to offer a reward to find out who is responsible for the damage and destruction of county property and premises. Anyone who sees these kind of peculiar occurrences has a responsibility to notify the authorities. Actions involving vandalism or any such anti-social activities aren't healthy for future community growth. What isn't healthy for the community reflects on individuals as well.

Be Careful

It's only a matter of weeks before the streets of our communities will be scattered with children walking to and from school again. Summer months when everyone is gone on holidays, tends to make people less alert to pedestrians, because there are so few of them. This should never be a reason to become lax about driving with caution. Drivers should always remember, that once seated behind the wheel of a vehicle, they're not only responsible for their own lives but anyone else who is in the vehicle with them and any pedestrian that may cross his path. So watch out for any children playing near the roadsides. Even if you can't see them, that doesn't mean they're not there, but remember, it might be too late once you do see them. So drive carefully and watch out for the growing number of children on the road from now on.

People can be divided into three groups: those who make things happen, those who watch things happen, and those who wonder what happened.

What Others Say

STUDENT SAFETY: AT WHAT COST?

Proposed amendments to safety regulations governing school buses are under fire. Will intended improvements really provide safer transportation for our students?

Transport Canada wants to adopt changes similar to those mandated in the United States in 1977 which have yet to be evaluated.

The most controversial amendment deals with seat design, spacing and belt requirements. There is widespread opinion that new requirements will make school vehicles less suitable for the purpose for which they are intended. Heavier padding and higher seat backs will reduce knee clearance and visibility. Proposed 38 cm seating positions in smaller buses will affect capacity ratings. Use of seat belts on small buses will be difficult to monitor.

An ASTA submission to the Ministry of Transport, expresses concern with the effects these changes may have as well as the way in which they are to be implemented. It points out that of the approximately 4,000 licensed school vehicles in Alberta, 2,600 are used in rural areas. They transport 97,000 students, about half of which are high school ages. School boards are therefore concerned with problems which may result from less than adequate seat-spacing, as well as seat-belt usage and supervision of students on their buses.

As yet, little evidence has surfaced to support the need for changes. At what cost further study and evaluation is needed. ASTA has asked that the safety study be reviewed and also address the subject of effectiveness of school vehicles generally.

Transport Minister Otto Lang has granted an extension for representations from interested parties to August 31, 1978. The ASTA office has detailed information on the proposed changes to regulations. School boards are encouraged to consider the effects of the proposed changes in the areas of fleet planning and operational policy and practice and to make individual submissions to federal and provincial authorities.

The Third Column

by Truicic
The last two weeks were next year will be all that he spent tabulating things that we found distasteful. We also indicated that some things are pleasing and that some of these would be enumerated later on. So here goes.

I LIKE PEOPLE with a real sense of humor. The kind that can laugh when the joke is really on them and not the other fellow. This does not always happen you know. Like the guy who advertised for an apartment and said he wanted one big enough keep his wife from going home to mother, but small enough to keep his mother-in-law from coming to visit him. We wonder if he would have seen the joke if his mother-in-law had thought to do it first? OR TAKE THE GUY who put an ad in the paper which said that the person who had stolen his wallet was recognized and that he had better return it pronto. The next week's paper carried an ad which said: The one who was recognized as the wallet snatcher or invites the loser to call and pick it up. Both a bluff and a laugh.

I LIKE A CAR DRIVER who after ending up in a dead heat at an intersection, waves the other driver to go first. Every one seems in a hurry, but you do see it sometimes. Not in the cities but it is common in the rural areas where people know there is a tomorrow and they want to be part of it.

I LIKE TO SEE a full-grown man in ill fitting shorts, bare hairy chest and bow legs out walking a dog no bigger than a dill pickle and when the dog fouls up a neighbor's lawn, acts as though he doesn't know the dog. That is good for a real belly laugh.

I LIKE THE GUY who has seen his crop nearly ruined by drought and then visited by a severe frost, who takes a philosophical attitude and says, just wait until next year. You know then that he has been through the mill. You match his attitude with a smile and the hope that he thinks it will. That is what has made the west and you feel good about it.

I LIKE THE ATHLETE who gives his very best on a particular occasion but still comes in second. When given second prize, even though he may later shed a few tears because he feels he could have done better. With an attitude like that he probably will try.

I ALWAYS GET A CHUCKLE out of politicians. Ask them a question and the answer, if there is one, is as predictable as the coming up and going down of the sun. Depending of course on which party they owe their livelihood. It is always good for a chuckle because you know he is only fooling himself. What we really need is more statesmen and a lot fewer politicians.

OUR NEXT CHUCKLE SOURCE is the stand British press which apparently dislikes our boorish colonial propensity of yelling, screaming and swinging our athletes on to victory. There is a difference between us of course. A good play to the Englishman merely calls for a "Jolly good old boy" accompanied by subdued hand clapping.

We go a little further than that; even to a few bores if the effort is lacking. WHAT WE DO NOT get a chuckle out of is the habit of athletes looking for praise. Let one score a goal or a touchdown and watch as he elates all over the ice or runs all over the field to be hugged and kissed by his team mates. What does he think he is out there for. He is only doing what he is expected to do and what he gets really paid to do. Often he falls far short of that. That is where our bores come in. Just as essential as cheering. Neither of these is acceptable to our English friends apparently. I don't think we will ever change though. After all we are boorish and not expected to know any better. We are happy with the results though.

Retired people take to the road

Watching your lawn grow while you reflect on your real or imagined stress and pain is not the only way to occupy your retirement years, states the Alberta Safety Council and the Alberta Trailer Association.

You can join the many early retirees who lead exciting, independent lives with few home owner worries as they travel at will - and at less cost than the traditional sedentary life entails. They live full-time in recreation vehicles (called R.V.'s), usually following their favorite temperatures - or the fishing peaks - from the North to the South or from the mountains to the seashore.

While the majority of retired R.V. owners continue to maintain a permanent home base while enjoying their vehicles for extended trips, a surprising number had sold traditional homes and live continually in their transportable quarters. They like the freedom from home ownership chores, vacations and real estate taxes as well as the freedom to tour in luxury and see the places which they dreamed about.

A typical R.V. used for full-time living has all the comforts of a modern home - water supply and heater, refrigerator and freezer, range with regulated oven (or microwave oven), furnace, air conditioning, complete bathroom and entertainment centre with television and stereo. Although a small home has about 1000 square feet of floor space, a typical R.V. used for full-time living has some 200 square feet. Yet they're comfortable for entertaining couples, because, through ingenious design, space is used very efficiently.

Almost every model is functional, and some areas serve multiple purposes. For example, dining tables usually can be folded and stored easily, leaving more space for lounging and for entertaining friends.

A typical R.V. for full-time living can range from $8,000 for a travel trailer, which can be towed by a standard auto, to about $25,000 for a self-propelled motorhome. It's quite possible to live comfortably in a vehicle costing considerably less, or to buy super luxury for considerably more.

Often an R.V. which intermittently has served the family for years can be used in this new role, or the equity in it can provide a substantial down payment for a new rolling home. Receipts from sale of the permanent home often can cover payment of the remainder for the entire unit, leaving a sizeable amount for investment. This can provide increased retirement income which would not be available, if conventional housing were retained.

These transportable domestic roads. Privately-owned R.V. resorts can cost $6.50 per night or more. However, many parks, especially in the winter-sun areas, grant substantial reductions for long-term stays to retirees. These resorts such as the K.O.A. system of more than 800 full-service campgrounds offer visitors: conveniences, service station, laundry room, recreation halls, swimming pools and other helpful facilities. A free 100 page directory with maps and rates is available at any K.O.A. Kampground.

Food for full-time R.V.ers costs about the same as for the stay-at-home, because both groups can buy in supermarkets and cook their own meals. Both can dine out as the mood and bank balances dictate.

Cost of energy to move the R.V. is proportional to the owner's purchases for traveling. While the R.V. cost-per-mile is generally somewhat more than for some standard automobiles, expenditures can be controlled by riding light when the budget gets tight and wandering widely when the wanderlust beckons and the money supply permits.

A Little to Remember

It was a beautiful day. We got up early and got ready to take off for the Opening of the Commonwealth Games. We had purchased our tickets almost a year ago and the time to go had finally arrived. We were excited at the prospect of it all.

Managing to take off by 8:30 a.m. we looked forward to a nice leisurely ride. And a nice leisurely ride it was until we reached the outskirts of the city where that would draw us into Edmonton.

At that time I looked at my husband and quietly said, "I suppose you have the tickets tucked in your inside pocket, dear." I never expected the exploding reply - "The tickets, my god, they're home on the dresser!" Each one of us at this point tried to blame the other for the situation but we finally realized that all of us were responsible.

Quickly my husband told our son (who was driving) just how to turn off the cloverleaf. Everyone buckled their seatbelts and we did the only thing we could do under the circumstances. We sped home as fast as possible. There was no way we were going to miss that ceremony after all that time of waiting.

I could almost hear my son's thoughts as we roared along the highway. "These along carefully behind traffic. At the first opportunity pass and try to keep ahead of it all." Fortunately for us it seemed that the heavier traffic was going in the opposite direction. Quickly I prayed - "Dear God, don't let us get stopped by the police." If that happened I knew we'd most certainly never make it. Then I sat back and bit my lip. I worried loudly about the speed. It seem the small towns flew by even though we did slow down at their approach and drove carefully through them. I did reproach my husband though because he was allowing the boy to drive. It seemed to me that he should be driving. If the boy were stopped he'd get the black mark on his license.

We arrived home shortly after the noon hour. Phoned our daughter in the city and told her the problem. I can still hear her retort, "You're kidding," and the tone she used. I grabbed some food and hastened back to the car. My husband found the tickets, rushed back to the car and was busy arguing with our son. The boy had no intention of going back with us because he was frightened of the speed we would travel to get back to Edmonton. Finally we decided to let him remain at home and get going again.

Strapped in, we rushed with time and miles and travelled ever faster than before. Again it seemed luck was with us. We weren't stopped and the traffic on our side of the road wasn't too heavy. We reached our daughter's and finally the Stadium at 2:30 p.m.

The opening ceremonies were beautiful and very worth the struggle to get there. But now as I think back over our problem and how we solved it, I hope we never ever do such a fool thing again, nor have to travel at such a speed. It may have been worth it once but a second time could lead to disaster.

Everguide is the federal government's new energy conservation program for major household electrical appliances. By checking the "Everguide" label, consumers will be able to choose products which use less energy.

The first appliance covered by "Everguide" is the refrigerator. An energy consumption label was prominently displayed on all refrigerators manufactured after September 30, 1978. Other appliances will follow in the months ahead. The "Everguide" label will state the kilowatt-hours per month (KWH): energy consumption of such model as tested in accordance with CSA standards.

The consumer will be able to use the "Everguide" label to compare the electrical consumption of units of similar and varying capacities and features. Since energy costs are increasing, consumers will save money by using energy consumption as a purchase criterion.

Vinegar is made by fermenting to the acid stage such products as apple juice, grape juice, the malt of cereals or distilled alcohol. The various types of vinegar differ in flavor, aroma, body and color.

WHITE DISTILLED vinegar is made by fermenting diluted, distilled alcohol. It has a sharp, acetic acid taste, lacking the fruit flavor and aroma of the fruit juice vinegars. While vinegar is desirable when pickling light-colored foods such as onions, cauliflower, cucumbers and pears.

CIDER vinegar is made from apple juices. It is amber-colored with a fine flavor and aroma and sharp taste. It is most commonly used for pickles but it may darken white or light-colored fruits and vegetables.

MALT vinegar is made by fermenting the malt of cereals. It is a full bodied vinegar which imparts a special flavor.

WINE vinegar is made from the juice of grapes. Both red and white wine vinegars are available.

NOTE: For pickling, always use good quality vinegar full strength. The acid content is important in preserving the pickles. If the vinegar is weak or diluted, pickles will be soft and may not keep. If the flavor of the pickles is too sharp, increase the sugar in the recipe rather than dilute the vinegar.

by Arnold Malone, N.P.

WHY NOT AN ELECTION

The purpose of a political campaign ought to be to receive a mandate to implement the programs enunciated prior to the election. The sole purpose of a campaign should never be restricted to only retaining or attaining power.

What Canada is experiencing at the present time is a government without a mandate. True, no one would quarrel with the natural right of any government to make necessary routine or regulatory changes to maintain proper administration. However, when such fundamental changes are proposed for legislation such as the new constitution, peoples of a democracy must wonder with alarm where the government assumes to receive its authority.

If democracy is to prevail the people at large must influence the major new directions of government. To assume otherwise would be to accept that elections are merely a process to re-institute or change dictators.

Whatever the arguments for or against the metric system, we should all remember that in Canada it was implemented by an order of the Cabinet long before Parliament was given the opportunity to voice an opinion. Moreover, it was a major issue; both in fact and in the sensitivities of Canadians. Yet that issue was conveniently silent in preceding election campaigns. By contrast, in the United States bills to introduce metric measurements came before either the Senate or the Congress no less than thirteen times during a public out cry, the bill was dropped. Today metrication is gradually becoming a part of the American code, but changes are made only after extensive consultation with business and industry. In the vast majority of changes, industry is the initiator, selecting a period of time when retooling is most efficient. U.S. business and citizens were not whipped by overbearing sets of laws.

To continue to govern Canada without a mandate for new legislation is to deny democracy. Operating without a platform is only slightly more ethical than promising that there would never be a Wage and Price Control Program - not even for 30 days - and then with a week's notice to implement a three year artificially controlled economy.

An election campaign "in keeping in touch. It is a time for sensing the pulse of a nation. It is a time to both speak and listen. It is a time very long overdue.

Lougheed demands equal say in constitution changes

Premier Peter Lougheed was a point in the constitutional reform debate at the 10 premier's conference in Regina when it insisted all provinces must agree as equals to significant changes.

But Lougheed warned that federal attitudes threaten Alberta. He said he may speed up the next provincial election to get "an absolutely clear mandate" to deal with Ottawa early in 1979.

The premiers prepared for talks this fall with Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau by rejecting his constitutional reform bill. The conference countered Ottawa's proposal for the Senate and new human rights charter with demands for negotiation of the distribution of powers.

The conference further, in what Lougheed saw as its major advance, rejected federal doctrine published on the eve of the meeting on methods of making constitutional changes.

A white paper suggested that Parliament can also request amendments to the British North America Act from England, which controls it.

The federal government sought provincial consent to changes on the distribution of powers in 1940, 1961 and 1964 to create pension plans, unemployment insurance and set job retirement ages. But Ottawa was "not constitutionally obliged to do so," the paper says.

The premiers said they "firmly believe that significant constitutional reform should have the concurrence of all governments, recognizing the equality of status of all provinces in the process."

The thinking underlies the amending formula which Lougheed proposed for the B.N.A. Act in 1976, had the legislature ratify and says is non-negotiable.

Alberta stipulates that provinces must consent to changes affecting their assets—especially natural resources—and powers such as responsibility for education, local government and justice.

Most other provinces and Ottawa still favor the 1971 Victoria Charter. Changes would be possible by agreement of Ontario, Quebec and two Atlantic provinces and any two Western provinces with a majority of their region's population.

Justice Minister Otto Lang suggested using popular ratification of amendments through referenda if the provinces are uncooperative. The idea is included in the white paper.

Lougheed said, "If they are serious about using a referendum approach, it's a direct challenge and he may need to take the issue to Albertans in a provincial election early in 1979."

Daysland and District News Items

The pioneer display was as interesting as ever. The school work, handicrafts, food, horticulture and photography entries were very good with many entries brought in. The Art Club also had a very good display of local talent.

The light rain entries were larger this year and cattle and sheep were also good. The feature entertainment was the Harry Runk show on Saturday night. Those who attended reported a very good time. The slow pitch ballgame were held on Saturday and baseball and horseshoe on Sunday. The rain hampered the game was called off because of darkness. However, everyone reported a very good show all the way around.

The next big project for the Society is the Indoor Rodeo to be held in September. The Flapstall Show Dance in the Killam Elks Hall was well attended, August 12 with about 80 signing the book and a good time was had by all.

The Flapstall Show meeting was held in Killam Wednesday evening August 16 with 11 members present. The next dance is to be in Killam with Shirley's Orchestra.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Carlsson of Daysland are their relatives from Sweden, the Stromberg family: Sven, Harry and wife Bert and sister Birgitte, also another brother, Bert Stromberg of Hay River, Alberta. Their parents came to Canada as newtyeds in 1929 and lived in the Daysland area and Edmonton, returning to Sweden in 1937 with their family.

The winners of the Hospital Auxiliary raffle that was drawn at the Daysland Fair are as follows: 1st: rug by Olga Wyanak of Daysland; 2nd: macramé bag by Vivian Keefe of Daysland and 3rd: cushion by Louise Ramsey of Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Don With, B.C. are visiting their parents Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rowe of Strom and Mr. and Mrs. Sam With of Daysland.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Machanowski and Mrs. Alan Hamilton and family are from a two week holiday touring B.C. They visited a granddaughter at Kamloops, B.C. when it was 102 degrees. They say it was very hot all the time in B.C. On the way home they stopped at Calgary to visit their daughter Kathleen. They found rain after they arrived in Alberta but said the campsites were very nice along the tour.

Archaeologist dig at Hardisty

Six thousand years ago when central Alberta was open land with brush areas an Indian culture called Bitterroot was hunting bison.

Evidence of the Bitterroot culture, of which very little is known, is being unearthed by the property of Ernie Anderson near Hardisty, 150 kilometers east of Wetaskiwin, by an excavation crew from the Archaeological Survey of Alberta, Alberta Culture.

The three men crew of summer employees under the supervision of Michael Quigg, staff archaeologist with the survey, are assessing the site to determine if the area is worthy of a major excavation.

The site was originally discovered eleven years ago when the construction of a pipeline unearthed a number of artifacts. Claude May, a local amateur who is working as a volunteer this summer, put in a number of test pits or units in the area and found stone tools, bone and pieces of pottery.

A week-end last year, carried out by Leigh Syms from the University of Alberta discovered material that dated between A.D. 250 to 1750. Three years ago when Quigg was surveying the Battle River for possible archaeological sites he tested the area again.

Since excavations began early in June of this year the remains of four distinct cultures have been located on the site. The first two called Old Woman's and Avonlea are late prehistoric and date A.D. 250 to 1750. The material associated with these cultures is found near the surface, just below 15 centimeters. Pieces of clay pot, stone tools for killing and processing animals were found along with a few tools made from petrified wood.

The third culture found was Pelelea Lake, middle prehistoric dated at 1,000 B.C. to A.D. 500. Quigg said that there might be one more but this will not be known until work can be done in the area.

The Bitterroot material is being found at a depth of 75 centimeters below the surface. From the test pits that were dug this year Quigg estimates the site is three acres in size. He said it might have been a major campsite area and was probably close by to where bison were being herded into pounds and slaughtered. He believes this to be true because of the number of bison skulls, vertebrae and leg bones being found. Usually these were not carried very far from where the animals were slaughtered. There was also evidence he said that they were eating the bison tongues. In one of the two meter by four meter units dug the remains of three and possibly four bison, were found.

Quigg said he is trying to fill in gaps in what is known about the southern part of the province. He is one of four staff archaeologists working in Alberta.

Until recently it was thought that the east central part of the province had not been occupied in prehistoric times. Evidence thus far seems to indicate that occupation was on a seasonal basis. The early inhabitants would follow the bison as they moved north in the summer and then returned south in winter and in the two basic materials used for making stone tools that have been recovered are chert and quartz. Chert pebbles found locally were split in half and then made into tools. Most were made into end-scrapers used to scrape hides while a few were made into projectile points.

Other tools being found are quartz knives used for cutting meat. Small stone flakes, waste from making tools, were often worked so they too could be used for processing meat. The tools used in the excavating are an assortment of those used in several other lines of work. A mano's trowel, paint brush, dental pick and shovels that have been filed round sharp are used.

A steady hand and precision are required for the work because a slip of the hand can shatter a piece of bone several thousands of years old. A good eye is also needed to be able to spot some of the artifacts. One projectile point found was no bigger than a dime.

The location of every piece of material found is carefully recorded, as where one artifact is in relation to another is very important in determining the age and use of the parts of the site.

At 6 o'clock a most delicious supper was served, everyone bringing his favorite dish.

A dance followed in the Elks Hall, with Sparkie's Orchestra, all having a wonderful time, including the children. Just before midnight, the oldest of each family received a plaque in honor of their fathers who homesteaded here. Mrs. L. Twitchell of Daysland for the Henry Eshpeter family. Mrs. Katie May, the oldest living of the Tony Eshpeter family. Henry Eshpeter of Tacoma, Wash., the oldest of the Frank Eshpeter family. And Todd Eshpeter of Calgary accepted the plaque for his father (Corky) who came the next day.

Mrs. Katie May was also surprised and honored on her birthday as she received a beautiful engraved letter and chain, with pictures of her mother and father inside, also a beautiful decorated cake from the Eshpeter clan. And another cake from her grandchildren, also a bouquet of flowers from the smaller children for which she thanked them all. The dance continued till midnight and lunch was served.

Dennis Daugle was a boy man running all the errands. He was also in charge of the pancakes grill which he had all set up and ready when the chefs arrived in the morning. The chefs being Allen May, Edna Eshpeter, Lester May, Doug Bilinski, Jim Dawson and Rodney May. The aprons and chef caps were worn by Mrs. J. May and Mrs. Tillie Alexander and decorated by the young girls. A special Sunday Mass was offered by Father Perron, our parish priest in the Lady of Fatima Catholic Church, all to open in the singing, accompanied by Allen, Ken and James Eshpeter and Kenny and Doris Parker on guitars. The song booklets were made up by Allen and Anna Eshpeter. The readings were read by Joe Eshpeter. The prayers of the faithful were read by James and John Steward of Calgary. The Mass prayers were offered for Victor Eshpeter of Tacoma who passed away July 10, 1978 and his brother, Walter who passed away August 2, 1978. He was also of Tacoma. These were the Frank Eshpeter sons. After Mass, there was open house and more games of slow pitch ball were played. The children also had races and peanut scrambles. The horse show games were going on continually. Each of the families had a family tree of three generations

Eshpeter reunion held in Strome

The Eshpeter reunion for the families of Henry, Tony, Frank and Bernard, took place August 5 and 6 at the Strome sports ground.

Starting out with a slow pitch ball game between U.S.A. and Alberta. The score being 19 to 15 in favor of U.S.A. The umpires were Alex MacKinnon for Alberta and Emil Buzar for U.S.A.

At 6 o'clock a most delicious supper was served, everyone bringing his favorite dish. A dance followed in the Elks Hall, with Sparkie's Orchestra, all having a wonderful time, including the children. Just before midnight, the oldest of each family received a plaque in honor of their fathers who homesteaded here. Mrs. L. Twitchell of Daysland for the Henry Eshpeter family. IN MEMORIAM

ELINQUIST — In loving memory of my dear husband Albert who passed away August 24, 1989.

I lost my soul's companion. A life linked with my own. And day by day I miss him more.

As I walk through life alone, The rolling stream of life rolls on. But still the sweetest chair. Recall the love, the voice, the smile.

Of the one who once sat there. Ever remembered and sadly missed by loving wife Myrtle and family. 88-1c DAMMANN — Treasured memories of dear Dad, who passed away August 22, 1974. Four and ten lovely years have passed since our great sorrow fell.

The shock that we received that day, no one can ever tell. It's lonely here with you. We miss you more each day. For life is not the same for us. Since you were called away. You bade no one a last farewell. Nor even said goodbye. You were gone before we realized.

And only God knows why. Always remembered and sadly missed by the family. 88-1c

CARDS OF THANKS

Many thanks to all the Elnquist clan for the beautiful engraved booklet and chain. My birthday wish, I received for my birthday. I will always treasure this gift. Mrs. Kelle (Ernest) May 88-1c

The members of the Merna Welfare Club would like to sincerely thank everyone who brought tickets and supported our quilt raffle. Congratulations to Jack Potter of Loughhead, the lucky winner of our quilt. 88-1c

Verdant Valley residents surprised

On the day of the opening of the Verdant Valley there was a knock at each of the residents' doors. It was Carol Marchal who gave us all a lovely basket of goodies from their store, there were cookies, fruit, candy, canned juices, and many other things to use in it. We all thanked them in person. We want to say a big thank you again to Chuck, Carol and some for the lovely gift.

Mildred Clouston and Mrs. Ella Clouston attended the shower for Brenda Wilson in Hardisty on August 13. When they took Mrs. Ella Clouston back to the Lodge Mr. and Mrs. Art Dyer from Edmonton, B.C. and Dave Swanson, California, were visiting in the Lodge too.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Wright and daughter were visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Wright and Mrs. Campbell's couple of days. Kevin Smith has been here all holidays so he is going back with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Newman and Mrs. Coughlin is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Cookson and other relatives and friends. Mr. Persh Sutter from B.C. has been in the district visiting his mother in the Lodge and others.

Vaida Probst was home a couple days visiting last week. She lived at Edmond in the W.W. Cross Hospital.

Edward and Steven Toppe of Red Deer spent a week with their Aunt and Uncle the Jack Ramadens.

Sorry Esie, I missed putting your enjoyable trip in the news. Mrs. Esie Draper went by bus to Wetaskiwin and then her daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Barker and family of Edson picked her up there. Then they went to Banff and parts of B.C. then back to Edson for a few days.

Gretna Good Will Club

Our club met at the home of Mrs. Vernon Simpson on August 16, there were only five members present, the others absent due to many reasons. Helen Sutherland is to make inquiries regarding benches to be placed in Sedgewick from the Lodge to downtown. So as the senior citizens can rest, if they so desire to go for a walk. We didn't have any treasurer's report due to the absence of the treasurer. Melba gave her report of sending four cards to different persons that needed a little cheering up.

The roll call was answered by "What I like about this month". There were some very interesting and amusing answers.

The next meeting to be at Mary Albrecht's September 13, Marlene to be co-hostess. The roll call is to be answered by "Your handiest gadget about the house."

Mary Albrecht read a poem: How to tell a Businessman from a Business woman. How were the differences, blunt and to the point, but true. Mary also had a contest. It was a simple one to solve, but no others. Melba was the "Smart Gal" with the highest score and Christie with the least. It was really funny when you knew the answers.

The meeting was then adjourned, and we moved to the kitchen to be seated around the round kitchen table, that had a beautiful table cloth and in the centre was a beautiful bouquet of flowers that Marlene had received for her birthday. Marlene assisted by Mary A. served a most delicious lunch. Helen Sutherland won the lucky tea cup prize and Mary A. won the lovely hostess prize.

Hardisty and District News Items

Recent visitors with the Barney Matthews were her sisters, Mrs. Edith Bladen of Chatham, Mrs. Janet Ireland of Calgary with her daughter, Mrs. Louise Simon of Chatham, N.B. and three children, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sanders (Helen) of Duhamel.

In the old time fiddling contest at Casar Homescoming, Andy Remack got 2nd, a medalist. However in the opinion of many of the listeners they felt that he should have placed 2nd as his playing of "The Orange Blossom Special" was superb.

Another contestant was Hank Fossner and Mr. Logan from Calgary. Mildred Strova husband, came first as he has participated in many of these events. Many around Amisk remember Mildred.

Another who was looking for old friends from around Milver and Hardisty way was George Lacquem who lives in Edmonton now, not far from Noel Guesard.

Your reporter told different ones where his trailer was located and that he wanted to see so many, but with a crowd of over 7,000 registered, it was pretty hard to find people unless you happened upon them. The Garden Club in Hardisty held their first flower and plant show in the Drop In Centre last Tuesday. It was a very successful show with the plants and flowers won by Mrs. John Hauser of Amisk. The quilt was won by Doreen Stuart and the Afghan by Vera Hendricks.

Mary Goodrich's brother from Ottawa drew the names. We hear new tenants have moved into the Parkland Mansions, or plan to move in. Those being Marsha Mackley, Vi Hobson and Gerlie McShane. Joe Flanagan is a resident of Flagstaff Lodge we understand.

Ken Mazure and family attended the get together at the Paul Mazure home on Sunday for his sister Sonya and Bruce and little daughter, Ken works at Forestry but said that a strike was on so no work at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Guesard have returned from an enjoyable flying trip to Vancouver, Williams Lake, Telus Lake, etc. Had a tour of plant of the working controls, etc. at Grande Prairie by Leon's request.

Paul Mazure with Sonya and family drove to Anchorage, Alaska and had a good trip, but so much to see and so little time to see it all. Then they attended the closing of the Commonwealth Games.

Some of Hardisty Hospital's former Sisters were visitors here this summer. There was Sister Grace Marie Ryan of North Sidney, Sister Mary Henry McIntosh of Port Hawkesburg and Sister Claire Tremblay of Edmonton General Hospital. The other two to come were Sister Elizabeth Veitch who has left Westlock and will be in Mount St. Vincent, Edm.

Later she joined the Sisters of Charity and is at the coast, cooking for over forty years.

Congratulations to Bill Davies who celebrated his 60 birthday, August 15. May we have a bang-up celebration for you next year on your 90th. Bill, went to the Farmers' Market and it was a home coming day. Saw John and Margaret (Overman) Shogren from near Javelle and caught up on her family. Their oldest daughter Diane is back packing through Europe.

Yvonne, the youngest has graduated with her B.A. from Saskatoon, but plans to continue her education, Dina, the son who helped at Hardisty Community Centre, Ronald Baxter and his wife from Florida, both children of Belva's deceased sister and the J. Shoberg and the George Letka's, both Okanagan girls all meeting and eating with Aunt Belva. It is not too often that all the relatives get together like this.

Allen, Joan and Aaron Nelson went to Camrose on Monday so Grandma Nelson stayed with Garret.

Marie (Overman) Boreas is Deputy city clerk for Moose Jaw. Her boys are almost grown up.

Last but not least visiting in Hardisty too was George and Myra (Overman) Letka of Edmonton.

The Scotts too had company, former friends from Camrose now residing in Yellowknife. Mr. Bielefeld and his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Cantlan and Tony of Winnipeg visited Lynn's mother Mrs. F. Cantlan who is in Hardisty hospital.

Another son Alvin with his wife and daughter Marie of Ft. St. John visited mother too, and of course they all visited with the Harold Moody's as well. Mrs. Cantlan was quite proud of her newly married granddaughter and her husband who were married in Killarney, Manitoba.

Instead of those decorated cars to ride in, they procured a wagon all decorated nicely and a team of white horses to pull them around and instead of car riding around the town after the wedding, they went wagon riding. Nothing wrong with that.

The Drop In Centre held their card party Saturday night with 5 tables participating. High lady was Mrs. Stappard of Amisk. High guest was Mr. Stappard of Amisk. Ladies low was Mrs. Jack Mazure and guests low was a lady Bessie! It was nice to have Eleanor and Ruth's sister, Ann Dempsey of Edmonton as a visitor at the card party.

We send sympathy to the David Penman family of Calgary, Dave passed away after a lingering illness and his wife Frances has been quite ill in the hospital as well.

Paul Batty Rithaler at the Farmers' Market with her mother Marjory Drager. We learn that Doc and Betty and family have been transferred from New Brunswick, back to Calgary.

Mrs. Ken Blackwell has returned from visiting her mother in Lower Sackville, N.S. also her two sisters and other relatives there.

The Blackwells also have a chosen grandson at Probation, Saskatchewan and his name is John.

Mabel and Jack Halm of Wilcox, Saskatchewan spent a few days visiting Mabel's sister Adeline Goldsmith.

Surprise dinner company at Isabel Nelson's was Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kyles (Jean Kyles) and daughter Vera from Ponoka. The had been out at the cemetery looking after Mr. Kyles's grave, also baby Kyles's grave. It was sure nice to see Jean again as she too went to Strong school at one time.

Ray and Ian MacKinnon had a visit from their parents from North Sidney, C.B. They also visited their daughter Mrs. Estelle Penny who now lives in the Irma area.

Belva Leasley and Andy had a business of company on Sunday, Belva's niece Terry Bond, her daughter, husband and family, Terry's brother, Ronald Baxter and his wife from Florida, both children of Belva's deceased sister and the J. Shoberg and the George Letka's, both Okanagan girls all meeting and eating with Aunt Belva. It is not too often that all the relatives get together like this.

MARSHALL WELLS

Sedgwick and District News Items

A really good crowd took in the two days at the Agri Days at the Recreation Centre on Saturday and Sunday. What with football, baseball, the horse show, the Flower Show, Vegetable Exhibits and the Handicraft Display, there was plenty to see. Then of course there are always lots of friends who came home to Sedgwick for these events to visit.

Staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Pope is Martha's father, Mr. Bernhardt of Lussland, Saskatchewan. Dropping in to see them on Sunday were Cliff's brother, Mr. Gar Pope of Hayter, Saskatchewan and his two sisters, Mrs. Gwen Myhre and Mrs. Lena Higgins, both of Unity, Saskatchewan.

Mrs. Janet James travelled to Alliance on Sunday where she accompanied the Bertha Bands to the Provincial Flower Show at Rumsay.

Mr. and Mrs. John Armitage attended the wedding of one of the twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Acheson of Campbell River, B.C.

The R. Wilson family have moved into the former Richardson house.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hopkins and family of Fort Saskatchewan were weekend guests at the home of her parents, the Irving Bergmans.

Stuart Cameron of Rocky Mountain House is visiting friends and relatives in the district.

Louise, Red and Jill brought several of their friends from Edmonton and St. Paul to spend the weekend with their mother, Mrs. Helfred MacGregor.

A large group of friends and relatives gathered at the United Church Camp over the weekend to help Mr. and Mrs. V. Booth celebrate their Silver Wedding Anniversary. Some camped over the weekend while others dropped in at various times to wish Verne and Marie well. On Saturday evening a barbecue was put on and after a delicious meal Verne and Marie were presented with gifts from the family and friends. Jean Johnson read a poem she had written especially for the occasion and Verne and Marie were persuaded to say a few words. A dance rounded out the festivities for that day, the music being provided by Marie's father's orchestra. Among those present were many relatives and friends from Lacombe and other places. The community joins in wishing this popular couple many more years of happiness together.

There were 5 tables of whist players at the senior citizens card party on Wednesday afternoon at the Legion Hut. Prizes for the highest score went to Mrs. Tena Blakeney and Mr. Frank Mayne. Consolation prizes were awarded to Mrs. Verne Schulz and Mr. Henry Jamison who tied with Mr. Steve Potage but won the cut.

We were happy to see Mr. and Mrs. Jim Davison home for the weekend (August 12). Mrs. Davison stayed home for a week as Jim had to spend the week in hospital. We're glad to hear that you're coming along well.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walsh were in Hinton last Thursday to pick up granddaughter Tricia who is spending a few days with them. Mrs. Gwen Freeman is home after holidaying for a week with Mr. and Mrs. Duane Freeman and children of Sherwood Park. They spent the time in the vicinity of Redham Hot Springs and especially enjoyed a very interesting visit to Fort Steele. Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson, Jean Johnson read a poem she had written especially for the occasion and Verne and Marie were persuaded to say a few words. A dance rounded out the festivities for that day, the music being provided by Marie's father's orchestra. Among those present were many relatives and friends from Lacombe and other places. The community joins in wishing this popular couple many more years of happiness together.

Mrs. Rose Popelchak of Sylva Lake is spending a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McLargue. Mrs. Popelchak, who is a sister of Margaret McLargue and Ernest Koehl, was here to attend their nephew's wedding in Dayland. Mr. and Mrs. V.E. French of Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan and Mr. and Mrs. Robert McMurtry of Swift Current are visiting at the home of their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne French.

The sympathy of the community is expressed to the family of Mrs. Ruby Skori (nee Mayne) who passed away in Killam on Friday, August 18.

The funeral service, conducted by the Rev. R. Neibergall at Trinity Lutheran Church at 2 p.m. on Tuesday, was attended by an overflow crowd of friends and relatives. Interment was at the Trinity Graveyard.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Jack McBride of Edmonton on the birth of a daughter, Erin Kathleen arrived on Tuesday, August 22 weighing 8 lb. 2½ oz.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Robertson arrived home last Saturday evening after a two week vacation spent travelling in the coastal district of B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter White of Loughheed had supper and spent the evening with the Lanes on Sunday.

Mrs. Dale Guest and children of Whitecourt spent a couple of weeks with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Bill Webb.

Congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. John Weibress (Terri Tardiff) of Edmonton who were married on Sat. Aug. 5th. In Edmonton, Mrs. Helen Webb returned home on Sunday evening after a 2 week stay at Mr. and Mrs. Dale Guest and family at Whitecourt.

Hardisty flower show entries prove abundant

In spite of drought and frost and wind, the entries at the first Flower Show of the Hardisty Garden Club were many and lovely. The show, held in the Drop-in-Center on Aug. 18, was well attended. The Handicraft display attracted much interest, and the sale of plants and lunch were brisk. A quilt and Afghan raffled by the Social Club were drawn for, the quilt being won by Doreen Stuart and the Afghan by Vera Hendricks. The beautiful white begonia raffled by the Garden Club was won by Mrs. John Houchner of Amisk. As this was the first venture of this sort for the club, it was inevitable that some mistakes

Flagstaff Theatre Troupe aims high

Boredom couldn't have been a condition the children of the Flagstaff area were suffering from this summer, at least not if they were tuned into some of the activities going on around them.

One of the groups providing some of these activities was the Flagstaff Children's Theatre Troupe.

The troupe was originally spearheaded to present a puppet theatre, story telling, music, participatory and craft activities.

After a short period of operation the people involved in the theatre troupe found that they had to modify some of their initial goals and ended up tailoring their activities into more of a playground program, according to Ellen Spady, the coordinator on behalf of Preventive Social Services.

Basically the troupe entertained with puppet shows, educational games, stories and story theatre, more than actually rehearsed one, two or three act plays.

The lack of preparation time made it too difficult to come up with the rehearsed plays but then one of the group's strong became the idea that it was totally spontaneous and relied on ad libbing, explained Ellen.

The people involved in the troupe were Chris Lunde age 15 of Sedgwick, Peggy MacGregor age 18 of Sedgwick, Larry Harding, age 18 of Sedgwick and Darrell Wasak, age 20 of Edmonton.

Peggy was the project manager of the troupe, making sure all the details were taken care of.

Darrell Wasak didn't stay with the troupe for the entire summer so the troupe was left with three people to tour the Flagstaff area.

This group of young people started touring the area on July 17, giving three hour performances in each town. The last performance was given on August 25, ending a good season.

By exposing the children to theatre, music and crafts, it was hoped to increase their interests in organized cultural activities in the community.

Whether or not this ideal was accomplished, remains to be seen says Ellen.

The average age of children attending these performances started at age two and went right up to grade 4. Turnouts for the Theatre Troupe were usually quite good, averaging between 20 and 30 children. However, at a performance in Alliance, 52 children came to see the group. This was a record, said Ellen, proudly.

I think we really had the Community Youth Workers to

Agri Days queen chosen

Crowned as Sedgwick's 1978 Agri Days Queen was Peggy MacGregor, who represented the Sedgwick Legion. She was crowned at the Loughheed Figure Skating Club, was named runner up in the Queen contest. Coming in third and fourth respectively, were Toni Smolki from the Killam Agricultural Society and Connie Meakins from the Sedgwick 4-H Club.

The Queen is chosen on the basis of ticket sales and personality. Ticket sales account for 40 per cent of the contest with personality accounting for the remainder.

Following her crowning, Peggy made the draw for the sixth $1,000 prize winner in the Sedgwick Legion Bonanza Club.

Sonny and Tom Barton of Loughheed were the lucky winners this time. The seventh draw will take place at the Legion meeting on September 5, 1978.

BEAUTY IS LOVE'S SMILE
Charles Kinsley very aptly said, "Beauty is God's hand-writing."
Have you ever stopped long enough just to marvel at all the wondrous beauty and harmony of nature which God has surrounded us with?
So much of what we see and hear in our world is negative and depressing, because of man's evil ways, that we need to take a long look at the works of our Lord and reflect upon the beautiful blessings of His creation.
Psalm 94 verse 1 says, "That earth is the Lord's and all fulness thereof...the world and they that dwell therein." Consider the beauty, order and symmetry of God's creation. The Lord made no mistakes. Everything is for a purpose and

Liquid Disk Detectors
In the August 1979 issue of the Canadian Consumer, several different brands of dish detergent were tested for cleanliness. The recommendation taking into consideration cleaning performance and purchase price were Cascade, Copay and Ivory (all rated equally). Joy, Sunlight and Swa were rated as average. Dove, Lux, Mr. Palmolive, Sweetheart and Val were rated as poor.
If you are interested in the details of the report, please contact this office by writing Box 270, Sedgewick or phoning 384-8787.
Stirring Jars
It's easy to take short cuts in preserving, but not when or safe. The sanitise cycle on a dishwasher reaches only 140 degrees Centigrade which is not hot enough to sterilize jars for preserving. Two hundred and twelve degrees Fahrenheit must be reached to insure that bacteria is destroyed. Sterilize jars by boiling them for 15 minutes and leave them in the hot water until you are ready to fill them. Prevent EMI
If you use fresh fish in your meal preparation as well as for pickles, you can freeze it to have year round. Don't wash it, just break the lid beads off the stem and place them in jar or freezer container. Place the lid on tightly and freeze immediately.
Preventing the Diabetic
Canning can be done without sugar and a sugar substitute can be used in jam and jelly and pickles. The Kerr Company suggests this recipe:
Peach Jam
1 quart peeled peaches
5-4 tsp. crystallized sweetener
2 tbs. lemon juice
1 box powdered pectin
Crush peaches in a saucepan. Stir in lemon juice, pectin and sweetener. Bring to boil and boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir 2 minutes. Pour into sterilized jars and seal. Yield 2 1/2 pints.

Wednesday, August 30, 1978

the dead grass and vegetation being transformed into the living green, can we doubt that God can recreate us through the resurrection power of His dear Son?

All created things are important to God, but most important of all is God's plan in you and me. Psalm 6 declares that He has given us dominion over the works of His hands. What a privilege; but what a tremendous responsibility! It is easy where we love God, for then we love all His created things.
Let us walk upon the Lord that His beauty may be the light and sunshine of our souls.

Daysland 4-Her awarded trip

Val Waldorf from the Daysland 4-H Club has been awarded the Western Province 4-H Seminar which was hosted by Alberta from August 4 to 12.
Val was chosen for this trip after being evaluated during the 1978 Provincial Selections held from May 15 to 19 at the University of Alberta. One hundred twenty nine delegates attending selections were evaluated in three main areas: Personal Development, participation in 4-H activities, and organizational skills. A one hour session on knowledge of 4-H and general current affairs; group sessions - participation in small groups during the program. On the morning of May 22, as a reward breakfast was held and Valerie along with 11 other delegates from Alberta were awarded the trip sponsored by Cargill Grain Company.
Friday, August 4, 1978, delegates from Manitoba, Saskatchewan, British Columbia and Alberta (totalling 48 delegates) met at the Edmonton International Airport. They were then bused to Pigeon Lake where introductions were made plus a get acquainted program.
The seminar theme was "The Pioneer Lifestyle" which was related in the development of Western Canada. So this included a visit to Rocky Mountain House and the remains of the fort and a few of the first pioneers in that area spoke to the delegates. They also went to the Columbia Ice Fields, Athabasca Falls and Mistletoe Springs. After these very enjoyable stops they met with the fish and wildlife men by the Berland river who guided the delegates with backpacks into the forest on a 4 mile hike where they set up base camp. Setting up camp meant building lean-tos, putting up shelter, gathering firewood, several other jobs. During the three days in the bush the 4-H campers were kept busy with trap shooting, archery, 24 mile hike, fishing and learning about survival.
August 10 at 5:00 a.m., the campers loaded up camp and hiked to the bus where they travelled back to Edmonton. During the remainder of the seminar the delegates stayed at the Y.W.C.A. On their arrival they were met by a representative from Cargill, Ted Yeck, head of 4-H in Alberta. Malham Ward, Supervisor of Program Services. On the final day in Edmonton the delegates en-

by Sharon M. Chevrux

THE CHARM OF Worrying is 30 per cent of the things you worry about, never happen."

My father told me that often when I was a child. It was a statement meant to reassure a frightened little girl, but instead, it, more than anything else, ensured that I grew up to be a total worry wart. You see, I was a child that I was, I believed that what that statement really meant was that if I managed to worry about absolutely everything that could possibly happen, chances are I would be safe. Therefore, worrying became my talisman to security, my lucky charm to ward off all the evils of my world.

I can remember, for instance, the night we were all awakened by a phone call about 1:00 a.m. asking my father to open the Co-op Store, of which we were the manager, in order to supply a stranded motorist with some urgently needed goods. I don't think I ever knew just what goods were so important at 1:00 a.m. that strangers in town would track down the Co-op manager and get him out of bed to open the store, but what I did know was that my mother and father held a whispered conference on the wisdom of his complying with the request, when he said yes, quietly dressed and left the house, I began worrying just to make sure that he would return safely.

I worried first about the mysterious caller being a murderer. It always seemed to me a sensible idea to worry about the worst things first - just to make sure they weren't forgotten. Next, I worried about father being beaten and the store robbed. I thought of him being kidnapped and taken hostage by criminals who were one step ahead of the law. I imagined them letting him leave the store safely but following him home so they could murder us all. Finally, I worried that I might not have worried about all the things that could happen to him and my carelessness would be the cause of some disaster I hadn't foreseen.

Before he could have reached the store, I had worked myself into a state of nervous apprehension on all these counts and by the time he returned, I was verging on panic - a state almost certain to give him protection. Mild worrying, you see, was not enough because I had to convince myself and the powers, whatever they were, that my concern was genuine. It was not a state which needed to be maintained, however, once the danger was past. When he was home again, having helped some perfectly in-scient travellers in honest need, I heaved the sigh of relief which said I had, indeed, worried about all the important things and had succeeded in safeguarding my beloved father.

My father could never understand my penchant for worrying. Neither could my mother or friends. My husband still regards me as more than a little bit queer. Every time I have had a severe bout of worrying over something that hasn't happened, one or all of them has approached me with a slyly triumphant grin and said, "Now wasn't that silly? You worried for nothing because nothing happened."

I've never bothered to interfere with their triumphs or tried to explain, but I know my worrying has not been for nothing. On the contrary, it has worked.

Rains hurt farmers

The heavy rains farmers have been experiencing of late, have proven to be more of a hindrance than a help, said District Agricultural Development Officer on August 24, 1978.

The hot, dry, windy weather earlier in the season hastened crops to maturity but prevented any crops from attaining their full yield, a condition prevalent throughout Alberta according to an Alberta Wheat Pool Report.

Most of the crops in the flag-staff area are now in the swathing stages with crops such as rapeseed, winter wheat and fall rye already being harvested.

In terms of crop conditions for the immediate area, yields are down from earlier expectations due to moisture stress and an early August frost, explained Mr. Plett.

There have been no disease problems in this year's crops except for a fairly heavy threat that fleas beetles posed to rapeseed before the rains came.

The only fleas beetle danger that remains is the possible infestation of next year's rapeseed crops.

To caution against that risk, farmers may want to plant next year's rape fields away from this year's fields because these pests overwinter in the soil as adults, the DA advised.

Galahad man passes at age 46

Harry S. Wiseman, 46, of Galahad, passed away on Tuesday, August 1, 1978 at Daysland, Alberta.

Born in Galahad at St. Joseph's Hospital, he moved with his parents to England as an infant and lived there during his childhood years. Moving back to Canada with his parents he spent his boy and young manhood years living in both Alberta and Ontario. His schooling in part was at the Galahad School as well as in London, Ontario.

Moving to Alberta, he made this province his home, later moving to Galahad to live for the past 30 odd years. He was well known throughout the community as a good and faithful friend of any resident, as a man who would offer a helping hand in an indiscriminate manner often doing so to his own inconvenience and as a man who always respected nature. A few days prior to his death, he reported that he had been out in the country looking for a pair of falcons that he has watched for the past few years. While he worked on the St. Joseph's Hospital in Galahad, he was known to work hard in keeping the grounds in their best appearance.

He built a small home at Galahad during a spare hour and resided there with the friends and people he loved until the time of his death.

He is survived by two sisters: Shirley Wood of Woodstock, Ontario and Mrs. Elsie of Vancouver, B.C.; three brothers: Ray Wiseman of London, Ontario, Charlie Wiseman of Galahad and Jerry Wiseman of Burlington, Wisconsin.

He was predeceased by his father, Henry Wiseman in 1908 and his mother, Florence Wiseman in 1976.

Funeral services were held from Galahad Missionary Church with Pastor Gene Whitehead officiating.

Pallbearers were: Alfred Blumhagen, Don Blumhagen, Don Broder, Erwin Kuefler, Walter Kuefler and Richard Vinest.

CARD OF THANKS

The Charles and Ray Wiseman families and Shirley (Wiseman) Wood family would like to express our sincere gratitude to relatives and friends for the cards of sympathy, floral tributes and charitable donations. In the passing of our brother Harry Wiseman, Special thanks to Pastor and people of the Missionary Church pallbearers and the Holben Funeral Service.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Reg Grant who are the proud parents of a baby girl born August 24, weight 6 lb.

Grant. Proud great grandparents, Mrs. Hank Erickson and Mrs. Gert Brude.

After a rainy spell the farmers are busy harvesting, the gals busy hauling meals. Let's hope it holds on until every one gets done.

Get well wishes to Mrs. Bill Brude who is in Edmonton hospital. We hope you are home soon Murlet.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Morgan and family of Edmonton spent a few days with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Erickson, the Bill Morgans and Vern Erickson. Doug stayed down to help with the harvest.

Mrs. Marvin Erickson and Carol-Ann of Calgary spent a few days with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Erickson, the Bill Morgans and Vern Erickson.

Deepest sympathy of the community goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Eric Christensen and family in Helen's loss of their father who passed away suddenly at Pudston, England, here left by plane to England to attend her father's funeral.

Mrs. Jane Larson and Mrs. Craig Larson of Hinton have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Gair and family and Mr. and Mrs. Doug Bowens and family of Galahad.

Congratulations to Mr. Ben Anderson and Mrs. Bonnie Halstrom who were married on August 19 in Killam Pentecostal Church. They will make their home in Red Deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Fossen and Rick spent a week holidaying at Mann Lake.

Mrs. Shirley Sholia (nee Hoffman) and girls off to Ontario are visiting parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Tawer (nee Jo-an Hoffman) in Edmonton. Nice to hear Jo-an is out of hospital.

Bus signs have impact

The new school bus design for Alberta roads was designed to have greater impact on motorists than the sign used for the past number of years.

Officials with the Transportation Safety Branch of Alberta Transportation believe the combination of words and words on the new sign will be more effective in attracting motorists' attention. The sign is also designed to convey more clearly what the law says when not passing a school bus when its alternate red lights are flashing.

Students are shown leaving a school bus that has its red lights in operation. Above the symbol are the words "LIGHTS FLASHING" and below "DO NOT PASS".

In seminars conducted during the past two years, school bus operators said the most serious safety hazard they encountered was the illegal passing of school buses stopped to load or discharge students.

Just Like Daddy's

"I want my hair cut just like daddy's," the young lad told his bemused barber.

"Put a hole on the top."

Rev. Don Carson is the new Presbyterian minister for the Killam and Galahad churches.

Rev. Carson and his wife, Lucienne have just moved here from Ottawa.

Born in Saskatchewan, Rev. Carson spent 28 years in the forces. This is his first charge since he got out of college.

The Carsons have one grown son who lives away from home.

ACCESS focus on learning problems

For most children, the first day of school is an adventure eagerly anticipated, but for about 10 to 15 per cent of those children, the adventure becomes a nightmare. Those unfortunate children are among the 83,000 school-age Albertans estimated to be suffering from some form of "learning disability". Basic teaching techniques that work with normal children simply don't work with children who have learning disabilities.

ACCESS Alberta, in co-operation with the Alberta Association for Children with Learning Disabilities, is producing a series of television and radio programs designed to create an awareness of the problem in both parents and teachers, and to offer help to adults who must help the child cope. NO TIME TO LOSE will outline clues to identification of learning disabilities, and will suggest ways that the children and the parents can be helped.

The problems with perception can take a multitude of forms, but since they generally don't become obvious until the children are faced with academic learning, discovery is often after the children start school. Ironically, these children are of ten labelled difficult, slow, or "stupid" because of the lack of concentration, understanding, or co-ordination.

"Generally, brain imperfections are slight because these youngsters are not retarded, autistic, or primarily emotionally upset. They are of average or even above average intelligence. However, for the youngster embarking into the diciplined, lock-step world of the classroom, any deviation from the norm can have devastating results for him and his family."

NO TIME TO LOSE will appear on the regular Friday morning ACCESS program "Come Alive", at 10:00 a.m. on Channel 3 September 1 and 8. The two half-hour television presentations are followed by two open-line radio programs on ACCESS Radio CKUA from 9:30 to Noon. Later in the fall, a series of half-hour radio programs featuring discussions by a group of experts in the field of learning disabilities will also be broadcast over CKUA.

A four-person committee of specialists - Isabelle Reid, executive secretary of the Edmonton Association for Children with Learning Disabilities; Betty Finch, reading specialist with the Edmonton Public School Board; Gayle James, professor in the Faculty of Social Welfare at the University of Calgary; and Chris Brown, special education teacher at Salisbury Composite High School in Edmonton - sided in the development of the programs. ACCESS project co-ordinator is Ellen Watt, and the ACCESS producer is Richard Ewen.

Would you like to be a writer?

Alberta has an unsuspected wealth of writing talent. But like all talent, it needs developing.

If there are SUFFICIENT would-be authors in the community served by this paper... and if they can form a writing group that will be responsible for producing and selecting suitable material worthy of publication in this paper... they are invited to get together and get to work!

These writers may be interested in poetry, in general news writing, in history and features; if their work merits publication, we will be pleased to publish it as space permits and, through arrangement with Alberta Culture (which is interested in developing such talent in the province) provide professional remuneration for all published material.

Literary Achievement Trophy

Such material likewise becomes eligible for a special literary achievement trophy, to be presented by the Alberta Weekly Newspaper Association annually for the best published work in each of the following categories:

1. The best general feature article
2. The best historical article
3. The best human interest article
4. The best poem
5. The best cartoon

Better justice urged for natives

Long standing requests for better service from the provincial justice system for the native minority have been revived with added authority by the Alberta Board of Review.

The board, a reform tribunal under Alberta Supreme Court Justice W.J.C., urged improved policing, court services and recognition of hunting, fishing and trapping rights for Indians and the Metis.

Since its creation in 1973 by the Loughheed cabinet, the board has prompted extensive new legislation and administrative changes with reports on coroners, the provincial courts and juvenile delinquency.

Attorney-General Jim Foster said action on the new recommendations could begin in six months after review by him, the solicitor-general, social services, wildlife and native affairs departments.

The board used its sweeping terms of reference and took the initiative to produce a wide-ranging report on Native status which is a sharp reminder to the government of special Crown obligations.

Although most of the recommendations centre on the court system, the reform tribunal points out that Indians are also owed a chance to meet on traditional lands.

Strong assurances were given to the chiefs who assembled to sign Treaties 6, 7 and 8 ending what is now Alberta to the Crown in 1876, 1877 and 1890, the board reports.

"Greater recognition should be accorded in the Wildlife Act and related statutes and in the regulations thereunder and in their enforcement, to the rights of Indians in hunting, fishing and trapping."

The board urges the province to start discussions "at the earliest possible date" with the Indian and Metis Associations of Alberta. The result should be "more equitable interpretation" of Native rights.

Kirby warns that Natives find the old promises replaced by restrictions seen as "legislation," poor environmental protection, fish and wildlife and forestry officers reported to be "abrupt, impolite and impatient." Meanwhile, the board cites briefs and studies showing that the province's 90,000 Metis and Metis are over-represented in the jails and sometimes overwhelmed by a still foreign justice system.

In 1977, a third of the inmates in the provincial prisons were Native even though they were only five per cent of the population. They accounted for more than half of reported alcohol problems and liquor-related crime.

Recommendations include a new "Native policing coordinator" within the RCMP, police commissions and better training for band constables on reserves and better court services such as interpreters and courtworkers.

The board suggests that the provincial, family and juvenile courts should hold sittings on reserves when possible and recommends appointment of Indian justices of the peace on a trial basis to handle minor offences.

Bull sale set in Hardisty

The Hardisty Arms will be the scene of a major Angus bull production sale on September 1, 1978 at 1:00 p.m.

This bull sale is one of the first of its kind in the area for many years but interest in raising top quality Angus cattle has risen dramatically within the last few years.

The four Angus breeders involved in this sale are Herb and John Bombardier, Lynn and Jerry Armstrong, Norma Locke and Neil and Donna Armstrong.

There will be a total of 54 lots selling in this particular sale.

Bethania Vacation Bible School ends with program

"Shavemim Mayim B-Sason", an ancient Hebrew song of Thanksgiving for running water, was effectively enacted by grades 5 and 6 students of Bethania Lutheran Vacation Bible School last Friday evening.

Their chants and dance of worship were beautifully accompanied by sounds from handmade castanets and other musical instruments of that era. This was a part of the interesting program which climaxed a most successful week of Bible lessons and accompanying activities.

A clever skit, "Nobody Loves Me", by the puppeteers of Grades 5 and 6, several lively and enjoyable singing groups, plus a drama "The Prodigal Son" by Grades 2, 3 and 4 were added items of interest to a most entertaining and delightful evening.

Christine Myrhaug, program organizer; teachers Bev Nibergall, Helen Sather, Karen Djos plus assistants Angela Gascara, Tummy Schumacher and Kathy Thompson, were kept very busy with a total enrolment of 40 boys and girls.

ages 2 to Grade 6. Highlights of the week included visitations from the puppets of the Namroose Church and an interesting presentation of slides from New Guinea by Doris Lillemor, former missionary teacher in that area.

Adding variety to the worship service each morning were story lessons, Molly Margen, Inga Jacobson, Sophie Abel and Lillian Albrecht.

All those involved (including parents and grandparents) felt that the Vacation Bible School was a great success and it is hoped that we will have a "bigger and better" school next year.

Hazelwood Goodiee club

Our August meeting was held at the home of Kay Cox, with 12 members and two visitors present.

The visitors were Susan Drager of Camrose and Alice Armstrong from Amisk.

The meeting was called to order by our President, Jerry Mily.

After welcoming visitors and members, roll was called.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The Treasurer's report was given and all agreed it was very satisfactory. Correspondence was read and business arising out of it was discussed. Old bills were discussed and a motion was made for all to be paid.

Connie Sutter donated a lovely hand worked tablecloth.

The next meeting is to be held at Irene's on September 11.

Adelaide got the hortens gift. Kay and Elaine were called birthday girls and a delicious lunch was served and enjoyed by all. The meeting was adjourned.

Would you want to turn back time?

When was the last time you read anything good about the world we live in today?

Judging by the conventional wisdom of our times, this must be the worst of all possible worlds. The family is breaking up; the deserts are spreading; our fish have been poisoned; violence is increasing; welfare is destroying the work ethic...

And the future - again according to conventional wisdom - looks even worse. We are threatened by too many people, too few resources, too many bombs, too little ozone, too much carbon dioxide, not enough food, an accelerating rate of change and a slowness to adapt. Having become the best-informed society in history about these hazards, we have also become, in the words of University of Detroit Professor Margaret Maxey "the most fore-warned, anxiety-prone, exhortated, and guilt-ridden of cultures."

Little wonder many people yearn for "the good old days," when life was simpler and easier.

What hogwash! Without denying that today's world has problems and that yesterday's had some values we seem to have lost, does anyone really want to go back to those "good old days"?

When average life expectancy was 45 years?

When you could count on at least one child in each family not surviving to its fifth birthday?

What Others Say

MINUTEMAN

If you take a close look at Prime Minister Trudeau's proposed government budget cuts they are not as drastic as the long faces on his ministers make the case seem.

The cutting of 5,000 workers from the civil service started out as a proposal to chop off 25,000 to 30,000 from government payrolls. At one point it appeared that some government departments were going to be dropped altogether.

These would have been drastic measures if they had followed through with them but at the last moment they decided that it might not be politically wise to offend too many people. They just didn't have the guts to go all the way and make a thorough and complete effort to shore up our economy.

Sure ours depends upon the ups and downs of our neighbor to the south; that's another problem altogether though. But cutting out waste in government spending and making government more efficient would do a lot more than cutting the budgets of individual departments without recommending how the money should be reallocated. Over-staffing and duplication of duties is not an economical way to beat unemployment.

Trudeau has become a fanatic with his plan for changes in the constitution. He should put a lot more time and effort into boosting the Canadian economy, because that's where more people would like to see him spending his time.

The Third Column

by Trinecric

WHEN I WENT TO SCHOOL, the English teachers attempted valiantly to instruct us in the proper use of the language. Adding words to your vocabulary and their proper and expressive use in compositions were stressed to the point of becoming a very tedious experience often ending in boredom and frustration. Being kept in after school to scribble misspelled words on a few hundred times on the blackboard did nothing to enrich your appreciation for academic learning or your admiration for those who urged these activities upon you. It did not assist very much to be forced to clean the blackboard after each use either.

OUT OF THIS long period of forced education came a horde of dissatisfied graduates, who, having endured the tedium of 5 1/2 hours a day confined to a desk trying to behave, decided it was time for a change. A number of them ended up with the Department of Education, after strict search and due enquiry, allowed the course of learning. Out of this came the so-called Progressive Education system. Get out of your desk, change rooms, change teachers, choose your own courses, pronounce words by looking at them. As one professor said recently, "It doesn't matter how you say it, or write it, as long as you make yourself understood." Well many of us make ourselves understood, but right, though sometimes the language leaves a lot to be desired and is not very choice.

THIS INEVITABLY led to carelessness in wording, incapability in spelling, ineptness in phraseology and incoherence in structure and locality. All of which led a modern day university professor to confess that many applicants for university entrance were incapable of filling in the application forms intelligently and displayed a grade eight ability in spelling and grammar. However starting this may appear, the surface, it was apparently not of significant importance, for many of these same applicants gained admittance, presumably on other capabilities are now instructing in schools and universities. Still in spite of the English language and spelling and grammar, but more than acceptable in other fields such as the sciences, etc. So when it is all reduced again to the common denominator one has to wonder what is the most important aspect of education today.

BUT LET US GET BACK to the one-phrase-one-word thing, because perhaps it is easier

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

Ever since the county installed the new road sign, I have felt that they were not as explanatory as could be. This fact was even more impressed upon me when recent visitors from Vancouver, travelling in a camper told us what a particularly tidy country this must be. During their week of travelling they had accumulated a good deal of garbage and upon seeing these signs thought here's the place to get rid of it. A picture of a truck with two arrows pointing down - what else could it be but a garbage truck pick up spot? With the numerous county trucks on the road perhaps these signs could serve a dual purpose. Not only would we have smoother roads but also tidy road allowances.

KEEPING IN TOUCH

by Arnold Malone, M.P.

WHAT THE POINT

OFFICE WANTS

On the near horizon there is a threat of yet another postal strike. An act that would take the cake they are demanding 1 hour of paid time for lunch with 1/2 hour travelling time between work and rest areas. What an obvious game! Simple math - new math - old math - all confirm that they are negotiating for a 2 1/2-hour work day. What self-esteem person would ever want such a retarded work load even if it were possible. Surely, some sense and pride would dictate that such a contract would shame all participants from public Post Office.

While I am convinced that the union is playing a foolish game intent on losing their limit, the issue for the nation is of crises proportion. Many businesses have become so fed up with the Post Office that they are now seeking alternative methods of delivery. The net result may well be that the Post Office will be left with only the non-profit parcels to deliver. An $800 million dollar loss last year would then become a token compared to future costs.

The time has come for firm action. Both management and labor need to be reported; those that don't grow should be weeded. An inflexible Post Office is of no use to anyone. The pussy-footing around that has been done over the past decade must come to an abrupt stop.

At one time we boasted of the best and most efficient postal system in the world. Now, we can't even keep in touch.

Mr. Edmund Coffey of Nallie, California is visiting at the Lester Metz home. His wife now deceased, used to teach Violet Metz and they were here a few years ago.

Recent visitors at the home of Joe and Pearl Beebe were Frances and Mrs. Eugene Vetter and their children, John and Shannon of Shawano, Wisconsin.

Dana is Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rogers in the Camrose Hospital on August 23, their tenth daughter, Wanda Arlene.

Doug and Irish Bone are holidaying on the various islands in the West Indies for a month. Ray and Frank Benfield have returned from a tour of the U.S. and Mexico. One stop on the tour was Lawrenceville, Georgia.

Shirley and Bradley MacKenzie went to Calgary for a month. Ray and Frank Benfield returned with two albums and a nephew.

Later on Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miller, Shirley's brother visited and took their family home again.

June Bone spent August 22 in Edmonton with 12 members of her family, at a family reunion.

Phyllis Downie and June Bone drove out to Prince George July 23, taking Connela and two children, June's granddaughter and great grandchildren as far as Prince George.

where they were met by Camille's parents, Evelyn and Clarence Burwell, and June stayed with her daughter for a few days.

Elna Reeve with her daughter Carol MacDonald spent a few days at Fairmont Hot Springs.

That must have been a popular place, as the Lorne Brown family of Camrose were there too, and then visited their friends the Roger Ericksons on an average near Vermilion.

On their way back to Camrose they stopped in Hardisty long enough to have dinner with Isabel Nelson. Mary Brown met her brand new nephew for the first time, little Garrett Nelson.

Elna Madliger has been visiting her sisters Eleanor Moody and Ruth Longman and attended the Elks bingie, also visited the Art Ways in Amisk.

Liz Blanche and Angie McMillan last returned from a 10 day motor trip through B.C. to Vancouver, Jasper and western states. They saw the Plutoniums in Kelowna and Chilliwack.

They also saw quite a bit of wild life and were quite impressed at the way the big logging trucks would get the sheep out of the highway. Just throw out a lot of bread and they immediately leave the highway to get at the bread.

The girls thought they had had a wonderful time as it was their first time to see the mountains.

Just go to the Farmers Market if you want to see who is in town. This Saturday it was Mrs. Linda Olson and two children. She was happy that Chuck was transferred to Edmonton as it was home town to him and Linda said that they were close to Hardisty too.

Chuck is no longer probation officer so works with Social Services instead.

Another couple were Mr. and Mrs. Stan Nassar from Edmonton. This air strike has sent their holiday plans to see their daughter in Albany, New York and friends around Niagara, down the drain.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom McMillan had a pleasant surprise last week when Mrs. McMillan's aunt Mr. and Mrs. Peter Anderson from Poncha, their daughter Anita and husband Malcom from Alkamas visited them.

It was nice to meet Rhonda and Shelley Schlosser who will be going to school here.

Ralph Manning had a pretty experience the other day when a man got into his truck with him and held a knife, first at his throat and then in his ribs to a mile west of Provost. He asked Ralph to let him out and wait 5 minutes, but Ralph immediately reported it to the R.C.M.P. A warning to all you young girls and women too, if you are travelling alone, keep your car doors locked. This episode was pretty close to home.

Seen in Hardisty the other day was Stewart Cameron who hangs his hat in Rocky Mountain House now and was going to play in the golf tournament in Sedgwick on Sunday.

Where are the markers that everyone was supposed to get to mark their belonging? Then it stuff were taken like the notice in the paper, things would be marked and it would help in the future.

Seen around town, a lovely lawn in the school yard which surely looked lovely and green but gave Herman more work.

Then Robert Hinch has been a trailer into town and he is our plumber in case you wonder.

Allen Nelson has been spending his holidays building a fence around his lot so he'll have the fence up when the house is ready to come.

The Public Hearing regarding Natural Gas Rates held September 5 in the Community Hall. Representing the Town were Mayor Lissack, Administrator Cromley, Auditor Gerrie Dey and Gas Manager Al Wallace. Future garden issue before Council

The regular council meeting on Tuesday, August 28, was held on Tuesday, September 12 at 7 p.m. in the Town Office. Present were Councillors Damborg, Dickan, Wittenberg and Larson. Mayor Lissack presided.

Before the meeting, the councillors had met with Sheila Purves, Recreation Board Chairman, for a tour of the Botanical Garden in the Sports grounds and the new park area by the west-end subdivision.

Council was reminded that the Botanical Garden was a 15-year project and would eventually be a "natural" area with all plants native to Alberta. Some trees and shrubs are growing well, but there is still much work to be done. The other new park would also be a long-term project as the area needed filling, leveling, grading and tree planting. A small start had been made this year, but not as much as had been hoped for.

Miss Purves then discussed the meeting to discuss Recreation Board Summer Work. It had been a disappointing summer as not much had been accomplished. The contractors hired had not moved the sod from the Tennis Courts site nor were the final estimates for paving the courts available, therefore, it is very unlikely we will have tennis courts this year.

Mr. George Cramton, School Board Trustee, was at the meeting. He advised that the interior renovation of the Elementary School was almost complete and everyone concerned was most pleased with the result. This was the first major renovation since the school was built in 1927. There were also grants for restoration and it was hoped that the High School would have a new roof under this program either this fall or next spring.

Mr. Cramton also advised that there was still no contract with the teachers and a negotiator had been appointed.

The Public Hearing regarding Natural Gas Rates held September 5 in the Community Hall. Representing the Town were Mayor Lissack, Administrator Cromley, Auditor Gerrie Dey and Gas Manager Al Wallace. The Board was made up of three members and there were no intervenors. No information regarding the Board's final decision is available yet.

Lougheed W.I. takes advantage of bad weather, meets early Ten members attended a meeting of the Lougheed W.I. which, because of the inclement weather and harvesting operations being at a standstill, was held on September 12 instead of waiting until October.

President Mrs. J. Johnson chaired the meeting. Minutes were read and adopted, and various committee reports received. It was noted with regret that Miss M. Ferneough was in Dayland Hospital. A card was signed by all members present wishing her a very speedy recovery, also a plant is to be sent to her.

It was also noted that 15 more "Verdant Valley" books had been sold during the summer, so the supply of books is ent meeting was held. The 1978-79 elections are: President, Mrs. Rae Taralson; Vice-President, Mrs. Mary Pederson; Secretary, Mrs. Sherry Basse; and Treasurer, Mrs. Shirley Gillespie.

Committee work appointed for field trips, lunches and special occasions. The kindergarten class will begin swimming Wednesday, September 27 at 2 p.m. for a five-week period. Program plans were outlined until December by Mrs. Poole and discussed with parents.

Children attending kindergarten this year are: Sherrie Bible, Susan Bouchard, Loraine Bustin, Kurtis Borch, Rick Buse, Caren Dutton, Karen Fredrick, Jennifer Freck, Mark Gillespie, Dallas Kelsch, Susan Kueber, Stephen Kullbork, Justin Natchegale, Tracy Pederson, Kevin Taralson, Patricia Tilden, Darci Toporowski, Tracy Towers, Dale Rott, and Pamela Zetzel.

The W.I. has been asked to provide the buffet for Miss Shireen Waite's wedding on October 27. Mrs. H. Swainson agreed to be the convener for this.

Telling of our summer holiday activities was the theme for the roll call which revealed that all present had visited lands near and far. Roll call at the next meeting will be "Form of politeness I admire."

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. H. Swainson, in the absence of Mrs. D. McClements, assisted Mrs. W. Routledge in serving lunch.

Bethania year begins for all

Bethania's Christian Educational Program is off to a flying start this fall. There are approximately 50 children enrolled in the Sunday School program under the capable supervision of Joan Djos. She reports that there are nine classes. Nursery to Grade 8. The teachers are: Nursery Class - Sharon McBride assisted by Carole Arntzen; Kindergarten - Lillian Ahreth; Gr. 1 - Kathy Thompson; Gr. 2 and 3 - Helen Sather; Gr. 4 and 5 - Karen Djos; Gr. 6 - Marilyn Metz; Gr. 7 - Mary Ann Lewis; Gr. 8 and 9 - Christine Myrehaug. We are most grateful to those who are responsible for the splendid work done on the portable partitions for the Sunday School Chapel; these will facilitate the class work considerably.

In addition to the Sunday School, eight boys and girls are enrolled in the junior and senior confirmation classes. The men and ladies are not to be excluded either and we look forward to Pastor Niebergall's adult Bible Class, which will commence early in October. We will be studying I Corinthians. Of course, the Lutheran Church Women will continue their monthly studies on Worship, entitled "Appointment with God," and after the New Year, their studies will be centred around "Christian Stewardship."

All in all, it looks as if the new season will be an exciting one for Young, Older, and "Mid-dlers" at Bethania. We would be happy to have any of our friends included in our classes at any time. You are very welcome!

A scenic hillside look at the Bott Lakes

What's the hold up?

Several months ago, provincial cabinet ministers toured the area listening to briefs from the various communities and promised to look into all the matters.

One of those briefs concerned itself with the formation of a provincial park on the Bott Lakes, which stretch out along Highway 13 between Loughheed and Hardisty. A very impressive sight.

Through the combined efforts of several groups, the Bott Lakes have been promoted since 1963. During those 15 years, government people have come to inspect and assess the area and came up with what could be considered as extremely positive data. Reports say that there is every reason to believe that the Bott Lakes could be developed into a park area. However, nothing has ever been done to make this a reality.

And Stamping Around Alberta isn't a lot of fun when you have to travel endless miles before reaching a place to park and rest.

As Truncate pointed out in a past column, we promote and promote the tourism industry but once the tourists are inside our borders, we come to a complete halt. A prime example would be travellers coming from Saskatchevan via Highway 13. They're forced to travel all the way to Big Knife Provincial Park which lies over 20 miles south of Highway 13 or to Miquelon Provincial Park, situated north of Camrose.

Why do we want to inconvenience our visitors so much when an ideal location for another (badly needed) provincial park is within our grasp?

The Bott Lakes could offer ample camping facilities, easy and safe access to the highway, and year round forms of recreation over an area comprising about 500 acres.

Besides, the Loughheed government is always talking about decentralizing industry. This seems to be a golden opportunity to capitalize on this concept.

Compounding the urgency of development, is the possible sale of Bott Lake land owned by the C.P.R. If this happens, the government should make the purchase with all due haste before some greedy speculator latches on to it.

The land has already been assessed as being appropriate for a park, so what's the hold up? After all, it's been 15 years.

The Third Column
In Truncate

TO CONTINUE FROM last week on the idea of having life without fretting. Having spent some years in its midst, I feel qualified to state that in the rough atmosphere of the business world, it is quite obvious that we can only get on together by the simple rule of give and take. It's very simple for a spoilt child to sulk if he can't be the pickier, to quit and go home if he can't have his own way.

This is true also of nations as exemplified by the use of the veto in the United Nations. But with most of us who have to earn our bread and butter it's different. We have to take the rough with the smooth. We must give as well as take. It's no good fretting about it, for that's simply the way the world is. Of course there are some who always give, and some who always take, and this will continue until we can manage to change ourselves. In the long run, no one can take more out of life than he puts in. Many friendship people have never received affection simply because they have never offered it. Life is not an entertainment, but we have to pay if we want to go in. We must give before we can expect to take. High friendships come when both sides are eager in giving and thankful in receiving. Life on that basis is a foretaste of something really good.

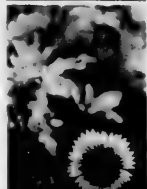

A SENSE OF appreciation of other people, of what they do for us and what they are to us is a must. You know, there are hundreds, yes thousands of people who just cannot bring themselves to say "thank-you." Oh, they may feel it, but they don't say it, and this makes others feel as though acts of kindness are not worth a hoot because they are not appreciated, and that friendliness and generosity are just taken for granted. If we have received goodwill with the same show of indifference, we are simply compounding the issue.

IT IS TOO BAD TOO. We are becoming blunt in our speech, which may be good in some ways, but in the act we are losing many of the little courtesies that "sweeten" life and deepen the trust and liking that we have one for another. It is constantly surprising how much courtesy, even of a formal sort can do in helping us to get along with our neighbours. Some of us have never grown up, and that is one of our troubles. We're still childish, afraid of the dark, so to speak, frightened of the unknown, unsure of ourselves and of other people, looking around for protection, guidance and kindness. We have not learned to stand on our own feet. Some of us have never looked deeply enough in to the whole of life to find any meaning in it; to learn that there is only one meaning that makes any sense and that is that we are somehow within the good and wise providence of our Creator. Of course, to find that out does not mean that life is suddenly transformed and made easy. It just may turn out to be the opposite. But it does mean that in the long run there is nothing that can hurt us except our own will and consent, and that in the same long run we might just find things working together for our good. If we establish that in our minds, there is every reason to believe that we can proceed without fretting.

THAT IS A PRETTY high goal to reach, a pretty high pin to achieve, but think of the resulting good. A lot fewer evils, no more furtive glances into dark corners, more high expectancy, broader smiles, cheerful outlooks, more spring in the step and less expense for aspirin. It just could be worth it. We'll never know until we try it.

A SENSE OF appreciation of other people, of what they do for us and what they are to us is a must. You know, there are hundreds, yes thousands of people who just cannot bring themselves to say "thank-you." Oh, they may feel it, but they don't say it, and this makes others feel as though acts of kindness are not worth a hoot because they are not appreciated, and that friendliness and generosity are just taken for granted. If we have received goodwill with the same show of indifference, we are simply compounding the issue.

THE lake-side abounds in pretty wildflowers like this brown-eyed Susan.

Agriculture Canada:

Good news in storing rapeseed longer

Canada produces more than a million tonnes of rapeseed each year. About one-quarter of the crop is stored in primary and terminal elevators while the remainder is stored on farms, often for long periods of time. Rapeseed is more susceptible to losses in storage than barley, wheat and other cereal crops. Damage from bin-heating and infestations of mites, bacteria and moths can be severe in some years, particularly after a wet harvest period. Rapeseed with more than seven or eight per cent moisture can spoil or heat in storage. It is then downgraded by primary elevators or rejected by oil processors and either sold to feed mills or discarded entirely.

Ideally, high quality rapeseed should have a sweet smell, less than one per cent inseparable seeds, a moisture content below eight per cent, more than 80 per cent germination and more than 97 per cent yellow seeds after extrusion. It should also have no visible mites or mites, a low fat acidity value and a yellow coloured oil.

Spillage can be detected by a strong aromatic smell compared with unspiced rapeseed of the same age. Heat-damaged rapeseed, where moisture has caused hot spots in the bin, can be seen by seeds that have become charred or discoloured.

Tests have also shown that the kinds of fungi found in rapeseed change when the grain heats. Harmful fungi, including several species of Fusarium, are more often found in heat-damaged rapeseed.

Carefully planned preventive measures can cut down on the incidence of grain heating with the resulting quality loss of the rapeseed crop.

The best prevention is to store the rapeseed as dry as possible. Below eight per cent moisture level is best. If drying is not possible in the fall, rapeseed with a high moisture content should be stored in a bin with a natural air drying and aeration system.

Rapeseed bins can be kept 10 degrees C cooler at the centre using a low-cost aeration system.

Bins should also be carefully checked for water leakage which can result in damp pockets in the grain.

Loughheed family spends summer
Stamping Around Alberta country

Tom and Catherine Horricks of Loughheed have been Stamping Around Alberta this summer, having been inspired by the Holiday Passport book and literature sent out in the spring by our Alberta government.

The first trip was to the Peace River country and other northern zones. The second was via the David Thompson Highway to the mountains. On these two trips they were accompanied by their daughter, Ethelyn.

Albert Russell

Mr. and Mrs. Sig Fee and Mr. and Mrs. Reg Fee spent the weekend in Edmonton at the Plaza Hotel attending the 50th anniversary of the Funeral Directors Association. Sig was presented with a plaque for past president; he has also been in service for 41 years. Congratulations to Sig and Doris, who celebrated their 37th wedding anniversary September 24. Many more, Sig and Doris.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Young returned home from a three-week holiday in High River, Hinton, Valleyview and other parts of Alberta visiting their family.

Mr. Nelly Natras and Mr. and Mrs. George MacKenzie of Edmonton spent an enjoyable two weeks in different parts of Alberta and B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Posen and Mr. and Mrs. Rod Smith and family of Camrose spent the weekend at Battle Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Brian Woodward of The Pas, Manitoba are visiting parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Erickson.

Mrs. Jack Gair returned home after taking her bakery course for the new Coop at Wainwright.

On September 24 around 15 people enjoyed a turkey dinner and birthday cake at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morgan and family at Sherwood Park. The occasion was a four-way celebration: Sig and Doris Fee's 37th anniversary, Bill and Dot Morgan's 33rd anniversary, Chad Morgan's fourth birthday

On September 23, Scott Morgan's baptism. Mrs. Dick Kinner and Mr. Brian Kinner are the new godparents. A most enjoyable day was had by all. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jacobs are busy grandparents, baby-sitting the grandchildren while Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Jacobs are off to Hawaii for the next two weeks.

Congratulations to Mr. Bill McMahon, who was 89 years young on September 23. Many more, Bill.

On September 23 around 16 enjoyed a party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Morgan's homecoming parents. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morgan on their 33rd wedding anniversary. All enjoyed a chicken supper and a beautifully decorated anniversary cake. On behalf of those present, a purse was presented to us.

Mrs. Gordon Kelenderfer and Mr. Don Kelenderfer of Calgary were visitors with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Erickson and family and Mrs. Theresa Kelenderfer and family.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Chris Engho and Gordon for the past two weeks were Mrs. Esther Rasmussen and Mrs. Zola Jensen of Salem, Oklahoma. They took them to Lethbridge, Banff, and other parts of Alberta, which they really enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ley and family of Fort McMurray spent the weekend here visiting and attending the graduation.

Mr. J.H. Robertson of Edmonton and Mr. George Robertson of Ottawa, Ontario, visited Mr. and Mrs. Jim Grant on the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Erickson were Edmonton visitors last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Erickson.

Mr. Wil Krawchuk of Edmonton spent several days visiting Mr. Ross Grant.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Villner and family of Edmonton were week end visitors with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McMahon, and attending Grandpa Bill's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Cranston visited with the Roy Larson's on Saturday. Eddie Cranston, from Andrew, spent the week end at home visiting his parents.

The Ladies' Afternoon Bowling League is hoping to get started soon. Would anyone who is planning to participate please leave her name as individual or as a team with either Marie Lowe at 385-3888, or Florence Schweitzer at 385-3827. Please do this on or before October 6 so that teams may be formed and ready to begin about October 17.

A happy 80th birthday was an important event on September 23 for Bill McMahon of Flagstaff Lodge. His family, Bernard and Kay McMahon, Ken McMahon and Florence Schweitzer along with Margaret and Lori Villner were his super guests. Birthday cake and coffee were later enjoyed at the Toby Schweitzer house.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Watke and Mr. and Mrs. Len Krueber drove to Outlook, Saskatchewan for the weekend and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Nick Molner and family.

Mrs. Molner is Mr. and Mrs. Len Krueger's daughter, Florence.

Community remembers late Bill Reid Sr.

Funeral service for William (Bill) Henry Reid, who passed away at the age of 89 years in the St. Mary's Hospital in Camrose on September 3, 1978, was held in the United Church, Sedgewick, September 7 with Rev. Robert Chappell officiating. Mr. Harry Anderson was soloist and Fredella Anderson was the organist. The pallbearers were grandson Don and Rick Severn, Bill Reid, Greg MacLennan, grandson in law Wes Bousquet, and family friend Cliff Kelly. Interment was in the Battle Bend cemetery. Fee & Sons Funeral Home at Killam was in charge of the arrangements.

Mr. Reid is survived by his wife Louisa, three sons, Kenneth of Salmon Arm, B.C., Bill of Prince George, B.C., Dennis of Edmonton, three daughters, Marie (Mrs. Tom Severn) of Calgary, Betty-Lee (Mrs. Gordon Benson) of Edmonton, and Dorothy (Mrs. Lyle MacLennan) of Merna, 18 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren. He was predeceased recently by his two sisters, Mary of St. Thomas, Ontario and Queenie of Calgary, Alberta.

William (Bill) Henry Reid was born at Old City (now known as Sarnia), Ontario, February 10, 1889. At the age of 17, he came west with his father where they settled on their homestead in the Battle Bend district to be joined later by his mother and one of two sisters. After his father's death, Bill continued to farm for many years and was active in the trucking business. He was united in marriage to Louisa Wolff, and from this union six children were born. In the year 1962, Bill went to make his home in the Flagstaff Lodge at Sedgewick, where he resided until his passing.

Bill was his memory to his loved ones and friends.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to extend heartfelt thanks to Fee & Sons Funeral Home for their efficient and comforting manner of service, and to Rev. Robert Chappell for conducting a fine service. Special thanks to the pallbearers, to Fredella and Harry Anderson, a special thank you for their wonderful renditions of music and song. Thank you to the friendly folk at Battle Bend the ladies for a delicious lunch served after the burial, to John Wold and Doug Sakulch for their prompt assistance in preparation at the graveyard, to Robbie Clark of Sedgewick for digging the grave, thank you. Our appreciation to Pederson's florists at Camrose for special delivery of flowers.

To the many friends and relatives who sent messages of love and sympathy, floral tributes and memorial donations. To Beulah and Maurine Simpson for hosting of relatives and friends and to Betty and Cec Lee for bringing food to the house to help out and to those who helped in any way.

To all of you, your many acts of kindness and consideration are sincerely appreciated and we are grateful.

The family of the late Bill Reid Sr.

THE '79 CATS NOW

If you've been waiting for the right time to buy a new Arctic Cat, the time is now.

Arctic's state of the art technology has earned Cat the reputation of being the one brand of snowmobile that all other brands compare themselves to.

And you're invited to compare.

Compare performance in two versions of the '79 Tigré. Compare the 'Cataliac' qualities of the '79 Panther. Compare the punch and two-up riding comfort of Panther. Step into the 1980's and compare technology with the all new Tigré Cat. Compare the economy and spirited ride of the tag. Compare the price tag of the '79 Lynx.

Whatever you're looking for in price, performance, quality, dependability, handling, you name it, Cat's got it. And if you won't have it, you've waited long enough.

Loughheed pair marks 35-year union

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Clouston who celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary on September 18. The family held a buffet lunch for the afternoon and had a beautifully-decorated cake with red roses to honour their parents' occasion. There were 56 guests present. Out-of-town guests were Miss Anne Clouston, Mrs. Miss Del Robertson of Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rietter and family of Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Clouston, Mrs. Gale Wilson and family of Provost, Mrs. Ella Clouston of the Lodge, Mrs. Edith Wilson and Mrs. Karen Dowler of Hardisty, Mr. and Mrs. George Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. George Jewery of Sedgewick.

Thank you Jerry for looking after my news during my stay in the hospital. Anyone that has news, please leave it at the Post Office as I will be going back in the hospital within the next couple weeks.

Rev. Bill Peterson of Oliver, B.C. passed away a couple weeks ago. Rev. and Mrs. Bill Peterson were pastors at the Nazarene Church in Loughheed a few years back. Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Peterson and her family from the neighbours and friends of Loughheed.

Mrs. Bertha Johnson had visitors last week. Mrs. Agnes Cleland and Mrs. Jean Grand from Vancouver, B.C. They also visited the Herb Louisa home. Jack and Elsie Ramdeen accompanied by her parents, the M. Larsons, visited the Eric Tuppen in Red Deer last week.

Recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Schmidt and family were Louise, niece and husband Mr. and Mrs. Herman Martins of Three Hills.

Mrs. Norma Hish of Hinton and Mrs. Gerry Kruse of Swan Hills were recent visitors with their brother, Tom Horricks and Ray. They also visited their mother, Mrs. Horricks, in the Auxiliary Hospital in Killam.

Well, we hope this sunshin e will keep up for many days to come so the farmers can get the crop off.

Mrs. Jack Stoodley and some of her family of Mayerthorpe were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Stoodley and family a couple days last week. It is sure a pleasure to see these former residence folks come back to visit once in awhile. I think Loughheed and district is very fortunate this way.

Congratulations to all the Loughheed Grade 12 graduates at Sedgewick High School on September 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Horricks have their grandson Jeffrey Horricks from Edmonton visiting them for a few days, also Jeffrey's grandma, Mrs. Colette Clark, called on them for a few minutes one afternoon. Sorry to say Mr. Tom Kenay is in the Killam Hospital for a few days.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Pat Martin on the birth of a baby boy, also to Mr. and Mrs. George Cornack on the birth of a baby girl and then to Mr. and Mrs. Don Mackinnon on the birth of a baby boy. Congratulations also go out to the grandparents.

The home of Mrs. Hunter White of Loughheed was the setting for a delightful birthday party honouring Mrs. Margaret Denham.

Pretty floral arrangements adorned the living room where friends and relatives gathered to visit, play games, have fun, and generally enjoy a pleasant afternoon. The guest of honour was a pretty corsage made by the hostess.

At the close of the afternoon's enjoyment, guests were seated at a tastefully set table, complete with birthday cake and candles, to partake of a bountiful supper. While Margaret opened and admired her gifts, Helen softly played piano music in the background.

As the honoree and guests departed for their respective homes, they thanked Helen for a happy, pleasant afternoon.

Bridal shower for Lorraine Cassin at the home of Sandra Pope on Tuesday, October 3 at 8 p.m. Everyone welcome.

Western Rally in Nazarene meant day of fun for 83

On Sunday, September 24 the Nazarene Church was the scene of a Western Round Up Rally. The day began at 8:30 a.m. with a prayer breakfast.

This was followed at 9:30 by a roping contest featuring Frank Rott, Terry Leslie and Pastor Stewart Abel, otherwise known as the "unknown cowboy." Eighty-three people attended Sunday School, many of them dressed in their finest western outfits. The morning service had the 23 Psalm as its theme.

Following the service, a chuckwagon stew dinner was served in the church basement. After dinner, entertainment included a visit by the puppets and a solo by Dale Rott.

During the afternoon, the adults visited while the children enjoyed horseback riding. Rev. Mel Dietrich of Dayhad was guest speaker at the evening service. The Dietrich family also provided special music consisting of several old country gospel songs.

Election possibility seen for early 1979

The Conservative party is well advanced in preparations for a provincial election during the first half of 1979. Indications are a vote could come very early in the year, any time after January 1.

Premier Peter Lougheed has vowed since late last year to uphold Alberta's tradition of elections every four years. The last one, called on a St. Valenline's Day, was March 26, 1975.

"So be it," if the vote comes the same year or within months of the delayed federal election, he said recently.

Tory insiders add only that they expect the provincial campaign before Ottawa's. Little fear of detracting from the national party's fortunes in Alberta is evident.

The thinking is that federal elections are not won in Alberta; the Liberals remain unimpressive here and Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau is undermining his government everywhere outside Quebec.

Lougheed hinted strongly that his timetable for 1979 is being compressed during the premier's conference in Regina this summer, before Trudeau's latest refusal to go to the polls.

Next year's Alberta election could be earlier than originally planned due to federal threats to change the constitution unilaterally, the premier said.

He served notice at his party's 1977 convention that he wants all 79 seats in the next legislature, enlarged by four through a redistribution, if possible. The drive at least to maintain the present 69 M.L.A. majority in the 75-seat house has been under way for months.

By late 1977, a message was delivered to the party. Complete cabinet positions can lose and the Tories must run as if they were 10 seats behind. Fund raisers were already working with new legislation permitting tax deductible donations to provincial parties.

By the spring, divisions over cabinet control of the Heritage Fund, government intervention in the economy and liquor and labour laws were patched up. This year's annual meeting was a show of solidarity.

On a schedule known last year, the Tories are past the halfway mark in nominations for the 79 ridings. Most candid dates are to be picked in time for an annual, closed-door policy seminar in Edmonton during late October. A candidates' school is on the agenda for early December, in Banff.

Council meet R.C.M.P.

Dayland Council R.C.M.P. from the Killam detachment and Dayland councillors discussed future policing policy in Dayland at the regular council meeting held August 15, 1978.

Sergeant Black and Constable Bangle informed council that the Killam detachment strength would be increased to six persons for a trial period of six months, starting August 20. The Neighbourhood Watch Program, involving citizens as policemen, will also be implemented in Dayland soon.

Councillors in attendance for the meeting were: Damberger, Wittenberg, Diekau and Larson, with Mayor Lissack presiding.

The Public Utilities Board hearing regarding natural gas rates was confirmed for Wednesday, September 6 at 10 a.m. in the Community Hall. All roomers are welcome at this hearing as the final decisions will affect the natural gas rates in town.

Eugene Waldo attended the meeting with information from the Hospital Board. The Board has to operate with a 60 per cent budget increase this year. Council thanked Mr. Waldo for attending the hearing and the many others he attends as Dayland & Districts Hospital Board member.

Writers
Wanted

"Would you like to be a writer?" Maybe you read the advertisement in this paper last week and decided that you really would try your hand at writing. If that's so, how about joining us. "The Flagstaff Creative Writers" Don't let our name scare you off, we are just people like yourself, and people of both sexes ranging in age from grandmothers to young teenagers living in many different places in the Flagstaff district. The one thing we all have in common is our love of writing and a desire to see our work published.

We have been in existence since March of 1973 when a group of writers and would-be writers was formed. Since that time, the membership has changed as people have moved away or come into our district, but a few of the original members are still in the group. All of the members have had work published, some in national magazines, others in local newspapers.

Since June of 1978, articles from various members have appeared each week in The Community Press under the heading of "Bitter Rambles". The group acts as editor for these articles and decides which should be forwarded for publication. The paper has a commitment to publish one of Premier Peter Lougheed has served notice that his Conservative cabinet faces a thorough overhaul again after the next provincial election.

Cabinet sees overhaul

The premier said he was "naturally disappointed" when Hospitals Minister Gordon Minin became the fifth cabinet member to drop out of the running for re-election so far.

Also leaving are Energy Minister Don Getty, Attorney General Jim Foster, Utilities Minister Allan Warrack and former Housing Minister Bill Yurko, who has already resigned to run in the next federal election.

Among the ministers left, Deputy Premier Hugh Hornor and Solicitor-General Roy Faran are undecided over running again, and others could be reconsidering.

After the next voting, all ministers will change jobs. Some who run again could be dropped. Newcomers will be appointed and portfolios may be reorganized.

Lougheed said in an interview he intends to follow his own precedent, a wholesale post-election shuffle in 1975. The plan is not intended to reflect on abilities of the present executive.

The premier explained that ministers are to be prevented from "building any empires" in the public service and becoming administrative managers in stead of policy makers.

A complete shuffle every four years preserves some continuity, but also periodically brings fresh perspective to the ministries, and the last reorganization worked out "extremely well," he said.

Ministry because one of the Conservatives' most controversial ministers as he presided over new restraints on health care spending and reorganization of the hospitals department.

But he said his departure is "certainly not" a result of opposition demands for his resignation or a challenge which was pending for the Tory nomination in his Edmonton Centre riding.

Lougheed said he had asked the 38-year-old chartered accountant, provincial treasurer in the first Tory administration 1971 through 1976, to serve as other cabinet member. Which ministry was not specified.

Opposition leader Bob Clark was sharply critical of Minin's performance as treasurer and hospitals minister, calling him a "fall guy" for inept policy which he did little to correct.

Clark was hopeful of wholesale cabinet shuffles, saying a premier should keep ministers in portfolios, develop a core of expertise and build a competent executive.

Capital punishment debate

Capital punishment is an issue hot on the minds of Canadians from coast to coast. Some are adamantly against the reinstatement of the death penalty, while others, and there is a growing number of them, are in favour of bringing it back.

Perhaps those that are in favour of capital punishment, feel as one former Alberta warden expressed himself. If someone is prepared to commit the ultimate crime, eliminating another human being, then that person or persons should be prepared to pay the ultimate penalty.

Whatever your viewpoint, after the next Federal election is called, Canadians may get the opportunity to voice their opinions on a national level, that is, if Alberta Liberal candidates get their way. They're endorsing the formation of a national referendum on the issue of the death penalty.

Should there be a referendum it would be called within one year of the election to determine whether or not and to what extent there should be a death penalty in Canada.

If all goes the way the Liberal candidates plan, there would be a four week campaign period where all interested individuals and groups would be able to publicly campaign for or against the reinstatement of the death penalty for murder, hijacking and kidnapping.

Some questions that could come up during this period might be similar to these. Is it fair to burden taxpayers with the cost of keeping killers alive in the prison system? Has our society become too lax in its dealings with crimes of death that terrorists and hijackers seem to reign supreme when negotiating for demands?

Whatever the answer, the debate should be resolved and what better time than following a national election.

You never get a second chance to make a good first impression.

What Others Say

ARE YOU BEING TREATED FAIRLY?

Even though television has become the major information source for today's individual, the newspaper has managed to maintain a vital and important role in the lives of people. People look to a weekly newspaper to give them news of the immediate area in which they live.

In order to play a meaningful role in the communities for which the weekly newspaper exists, it must be responsible. "Responsibility" in the case of a newspaper means many things. Perhaps the most important idea is that the paper and those running it must have the interests of the communities and the people in their area uppermost in their minds. The paper has a responsibility to cover the events in the area and to print the news which is brought to it. Those running the paper cannot treat people as mere entities, but must treat them fairly at all times. The actions of some newspaper people in Alberta have often shown a blatant disregard for the people whom the particular newspaper is supposed to be serving. When a new situation caused these people to re-assess their actions, they often attempted to "clean up their act". However, the true nature of people and their fairness towards others is most often found in their initial actions.

Responsibility also means treating the advertisers fairly. When an organization orders an ad, and are not quite sure of the size necessary, the newspaper must have an ad properly set, not blown to unreasonable proportions, so that they are not charged excessively. As well, all business ads must be carefully laid out so that the business man is not placed in a negative situation. Responsibility towards the business is shown through the respect a paper has for the advertisement. Being charged only for what one that they are not charged excessively. As well, all business ads must be carefully set and laid in the paper so that the advertisement is correct and the effectiveness of the ad is not lost by being poorly placed. Responsibility towards the business is shown through the respect a paper has for the advertisement. Being charged only for what one "orders" shows responsibility towards the businessman.

A newspaper must, at "all" times, maintain its responsibility towards the people. By being this, the newspaper ensures, hopefully, that the people - residents, business owners, and government officials at all levels - will remember the fairness of its dealings with them and, in return, act fairly and responsibly towards the newspaper.

The Third Column

by Trancute

THE OLD and hackneyed cliché, "People in glass houses should not throw stones," was probably brought into use as a warning that in not heeding it, the user might wreck his own domestic. We use it here in a different sense. The recent statement by Mr. Robert Clark, leader of the Opposition in the Alberta Legislature, that there are at least 12 hospitals in Alberta that are fire traps, or in some way unsafe, is a very serious charge to make. Unless it can be substantiated it might better have never been made. Those in positions of trust and responsibility must be extremely careful in their public statements. Having made such an assertion and then being called upon to prove the fact by naming the hospitals in question, and refusing to do so, makes his utterance sound pretty hollow.

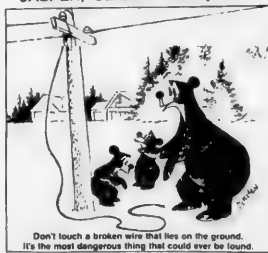

WE WONDER if Mr. Clark realizes the position he has left the many hundreds of patients in Alberta hospitals? They are probably wondering if their domicile is one of the fire traps; a real comforting addition to other ailments they may have.

THERE IS ONLY ONE conclusion, and that is that Robert Clark is out politicking for the simple purpose of bringing his name before the Alberta public. Politicking of the worst kind. If he cannot, or will not, name the hospitals involved, then a complete retraction of his statement is the only acceptable answer. Mr. Clark has established a reputation for picking and has on other occasions refused to clarify, or even be more specific. We can well do without this kind of thing from our public servants. Robert has not enhanced his stature in public life, but rather, has emphasized the ruth of an old adage credited to the late Abraham Lincoln: "Better to be silent and be thought as a fool, than to speak out and confirm it." We are prepared to back

Mr. Clark all the way to the up grading of our hospitals. All he needs to do is name the ones that are deficient in safety standards. Until he does so, we are inclined to take his statement with a grain of salt. We put the ball right in his field, and as the Edmonton Journal says editorially, "He should put up or shut up."

SO HERE WE ARE, a billion and a half dollars of imbalance in our tourist industry. That's not really surprising. We love people to come and tour our country. We invite them and then it stops. We have gotten around Canada and the U.S. quite a bit in our time, and have always noticed very discernible differences. In Canada, we were not greeted with enthusiasm and welcome. We were in the U.S. we seldom hit a desert, a dry South, and when we did, it was short and well constructed. In Canada, when we have a detour, it seems to go on for endless spans of dusty and bumpy yardage. Our accommodations prices are higher and not as inviting on the average. Our meals are higher and not as imaginative, nor served with as much charm and willingness. Our food prices are higher, and our attitudes are lower. No wonder we have an imbalance. We have talked for years of four letter words. We have a five letter word we had better get out of our vocabulary if we ever expect to bring that imbalance down to a break-even, or even surplus position. That word is GREED and Canada has established quite a reputation of late years for a close familiarity with the word; in fact, a working arrangement with it. We better take a close look at things as they exist. Spend less on advertising abroad and concentrate on our home service areas. We need upgrading in that area, badly, and we better get with it, or continue to lose out.

Some fishing and water skiing at Sandy Lake were: Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Brian Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Morgan and family, Mr. and Mrs. Vera Erickson, Norm, Cindy and Shirley, Vera Anderson, Julie Damman, Mel Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. Maxine Hart and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Blucher and boys. I'm sure there were numerous people who were on the long weekend, but never heard where all they went.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morgan and family and friend Brian of Sherwood Park were weekend visitors with parents, the Dick Kinners and Bill Morgans. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Meier, who are the pride parents of a baby boy born August 31 at St. Mary's Hospital in Camrose. Weight was 8 lbs. 9 oz. His name will be Jamie Thomas. Proud grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Meier and great-grandmother Evelyn Graham, great-grandmother Mrs. Ruth Meier.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Fomes spent the long weekend at Maan Lake fishing.

Constable and Mrs. Ken Chamberlain and Chris of Alder were visitors to town a few days last week.

A number of people from here attended the packed event at Delvada, dancing to the Emmerdale. A very enjoyable evening was had by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dwyer have left to make their new home at Morrinville. Good luck, folks!

Congratulations to Constable and Mrs. Larry Erickson of Milestone, Saskatchewan, who are the proud parents of a baby girl born August 31 at 8 lbs. 7 oz. Her name will be Cheryl Dianne. Proud grandparents for the first time are Mr. and Mrs. Vera Erickson, and the first granddaughter for Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kercher of Alder. Proud great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ted Erickson and first time great-grandmother Mrs. Helen Gibb. Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dave Anderson on the weekend were Mrs. Elia Schrauder, Mrs. Macchamky of Camrose, Mrs. Macchamky of Edmonton and Mr. and Mrs. Don McKinnon of Red Deer.

We welcome back to town Mr. and Mrs. Noel Anderson who have been making their home with Mr. Ben Anderson of Killam for the past few years.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knodel of Edmonton were visitors with member Mrs. Martha Knodel and family.

Fall wild oat control costs farmers millions yearly

The wild oat is the most serious weed of cultivated lands in the Prairie Provinces. Every year it costs Canadian farmers millions of dollars. Despite years of efforts to control it, the weed is far from being eradicated.

Now is a good time for farmers to think about the control program that suits them best. Producers must soon decide whether to start control in the fall or wait until spring.

There is no simple answer to the control of wild oats. Some areas have higher infestation levels, soil differ from area to area and local weather conditions can also affect the necessary control program.

The best control is often given by a combination of chemical and cultural methods. Fall tillage after harvest is useful if wild oat seeds have been exposed to warm dry weather.

Over for two to three weeks. If the weather is cool and moist, this practice may not be successful. Shallow tillage is recommended, but in areas where soil erosion is a problem, the use of a heavy-duty cultivator that leaves the stubble standing is preferable.

In some areas, fall-seeded crops such as fall rye can be used to check wild oats. Partial fallow before planting could reduce the infestation and the wild oats that grow after seeding are killed by frost. Fall-seeded rye begins growth early in the spring and usually smother out wild oats that germinate.

The burning of straw windrows or stubble after harvest to get rid of wild oat seeds is not recommended. It increases the danger of soil erosion and will not eliminate those wild oat seeds that have already worked their way into the soil-applied herbicides may have advantages in areas where soil erosion is not a problem. In areas where two ditches in the spring could deplete soil moisture or where scours in the spring are difficult, fall may be the only possible time to apply herbicides.

The correct herbicide must be chosen for the crop being grown and it should be handled and applied with care. It's best to vary control methods as much as possible. Repeated use of the same soil-applied chemical can cause residual build-up, especially under dry conditions. For further information on effective wild oat control, contact a provincial extension specialist.

ARROGANT PRIDE OR HUMBLE HUMILITY

Arrogant pride, which expresses itself in insolent self-esteem in the presence of God and man, receives repeated and unqualified condemnation from the writers of Proverbs.

A man's pride will bring him low, but he who is lowly in spirit will obtain honour. Pride produces instability. A conceited person may fool some of the people some of the time, but sooner or later he is discovered in his true light. By sheer arrogance he may push himself to the chief seat at the feast, but chagrin follows when he is asked to step down from his high position. These familiar words are a reminder that pride does not have longevity.

"Pride goes..." One who builds his house on conceit is building on shifting sands.

Pride prevents growth. When a person is sure he knows everything there is to be known he is not in a frame of mind to learn anything from others. A man who is blind to his own defects has little chance to correct them. The sages have little good to say about a fool, but they think that there is more hope for a fool than for "a man wise in his own conceit." The fool may stumble upon some bit of wisdom in his wandering, but the arrogant man is sure he knows all there is to be known. The vain man is undeterred by facts and unimpaired by ignorance, since he feels a self-sufficiency in his own opinions. Fully he has achieved rigidity in him. Pride produces contention.

By insistence the headless make strife, but with those who take advice is wisdom. (Prov. 13:10)

When an individual is fearful of his own station and arrogantly affirms his own worth he will resent opposition and threats to his position. Contentment comes when each wants to be the greatest and occupy the position of honour.

Daysland school opens late

Daysland pupils will be starting a new school term a few days later than everyone else in the county who started Wednesday, says Dale Erickson, school superintendent.

The Daysland School underwent extensive renovations during the summer months that won't be completed until Monday, September 11, when students will be asked to return to their classrooms.

Although students won't be registering until Monday, teachers will be in attendance getting the class schedules and other details ironed out in preparation for the new year.

Pride toward God is the ultimate sin. Such pride is a man's assertion of his self-sufficiency. The conceited man lacks the profound knowledge that he is dependent on God, that he is a creature, not the Creator. A humble man recognizes his creaturehood. This does not mean he thinks meekly of himself - he thinks objectively, recognizing that another is the sovereign of the universe not himself.

There are dangers in carrying the head too high, both in relation to other men and to God. For this reason, the writer of Proverbs commends the man who walks humbly with his God and who refuses to be haughty in spirit toward others.

SKYLINE DRIVE

The long, long tree lined slopes drew my eyes downward to the bottom of the valley so far below where I was poised that my stomach lurched. There wasn't even a blade of grass to signify an edge to the road as I stood on the narrow top of the mountain. I was thankful that the sun was shining, the road was dry and we weren't meeting a lot of traffic. We were travelling on the "Top of the World Highway", up even above the clouds which were nestled in pockets among the trees in the valleys below. We had left Dawson City in the Yukon by means of a power ferry which quickly took us across the wide, swiftly flowing Yukon River. From there we had climbed the mountain by a series of long grades which doubled back and forth on themselves. We had kept on climbing for about 50 miles before we had reached this narrow place where the valleys fell away on both sides. The scenery was magnificent.

The mountains there are not jagged rocks but more rounded so that Castle Hill, an unusual rock formation standing on the skyline, drew our attention. I felt entirely alone so high in the sky. No one lived along the road, but occasionally trails led off and disappeared around the mountain. I wondered where they went and who made them. One marked road led to Clinton Creek and an asbestos mine.

We paused at a rest stop to look around and take some pictures. We shivered in the sharp wind as we looked across the bare tops of the mountains. There was no shelter and no fuel. It must have been a perilous journey for those early prospectors who came this way on foot during the gold rush.

The border posts were in sight. They were small white buildings on the top of the mountain. It was a stark place we discovered when we passed the Canadian Customs and stopped at the entrance to the United States. The guard, a white-haired bewikered man who looked like a captain of an old-time boat drawn as he asked us a few questions, waved us a good trip and waved us on. What a lonesome place to live!

After we were in Alaska the road plunged down and finally we were among the trees again. We followed an old river bed with a creek and gold mine tailings on either side of us. An old abandoned gold dredge stood forlornly in the creek. Later we saw some gold miners now using bulldozers and hydraulics in their search for their pot of gold.

We continued on a narrow gravel road up hill and down, a round double curve or sharp corners where we had to slow to 30 or 50 miles per hour. I was again glad the roads were dry. I could see why this road is only open during the summer. If it was slippery there is no way I'd want to drive on it. I have travelled over the "Top of the World". It was frightening. It was awesome. It was magnificent.

New wheat grades on market

Two new grades of high protein wheat have been introduced for the 1978/79 crop year. The new grades - Extra 1 and Extra 2 Canada Western Red Spring wheat - were introduced August 1 and implemented on August 21 when the quota for the new grades was announced.

The quota established by the Canadian Wheat Board for all points in western Canada is 80 kilograms per quota acre.

In order to qualify for the new grades, the wheat must have a protein content of 15 per cent or more.

If the protein content meets the required level, the initial payment for Extra 1 will be $3.27 per tonne over the ordinary grade. Payments for the Extra 2 grade will be 80 per tonne over the ordinary grade.

Canadian wheat has in the past been sold abroad on the basis of specific levels of protein. But the extra revenue was then distributed to all producers.

Protein grading is being introduced to ensure that producers who grow high protein wheat benefit directly from the higher sales returns.

A limited experimental program two years ago showed that farmers growing the high protein wheat could benefit from the introduction of high protein grades. This limited program did show, however, that in order to work effectively, samples of the grain should be tested before the grain is unloaded at the country elevator.

The sample should be representative of the grain in the bin to be hauled. One method is to take small samples from the grain as the bin is filled. These can then be mixed and submitted to the elevator.

A number of protein testing centres have been set up by the grain industry in each of the three prairie provinces. The samples taken to the elevator by the farmer are sent to these centres for a protein analysis and a grade.

DYING FRUITS
One of the oldest food preservation methods we know of is sun drying. Exposure to the sun and wind causes the fruit to naturally shrivel and dry. When most of the moisture is gone, spoilage will not occur. The removal of moisture prevents micro-organisms from growing.

When exposed to the sun, grapes, figs and prunes dry nicely on their own. However, fruits like apples, pears, apricots and peaches, when exposed to the air, will brown. To prevent this browning, the fruit must be exposed to the fumes of burning sulphur. Besides preventing browning, sulphur helps repel insects, speeds up drying time and acts as a preservative. If the technique is used properly, it is perfectly safe and leaves no harmful residue on the fruit.

The alternatives to sulphuring are all far less effective. Blanching fruit in steam before drying helps destroy enzymes which promote oxidation. Dipping the fruit in antioxidants (example: ascorbic acid or Vitamin C) or in salt helps to retard darkening, but the fruits become soft and hard to handle.

For figs, grapes and prunes...

The time it takes to dry fruit depends on the fruit's size and on the temperature and humidity. In hot climates, it takes two to three days but cooler climates need up to seven days. Once the fruit is dried, it must be mellowed for about two weeks before eating. The fruit should keep for about one year, but it is necessary to check for mold.

For apples, apricots, nectarines, peaches and pears...

These fruits must be sulphured. This requires that the fruit be arranged on wooden trays that, when stacked, allow fumes to circulate freely. For sulphuring, you'll need a large cardboard box, such as the parking cartons for large appliances. Sulphuring must always be done outside on unplanted dirt or gravel. Once sulphuring is finished, follow drying directions for untreated fruit.

For directions on drying, building drying trays and a sulphur box, contact this office by writing Box 270 Sedgewick, or phoning 384-3737.

Fruit leathers

Fruit leathers are sheets of pliable dried fruit pulp and can be made from virtually all fruit and berries. The following recipe is a general suggestion, so experiment until you get the texture and fresh, tart flavour you like.

Fruit Leather

5 cups peeled, cored or stemmed, sliced fruits
1/2 cup sugar
Combine fruit and sugar in a large saucepan. Bring to a boil, stirring until sugar dissolves. Boil three minutes. Cool slightly, then pour small amounts at a time into a blender, whirl until smooth. Cool to lukewarm.

Line two, 12" X 15" cookie sheets or baking pans with clear, plastic wrap. Spread puree no more than 1/4-inch thick on prepared surfaces. Outdoor sun-drying is the best method, but can take up to 24 hours of sunshine. For our climate, oven drying is an alternative. Set pans in 140-degree F oven for four or five hours. Leave door open slightly. Fruit leather is ready when it's dry and can be peeled off the plastic easily.

To store - roll up leather in plastic wrap. Seal tightly. It will keep for one month at room temperature, about four months in the refrigerator, or one year in the freezer.

Galahad and District News Items

Mr. Dwayne Bradburn of Longview, Washington arrived in Galahad recently to assist the Charlie Wiseman's in their preparations to leave Galahad for their winter home in Washington. Dwayne is Mrs. Edna Wiseman's son-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Fox and children of Calgary spent a few days in the Galahad area. While here, they visited Stan's cousin, Mrs. Grace Ward of Allerton and Mrs. Muriel Stover and husband Don of Dayland.

Mrs. Katie Gamroth spent the weekend at Red Deer, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stalberg.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Steve Serups, their daughter Staci Anne arrived at the Galahad Hospital August 24. Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Kuefler are the proud grandparents.

Some folk have all the good fortune. Jack Pascoe won the $180 jackpot at the Senior Citizens Bingo on Monday, August 27.

Mrs. Ron Davis of Dayland was a visitor at the home of her cousin Katie Gamroth on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Merchant, David and Brenda and Mrs. Glen Wahart, Marcella and Carrie spent last weekend at St. Walburg, Saskatchewan where they visited the Clarence Levers and William Wharrie. Sandra and Glen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Wiseman, Dwayne Bradburn and Scott Cronshaw were in attendance at the funeral of Ernie Danielson of Car on August 23. Mr. Danielson and the late Mrs. Mabel Wiseman were cousins.

Rickie and Jimmy McNeil are enjoying a holiday with friends in Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Gamroth and boys were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Black of Rocky Mountain House.

A group of Galahad folk were present at Devon on Saturday, August 26 to help Mr. and Mrs. Ray Burke celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wiseman, and Mrs. Shirley Wood left Galahad for Calgary on the week-end, where they were hoping to be among the fortunate few able to catch a plane back to Ontario.

Pat Wetmore, Audrey Phillips and Kay Prosser spent Wednesday in Camrose visiting relatives and friends. They called on Pat's daughter, Joyce, her husband and daughter, the Gordon Schmitz, and on Mr. and Mrs. Roy Farquhar, and Mrs. Farquhar.

Maggie Felsien spent a few days at Kinestla visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Armstrong and family.

Lynda Diets of Didsbury spent last weekend visiting with Allen and Angie Diets, and with other relatives and friends.

The Galahad Library received a generous memorial gift of a large number of Harry Wiseman's personal book collection.

Since Harry was a man of varied interests, there will be found in the books the Wiseman family have donated in his memory, a variety of select books on many topics. They are both interesting and educational.

The Village community and library board are grateful for this thoughtful reminder of Harry's love of nature and all it pertained to. The books will remind us of his desire to know more about the tasks which he daily performed and his wish to do each to the best of his ability. We will remember that last thing does not stop when school days are over, but we can go on adding to our knowledge at any age.

These books will not be available to the public at once, as it will take considerable time to list them and stamp each with a memorial remembrance of Harry.

Mrs. Proxy Gamroth has been holidaying with her children in Devon, Fort Saskatchewan and Edmonton. Karen Romanyk, Proxy's granddaughter, brought her back to Galahad and spent a few days here.

Mrs. Martha Barby accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Gamroth to Devon, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bunkas 40th wedding anniversary celebration on August 26.

Monday, the Gamroths and Mrs. Barby visited Mr. and Mrs. Glen Rogowski at Calmar.

Mrs. Eva Does and Mrs. Muriel Wright accompanied Mrs. Doroth Adams and Mrs. Gail Depenstien and son to Stettler on Thursday.

Mrs. Dan Thompson (nee Betty Peake) of Kamloops, B.C. is visiting at the home of her brother Mr. and Mrs. Billy Peake.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reister have had an enjoyable holiday visiting Alberta relatives. Polly's brother and family at Wetaskiwin, cousins at Warburg, a great niece at Erskine, a cousin at Alex. Fred's brother and wife at Stettler and cousins at Ryeburn.

There are a couple of yards in Galahad visited by miniature bird friends, attracted by flowers. The few hummingbirds who discovered the feeders put out for them by bird watchers.

Anyone who enjoys birds would take delight in their beautiful colours, their quick movements, their ability to suspend themselves in mid air, while drinking out of the feeders or flitting over the feeders, the rapid wing beats, and their ability to propel themselves backwards in fascinating. Their antics as they rival each other for the feeders or flowers become quite amusing. One realizes that even hummingbirds are more than a little selfish.

Mr. and Mrs. David Gamroth of Edmonton spent Thursday night at Dominic Gamroth's. They have just returned from a holiday spent in Victoria, B.C.

THE LOST DECADE

The years 1968-78 will blotch the history of Canada just as much as the great depression of the 1930's. Here at home, in the affluent Province of Alberta, we are largely insulated from the travesty of our economic decay. In the rest of Canada, our economy is in serious difficulty.

In the past 10 years, the unemployment rate has almost tripled. There were 575,000 unemployed in 1968; by 1978, that figure has soared to 1,700,000. Amongst our youth, the problem has doubled. In 1968, 96 per cent were unemployed; today, 14 per cent are listed in that category.

The unemployment reflects an enormous cost to society. First, there is the obvious cost of unemployment insurance. Unemployment benefits paid in 1968 amounted to $426 million; 10 years later, our nation is paying $3.9 billion and has a projected cost of at least $4.5 billion for next year. Moreover, the unemployment rate forecast for next year is 8.1 per cent. The high cost of paying unemployment insurance is as obvious as it is excessive. Nevertheless, the large cost to Canadians is the fact that more than one million potentially productive Canadians are not contributing to the stability of our standard of living.

The inflation factor is just as serious. A decade ago, the inflation rate was less than half the present percentage. In 1968, the rate was 4.5 per cent; today it has climbed to 9.2 per cent. Likewise, the state of our economy is reflected in the Consumer Price Index which has climbed from 88.4 in April 1968 to 165.9 in August 1978. This situation has obviously affected the state of our dollar and the purchasing power of our money. The 1968 dollar is now valued at 66 cents U.S. and is becoming near its lowest level in 45 years.

Our economic woes are by no means confined to the above statistics. Just as serious as any information released from government is the fact that our current account deficit was $97 million in 1968 and has grown to $4.2 billion in 1978.

Total Federal expenditures have increased four-fold in one decade. In 1968, the total estimate of budgetary and non-budgetary expenditures were $12 billion; the same items estimated for next year amount to $80.3 billion, or an increase of four-fold in a single decade.

And for all of this you pay. In 1968, the Federal government tax rate equaled $200 per worker; in 1978, Federal taxes averaged $1,466 per worker.

The past decade of keeping in touch has been analogous to paying your master so you can get scaped.

Farmers informed on surface rights

Can you as a farmer legally refuse to allow on your land a company or a person who has the right to work the minerals under the surface of the land, or who has been authorized by some other legislation to construct a pipeline, power line or telephone line?

According to a pamphlet entitled "Surface Rights in Alberta", you have the right to refuse an operator, as such a company or person is called, admission to your land until a satisfactory agreement has been reached between the two of you, or he has obtained a right of entry order from the Surface Rights Board. However, after having made a reasonable attempt to notify a land owner, a surveyor has the legal right to go onto any land in Alberta to do a survey for the operator. The surveyor is liable for any damage caused by the surveyor.

In the case of surface leases, the law requires that the proposed lease be left with the farmer for 48 hours so that he can decide whether or not he wants to sign it. If he is not satisfied with the area to be taken, the amount of compensation to be paid, or any other provisions of the lease, he can return it unsigned to the operator's representative. If, on the other hand, the lease is satisfactory, if the farmer can get the terms changed so that it is satisfactory, he can sign it without involving the Surface Rights Act or the Surface Rights Board.

If a farmer decides not to sign a surface lease, the operator has to apply to the Surface Rights Board for a right of entry order covering the portion of the surface required for the well site, access roadway, the well site or the opening of a mine. The board may grant a right of entry order after seven days. In the case of a pipeline, power line or telephone line, it may grant a right of entry order after 21 days.

A farmer who objects to a right of entry order can submit his objection in writing to the board regarding any matters except those dealing with the amount of compensation to be paid.

Upon receiving an objection, the Surface Rights Board will decide whether a hearing should be held before a right of entry order is granted, or whether the objection should be made to the Energy Resources Conservation Board. The Surface Rights Board will advise the person submitting the objection of its decision.

It should be noted that the Surface Rights Board has no jurisdiction on authority over the location of a well site or mine opening or over the routes of pipelines, power lines or telephone lines. Objecting regarding any of these should be made to the Energy Resources Conservation Board, 603 - 6th Avenue S.W., Calgary, T2P 0Y9 (Telephone number 261-8001).

Information on determining payment for right of entry or a surface lease; timing of the right of entry payment; legal representation for farmers; appealing a compensation order; the length of time a surface lease or right of entry order remains in effect; collecting for damages caused by the operator after the surface lease has been signed or the compensation order issued; adjusting or reviewing the rental under a Speed limits are in kilometres per hour. It may be easy to forget, but don't.

Too much depends on your remembering. Keep on driving as carefully as you always have in school zones, hospital zones, on ramps and curves. Even though the speed limit number is higher than you're accustomed to—remember that they indicate kilometres per hour—not miles per hour. REMEMBER—DON'T FORGET.

Actual speed limits will be established in accordance with local regulations.

Canada tries for fiber flax industry

Work is now underway to test the feasibility of setting up a fiber flax industry on the Prairies.

The three-year project will be carried out by the Flax Growers of Western Canada—a non-profit producer group. Agriculture Canada's New Crop Development Fund is contributing $47,000 to the project while the provincial governments of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba will contribute another $47,000.

This is not the first attempt to develop a fiber flax industry on the Prairies. Research was started in the 1940's to investigate the possibility of growing fiber flax. The work was halted in the 1960's when synthetic fibers began to replace natural fibers in fabric.

However, the market situation for fabrics has changed drastically over the last few years. The rising price of petroleum has meant that synthetic fabrics are no longer inexpensive. New varieties of fiber flax and new manufacturing techniques have also increased the use of natural-synthetic blends.

Canada currently does not produce any fiber crop. A fiber flax industry could reduce our reliance on imports. It could also lead to a substantial export market if the world demand for linen fiber increases as expected.

According to a 1977 study conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture, the U.S. imports five million pounds of linen fiber a year to meet domestic demand. It is hoped Canada could capture part of this market.

Based on the European experience in growing fiber flax, gross returns to farmers in the range of $600.00 per acre are realistic.

The New Crop Development project will look at the adaptability of fiber flax in western Canada.

Three test sites have been set up in Alberta and another three in each of the other two Prairie Provinces. Crop scientists from universities and research stations as well as farmers will take part in the project.

Selected samples of flax grown at the test sites will be collected in the next three years and sent to Belgium for fiber evaluation. At present, Canada does not have the necessary equipment for such tests.

Lower duck hunting limits set

Several significant changes to bag and possession limits highlight the 1978 Migratory Birds Regulations for the prairie provinces, announced the Canadian Wildlife Service, Environment Canada.

In Alberta, bag and possession limits on ducks are drastically reduced. Only four ducks can be bagged and eight possessed, half the limits allowed in 1977. This should result in a 30 per cent decrease in the provincial harvest.

The limits for geese in Alberta remain unchanged. Figures show that 92,000 Alberta hunters bagged 781,000 ducks and 113,300 geese in 1977.

Sedgewick part of Cold Lake ball tourney

Three local teams, Sedgewick, Bawlf and Forestburg, took part in the Cold Lake Base Ball Tournament played on Saturday and Sunday, September 2 and 3. In the first game, Lee La Biche beat Two Hills in a close game which was won in the last innings 5 to 4. The second game featured a no-hitter as Cold Lake beat Waskaus 5 to 0. Next, Bawlf played Forestburg and in spite of a Forestburg rally in the bottom of the last inning, Bawlf held on to win 9 to 7. The last game of the day featured Sedgewick against a sharp St. Albert team, which won by a 5 to 0 score.

In the first semi final on Sunday, Cold Lake best Lee La Biche 6 to 3. Bawlf made a valiant effort against St. Albert in the other semi-final but came out on the short end of a 6 to 2 score. So Cold Lake and St. Albert met in the final with Sedgewick continuing their winning ways to take top money with a 5 to 3 score.

An enjoyable two days of baseball played in ideal weather.

World crops predicted bountiful

Harvesting of the 1978 crop is now underway across the prairies and yet many farm bins still hold grain from last year's production. On July 31, 1978, only the farm stocks of wheat were lower than those of one year earlier. For Alberta producers, barley was the predominant grain still in bins, but for the prairies, wheat was the main carry-over.

Last March, the Canadian Wheat Board announced the market prospects for wheat, oats and barley in 1978-79. Minimum deliveries of bread wheat were set at 13 million tonnes, the same quantity as in 1977-78. Durum wheat deliveries were estimated at 1.5 million tonnes, an increase of 500,000 tonnes from the past crop year. Barley deliveries at 4.6 million tonnes were down slightly from 1977-78. The Board's commitment on oats was 300,000 tonnes, unchanged from last season.

Prospects for the world's 1978-79 grain crops have improved and a bountiful harvest is indicated. This will mean fewer countries will require less grain imports and competition between exporting nations will become intense. World grain production is forecast to be 1.576 billion tonnes, up from 1.322 billion in 1977-78. Trade in wheat and coarse grains is expected to decline 3 million tonnes to near the 153 million tonne mark.

World wheat production is expected to be 413 million tonnes, or eight per cent more than last year. Contrasting the carry-over of 79 million tonnes and a utilization figure of 468 million tonnes, world wheat stocks at the end of 1978-79 are expected to increase by six per cent to 84 million tonnes. With larger world production, trade possibilities will be reduced. Trade in wheat is forecast to be about 69 million tonnes, down from the 72 million traded in 1977-78.

In the U.S.-S.R. and China, two of Canada's prime wheat customers, good wheat crops are expected. However, both countries are likely to continue grain imports in order to replenish stocks depleted last season. China has already purchased 8.5 million tonnes.

Success Stories

There are two ways of a thriving success: put your shoulder to the wheel or put your head on the shoulder of the man at the wheel.

In coarse grains, world production is forecast to establish a record at 714 million tonnes. Good crops world-wide will reduce the trade in coarse grains slightly. Competition among exporters for feed grain markets will continue to be keen in 1978-79. Canadian production of barley could increase from last year's 3.4 million tonnes to 3.6 million tonnes. However, in spite of this increase, the year-end stocks of barley are a gain forecast to rise. Oats are expected to experience a tighter supply situation than barley.

Global production of vegetable oil crops will increase in 1978-79. Palm oil output in Malaya continues to expand. U.S. soybean production should be a record and the Canadian rapeseed crop will establish a production record. Lower oilseed prices are likely, and if Canada's rapeseed exports approach mate last year's one million tonnes, there will still be rapeseed in farm bins at the end of the 1978-79 crop year. A similar situation exists for flax and a larger year-end carry-over is forecast.

With good grain crops in most exporting and importing countries, the importance of Japan as a regular Canadian customer and the U.S.S.R. and China as large quantity purchasers will again be recognized. When the 1978-79 crop year is finished, the carry-over of wheat will be about the same as last year, but more barley and rapeseed will be in farm storage.

Parental attitude counts

How much can we expect educators to do for our children? Parents and teachers all over the country are looking at ways to improve the quality of education our children are receiving.

In a national Gallup poll taken last spring, more than 59 per cent of the population polled expressed dissatisfaction with the educational system today.

We can all look at the system making suggestions for changes in curriculum, discipline and the numerous other elements involved but have you ever asked yourself what can we do as parents to help the situation?

Perhaps we can start with attitude. Do you ever sit down and read to or with your children? Not just bedtime stories, but while reading a newspaper or magazine, point out various articles, sparking interest and encouraging discussion.

Education doesn't begin or end at the school doors. Learning and more importantly, attitudes about learning begin at home. Whoever strikes that responsibility and tries to put it all in the hands of the teachers, will be sadly disappointed.

Remember, you have your children for five years before they enter the school system. What experts term the "formative years". Years when your children take on certain patterns of behavior that often carry on throughout the rest of their lives. Years when you shape their way of thinking and observing.

The manner in which you as parents perceive learning, teachers and the school system, will no doubt reflect the attitude your children take into the system.

Educating children is no easy task, a task which parents should play a vital role in.

Showing an interest in your children's performance through guidance and encouragement, could be a great incentive for them to do their best. After all, children tend to look to their parents first and foremost for ultimate approval.

True, teachers are equipped with refined teaching skills but the way in which children absorb the information given to them, depends largely on you as parents and perhaps some of the things along the line, a truly inspirational teacher too.

The Third Column

By Trumate

AGAIN THIS YEAR our society is being plagued with strikes, threats of strikes, walk-outs, slowdowns and work-to-rule attitudes. Not only this, but many employees have adopted an unconcerned attitude toward their work. They demand equal pay for the same class of work, neglecting the fact that one brick layer may lay a number of bricks per day while his side-walker may only lay half as many. Higher pay does not produce any greater productivity. "We will get what we want or we will shut the industry down," is the prevailing attitude, and the public be damned. The employer fights to pay as little as possible, and when forced to pay out more, adds the cost to the price of his product. The consumer pays the shot for both and nobody seems very concerned.

We have priced ourselves out of foreign markets, the economy has slowed down, productivity is declining, services are deteriorating, deliveries have slowed down and attitudes have plummeted to a new low.

IS IT ANY WONDER that governments are taking a tighter grip on the excessive spending, albeit some years late, and we wonder, after so many false starts, whether there is real sincerity in the move. True, there are too many people living off the rest of society, and a move to force them to work or live on a lower standard is a good one. But wait for the hue and cry, for it will be there.

We are finding our nest, but yet we are not prepared to move to new quarters and better surroundings. We are used to the cushy and to change will bring dissatisfaction. Yet it has to be done. Let us wait and see if governments mean what they are saying. Truthfully, we are doubtful. Bailouts are more popular than common sense.

ONCE WE CAN GET back to the realities, the lesson, then and then only will we begin to progress once again. We talk glibly about rights and freedoms and all that, but we are failing to realize that reality, there is no right without responsibility, that there is no real freedom without the supremacy of, and adherence to, the law.

Canada Grow

Corals are actually small animals which customarily grow in large colonies, often shaped similar to a shrub or small tree. In warm seas, they coral secrete massive skeletons of lime and combine with algae to form reefs in shallow water.

Beverly Lasseness from Red Deer visited her grandparents, the Fred Makarowski's, last Monday and Tuesday.

Eleanor Davidson and Laura Graham went to Edmonton to visit their sister in the University Hospital. Eleanor went on to Rimby to visit her son, Corporal Dwight Davidson and family, who have just moved there.

Sympathy is extended to the J. Minch family on the passing of their daughter Mary, who was in the Edmonton Hospital. Her funeral was Saturday, September 2 in the Roman Catholic Church. Father Ekin officiated. Interment was in the Dayland Cemetery.

What Others Say

THE CHOICE

Sooner or later we are going to have a federal election and the most skillful politician of our time is feverishly and belatedly preparing the ground for one.

The polls indicate he'll be hard to beat - perhaps unbeatable if he has read the public's mind on economic initiatives correctly.

He has held onto power for a long time and faces an electorate disillusioned by poor economic prospects, which have been largely the result of world-wide depression influences, and its own insatiable greed for better and better standards of living unsupported by increased production.

It is not clear that his defeat by Joe Clark would be altogether a bad thing. The options open to any government are not many, but another prime minister might instill a new confidence in Canadians. However, it is not likely they would for long endure what they obviously must any more cheerfully or less vindictively under Clark than they have under Trudeau.

We have had reservations about Clark as prime minister. Would he be able to deal with the Quebec situation? Would he be able to articulate the brief for unity without some of that province's brilliant sons at his side? And would he bargain away some of the central power essential to a strong, united country to the ambitious premiers who seem to hold the country is made up of 11 equal governments.

BOND OF BROTHERHOOD:
CHRIST IS MASTER

One of the characteristics of the age we are living in is a re-emphasis of brotherhood. The command to love our neighbor does not seem to be binding on much of our society. Any war, strife or local quarrel is the sign of a broken brotherhood. We all know that men should be brothers; for brotherhood is written both as fact and as necessity in our human nature. Literally, we are of "one blood". We are joined in one pilgrimage of life, and at the end of our days, we travel through the same valley of the shadow. Our joys and fears, our sins and sorrows, differ only in form; we are brothers under the skin. We cannot live without the common life, yet brotherhood is not an acknowledged fact in our lives. That is why our world is torn asunder.

How can brotherhood be made real? Not by the windy speeches of politicians, for men cannot be flogged into love either by whips or by words. Not by fear, for fear of strife will not keep us from it even in the atomic age, where forgets all fear and sanity. There can be no brotherhood until the personal selfishness is purged from our nature. How can this be done?

By someone who is above us, who can draw forth in every man the deep urge that is the core of our nature, and who can redeem us from our sins. These steel filings fall into a pattern of brotherhood only when such a magnet moves above them. We are led into brotherhood by someone whose wisdom will love is deeper than ours. Someone who lives out his brotherliness on our earth; someone who dies for us - for we are saved not by love, but by the cleansing that comes when love dies rather than surrender love. How little we understand the road and the cost of brotherhood. How glim our speeches and how shallow our minds.

Kids, don't miss the second practice of Children's Musical at 8 p.m. Sunday evening. All children Grades 2 to 7 are welcome to attend Caravan Treasures evenings. Kick-off is a ball game and winner real.

Sunday, September 17, Rev. Peter Campbell and family will be our guests for both services, as the Abels are away this week on a short holiday.

We send greetings to Orval Probst in Killam and Mrs. Gertrude Graff in Edmonton. We miss you and are praying for you.

Guests of the Sonnermans were the Ron Wegenast family, and we were happy to see Willy Feltner's mother with us Sunday morning, too.

Dayland
chairman named

Mrs. Isabel Lang of the Catholic Women's League will be chairman of The Arthritis Society's 1978 campaign committee in Dayland. The announcement was made today by the Society's Director of Fundraising, Mrs. Barbara Curry of Calgary.

Commenting on her appointment, Mrs. Lang said, "Arthritis is a disease that can strike any of us at any time. But more than 90,000 people in Alberta suffer from arthritis. It affects people of all ages and in all of life. 55,000 are over the age of 20 and 60. These people need our help."

"Since its inception in 1950, in response to arthritis and unmet need, The Arthritis Society has assumed the principal responsibility for the formation, co-ordination and direction of Alberta's attack on arthritis."

"If we all give more than a thought to arthritis, we can help bring about its cure. We can help bring about its cure."

Mrs. Lang concluded.

RITERS RAMBLINGS

How old is OLD?

Old is when you've lived a lot of years. Right?

Wrong! Old is nothing of the sort.

I know a man who is 92, which means he's lived a lot of years. But he's not old, because he thinks young. He acts young. He is young.

On the other hand, I became old at the age of 30. I was fresh out of university - just starting my teaching career and facing my first Parent-Teacher meeting. A mother arrived outside my classroom, stopped, looked in, seemed confused and began to turn away. Trying to be helpful I called to her.

"Who are you looking for?" Mrs. Chevraux," she answered.

"That's me," I said. "Come on in."

Keeping in Touch

by Arnold Malson, M.P.

WHO RUNS CANADA?

There has always been a presumption that the elected government, with the authority of Parliament, runs the nation's affairs. It now appears that in the longer the time today, the country is being led by the public: the Gallup Polls, the Goldfarb Polls, and other private polls.

The date of the next election appears to have no relation with the nation's needs. Industrial growth and economic stability be damned! This Prime Minister will take polls and attempt, by hand, to lead the country's record in hidden.

It was Dr. Gallup who threw the spring election to the rats when the Liberals slumped in general popularity. By late spring, the results of the Goldfarb Poll indicated the government was the governing party, but was in deep trouble in the key cities of Toronto and Vancouver.

Presently, there are two more polls being conducted in southern Ontario. One to test voter strength for the government and the public's reaction to the recent so-called economic initiatives. The second set of polls is being conducted to determine why Trudeau is not liked in the vital cities of Toronto and Vancouver. The Cabinet was consulted only after the fact.

In earlier times, this Prime Minister would have played the polls while Rome burned. To him, timing is much more winning, not serving.

"But you can't be," she blurted.

"My son always calls you 'Old Lady Chevraux'."

How old is OLD?

Does it depend on how others see us? I was my 80-year-old son as young, while my student son was at 30 as old.

I suppose that's part of it - the way others see us. But more importantly, I think it depends on how we see ourselves. I know there are days when I feel at least 100. When I look in the mirror, I can see a great age reflected there. But there are moments, sometimes whole days, when I feel like 12 or 19 and my mirror shows that, too.

I have known people to feel, and therefore, look and act old at 60 and when they actually live until they're 90 or more, find they have spent nearly half he will adopt during the campaign.

Already, polling evidence has told the government that the state of the economy is the critical issue. And just as suddenly, the constitutional reforms that had to be passed by next spring have been hidden in the back of the Prime Minister's closet. In one fallow-up, the Prime Minister arrived back from Morocco and, without receding Parliament, the government party or even the Cabinet, he made a sudden announcement of intentions for a $2 billion cut in spending and a new program for government programs.

I am one who strongly believes that governments do spend too high a percentage of the Gross National Product. However, it is better to make an economic error by a democratic process than to single out private polls rather than elected advice can just as easily assume that any other decision can be made by his without recourse to Parliament. The latest economic proposals were made by political strategists seated in back rooms. The Cabinet was consulted only after the fact.

In earlier times, this Prime Minister would have played the polls while Rome burned. To him, timing is much more winning, not serving.

And then there was Mrs. C. She was 96 when she died as a young woman.

I went to visit her in the auxiliary hospital about a year before her death. At that time, she was not very ill and was allowed to spend most of her time out of bed. When I arrived she was neatly clothed in an attractive afternoon dress and was busy working on a piece of embroidery.

We visited happily for a few minutes, but were suddenly interrupted by another woman in her early 70s who wandered in to Mrs. C's room. The woman was confused and pathetic. She tried to climb out the window, claiming she was on her way home.

Mrs. C. took the poor woman by the arm, led her back to the corridor and found a nurse to look after her. Then Mrs. C. returned to her own room. She came in shaking her head in sorrow.

"That poor woman," she said. "She's just too old."

How is OLD? It's all pretty relative isn't it?

New teachers at Central High

Another school year has begun. Students and teachers have started classes and settled back into the groove after a very hectic first day. We would like to welcome our grade 10's and several new faces in grades 11 and 12.

There are two new teachers and a new secretary on staff. Mrs. Genevieve McLean replaces Bill McLean in Business Education. Bill has returned to university in Halifax. Mrs. Margaret MacPherson is our new Home Economics teacher, while Robin Uryto takes a one year leave of absence, and Mrs. Audrey Hobbs has replaced Giney Lay as school secretary. The Lay's moved to Fort McMurray at the end of the school term.

The staff list for this term is: Mrs. Sharon Chevrone - English, Mr. Ken Offord - Accounting and Work Experience, Mrs. Lorna Offord - French and German, Mr. Robin Patterson - Mathematics, Mr. Bob Rouds - Biology, Miss Denise Schweitzer - Mathematics, Mr. Keith Smith - Physical Education, Mr. Jack Sparrow - Industrial Education, and Mrs. Kathleen Young - Mathematics and Accounting.

Our caretaker is Mr. Lorne Cantin and library clerk is Mrs. Ann Bilyk.

Special Daysland unit for babies

Shown at right are Daysland General Hospital Women's Auxiliary President Mrs. Ellen Pederson and Treasurer Mrs. Emily Hill presenting a cheque of $1,855 to Hospital Administrator Will West for the purchase of a Free Standing Neo-Natal Intensive Care Unit for use in the neonatal unit. This small, active group of Daysland ladies works diligently on many fund-raising projects to purchase specialty equipment for patient comfort and to improve the overall capability of hospital services. See page 9 for more details.

Daysland and District News Items

The Women's Auxiliary to the Daysland General Hospital presented a free standing over-hood Neo-Natal Radiant Heater to the Daysland General Hospital.

On hand for the presentation were Mrs. Ellen Pederson, president, and Mrs. Emily Hill, treasurer, of the Women's Auxiliary. Also present were Hospital Administrator Mr. Will West and Director of Nursing Mrs. Alice Woods.

The Neo Natal Intensive Care Unit has been installed in the delivery room of the hospital, where it will be used to ensure newborns are received with virtually no drop in body temperature. The electronic temperature probe pad is accurate within plus or minus 5 degrees Fahrenheit. The fluorescent lighting of the unit also allows for the best of examination and early diagnosis of any newborn malady. Additional attachments, which will assist in the immediate treatment of jaundiced or Rh babies, are being considered.

Mrs. Alice Woods stated that all nursing staff have received a full orientation in the proper use of the controls, temperature probe and lights of the over-hood radiant heater. The hospital is experiencing a birth rate increase of 25 per cent over a comparable period of the previous year, and the Neo Natal unit will become increasingly useful.

The Suburban club met September 8 after two months' hiatus. There were 30 members present and five tables of what was played. Mrs. Margaret Brown was high with a score of 36 and Mrs. Harriet Court won low with a score of 18. The next game will be in two weeks, September 20 at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Anna Borge has returned from a six-week holiday. She attended the Royal Purple Convention in St. John, New Brunswick. She also took a tour up the east coast of that province. On her way home, she spent three weeks in Toronto with her son Vernon and family and her brother Malcolm Lissak.

and family. While there, she spent four days in Ottawa where she took several tours and a boat ride up the Ottawa River and Rideau Canal and saw the changing of the guards at the Parliament Buildings. She also spent a day in Peterborough and Hamilton. After returning to Alberta, she spent a week in Leduc with her daughter Irene Cusman and a week in Edmonton with another daughter, Allen Thomson, and the long weekend was spent at Alberta Beach on Lake St. Anne.

Mrs. Thomson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Thomson of Edmonton, was presented with an engraved plaque and had his name put on the Bob Crossland Memorial Trophy at a reunion of the Old Superiors, or Flyers hockey team world champions in 1967-68. Larry was chosen as top scorer, most gentlemanly player and least penalized player in the City of Edmonton last winter. Larry is a grandson of Mrs. Anna Borge.

Mrs. Dorothy McDevitt has gone to Brantford, Ontario to visit her daughter, Beverly and son.

Mrs. Francis Dietrich has gone to Vancouver to visit her son and family. The Daysland U.C.W. meeting was held September 7 in the church social room. President Margaret Schmidt opened the meeting and the devotion was read by Laura Graham of Dentley. The roll call was answered by 17 members and 83 visits to the sick and we had three visitors present.

Margaret Schmidt reported on all the work we had done during May, June, July and August and that all five circles had served three different items each.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Phyllis Gabruck and the treasurer's report given by Emily Hill and both approved. A thank you card was read from Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Cockburn and Ethel Graham reported sending only two get well cards, we were all too busy to get sick. They all sang happy birthday to three members having birthdays this week: Emily Hill, Phyllis Gabruck and Ethel Graham. For the program, Theresa Campbell showed slides of her and the girls' holiday.

A lovely lunch was served by hostesses Laura Graham and her helpers Erna McCarroll and Kay Reist.

On Wednesday evening, about 12 ladies came to help Emily Hill celebrate her birthday. The evening was spent in visiting and Carol Hill and Linda Tulloch served a lovely lunch. Then Friday afternoon, Orlean Miska, Linda Tulloch and Emily Hill drove out to help Phyllis Gabruck celebrate her birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hagen and family have at present the old's brother Ken and Grace Hagen, their daughter and her husband, Andy and Wendy Perout of Campbell River, B.C.

Michael Sweta was in Edmonton visiting friends, he returned by bus on Monday evening.

Some of the Galahad North farmers were visited by that had cloud on Sunday evening; extensive damage was done on many of the farms. Two planes tried their level best to seed the cloud to no avail.

The Charlie Matney's spent a few days at the Billy Matney farm in the Galahad district.

Shelley and Charlene Blumhagen left on Sunday for Edmonton where they will return to their studies. Shelley will be attending university, and Charlene will be attending NAIT.

Kevin Blumhagen is also at NAIT. Joy Jones will be attending Grant MacEwan College.

A very nice birthday and farewell supper was given for Charlene and the family by Wayne and Dena last Saturday night.

Sunday visitors at the Otto Blumhagen home were Mr. and Mrs. Alex Glover of Edmonton, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Winship, Mrs. Debbie Kerebert and Carly of Vancouver spent a few days at the Mr. Steve Saraga home helping with Betty and the baby were in the hospital.

Mrs. Kerebert also spent time at the Otto Blumhagen home.

Mrs. Eva Doss and Mrs. Muriel Wright were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gail Degeneration and baby of Forestburg, helping his great grandmother celebrate her birthday.

Mrs. Amy Campbell and her sister Madeline and her husband were afternoon callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Winter.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Roder spent the weekend at Pigeon Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Terence Granger, Jennifer, William and Mary of Penitence, B.C. have been visiting the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Oberg and with friends and relatives in the area.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Wise returned from a three-week holiday in B.C., where they visited their son, Mr. and Mrs. Max Vogel and daughter Donna in Vancouver, Mr. Robert Lamb and Mr. Charles Lamb of White Rock, Mrs. Ruth McDonald and her families, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McDonald and family, Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald and family, and Mrs. Dan O'Brien and family.

Ruth is Bill's sister. A wonderful trip with one day of sunshine.

My sincere thanks to Alta Willis for doing the news for me. We are looking for a young person to take over the news. Anyone interested?

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Weithuhn, who are the proud parents of a baby boy born August 31 at a weight of 8 lbs. 13 oz. His name will be Kay Earl. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Weithuhn and Mr. and Mrs. Collins McLennan.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Erickson spent a few days at Millerton, Saskatchewan visiting Constable and Mrs. Larry Erickson and baby, Cheryl. The big attraction of course was their first grandchild Cheryl.

Mr. and Mrs. Brian Koelich and Steven, and Mrs. Jean Bonar were recent visitors to Mead, Saskatchewan to visit their Aunt Mary, who is 96 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McMahon and Jim McMahon spent last weekend in Calgary attending a house-warming for Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Rossman (nee Jim McMahon).

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Miller of Strathmore were weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Brian Morgan.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kinser spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morgan and family.

and Mrs. Bill Morgan and family at Sherwood Park. Mrs. Anne Kinser, who visited with Dick and Helen, visited Mrs. Catherine James and family.

Miss Maureen Hart has left for the next two weeks to train in an Edmonton Co-op, learning the baking trade for the new Co-op here.

Congratulations to Mrs. Lis DaBrevo, who was the lucky winner of a nine cubic foot deep freezer on a draw through McLeod's Store. She also won a $50 credit on meat. At the price of meat, Lis, not too many steaks, but a nice thing to win.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ken Bruce (nee Lisa McGarvey), who are the proud parents of a baby boy born September 5 at St. Mary's Hospital in Canmore at 8 lb. 18 oz. His name will be Kenneth Brian. Proud grandparents of a first grandson are Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bruce of Sedgewick.

Mrs. George Stewart was recently in Edmonton, the occasion being George and Alice's 25th wedding anniversary. She also went out to Pigeon Lake for the long weekend for a family gathering at Doug and Doris's cottage before they left on a month's holiday to England, Scotland and Ireland.

Doug and Doris were meeting their daughter Lori at Gatwick Airport on her return home after a three-month tour of the British Isles and many other European countries.

Lloyd and Marg brought their mother home from the lake. Later, Margaret drove to Calgary with her grandson Greg and spent a pleasant holiday with Rodney, Pat and family.

Many points of interest were visited, one being the new Port Calgary built on the site where the Northwest Mounted Police built their barracks 103 years ago. It's where the Bow and Elbow Rivers join, a most beautiful location. Birthday cake and coffee was served celebrating the 103rd anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Nichol brought their Aunt Lily home, returning the next day.

Hardisty and District News Items

The following Hardisty news was not printed in last week's Community Press as it did not arrive until Thursday. Even though the news had been mailed "Rush" September 2, it was redirected to Hay Lakes before sent to our office. So much for the Post Office.

Visiting at the Cyril Dwyer home over the weekend were their daughters Florence and Don Byrne with daughter Michelle from Port Moody, B.C. and Marion and Bill Cooks from Burnaby, B.C.; Yvonne and John Senger, Jackie and Jacob of Unity, Saskatchewan; Marguerite and Hugo Meland, Valerie and Shelley of Camrose; also, son Ken and Irvin Dwyer, Jim Dwyer, Donna, Darlene and Ronnie, Donna and Darlene are going back to B.C. for school again.

Other visitors included Edna Duffield, Mrs. Gloria Frederick and two children of Camrose, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Anholt of A. Mink, L. S. S. and two children, and also, Vicki Cullum and baby.

Mrs. Benham's daughter Donna lives in Windsor, Gerald in New Westminster and Laurel Jr. has lived in Victoria for some years, but is making a move to Hawaii to try conditions there.

We all remember Mr. Benham working in the store and in the band, but that ages those of us who remember.

Ruth and Sam Moor spent the weekend near Saskatoon and bathed in the healing waters of Manitowish Lake. Sam started talking to the occupants of the hotel and found out that they were Nelson relatives. Albert Iverson, his two sons and son-in-law.

His brother Norris visited at his home at Hardisty and Uncle Orlaf Nelson this year when he attended her sister's 80th wedding anniversary in Edmonton, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Parsons, former Hardisty residents, Mrs. Benham, her sister Mrs. Bill Landale and Bill were in Hardisty for three days visiting with Jean Romboch and Alvin Moser.

Mr. and Mrs. Berny Masteween spent the Labor Day weekend at Big Knile Park with some 30 members of the family. The ball storm on Sunday evening hit the park, not too pleasant in campers and tents.

We express our sympathy to the Ross Hinkley family on the passing away of Pearl's sister, Mrs. Ruby Storti, and to Jack Butcher and family on the passing away of his wife Pauline.

Down to visit her mother Nellie Scott and Gerald, was Mrs. Lois Jack from Irma.

Now that the front framework is upon the Oldfield building, it gives that side of the street a very different appearance.

Last Sunday, the Fred Dwyers celebrated their 46th wedding anniversary with family and friends present. We all wish them many more anniversaries and will look forward to another one in four years' time. How time flies! When I first met Maryann she was teaching at Vels school.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Hall (Missie Anderson) of Calgary arrived to visit Jack Anderson, who has been hospitalized for some time.

Proud grandparents of a brand new granddaughter are Mrs. Lucy Syder and Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Bellow. The little girl, Suzanne Cecilia, weighed 7 lbs. 6 oz. and was born September 2.

Shirley Bechtold of Calgary visited her parents, the Bob Quists, over the weekend and took her son Wayne and sister Linda back with her.

Linda has been recuperating from an operation, but was feeling fine and fit and ready to go back to work.

Old Nelson came to the Farmers' Market with Vera Lien and family. He spent Sunday with Isabel Nelson.

Allen and Joann Nelson took him back to Sedgewick and later on, Allen and Joann visited with Dennis Bizer and family. Allen and Dennis went to school together in Sedgewick. Visiting with J.C. Cavanough over the long weekend was son Calvin, Doreen and daughter.

St. Mark's Women's Guild
St. Mark's Women's Guild met Thursday evening at the home of Barb Davidson. The hostess led the Devotional period. It was arranged to meet at the Parish Hall September 18 to complete the alphabet made at the Knitathon.

An ACW day has been planned to meet in Hardisty September 23, and preliminary plans were made for this to be held in the Drop-In Centre, and an evening meal planned.

The president, Mary Gutmann, reported on attending the Emergency Measures meeting, and offered to represent the Guild in the future with this matter.

The October meeting is to be in the Parish Hall October 12, with Mary Gutmann as hostess.

New drug for artificial breeding

A new drug is now available that could increase the use of artificial insemination in the Canadian beef cattle industry. The drug, called prostaglandin, can be used to synchronize the breeding cycle of cattle. It was registered by the federal government last year.

Prostaglandin, a complex of chemicals, is usually administered twice to cows, 11 days apart. The first dose suspends the cow's normal cycle, in effect putting her at day one of the estrus cycle. The second dose causes the cow's egg to drop into the fallopian tube where it can be fertilized.

The cows should then be inseminated 72 hours after the second dose.

This technique simplifies artificial insemination in beef cow herds. Without the drug, the farmer must spend a good deal of time watching the cows for signs of heat, then call on a A.I. technician when the time is right.

With prostaglandin, the cows can be bred as a group so the A.I. technician makes only one or two trips to the farm. Artificial insemination 72 hours after the second injection results in 40 to 80 per cent of cows becoming pregnant. A "clean-up" bull of a different breed catches the remainder of the cows.

Prostaglandin is not a threat to good management. If the feed is not good or the cow has problems with her cycle, the drug will not improve her breeding performance.

The drug will be of use, mostly to farmers who already have a high degree of management expertise.

Prostaglandin could result in increased artificial insemination in the beef business. This would improve the overall quality of beef herds on farms, as well as improve management. Under Agriculture Canada's Sire Loan Program, prostaglandin has been given to some cows in northern Manitoba to help farmers improve their herds.

Hardisty Ladies' Auxiliary

The Ladies' Auxiliary, Royal Canadian Legion, held the first meeting of the fall season Monday evening. Due to the holiday day, attendance was small. Reports were given on the summer activities.

A fine float had been entered in the parade in July, bringing many favorable comments. The train on the Hut had been completed.

The lawn set, which was drawn for in July, brought a very satisfactory return. It was won by a member, Florence Van Koughnet.

After much discussion, it was decided to have a bazaar table at the Farmers' Market, details to be worked out at the October meeting. If possible, this would be in conjunction with Poppy Day.

The kitchen committee reported a possible buy on a refrigerator; they have been shopping around during the summer.

Following closing ceremonies, lunch was served by Mrs. Van Koughnet and Mitchell. It is hoped that all members will be present at the next meeting.

STRAW & SNOWBALLS
Have you collected your winter cattle feed yet? If you have or haven't, just remember you can't expect a cow or heifer to rest her weight up and build a calf on just straw and snowballs.

The winter months make up the majority of the gestation period, and because of adverse weather conditions, it is during this time that feed for maintenance requirements are the highest. A further point to consider in establishing a feeding level is that the cow in good condition going into the breeding season will have higher conception rates, require fewer services and suckle better calves with higher gains.

Cows have basic requirements which change throughout the season. Manage the hay crop to maintain quality and feed according to the animal's requirements.

Usually, there is both good and poor quality roughage available on farms. Where both are available, the good quality should be saved until toward spring, so that it can be used during and after calving. Cows will utilize poor quality roughage almost as well as good quality roughage in cold weather. Straw is a good energy source for wintering dry pregnant cows but should be supplemented by grain or be fed with a good quality hay. Some alternative to feedstuffs may be utilizing chaff, screenings or frozen grain crops (which may be in a banded this year).

The requirements for a mature dry pregnant beef cow, 1,000 lbs. are 15 lb. dry matter to supply 1/2 lb. protein and 7.5 lb. of total digestible nutrients per day. For heifers, or after calving, these figures are just about doubled.

The selection and combination of feedstuffs are numerous. A $2 feed sample will verify that the nutrients are in adequate supply and feeding formulations will also be made upon request. With frozen crops, a nutrient test to determine the safety of your feed is recommended.

Contact your local District Agriculturalist for information on feed testing and assistance with planning a winter feeding program.

THEY MADE IT!

As the sun was rising on Friday, August 25, nine cyclists started off on a 45-mile bike trip to Big Knife Provincial Park. Involved in this Project Summer event were: Ronna Beaudin, 16, Kevin Anderson, 16, Bill Keith, 15, Glenn Storkbak, 10, Stephen Booth, 15, Bob Conrad, 15, Lawrence Ravcliffe, 11. Accompanying them was Kathy Keith of Project Summer!

The group, after the eight-hour march, invaded the Park for a weekend of tenting. Activities included eating, fishing, climbing, running, laughing and would you believe, bike riding?

The weather was wonderful, much to the delight of the cyclists, but the best part was, "Did you know we made it all the way?"

Honour pioneer woman

Bethania Lutheran is one of the older congregations in our community, established in 1907 under the leadership of the late Dr. Egedahl. Many of the pioneer members are now laid to rest, their memories being cherished by friends and loved ones who remain.

We do not often have the opportunity to recognize our pioneer members as we would wish to, but last Sunday morning, we were privileged to honor Mrs. Lillie Danielson on the occasion of her 80th birthday. Lillie now makes her home in the Flagstaff Lodge, but is a faithful attendant both in the congregation and at Lutheran Church Women's meetings and activities.

A lovely floral tribute in her honour was placed on the altar by the Church Women, and special musical selections were brought by Christine Myrhaug and Molly Magee. Pastor Nibergall brought greetings to her, also to Gilbert Swanson, who had a birthday this week.

Following the Worship Service, a very enjoyable time of fellowship was held in the Church parlor. Most of the congregation was in attendance including Mrs. Danielson's children and grandchildren. Daughters-in-law, Mavis and Esther Danielson were in charge of refreshments, and daughter Lavina Olsen served a beautifully-decorated birthday cake. Master of Ceremonies for the program was her son, Elder, at which time musical selections were brought by Rolf and Inga, Ross Danielson and her nieces Helen and Darlene (nee Christensen). Lillie was delighted by the greeting in song from the Sunday School children, who had just assembled for their first classes; she was also the recipient of many lovely greeting cards and gifts. The delightful occasion was brought to a close by words of love and appreciation from President Leif Osbeck, to which Lillie graciously responded. We hope you will be with us on many more glad occasions such as this, and may God continue to bless you and keep you, Lillie!

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Lane took Mr. Joe Hanagan of the Flagstaff Lodge to Viking, where they visited with Mr. Holly Kendrick who is a patient in the Nursing Home there. They were happy to find Holly looking well. Mr. Flanagan had supper with the Lanes before returning to the Lodge. Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Lane and Mrs. Mary Cameron visited Mrs. Bertha Brunner in the Daystar Hospital last Sunday. They were sorry to find that Bertha was not feeling at all well. We all hope you'll soon feel better Bertha. From there, they went to Hardisty and called on Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kost and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Fisher.

Mr. Lawrence Hendrickson and son Michael and Lee from Kailispell, Montana visited at the Charlie Lane home and had supper with them last Saturday.

Mrs. Edith Johnson of Galt, and Mr. and Mrs. John Patton of Edmonton spent a while with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Lane on Saturday evening. Get well wishes to Mrs. Hazel MacKinnon, Mrs. Tille Knutson and Mr. Nelson Bergum, who are all patients in the Killam Hospital, and also to any of our local folk who are ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Platt of Swan Hills spent the weekend here with his parents, the Lawrence Platts.

A good number of Senior Citizens decided it was ideal weather for what playing as there were eight tables of card play on at the Wednesday afternoon Card Party at the Legion Hut. Prizes for the highest scores were won by Mrs. Verna Schulz and Mr. Rod MacKinnon while Mrs. Essie Drager and Mr. Steve Potage received consolation awards.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ken Bruce on the birth of an 8 lb. 15 oz. son, Kenneth Brian, who arrived at the Camrose Hospital Tuesday, September 5.

Mr. and Mrs. A.B. Falls accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cohen of Coramotion to Edmonton on Sunday where they attended a birthday party in honour of Mr. Chester Falls' 70th birthday. Many happy returns, Eleanor.

While golfing with Mr. Ern Koehl last Sunday, Mr. John Stubbs made a hole-in-one on Number 2. That's the first since the grass greens were installed. Congratulations, Mr. Stubbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walsh visited the Grant Blenner family of Heister on Wednesday. Mr. Fred Sparrow is spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Simons. Also staying at the Simons' while her father is there is Mrs. Ida Nordstrom of Prince George.

A shower for bride-elect Cathy Tweedy was held in the United Church Hall Friday, September 8. The guests enjoyed a programme by Mrs. Betty Galletly, after which Cathy opened her gifts assisted by her sister, Lillian, her mother, Mrs. Eleanor Tweedy, and her aunt, Mrs. Jenny Mae Tweedy. Cathy graciously thanked everyone, then all enjoyed a beautiful lunch and a time for visiting.

Cathy and Lillian Tweedy of Edmonton spent the weekend at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Tweedy.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Bergum and children of Calgary visited with the Irving and Nelson Bergum families.

On answering a knock at the door in the wee small hours of August 21, Mr. Bert Whitten was very surprised to find his daughter Laura and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Barker and children, on the doorstep. They had just arrived back in Canada from Athens, Greece, where they had been living while Wayde was working over there. As Wayne said, they just took a wrong turn when they left Athens and ended up in Sedgewick. The next weekend, the Whittens held a family reunion with all of the children and grandchildren. Laura and children will be staying with her parents for awhile while Wayne is working.

Very happy to see Mr. and Mrs. Jim Davidson back in their home after a summer spent in Edmonton while Jim was back and forth in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Rick and have returned to Bristol, England after spending three weeks visiting her aunt, Mrs. Helga Willumsen and other relatives. While there, they enjoyed a week in Ramf and Jasper. Mr. and Mrs. Duane Freeman and children spent the Labour Day weekend at the home of his parents, the E. Freeman's.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bruski and children left on Sunday to return to their home in Seattle after visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Day and Mrs. May Nordstrom.

Mr. Robin Patterson is home after spending the summer in New Zealand.

Nice to see the school buses going back and forth again and the teachers and students back at school, although I guess it does mean that winter is sneaking up on us.

Mr. Florence Chappell and her mother, Mrs. Crowder, are back in Sedgewick after a trip to the Yukon and Alaska.

Sedgewick woman passes

Funeral services for Nellie E. Johnson, who passed away September 1, 1978 to Flagstaff Auxiliary Hospital in Killam, were held in Bethana Lutheran Church, Sedgewick with Rev. Ray Nierbergall as the officiating cleric.

Mrs. Inga Jacobson was the organist, and Mrs. Christine Myrhaug was the soloist.

Pallbearers were: George Christensen, Tormod Christensen, Peter Myrhaug, Albert Nordstrom, Carl Mayne Jr. and Jens Petersen. Interment was in the Sedgewick cemetery.

Mrs. Johnson was born July 28, 1882 in Montpelier, Iowa, the second child of Peter and Emma Eis. She moved with her family to Lake Preston, South Dakota in 1901 and from there to the Sedgewick area, where she resided throughout the remainder of her life.

She was married March 2, 1906 to Gustav Johnson and to them was born only son, Carl Bernard.

She was predeceased by a sister, Ida, in 1936; by her son Peter in 1963; by her husband in 1968; and by a brother, Albert, in 1971.

She is survived by a sister, Rose Palm, and by one brother, Elmer Eis, as well as by several nieces and nephews.

She was especially thankful to the nurses at the Killam Hospital and Auxiliary for their kind and sympathetic care of her sister during her long illness.

Her thanks are extended also to Rev. Nierbergall, to organist Inga Jacobson, and to Christine Myrhaug for her beautiful solo. Her thanks also to the pallbearers. Nellie's Family

The new store, which will be open for business in early October, is situated on a quarter block behind the Agri-Plex.

Store Manager Ed Heister and his staff have been working since a late pace to get the store ready.

Premier offers funds to B.C.

Premier Peter Lougheed, spotting another out of province use for Heritage Fund money that he believes could benefit Albertans, is offering to help improve the port at Vancouver, B.C.

The Alberta economy relies on the harbor and "we have a very significant role to play" in its future, Lougheed said in Grande Prairie as his cabinet toured the Peace River region.

His ambition to upgrade the seaport began with personal observation of ships waiting for dock space through borrowed binoculars in Vancouver's Stanley Park during a visit last May.

Lougheed said he counted 25 grain ships in the ways, and "Albertans are paying that mortgage bill," the penalty charged for delays in loading.

A move forward study will take place through Alberta participation on an advisory board to the Vancouver port's managing authority, an opportunity available under recent federal legislation.

Outlining specific proposals now would be "preliminary," but a "very significant portion" of the harbor traffic begins in Alberta and the province has a "major stake" in its efficiency, Lougheed said.

Facilities to speed shipping of Alberta coal, sulphur, grain, oil, falls and other farm products would be good investments, he said.

Lougheed and Provincial Treasurer Mrs. Leitch have voiced reluctance to use the fund unless Alberta can cause an already budgeted economy and heavily used public services would be strained.

But the offer to use fund assets, expected to reach $1.7 billion next spring, in Vancouver is the second attempt this year to parlay resource revenue surpluses into expansion of a B.C. port.

Lougheed last winter offered money for new grain terminal facilities at the northern port of Prince Rupert. Grain companies were invited to form a consortium to run the project and work to get it off the ground is continuing.

Meanwhile, the Peace River cabinet tour completed a four year cycle of trips aimed at ensuring ministers drop in on all sections of Alberta outside the provincial capital between elections.

A repeat of a pre-election blitz across the Edmonton area by the cabinet in 1974, shortly before the March 1975 campaign, may be held later this year. A general election is expected next spring.

Pressed by Peace River area communities, the cabinet is reviewing changes in provincial grants for rural education and requests for help with energy conservation and high utility costs in the countryside.

Community remembers hospital's 50-year history

The year 1927 was a joyous one for the Village of Galt and the surrounding area, for it was then that the Sisters of St. Joseph of London came into the area and began caring for the sick. For the Sisters, it was a bold move of compassion for the suffering. They started operations in a former liveryhouse consisting of six small rooms, lacking any such thing as indoor plumbing and other modern facilities. Water had to be "pumped" from a nearby school yard well. Yet, all these deficiencies were bravely overcome by Sister Patricia, administrator, assisted by Sisters Jane Francis, Virginia and Margaret Mary, with Drs. Maynes of Galt and Cook of Alliance in attendance.

The following year, the first and original hospital building was completed and situated on four acres of land donated to the Sisters by Mr. Hugh Taylor or Galtahed. The new red brick building was indeed an impressive looking structure in those early days, being designed and constructed by Mr. Charles Gordon, with the expert and knowledgeable assistance of the Sisters by Mr. Hugh Taylor or Galtahed. The official opening of this imposing structure took place September 3, 1928 with Archbishop O'Leary officiating. The first Advisory Board consisted of Rev. Vandau, chairman, Hugh Taylor, secretary, George Holben, M.K. Kueffer and Fred Sprenner.

Within the following years, many Sisters were called to work in the hospital, among them: Sisters Loyola, Lourdes, St. Gregory, Monica, St. John, Elizabeth, Angeline, St. Charles, De Sales, St. Bride, and others from Ontario, including Sister Roseanne. All the Sisters experienced many wondrous days filled with weird and God filled experiences. Times were difficult then and worsened during the depression, but a spirit of faith and confidence prevailed.

Down through the years, doctors came and later left, such as Doctor Valentine, who was replaced by Doctor Dick in 1933, and Doctor Palmer replacing Doctor Cook. However, Dr. Dick remained until 1947 and was replaced by Dr. Pearson, who remained until 1963. In 1947, Sisters were transferred to Killam and Sister Loyola was appointed Administrator at Galtahed with Sister Genevieve arriving from Rimby.

Hurrah for television

If anyone views the Emmy Awards (the annual television awards) on Sunday night, they would have seen awards and tributes given for outstanding achievements to people who have been chosen as the best in their craft. But it was the theme of this year's Emmy Awards that was even more noteworthy. The television medium was being portrayed as a family that has grown and evolved tremendously in the last 30 years of its existence.

Television has played an increasingly important part in our lives. As we've grown more sophisticated, so has television. Or do we owe that sophistication in part to television.

It has brought the world to us on a platter. Today, we can witness nearly any major event in the world. A most timely example was the special news report on the outcome of the Camp David meetings between Israel's Prime Minister Begin and Egypt's President Sadat.

that was broadcast during the Emmys. A happening that we should feel very lucky to have viewed. We saw history in the making. It was the kind of event that we only used to be able to read about in books, like the signing of the B.N.A. Act by the Fathers of Confederation.

While print can give us the news in great detail, television offers us the immediacy and the intimacy of the happening.

More than that, television has also brought topics to the screen that would have been considered untouchable if not during 20 years ago, showing a new maturity in society.

This medium entertains us, informs, teaches and even ridicules, all by exposing us to aspects of good and bad in our world.

Television is a modern day advancement that can't be disputed as being unprogressive or unbeneficial; an advancement that we shouldn't take for granted.

The Third Column

by Truncate

WE LIKE THE OPENING sentence in a recent Rumbling Writer column: "Most part of the things you worry about never happen." A truer saying has never been invented. Now according to my dictionary, worry means to be caused unduly concerned. Pret is a word with a bit of a different connotation, for it means to become (fretful) irritable, easily vexed and peevish. And that's worse. So we are going to write a bit about the word Pret. Why Pret, when it's about to face life without fretting?

WELL LET'S FACE IT. Life is a tough problem for most of us. In fact, for some it's absolutely terrifying. Yet, why fret, that is get all hot and bothered about something you can do nothing about? Stanley Noble says that human nature is capable of some pretty big achievements, but not small ones. I believe he's correct, even though I don't sound right. Well then, let's take a look at it.

WE CAN FACE the dreadfulness of eternal things, but we can't face the trivialities of trifling little things. For instance, we can brace ourselves to endure cancer, but we simply cannot put up with a simple headache. The worldwide suicide statistics prove that there are millions who just cannot face life; they're afraid of it even though they won't admit it even to themselves. They live in a state of fear, as though bad news must always be on the way, and tomorrow full of troubles that are just lying in wait to pounce on them.

YOU KNOW AND I KNOW, for instance, that we are all going to die someday, but why fret about it, why prepare for the worst. Why torment with imaginary ills. Doctors know and we know that one cause of stress is fretting (worry). We run around fretting with people who think of us, what they are saying about us behind our backs. How many people are there around with whom you Del Robertson of Calgary were down for Thomas and Mildred's anniversary Saturday, and then look Mrs. Clouston back to Calgary Sunday for a week. Mrs. Emma Burgoyne went to Westlawn with her brother Bill Sunday.

Get well wishes to Mrs. Fink in the Oakdale Hospital and Mrs. Burgoyne in the Killam Hospital.

TEACHERS' SALARY DISPUTE

The dispute between the Alberta Teachers' Association and the Battle River School Authorities Association over salaries and working conditions for teachers drag on.

The teachers are reported to have rejected an offer of a seven per cent salary increase and when negotiations resume soon it will be with the help of a provincially appointed conciliator.

The public has as usual been kept pretty well in the dark. It can't intelligently judge the merits of the teachers' case until it has before it the complete package of their demands along with packages accepted by teachers of other areas of the province.

As this newspaper has stated before, the people of this community want to pay their teachers salaries as good as the average teachers' salaries in rural communities of Alberta and they also want the teachers to enjoy working conditions as good as those of other teachers. They would feel that they were being taken if averages were exceeded by much.

Negotiation at the provincial level is not acceptable to the ATA because each little concession won from local boards or groups of boards puts intolerable pressure on other bargaining units to duplicate or better it. This is a useful tactical weapon that would not be given up without an outcry.

But if we think that our Canadian government is making that decision, we're kidding ourselves. The decision about what we get was made for us by the federal government. We wanted just one model of fighter, to serve dual requirements in Europe and in North America. The plane will be the F-16 Eagle, made by McDonnell Douglas costing somewhere between $18 and $25 million each.

The US has chosen the F-15 for its own forces. But even the Pentagon can't afford it now: its cost to them has soared from $12.8 million in 1976, to $17.8 in 1978. And it's still going up. The only way the US can bring its own defence expenses within limits is to sell more F-15's to other countries, to make a profit, and to reduce their per plane production and development costs.

But is that what Canada needs? Should we be buying fighters at all? Rev. Charles Cota, a minister who runs a world-wide volunteer program called Operation Beaver, has been crying for action. For the cost of each F-15 Eagle, he points out, we could build up to 1,000 houses. Their construction would create two to three times as many jobs as would result from defence contracts; and they would provide work for the unskilled and semi-unskilled, who suffer most from unemployment, rather than for the highly skilled, who are already in short supply. Providing adequate housing at reasonable prices has been demonstrated to produce better health and better educational standards among children, especially among low income and native peoples. — Lacombe Globe

Ten Commandments of Human Relations

1. Speak to people. There is nothing as nice as a cheerful word of greeting.
2. Smile at people. It takes 72 muscles to frown, only 14 to smile.
3. Call people by name. The sweetest music to anyone's ears is the sound of his own name.
4. Be friendly and helpful. If you would have friends, be friendly.
5. Be cordial. Speak and act as if everything you do was a genuine pleasure.
6. Be genuinely interested in people. You can like everybody if you try.
7. Be generous with praise... cautious with criticism.
8. Be considerate with the feelings of others. It will be appreciated.
9. Be thoughtful of the opinions of others. There are three sides to controversy: yours - the other fellow's - and the right one.
10. Be alert to give service. What counts most in life is what we do for others.

WARNING AGAINST HASTE
 The disadvantages of haste are not limited to our stream-lined age. He who makes haste with his feet misses his way, whether he is running breathlessly over a field in the first century or sleeping on the accelerator instead of the brakes in the twentieth century.

In the performance of a physical task, haste often destroys good co-ordination. A golfer knows that if he is being pushed, he tends to pre-empt. The more he tries to hurry, the more he tends to miss his shot. Prior Laurence says the difficulty that attends great haste: 'Romeo O let us hew! I stand on sudden haste. Prior Laurence: Wisely and slow; they stumble that run fast.'

A life driven by haste misses much along the way. Important things are passed by unnoticed. The person who drives a car at high speed along a country road has little time or leisure to observe the scenes he is passing by.

Haste often results in ill-considered action. When people act too quickly, they do not take time to weigh all the consequences. But, 'every one who is hasty comes only to want.' The person who refuses to be stampeded by haste may save himself many regrets. When the daughter of Herod danced for her father and his court, Herod made a quick, rash promise. He offered to give her anything she wished. His offer was accepted as quickly as it was given. Everything went well with lightning swiftness. His daughter rushed to the mother for advice. Her mother had a quick answer ready. She asked for the head of John the Baptist. The record goes on to say: 'She came immediately with haste to the king and asked, saying, I want you to give me at once the head of John the Baptist on a platter.' With fervent haste this deed was done. Next of the parties involved took any time to weigh all the consequences of the action.

There is a kind of haste that mistakes quality for quantity. Technological developments have multiplied the number of things a modern man may do, the number of places he may visit, the number of books and magazines he may read, the number of plays or motion pictures he may see. Under these pressures, life can easily be measured by the number of things a person does. The difficulty is that a modern man is irritated and develops a drive. He must hurry to get one thing done so he can start the next thing. Life is too short to do everything we would like to do. None of us can read all the books we would like to read. He cannot attend all the functions that invite his participation. The task of the modern man is to remind himself that life does not consist of quantity but quality. Speaking about the lives of the saints, Emily Henson writes: 'When we read the lives of the saints, we are struck by a certain large leisure which went hand in hand with a remarkable effectiveness. They were never hurried; they did comparatively few things, and these not necessarily striking or important, and they troubled very little about their influence.'

Enthusiasts for social change may need to learn to forego haste. They would like changes to happen quickly, but they must gain the patience of the man who can endure to lose beat because he is confident the war will eventually be won.

Crop record broken

According to the latest information received by Alberta Agriculture, Alberta farmers seeded more than 15.4 million acres (6.2 million hectares) of the six major crops in 1978. This represents a seven per cent increase over 1977 totals, which means Alberta farmers seeded more acres to these crops than ever before in provincial history.

As well, recent estimates received from Statistics Canada reveal Canadian farmers seeded an all-time high number of acres in the principal grain and oilseed crops in 1978. Current estimates for the seeded area of wheat, oats, barley, rye, flax and rapeseed exceed 51 million acres (20.6 million hectares). If corn and soybeans are included, the area seeded approached 55 million acres (22.2 million hectares).

Previously, barley at 5.3 million acres (2.15 million hectares) remains the largest crop. Wheat with 5.1 million acres (2.1 million hectares) follows second, with rapeseed and oats third and fourth respectively.

Nationally, wheat is first, at 38.1 million acres (15.6 million hectares) followed by rapeseed at half the acreage seeded to the six major crops. Barley is second at 10.8 million acres (4.4 million hectares), a 10 per cent reduction from 1977.

Rapeseed has become Canada's third largest crop at 6.9 million acres (2.8 million hectares), a dramatic increase of nearly 400 per cent from 1.8 million acres (0.7 million hectares) seeded in 1976. Oats' acreage remains to decline. At one time, oats was Canada's second largest crop, but in 1978 it remains fourth.

Across the province, wheat and rapeseed have increased their share of Alberta's land base, mainly at the expense of feedgrain and summerfallow. The 6.3 million acres (2.55 million hectares) left as summerfallow this year is the least since 1960.

Oats and barley acreages have dropped from 1977 reflecting lower market prices and less favorable returns in relation to wheat and rapeseed, as well as large farm supplies or carryover from last year.

Rapeseed acreage at 2.9 million acres (1.17 million hectares) is nearly double the 1.55 million acres (0.63 million hectares) planted last year and is almost four times greater than the acreage seeded in 1976.

Nationally, in conjunction with the increase in land seeded to crops, the 25.3 million acres (10.2 million hectares) is the lowest since 1966. This is due, at least in part, to improved herbicides and this better weed control. Increased fertilizer usage of machinery and manpower resources, capital improvements, irrigation, drainage, improved crop varieties, etc., are also reasons for the big drop in summerfallow.

Loughhead couple attend wedding in Dallas

Mr. and Mrs. George Marlow went to Tyler, Texas to attend the wedding of their granddaughter, Shelley Solomon, on August 26. They drove to Red Deer, then went with Ron and Mavis Johnson to Calgary where they boarded the plane for Dallas, Texas.

There they were met by Shelley and her future husband Charles Moore, who drove them to Tyler, which is about 100 miles east of Dallas. They stayed in Tyler several days then stopped in Denver on the way home for three days. While there, they toured through the Rocky Mountain National Park. There were many things of interest to be seen, among them, passing for gold along the creek.

Thursday evening, Mrs. M. McClements Sr. hosted a dinner party for her family and friends. Those enjoying the happy occasion were James and Sadie, Reg and Adelaide, Les and Jo, Wes and Olive Barker and Mr. and Mrs. T. Evans of Monticello, Washington. They and Beth Evans are guests of James and Sadie, and are busy helping with the harvest.

Mr. Ole Dahl of Campbell River, B.C. arrived on Friday to spend a few weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Strubhus. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Schmidt and family were visiting Louie's parents at Vauxhall on the long weekend.

Derek Probst has returned to his home in Edmonton after spending holidays with Grandpa and Grandma Probst, Janet Doug and Kreshka. Vlado was home for the weekend and Derek went back with her.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Alpaugh and Gerald of Valleyview, Mr. and Mrs. P. Belter and Janice of Olds and Mr. and Mrs. M. Reed of Camrose were visitors at the L. H. Looney and Elmer Looney homes during the long weekend.

Mrs. H. Looney, Greg, Denise, Mrs. Bertha Johnson, and Mrs. Marian McBeth drove to Calgary to visit sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. Clark and family.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Cantin of Hinton were Tuesday visitors at Mrs. Bertha Johnson's. Mr. and Mrs. S. Bowen of Fernito visited Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Looney over the long weekend.

Get well wishes to Miss Molly Fernyhough in the Dayland Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. J. James and family of Kelowna, B.C. spent the long weekend visiting parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Black.

Mrs. Winnie Walmsley of Edmonton visited Loughhead, Mr. Martin Regenstein and relatives in Killam.

Mrs. Sheila Roberts and daughters have moved to Calgary where they will be staying with Mrs. Carson, Sheila's grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Moray and boys of Sunnybrook were weekend guests at the home of Jack and Shirley Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Seghoer of McCleod, Alberta visited Mr. and Mrs. J. McClements.

Jake and James are airforce friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Richardson and daughters of Vancouver visited her parents, the John Martins and family.

Mrs. Ella Clouston and Mr. and Mrs. L. Clouston spent Labour Day weekend in Edmonton visiting the Clouston family.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wisch and Connie, and Elmer Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Clouston left for Lethbridge where Raymond is employed with W.D. Ditching on an irrigation project.

Last Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. T. Clouston visited Mr. and Mrs. B. Kilgarn and their family from Edmonton to celebrate their 37th wedding anniversary.

Congratulations folks. Paula and Troy Coulombe of Viking are spending a few days with Grandma and Grandpa Johnson (Alice and Francis).

Terry and Ernest Odegar are pleased to announce the arrival of a lovely little daughter named Jayne Marian and weighing 6 lbs. 5 oz. Congratulations.

Lutheran women discuss family worship

Bethania Lutheran Church Women met last Tuesday evening, September 12, in the church parlour. President Iaga Jacobson welcomed 14 members and two visitors. The Devotional was led by

Thordis Taylor. Helen Sather of Dayland led a thought provoking Bible Study on "The Family and Worship." We don't worship God in order to get rich, but to get rich in what He has done and continues to do for us. Nor do we, as a family, worship Him in order to become a more secure family; but the family that prays together stays together," and altogether we witness His truth. Every family's life is punctuated by significant events; some joyous, some tragic, but we should remember that God is in the thick of these moments and it should be made evident. Where the church is clearly involved, there are established ways of having God there with His blessings. During the study and discussion, several appropriate hymns were sung by the group.

Plans were made for the October 8 worship service, when our guest will be Mrs. Evelyn Marshall, president of the Canadian Lutheran Church Women. She is a stimulating speaker, and will have much to share with us concerning her recent visit to Tanzania as well as in interesting pictures to show.

Some discussion took place regarding the Sinners' Feast to be held Monday, November 6. This will be announced at a later date.

Meeting was brought to a close with prayer and the singing of the Table Grace, after which a delicious lunch was served by Hostesses Myrtle Arntzen and Minnie Djos.

The next meeting of the LCW will be held October 10 at 7:30 p.m. Beverly Niebergall will lead in Bible Study, "Not Only on Sunday." All ladies are cordially invited to join us.

Mrs. Leona Tuff and children of Edmonton spent a few days with her mother Mrs. Edith Johnson while Mr. Tuff was away on business in Manitoba. On August 27, Mrs. Johnson accompanied Leona and children home to Edmonton and spent a few days with them.

Rev. Dave Rogers of Castor was a supper guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Wise.

Saturday, September 2, the members of the Johnston family attended the wedding of Wanda Johnston to Roy Clay. Wanda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Johnston of Alhambra.

Mr. W. Wise was a Castor business visitor on Tuesday.

Sunday, September 3, all the Johnston families met at Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Whitehouse in Rocky Mountain House to celebrate the 10th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tuff. The actual wedding date was September 14, but as the families were together, they decided to celebrate it then.

Mr. and Mrs. John Patten brought Mrs. Johnston home after visiting friends in Sedgewick and Hardisty September 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Doan were supper guests at the home of his mother, Mrs. Eva Doan. They later went to Taber, leaving Tracy to spend the week-end with her grandparents.

The Senior Citizen Friend ship Club met in the Hall Thursday evening to have a pot luck supper at 6:30 p.m. The meeting opened with the Serenity Prayer. Guests were welcomed. Minutes were read and approved. Treasurer's report followed.

Plans were also made for winter activities. The meeting adjourned and the men settled down to cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wahnschaffe of St. Cloud, Minnesota are enjoying visiting relatives and friends in the Galahad area.

Ralph and Vicki passed through Galahad on their way to Alaska in June. Ralph was once a pupil of the Galahad School when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Knudsen owned the Meat Market here.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Fardien of Vermilion were visitors at the George Vincent home Wednesday, September 6. They returned home on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Garry Satter and sons of Brownfield were supper guests at the Vincent's while the Fardies were there. The Missionary Church W.M.S. met in the lower auditorium Wednesday afternoon, September 18. Sixteen ladies were present. A quilt was partially quilted in the work period. Lunch was served by Kay Pascoe, Verna Ward and Alta Wilks.

The business meeting followed. Ethel Black was in charge of devotion. Carrie Bownes had the missionary feature. Worship service closes with the hymn "Only Believe", with Mrs. Clara DeWitt at the piano. Ethel Black had the closing prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bell (nee Bernard) gave birth to a baby boy August 30. The baby weighs 7 lbs 8 oz. His name is Brent William Bell. Very proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Claverne Bernard.

GREEN ACRES

by Glen Warner and Dave Platt

In commenting on the current harvest situation, the only optimistic viewpoint I've heard is, "At least the ducks will be fat!"

How often has the situation occurred where you've needed that extra day to finish before the weather changed and prolonged your harvest? Here are some things you can do about it.

Grain drying has become more common across the country in recent years and for good reasons. Earlier harvesting in the season, or after rains, or crops that are around 20 per cent moisture is possible with out reducing quality, grade or germination. By drying, you create a longer harvest season, and can harvest sooner after rains. When tough or damp grain is harvested and stored long-term storage results in grain spoilage. Single loads of damp grain can result in entire bins being downgraded due to heating, fungus, or pests.

There are three basic types of dryers on the market: the in-bin batch dryer, portable batch dryer and the continuous flow dryer. Within these basic types, there are several variations based on grain volumes, movements, and heat sources, and costs range from 12 to 28 cents/bushel depending on type and volume.

A dryer should be selected on the basis of its location, volume required, portability if necessary, fuel source, and types of grains to be dried. A publication is available from our office which can help in selecting the right dryer for your needs.

A point to consider when purchasing a dryer is that such a purchase be made from a licensed dealer in Alberta. Often a cheap model, either new or used, that was imported from the U.S. may not be the best buy when service or replacement parts are needed. A purchase is best made through our local licensed dealers who can help you determine the dryer you need, as well as help determine the need for any local or provincial book-up permits.

Another way to handle tough grain would be to mix it with overdry grain. The proportions of grain are determined as follows. Moisture points below the desired per cent determine parts of wet grain to mix and moisture points above desired per cent determine parts dry grain to mix. For example, to mix a 14.5 per cent sample with a 17.5 per cent sample to get a 15.5 per cent mixture, you add (17.5 - 14.5) = 3 parts dry grain to (15.5 - 14.5) = 1 part wet grain.

A method for preserving feed grain under 22 per cent moisture is acid preservation. The price is comparable to drying, and only requires that the bin be lined with plastic to prevent corrosion.

Ensiling is recommended for grain above 22 per cent moisture. Grain should be treated exactly like silage, and for best results, hammered or rolled before packing, and covered after rain. For further information on damp grain drying, handling or feeding, contact the D.A. office at Sedgewick.

Lutheran women discuss family worship

Bethania Lutheran Church Women met last Tuesday evening, September 12, in the church parlour. President Inga Jacobson welcomed 14 members and two visitors. The Devotional was led by

Thordis Taylor. Helen Sather of Dayland led a thought-provoking Bible Study on "The Family and Worship." We don't worship Him in order to get rich, but because of what He has done and continues to do for us. Nor do we, as a family, worship Him in order to become a more secure family; but "the family that prays together stays together" is not altogether without its truth. Every family's life is punctuated by significant events; some joyous, some tragic, but we should remember that God is in the thick of these moments and it should be made evident. Where the church is clearly involved, there are established ways of having God there with His blessings. During the study and discussion, several appropriate hymns were sung by the group.

Plans were made for the October 8 worship service, when our guest will be Mrs. Evelyn Marzoff, president of the Canadian Lutheran Church Women. She is a stimulating speaker, and will have much to share with us concerning her recent visit to Tanzania as well as in interesting pictures to show.

Some discussion took place regarding the Sinners' Banquet to be held Monday, November 6. This will be announced at a later date.

Meeting was brought to a close with prayer and the singing of the Table Grace, after which a delicious lunch was served by Hostesses Myrtle Arntzen and Minnie Djo.

The next meeting of the LCW will be held October 10 at 7:30 p.m. Beverley Niebergall will lead in Bible Study. "Not Only on Sunday." All ladies are cordially invited to join us.

Mrs. Leona Tull and children of Edmonton spent a few days with her mother Mrs. Joe Johnson while Mr. Tull was away on business in Manitoba. On August 27, Mrs. Johnson accompanied Leona and children home to Edmonton and spent a few days with them.

Rev. Dave Rogers of Castor was a supper guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Wiese.

Saturday, September 2, the members of the Johnston family attended the wedding of Wanda Johnston to Roy Clay. Wanda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Johnston of Alameda.

Mr. W. Wiese was a Castor business visitor on Tuesday.

Sunday, September 3, all the Johnston families met at the home of Mrs. Virginia Johnson in Rocky Mountain House to celebrate the 10th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tull. The actual wedding date was September 14, but as the families were together, they decided to celebrate it then.

Mr. and Mrs. John Patten brought Mrs. Johnston home after visiting friends in Sedgewick and Hardisty September 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Howey Doan were supper guests at the home of his mother, Mrs. Eva Doan. They later went to Taylor, leaving Tracy to spend the week-end with her grandparents.

The Senior Citizen Friendship Club met in the Hall Thursday evening to have a pot luck supper at 6:30 p.m. The meeting opened with the Serenity Prayer. Guests were welcomed. Minutes were read and approved. Treasurer's report followed.

Plans were also made for water activities. The meeting adjourned and the men settled down to cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wahnschaffe of St. Cloud, Minnesota are enjoying visiting relatives and friends in the Galahad area.

Ralph and Vicki passed through Galahad on their way to Alaska in June, Ralph was once a pupil of the Galahad School when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kuffler owned the Meat Market here.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Fordice of Vermilion were visitors at the George Vincent home Wednesday, September 6. They returned home on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Garry Satter and sons of Brownfield were supper guests at the Vincent's while the Fordice's were there.

The Missionary Church W.M.S. met in the lower auditorium Wednesday afternoon, September 18. Sixteen ladies were present. A quilt was partially quilted in the work period. Lunch was served by Kay Pascoe, Verna Ward and Alta Williams.

The business meeting followed. Ethel Black was in charge of devotions. Carrie Boyles had the missionary feature.

Worship service closes with the hymn "Only Believe," with Mrs. Clara DeWitt at the piano. Ethel Black had the closing prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bell (see Bernard) gave birth to a baby boy August 30. The baby weighed 7 lb 8 oz. His name is Brent William Bell. Very proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bernard.

GREEN ACRES

In commenting on the current harvest situation, about the only optimistic viewpoint I've heard is, "At least the ducks will be fat."

How often has the situation occurred where you've needed that extra day to finish before the weather changed and prolonged your harvest? Here are some things you can do about it.

Grain drying has become more common across the prairies in recent years and for good reasons. Earlier harvesting in the season, or after rains, or crops that are around 20 per cent moisture is possible without reducing quality, grade or germination. By drying, you create a longer harvest season, and can harvest sooner after rains. When tough or damp grain is harvested and not dried long-term storage results in grain spoilage. Single loads of damp grain can result in entire bins being downgraded due to heating, fungus, or pests.

There are three basic types of dryers on the market: the in-bin batch dryer, portable batch dryer and the continuous flow dryer. Within these basic types, there are several variations based on grain volume, movements, and heat sources, and costs range from 12 to 28 cents/bushel depending on type and volume.

A dryer should be selected on the basis of its location, volume required, portability if necessary, fuel source, and types of grains to be dried. A publication is available from our office which can help in selecting the right dryer for your needs.

A point to consider when purchasing a dryer is that such a purchase be made from a licensed dealer in Alberta. Often a cheap model, either new or used, that was imported from the U.S. may not be the best buy when service or replacement parts are needed. A purchase is best made through our local licensed dealers who can help you determine the dryer you need, as well as help determine the need for any local or provincial book-up permits.

Another way to handle tough grain would be to mix it with overdry grain. The proportions of grain are determined as follows. Moisture points below the desired per cent determine parts of wet grain to mix and moisture points above desired per cent determine parts dry grain to mix. For example, to mix a 14.5 per cent sample with a 17.5 per cent sample to get a 15.5 per cent mixture, you add (17.5 - 15.5) = 20 parts dry grain to (15.5 - 14.5) = 10 parts wet grain.

A method for preserving feed grain under 22 per cent moisture is acid preservation. The price is comparable to drying, and only requires that the bin be lined with plastic to prevent corrosion.

Ensilage is recommended for grain above 22 per cent moisture. Grain should be treated exactly like silage, and for best results, hammered or rolled before packing, and covered after.

For further information on damp grain drying, handling or feeding, contact the D.A. office at Sedgewick.

Galahad man returns to Ireland after 71 years

Sam Bowens (b) with her brother Hugh, his daughter Caroline (c) and granddaughter Peggy (d).

The following article has been reprinted from an Irish newspaper:

Mr. Hugh Bowens, who recently returned from Canada to visit his native Ulster for the first time since he emigrated 71 years ago, is the sprightliest 94-year-old I have had the pleasure of chatting to for a long time.

He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Carrie Bowens, who resides with her father, and by his granddaughter, Peggy, who lives in Edmonton and is in the nursing profession. They, too, were paying their first visit to Erin's Green Isle. During their three weeks' vacation here, they stopped with Mr. Bowens' sister, Sarah, at 5, Summerfield Street, Ballymena. She is the only two surviving members out of the Bowens' family of seven, Sarah being the youngest and Hugh the second eldest.

Despite the inclement weather, all three visitors enjoyed their holiday immensely and they took in quite a lot of the North, including the Coast Road, the Glens of Antrim and the Giant's Causeway.

The two ladies spoke in high praise of the scenic beauty of the province and of its warm hospitality.

For Mr. Bowens, the most absorbing interest lay in the changes which have taken place in Northern Ireland, and especially in Ballymena during the past 71 years.

"Greatest change I see in Ballymena is the vastly improved housing conditions," said Mr. Bowens, who hails from Tully, Kells, and who served his apprenticeship in the drapery business with the firm of Wilson & Co., Church Street, before going abroad.

He gave me an intriguing flashback of the Borough when he worked in it as a youth. "There was only one motor vehicle in the town then," he recalled. "It was a parcel van belonging to the railway company, and a queer-looking contraption it was. It had no steering wheel, being directed instead by a lever. If you wanted to go toward the right, for instance, you moved the lever to the left, and vice versa if you wished to go toward the left."

Archie McEneaney drove it, having previously driven a horse in the railway company's employment. When he emigrated, he spent the first four years in Canada in Montreal, still in the drapery trade, and it was there that he got married to a Larnie girl whose maiden name was Elizabeth Moore. She died in 1960.

Coming of farming stock as he did, Mr. Bowens subsequently moved on to Alberta, where he went into farming, and up until he was 59 he worked 300 acres. The farm is now managed by a grandson.

There were five children of the marriage, three boys and two girls. One son was killed in the 1938-45 War, in Italy, shortly before he was due to return home.

Mr. Bowens originally was connected with Connor Presbyterian Church but when Miss Sarah Bowens moved into Ballymena she joined Wellington Street Presbyterian and it was there that he read the lesson at one of the Sunday services.

His home is at Galahad, 120 miles from Edmonton.

When interviewed the visiting trio, they were making final preparations for their return home after what all voted as "a most enjoyable vacation."

German visits Heisler

Father Johann Bendfeld from Hanover, Germany was visiting Mrs. Mary Bendfeld and her family for five weeks. Among the gatherings, one was Mrs. Mary Bendfeld's birthday celebration held at the home farm with all her children in attendance. Another one was a farewell party held in honor of Father Bendfeld at the Crystal Springs Motor Inn in Camrose which close relatives attended.

Thelma and Lawrence Strauss helped Charlie Stuel, Thelma's dad, celebrate his 85th birthday at Stettler.

Vivian and Frank Banark and family of Fort Saskatchewan were recent visitors with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reuther.

Lorraine Sullivan returned home after a month's holiday with her parents in Wyoming. Gilbert Krotzsch spent two weeks with Lorraine and her folks in Wyoming.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kuntz were last Sunday visitors with Allan and Bertha Kuntz in Red Deer.

Elaine Dietrich is employed at the Credit Union in Camrose. She was also the lucky winner of the first prize raffle of 1900 at the Dayland Rodeo.

Kathleen Meyer and Mrs. Albert Wulfske joined a two-day tour with the Killam Senior Citizens with the Keith Thompsons, Robert and Jasper, White on tour, she met Mary Smith of Edmonton, an old friend who used to teach at the Grosbeck school.

Visitors at the Francis Fankhauser home over the weekend were their family Betty, Ken, Lisa and Chad Maurice of Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hauch went to Vancouver via Pacific Western Airlines to visit the Roseberrys. Gerlie Hauch had ladies in Wednesday to say hello to Alma Popping from Camrose, who is visiting her daughter, Jeanne Krotzsch, in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Walbeck surprised Emma and Clarence Reuther with a visit last week.

Mrs. Al (Lorraine) Badry and Joseph of Malta spent a few weeks with the Herb Badry family and with Lorraine's parents in Drayton Valley.

Autumn Rain

All summer we have rain. Praying for showers again and again. But in harvest we are out for gain. And well washed crops in the farmer's hands.

In the spring we went with care, watching it growing so lush and fair. When there's a shower it makes your eyes stare. But of rain in the fall we were aware.

Grain dryers now are scarce. A thing all farmers are very glad to own. But still harvest rain makes them all smile. Because grain dryers make new grain.

Perhaps a loose bolt falls. And then the perfectly working machine stalls. When the speeding rubber belt halts. "Stop the motor," the farmer calls.

Take the entire load out. Start emptying the machine; just about. Understand you keep your head, a cheat. Grain drying is the farmer's goal.

AWNA salutes young people

Outstanding acts of social commitment, courage or enterprise by young Albertans were honored during the annual Alberta Weekly Newspaper Association convention in Edmonton September 15, 1978.

The annual Junior Citizens of the Year program saw 27 young Albertans cited for their special efforts at an awards luncheon in their honor September 15. Nine individuals, one group of two youths and one group of 16 young women, represented by three of their members, received awards.

Lieutenant-Governor Ralph Stathaus presented each Junior Citizen with a citation, noting their achievement and $500 in Canada Savings Bonds.

The Alberta Junior Citizens of the Year awards were instituted by Calgary Power Ltd. in 1961 and have been jointly sponsored by the Alberta-based utility and Alberta Power Ltd. for the past 16 years.

This year's Junior Citizens award-winning actions ranged from special dedication to home or community service work to life saving.

Joy and Tab Stroma, 11 and 13, now of Edmonton, are cited for their devotion in caring for their seriously ill father at Ponoka. The youngsters shared the responsibility of managing the household and doing farm chores, while still maintaining a busy schedule of extra-curricular and community activities.

David Riehl, 13, of Wildwood, is credited with saving the lives of his seven younger brothers and sisters when the family home caught fire. Unable to put out the blaze, David successfully evacuated the other children from the building. He returned to a smoke-filled, upstairs bedroom twice for his two-year-old twin sisters.

Courageous Jimmy Zeff, 14, of Fischer Creek, saved his father's life after a hunting accident. Jimmy's last action in obtaining emergency help showed wisdom and courage beyond his years.

David Klassen's selflessness in assisting his parents to maintain the family dairy farm demonstrated his dedication to the family's welfare. The 18-year-old Flatbush boy has also made significant contributions to the local 4-H Beef Club.

When her mother was taken seriously ill, 15-year-old Wendy Nielsen responded by accepting the responsibilities of her Hamilton family's household. She has shown great devotion to the care of her father and two younger brothers.

Sharing her energies with all around her, 15-year-old Toni Maier of Irvine has shown a sincere concern for others. From emotional and physical comfort and caring for others in times of grief or uncertainty, to being a leader among her peers, she's a source of joy to those who know her.

Jacque MacPherson has been an invaluable assistant to her handicapped mother. The 17-year-old Edmonton girl has helped to manage the household and assisted with the care of her young brother for many years. She has also been involved in many school, community and church activities.

Following the death of her mother and injuries to her father, 15-year-old Bethany Deier of Altario has readily accepted the responsibilities of caring for her family. She has maintained good grades in school and participated in many extra-curricular activities.

Decorated down the aisle by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor length gown of satin with lace beaded trimmed with seed pearls. Clifton ties over her skirt and formed the sleeves. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a small cap of lace and seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of yellow sweetbriar roses.

The bride's attendants were: Mrs. Lenore Ober of Forestburg, sister of the bride, and Miss Christine Coates of Calgary. They were matching gowns of yellow shantung print and carried bouquets of yellow and white daisies.

The groom was attired in a dark brown suit trimmed in velvet with a white ruffled shirt and yellow rose boutonniere. The groom's attendants were: Mr. Dale Schnettler and Mr. Doug Schnettler of Killam. They wore dark brown suits with velvet trim and yellow ruffled shirts with yellow boutonniere. The ushers were: Mr. Ernie Palmer of Killam, brother of the groom, and Mr. Ken Steadman of Alliance, brother of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a gown of rust faille and corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother wore a pale blue print with a corsage of white carnations.

After the ceremony an open house and dance was held at the Killam Elks Hall. In charge of the guest book were Miss Beverly Cameron, Miss Lisa Cameron and Miss Karen Hagen. The wedding cake displayed at the hall was baked by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Albert Olsen of Camrose, and beautifully decorated by the groom's mother, Mrs. Edna Palmer.

The bride's going-away suit was a coral vest and skirt with a white blouse. The happy couple will be making their home in Edmonton.

Palmer/Steadman united

The Knox United Church in Killam was the scene of a lovely evening wedding June 17, 1978 when Marie Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Steadman of Alliance became the bride of Mr. Robert Palmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Palmer of Killam. Rev. McLaughlin performed the double ring ceremony.

Decorated down the aisle by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor length gown of satin with lace beaded trimmed with seed pearls. Clifton ties over her skirt and formed the sleeves. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a small cap of lace and seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of yellow sweetbriar roses.

Killam farmers congregate

The weather has been the main conversation for almost the past month. When you go upstairs there's wall to wall talk about the weather. Lots of grain has probably been lost so far. Let's hope it clears up soon and we can get the combines rolling again.

Mr. Darren Erickson and Mr. Perry Louis left last week for Edmonton to attend university. Darren is to study pharmacy and Perry agriculture. Mr. Norman Erickson left for his last year in university. Good luck.

Miss Ann Pederson and fiancé, Mr. Lynn Storkbakken of Edmonton, were weekend visitors with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Pederson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morgan spent the weekend in Edmonton visiting their family.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Widmer of Maple Creek, Saskatchewan spent a few days last week with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Wilson.

Mrs. Jean Bonar, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Bonar and Billy and Mr. and Mrs. Brian Kosicki and Steven visited Mr. David Bonar and Miss Kathy Spiller in Fort St. John, B.C. for a few days last week.

I thought I saw Allen go past in a canoe the other day, heard he had it tied to the trailer just in case the rain didn't stop.

Mr. Maurice Hart and Mr. Jens Lindeth attended a two day Case Convention in Regina, Saskatchewan for the showing of the new 1979 tractors.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Cramton were supper guests at the Norman Nickerson's in Strom Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cramton of Edmonton visited at the Dave Cramton's.

Killam Bay Bee Brownies and Guides first meeting and registration is Monday, September 25 at 4 p.m. in the Legion. All mothers should attend.

Accident injuries minor

Improper passing was the apparent cause of an accident between the Sedgewick Co-op Lumber truck and a half ton about two miles west of Sedgewick on Highway 130 on the afternoon of September 14, 1978. Eye witnesses say that the Co-op Lumber truck, driven by Mr. Sherman Thompson of Sedgewick, had indicated for a left turn when David Smolki of Killam, driver of the half ton, unsuccessfully attempted to pass the lumber truck.

Upon impact, the half ton went into the ditch and overturned, coming to a stop a couple hundred yards from the lumber truck.

Injuries sustained were only minor, according to the Black of the Killam RCMP detachment.

Damage to the Co-op Lumber truck has been estimated at $800 while no figures have yet been reached for the half ton, says Sergeant Black.

In those times, the hospital was extremely busy with patients at a premium and the Nursery filled to overflowing. Something had to be done. And it was.

In 1951, the London Board of Governors, after observation and consultation with the Advisory Board, decided that a new hospital should be considered. Plans were formulated, and on Hospital Day in 1952 a sod-turning ceremony was held with Hugh Taylor (turning the sod, assisted by George Holben and Sister Loyola). A loan from the bank at five per cent interest along with a government grant and generous local donations covered the cost of the new building. All went well and on schedule, and the new hospital was officially opened June 4, 1953. It was well equipped with a bed capacity of 40 along with 10 bassinets. Dr. Pearson, now the lone doctor, was kept extremely busy with a "full house."

and surgery nearly every day. In 1958, Dr. Stafford Mayer came to Alliance and administration increased to nearly 1,400 a year.

The original hospital was now renovated and became a residence for the Sisters and staff. At this time the Government of Alberta was ready with a Hospitalization Benefits Plan and the task of changing the bookkeeping system to fit the plan was carried out by Sister Marie Angella in admirable fashion.

The year 1962 saw the Advisory Board re-activated with William Sandmaier as chairman. Board members were chosen to represent Foreburg, Alliance, Galahad and the County of Flagstaff. The board proved invaluable in attending to the business of operation.

Alliance. He was replaced by Drs. Joyce and Patrick Myles, all three of whom left in 1967. Dr. Stan Kumar came to Foreburg in 1968 and is presently on the medical staff of Galahad Hospital. Many other doctors came and left. Dr. Serrano came to Galahad in June, 1975 and is also presently on the medical staff.

Sister Angella was appointed Business Manager in 1960, and in the year 1973, the hospital was awarded full Accreditation. Again in 1976 the hospital was awarded full Accreditation for a period of three years.

The Advisory Board members of Wm. Sandmaier, chairman, S. Holben, J. Bateman, A. Bunney, W. Washburn, Lewis Falls, Grant Jackson and Ken Findlay have served the hospital well and faithfully for some years.

Since 1930, the ladies of the community had an organized and active Hospital Auxiliary, and contributed a great deal to the hospital finances, etc. The Auxiliary is still active.

In November of 1977 the Governing Board, after deep thought, prayer and consultation, were forced by the shortage of Sisters for administrative positions, to relinquish ownership of St. Joseph's Hospital, and so advised the Ministry of the Alberta Government. August 31, 1978 was the date set for the change of ownership. The Ministry decision was to appoint the Flagstaff, Hugbenden District Board No. 55 to own and operate the hospital at Galahad. At the request of the Sisters of St. Joseph, the name of the hospital has been changed to Galahad General Hospital. Plans for the completion of the takeover are being finalized, along with the purchase price to the Sisters. In the meantime, operation of the hospital is in the hands of the District Board, which also operates the Hardisty and Daysland General Hospitals, and Killam Auxiliary Hospital.

Sedgewick Junior High begins new school year

The 1978-79 school season got off to a good start September 6. Since then, quite a few activities have started.

The Junior High staff is almost the same as last year except for Miss Snider, who is teaching Grade 7 Science and Environmental Education, and Mr. Debock, who is teaching Grade 8 Science and Environmental Education. The rest are the same as last year with Mrs. Doody teaching Language Arts; Mr. Bernard, Math and Grade 9 Science; Miss McLean, Social Studies; Mr. Debock, Physical Education; and Mr. Mering, Grade 7 and 8 Art. The Student Council elections have been held and the results are: for President this year, we have Danny Fredericks and for Vice-President, we have Heather Wallace. Treasurers are Cathy Gabruck and secretary is Cindy Harding. Our two Sports Reps are Debbie Jones and Ronnie Caruth. Our Social Convener is Mike Baldry. Our School Reporter is Pat McArthur. For Grade 7, Broom Reps we have Glenda Branda and Perry Sparrow. Grade 8 Room Reps are Tracy Quast and Norman Branderings. A number of sports activities are being organized this year. Already, four hockey is being played at noon in the gym. A Gymnastics Club has been started. This club meets once a week. Basketball practice begins Wednesday, September 20. The Cross Country teams have been running for several days.

Hardisty has U.S. visitor

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rodin of Seattle visited at the James Whithead home and also visited with Keith Rodin.

Other visitors to these parties were Bill Peterson, Leslie Hakkila of Portland and Jay and Brian Gray of Milwaukee, Oregon.

Ronald (Abe's son) had been seven years ago, but found that with different roads, burning and trees he was familiar with getting later on his old home place. (Bob Quast's now), it was getting more difficult to recognize once familiar landmarks.

Ronald and his friends, who had never been in Canada before, visited with Mills (Peter) at H.R. Hill, with Norman, his son and family, also, Jessie Whithead and Art Peters, another cousin, who have an acreage at Ardmore. We are always glad to hear of them.

Then, Ronald called on James Whithead's the one evening, then turned his friends around the Hi-Grade Center, the pumping station where James works, the tank farm, etc., which has grown considerably since he was last here.

The "Rialto" to his Hardisty trip was a barbecue and so many other kinds of good food with Annie and Lawrence's, also, cooking, and Jim and Ronald's.

Edmonton were waiting to board the bus for a two-day and night tour. A fascinating visit to Alberta foothills and mountains. A side trip to Big Horn, Dams, beautiful Abraham Lake and to Columbia Icefields was also enjoyed. We stopped at David Thompson Resort for supper and a relaxing evening.

The service was in St. Joseph's Church with burial in Hardisty Cemetery. Martha Kante, after those many months, has parted with her cast, no we surely hope she will get along without it now.

Correspondence included a questionnaire from Alberta Recreation Centre of the Statler region, also a letter regarding a Senior Citizens' conference to be held in the McDonald Hotel in Edmonton. The purpose is to explore and examine responsibility among older people.

Visits to the sick and shut-ins were reported. Happy birthday was sung for those who had birthdays during September. The next "500" card party will be held September 28.

A motion was carried to have a Thanksgiving pot luck supper October 12 at 6 p.m. with the monthly meeting to follow. Turkey for the supper to be purchased by M. Wilson, Edna Wittke and Ruth Granger offered to cook the turkey.

After adjournment, Leach was assisted by Emma George and M. Gibb, assisted by committee.

Edmonton were waiting to board the bus for a two-day and night tour. A fascinating visit to Alberta foothills and mountains. A side trip to Big Horn, Dams, beautiful Abraham Lake and to Columbia Icefields was also enjoyed. We stopped at David Thompson Resort for supper and a relaxing evening.

The service was in St. Joseph's Church with burial in Hardisty Cemetery. Martha Kante, after those many months, has parted with her cast, no we surely hope she will get along without it now.

Correspondence included a questionnaire from Alberta Recreation Centre of the Statler region, also a letter regarding a Senior Citizens' conference to be held in the McDonald Hotel in Edmonton. The purpose is to explore and examine responsibility among older people.

Visits to the sick and shut-ins were reported. Happy birthday was sung for those who had birthdays during September. The next "500" card party will be held September 28.

A motion was carried to have a Thanksgiving pot luck supper October 12 at 6 p.m. with the monthly meeting to follow. Turkey for the supper to be purchased by M. Wilson, Edna Wittke and Ruth Granger offered to cook the turkey.

After adjournment, Leach was assisted by Emma George and M. Gibb, assisted by committee.

For the bus trip on the David Thompson Highway, the Edmonton Executive Coach Tours arrived Wednesday, September 13 at 8 a.m. in the lounge where 38 senior citizens from Burnie, Sedgewick, Killam and

Gretna Goodwill club meets

Our club meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Mary Albrecht's September 13. There were only six members and one guest, Margaret O'Reilly, in attendance.

Past acted as president as the president was sick and unable to attend. The meeting was opened, the previous minutes adopted as read, no business arising from the minutes. The treasurer gave her report and the card convener reported, having sent some cards to the sick. We also signed and delivered two cards today to two who are under the weather.

The roll call was answered by our handiest gadget about the house. Honestly, you wouldn't believe the different gadgets the ladies had and how they put them to use. It really was amusing.

The roll call for the next meeting is "Bring your oldest dish and tell something about it." The meeting is to be at Elsie June's October 11. Melba is to be co-hostess.

The conversational items today were: a beautiful birthday cake made for Helen Sutherland by Marlene Simpson. It was a white cake decorated with flowers and leaves, lattice work and green writing. "Happy Birthday Helen." It was simply beautiful, but seeing Helen was sick and not in attendance, we had the cake delivered to her home, so never had the chance to taste it, or sing "Happy Birthday" to her.

The other item was a Montgomery Ward catalogue, Spring and Summer 1989 brought by Christine. The ladies had great laughs over the style and the prices, $1 for ladies' cotton dresses and 70 cents for men's work pants. "The Good Old Days."

Christie had a contest, judged letters to form words of apices, Melba and Mary had the most correct answers, each having 15 correct, and as the prize was to be divided, they took half each. Marlene, having the least correct, got a prize to herself.

The meeting was then adjourned and we went to the kitchen and partook of all the delicious food, even ice-cream and strawberries, served by the hostess and assisted by Marlene as co-hostess. They also had to pour coffee from a broken spot on the big coffee pot (that was supplied by a

The first fall meeting of the Order of Royal Purple was held Monday, September 11. Thirteen members were present.

Sorry to report that Mrs. Dot Morgan is in hospital.

Congratulations are in order to Mrs. Blanche McGowan who is our new District Deputy. Mrs. McGowan gave a very interesting report of the Supreme Law Conference held in New Westminster in July.

As our next meeting falls on Thanksgiving, it was decided to change the date to October 16. Ladies, please note.

Five Order of Royal Purple ladies contributed to the birthday box. I wonder how many years that represented?

A very nice lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

Late Rebekkah honored by sisters

Twenty-three Rebekkah Lodge members met September 18 after the summer recess.

Brother Dahl of 238 Falls Lodge #72, Campbell River, B.C. was made welcome.

It was reported that there had been a memorial service held at the cemetery July 5, after which the sisters met at the home of Sister Thelma Derrough for a short business meeting and social hour.

Five sisters took part in a reverent charter draping ceremony for the late Sister Pauline Butcher.

The sisters were pleased to learn that Sister Myrtle McGowan was home again after her stay in hospital.

It was reported that birthday, get well, and sympathy cards had been sent and visits had been made to hospitals and shut-ins.

Noble Grand Sister Cookson named her committees for the ensuing year.

Three sisters were serenaded for having each passed another milestone.

The sisters served the pan-

Sedgewick and District News

There were seven tables of whist players at the Legion Hut Wednesday afternoon for the Sedgewick Citizens' Card Party. Prizes for the highest scores were won by Mrs. Christine Davis and Mr. Art Fella, who had the unusually high score of 192. Consolation awards went to Mrs. Helga Willumsen and Mr. Neil Dixon.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Don MacKinnon on the birth of a 7 lb. 7 oz. son who arrived at the Camrose Hospital Thursday, September 14. Understand that proud Grandpa Rod MacKinnon was treating everyone to coffee at the bakery!

Mrs. Gwen Gibbs, Mrs. Gunder Storaasen and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walsh were on a short tour of the David Thompson Highway and the Jasper area Wednesday and Thursday. Mrs. E. M. Butt has returned from home in Edmonton after visiting for two weeks with Edith and Gordon Ward.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Gust and sons of Whitecourt spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Webb.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jamison and Mrs. Agnes Carlson left Friday to visit relatives in the Dawson Creek district.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob McLeod visited with Bob's mother in the nursing home at Stettler and with Cathy's mother at Bytowne at the weekend.

Belated congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bill McLeod of Edmonton on the birth of a daughter, Michelle Louise, Thursday, August 10.

Chuck Gabruk and Brent Pope are both working in Edmonton and also playing football with the Edmonton Huskies. Continued success, with both work and football, boys.

Get well wishes to Mr. Neilson Bergum, Mrs. Tillie Knutson, Mr. Rolf Jacobson and Mr. Gordon Ward who are all patients in the Killam Hospital, and in all the local folk who are ill anywhere.

Happy to see Mr. Ernest Osbark home again after a stay in the Daysland Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Beirato returned Friday after a three-week vacation spent in Calgary, Kelowna, Abbotsford and Vancouver. They took granddaughters Laurie and Tanya, who had been staying with them for a holiday, back to their home in Abbotsford.

Congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. David Thompson (nee Cathy Tweedy) who were married by the Rev. R. Chappell at the United Church at 8 p.m. Saturday, September 16. An Open House and Dance was enjoyed by many friends at the Community Hall in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Martin and Margaret spent the week end in Edmonton.

On Saturday, a group of friends and relatives gathered at the E. Freeman home to help Ed dredge celebrate his birthday. Those present were: son Duane with his wife and children from Sherwood Park; daughter Darlene with her husband and children, the Len Schmidts, from Rosyth; his brother, Mr. Walter Freeman from Brackton, B.C.; Mrs. Audrey Tren

Arto Lindall Eriksson stands with one of his three murals in the Loughheed Hotel

Murals complete picture

Major renovations to the Loughheed Hotel include more than erecting walls, fitting panels and laying floors. After the project is complete and open for business October 15, patrons will be able to enjoy three hand painted murals depicting Loughheed and the surrounding area.

The murals, painted by Norwegian artist Lindall Eriksson, are situated in the hotel lounge. One, a 6' x 9' ft. scene, is of the town's grain elevators as seen on the highway.

The other two murals are found in the new section of the lounge. One, a 6' x 12' ft. scene, shows the Roggeveien home, stated, "one of the old mansions in the district," said Mr. Eriksson.

The third mural is a scene of the Boat Lanes and stands at 8' x 8' ft.

Mr. Eriksson stressed that the three murals are taken from actual scenes, and that although he has taken a few liberties with colours so as to harmonize with the lounge decor, the murals are "as realistic as possible."

After the work here is finished, Mr. Eriksson will travel to Prince Rupert, B.C. and then to Thunder Bay, Ontario for similar projects. But his biggest undertaking is one for Alaska.

He has been commissioned by that American state to do paintings depicting the Gold Rush of 1898. Possibly a 10-year project, Mr. Eriksson has now completed two years of research which he says, has involved a lot of travelling and talking to people. It has taken him to, among other places, California and Paris to gather information. Among the pictures he's located is one of poet Robert Service who wrote many accounts of gold rush fever.

If he's done his work well, he explained, each scene should show not only its location, but the time of day and year.

The project got underway Tuesday, September 19 with an expected completion day of Wednesday, September 27. Each mural needs three days to complete, he explained.

He began by travelling to each location and making preliminary sketches for detail and perspective. Actual painting at the hotel walls began with acetate to map the scene out to scale. Mr. Eriksson explained, and then by applying layers, or washes, of colour to find the exacting to "build" each painting.

"Murals are coming into style again," says the artist, and it isn't at all unusual to find them in restaurants and lounges such as in Loughheed.

After the work here is finished, Mr. Eriksson will travel to Prince Rupert, B.C. and then to Thunder Bay, Ontario for similar projects. But his biggest undertaking is one for Alaska.

He has been commissioned by that American state to do paintings depicting the Gold Rush of 1898. It has taken him to, among other places, California and Paris to gather information. Among the pictures he's located is one of poet Robert Service who wrote many accounts of gold rush fever.

"I'm depicting people in action during the gold rush. It'll be as if you were there with a camera," Mr. Eriksson stated. When completed, the series of paintings will be located in Alaska's state capital.

In addition to painting, Mr. Eriksson is trained in the Norwegian folk art of rosemaling. An art which is "as old as the Vikings," rosemaling is "stylized flowerings" painted with oils.

In earlier times, the art was carved or burnt into wood, primarily on the widely-travelled Viking ships. "It's painting at tradition, and something anyone can learn," he said. If he stays in the area for longer than this week, he's willing to hold classes in rosemaling, he added. Any interested persons can reach him at the hotel.

Since this area was home-stayed by many Norwegian families, Mr. Eriksson explained, some may remember, or have heard of the art, and want to preserve it as he has.

He's found a great deal of interest in rosemaling at other centres, he said, having taught it at the Camrose Cultural Centre "three or four times now."

Mr. Eriksson received his formal art training from the Academy of Arts in Oslo, Norway, in Stockholm, Sweden, in Paris, France; as well as from several private teachers when he was a youth. He is also a member of the international organization, The Sons of Norway, presently as its cultural director.

270 graduates honored

Central High's 1978 Graduation Day Saturday, September 23 was blessed with beautiful sunny weather. Throughout the day, grads arrived in Sedgewick to have their portraits taken in the Sedgewick Park.

At five o'clock, the Catholic Parish of Killam presented a lovely banquet to 270 grads and guests. Linda Hebert, president of the 1978 Grad Society acted as Master of Ceremonies at the banquet.

An audience of more than 900 people arrived at eight o'clock for the Graduation Exercises which were held in the new gymnasium of the Sedgewick Public School. Geoff Bury, president of the Central High Students' Union, capably handled the M.C. duties. The 270 members of the grad class proceeded to the stage to musical accompaniment of Gail Rott.

After the guest speaker, Fil Fraser, delivered his address, the audience thoroughly enjoyed the presentation of this year's Grad theme, "You are a Child of the Universe," as read by Jack Jacobson with background accompaniment by Sandy Danielson, Peggy McGregor and Nancy and Kathy Keith.

Presentations of the Kinsmen Awards for the top academic students in Grades 10 and 11 were made by Mr. Hank Kuntz, president of the Sedgewick Kinsmen Club. This year's recipients were Barbara New Grade 10 and Val Schmetler, Grade 11.

Bank marks anniversary

On September 29, 1978, Treasury Branches celebrate 40 years of service in Alberta.

In making the announcement, Mr. Fred Sparrow, superintendent of Treasury Branches, stated, "I wish to extend a personal invitation to all our customers and friends to drop in at their local Treasury Branch and join the manager and staff for a cup of coffee in celebration of this 40th anniversary."

Mr. Sparrow, who grew up in Sedgewick, will be in attendance for the coffee party at the Killam Treasury Branch on September 29.

The first branch to open in Alberta was at Rocky Mountain House on September 29, 1938, followed by five more branches the next day: Andrew, Killam, St. Paul, Grande Prairie and Edmonton. Branches at Calgary and Lethbridge followed.

Mr. Gerald Wessman of the Killam Hotel presented Dennis Cole with the Alberta Hotel Association Scholarship.

Recipients of the County Awards for Grade 12 averages of 80 per cent and better were Frances Davidson, Brenda Booth, Leona Thompson, Deb Wyse, Dennis Cole and Leon Sorenson. These presentations were made on behalf of the County by the Town of Sedgewick School Board Representative Mrs. Jean Johnson.

The Central High School Scholarship, which this year was sponsored by the Killam Legion, Killam Elks, Killam Lions Club, Sedgewick Chamber of Commerce, Loughheed Lions Club and the Central High Students' Union, was presented by Mr. Manfred Jessen to Patricia Grade 12, who had completed her Grade 12 year with an average of 90.8 per cent.

The Fred Sparrow Award winner was Becky Johansson. This award is presented to the Grade 12 student who is judged to be the "You are a Child of the Universe," as read by Jack Jacobson with background accompaniment by Sandy Danielson, Peggy McGregor and Nancy and Kathy Keith.

The presentation of diplomas by Mr. Jessen was followed by the address given by this year's valedictorian, Frances Davidson.

Following the Grad Reception, a large crowd enjoyed the dance held in the Sedgewick Community Hall.

COME ALIVE...

By Rev. Robert Chappell

STIGMATA

Sunday is World Wide Communion Sunday. All Christians in the world will be celebrating this Holy event. There is a word which describes the meaning of Communion. This word is "stigmata". The word stigmata is often used to refer to certain marks or wounds that have appeared on the bodies of some very faithful Christians.

St. Paul wrote to the Galatians: "I bear in my body the marks (the stigmata) of the Lord Jesus..." (6:17). St. Francis of Assisi was marked by the visible, physical stigmata, as were St. Theresa and several hundred others.

These wounds, sometimes actually bleeding wounds, have usually appeared on the hands or feet or sides of a person's body. They have seemed to duplicate the wounds and sufferings that our Lord Christ himself endured on the Cross. Such stigmata, such wounds, such specific points of suffering, shared with Christ, have often signified faithful and devoted Christians.

But stigmata may take different forms. They need not be physical. They may be in the mind. They may be in the heart. They may be in the soul. They may be in the body. They may be in the mind. They may be in the heart. They may be in the soul. They may be in the body. They may be in the mind. They may be in the heart. They may be in the soul. They may be in the body.

Stigmata have importance to us because they signify suffering and because "the meaning of life may be found in what a man is willing to suffer for." It may be a soldier for his country, a father for his family, a teacher for his pupils, or a mother for her child. It may be that willingness to deny the body in order to feed the soul.

The secret of your life and the meaning of your life... its priorities, its values, its orientation — may be found in what you are willing to suffer for for what purpose or for what person.

St. Paul speaks of the fellowship of the sufferings of Christ... "Now we can understand what he means. Stigmata have meaning for us today because we face the question: "What suffering will we bear and what scars will we wear? Are we willing to do it for Jesus Christ? Life also receives meaning from those who are willing to do the suffering.

there be conflicts? To be sure

Will it mean spending money? Of course. Christian stewardship does not mean that, when you see a barefoot child, you say: "Here is a pair of shoes because I have two pairs and you have none." Or, not Christian stewardship means that you say: "Here is a pair of shoes in the name of Christ because he suffered for me and I cannot bear to see you suffer."

As St. Peter said: "Be glad... if you can suffer for Christ" not as a neurotic, who seeks suffering for its own sake, but as a Christian, who knows now the ultimate cause for which he may be privileged to suffer. It is the cause of Jesus Christ and the salvation of human personality.

Life has its meaning in what man is willing to suffer for. Are you willing to bear the stigmata of Christ? And share the suffering for Christ? This is what Christ does for you. And Holy Communion may be only inconvenient. "I love you, I died for you, I suffer for you. Follow me."

Life has its meaning in what man is willing to suffer for. Are you willing to bear the stigmata of Christ? And share the suffering for Christ? This is what Christ does for you. And Holy Communion may be only inconvenient. "I love you, I died for you, I suffer for you. Follow me."

GREEN ACRES

The ideal time to treat is between September 15 and December 1. Grubs have hatched and are progressing upward along the leg toward the back. The method of application can vary depending on which chemical used. Systemic insecticides enter the animal's body and remain in the blood stream to give long-lasting control. They are applied in the spray form, in the long run, higher costs. As cattle prices improve, it costs more to raise warbles along with your cattle.

Mr. Cattlemen: Will you be able to market your fat cattle without fear of 'grub discount'? A 50 cent dosage of systemic insecticide now in autumn is the best insurance you can carry against warble grubs. Infested cattle cost you, not only because of a marketing discount, but they result in poor feed efficiency, decreased milk production, damaged hides and, in the long run, higher costs. Dayland children (above) enjoying a nutritious lunch. Below, Dayland school children challenge their parents to test their own nutrition awareness.

Nutritional education essential

Food... just thinking about it makes us want to run to the refrigerator for a snack. However, past national surveys have shown that a large majority of us aren't very lousy on what we satisfy our hunger with. More than 50 per cent of our population has an obesity problem.

The sad part is that obesity is known to lead to serious health problems such as heart and renal diseases; over-all, a shortened lifespan.

The surveys also showed strong evidence of people, especially adolescents, having very poor nutrition practices.

In other words, surveys show that we're a nation of overfed, yet undernourished people.

In response to findings like these, it was decided that nutrition education had become essential and what better place to start than in the classroom where habits could still be altered.

So in 1973, the Alberta government launched a Nutrition at School program.

The aim of the program has been to teach students about their nutritional needs and the nutritive value of foods so as to foster health and well-being.

For the County of Flagstaff, nutrition education didn't get underway until the 1978-79 school term in Loughheed and has expanded by at least one or two schools each year, said Diane Bourne, District Home Economist for the County.

Students from Grades 1 to 9 inclusive take part in nutrition education.

Before sessions ever get started in the classroom, Diane as a home economist for the province, holds nutrition workshops for the teachers who will be teaching this particular program.

"I give them resource material with information on basic nutrition and also supply them with some ideas on how to use the resource material in the classroom."

One of the teaching methods used to expose the students to good nutrition is to give them nutritive food samples.

In the past, the students have received food samples daily for 100 days. They come from one of the four food groups: meats and alternatives, dairy products, breads, cereals, and pastas and fruit and vegetables. Snacks such as raw cauliflower, cheese, and whole grain crackers can be found consumed in the classes.

After receiving the food sample of the day, teachers discuss the particular food group that the snack came from, what nutrients the sample contains and how these nutrients are used in the body, said Diane.

It is hoped that the food samples will serve to reinforce the information the teachers give them, she explained.

The students themselves are quite active in the program. They help decide on the food samples, have nutrition poster contests and have even set up exhibits inviting parents to test their own nutrition consciousness.

Diane pointed out that a provincial survey showed nutrition education to be more successful with students in Grades 1 to 4 in regard to attitude change and actual eating habits than with the older students.

Peer pressure on the older students seems to have a strong effect on the success of the nutrition program.

Galahad, Killam, Dayland and Hensler schools have all taken part in this program. In the Sedgewick Public School, Grades 1 to 6 have been slated for the 1978-79 term.

THE '79 ROAD SHOW STARRING

Chevrolet

NOW SHOWING AT

CAPRICE. With two years of solid success behind it, here's The New Chevrolet for 1979. Distinctive new styling touches front and back. Eight new colours. A new dual jet carburetor in the 5.0 litre V8 that gives improved driveability. See The New Chevrolet. Our Success Car for '79.

MALIBU. In '79, our smaller size/more space philosophy continues. Styling changes further enhance Malibu's already attractive appearance. Engine choices include the smooth 3.3 litre V6, a new 4.4 litre V8 and a more powerful 5.0 litre V8. More than ever, Malibu is a Star in the Age of Inner Space.

MONTE CARLO. Elegance has been further enhanced by new styling front and rear. Monte Carlo also has its own special tires and suspension geometry. Inside you'll find roominess both back and front and lots of luggage space. All this, in a road car of sensible proportions. Monte Carlo. Isn't this where you belong?

NOVA. Known for its dependability, Nova remains a smart buy in '79. With eleven years of experience behind it, Nova's solid reputation and excellent resale value makes it one of the most popular, affordable 6 passenger cars.

MONZA. There's more to Monza in '79 than last year. Standard are an AM radio, tinted glass, body side mouldings, sport steering wheel, and a more powerful base engine with a 3.2 litre V6 available. Monza. The style of a sports car with the price of an economy car.

CHEVETTE. Last year, we added 16 standard features including AM radio, whitewalls, reclining bucket seats and more. Now Chevette's the most popular small-size North American built car. New for '79 is an improved ventilation system, refinements to the L4 engine, additional sound insulation, and distinctive front styling. 2- and 4-door Chevette — a lot of little car for the money!

CAMARO. This year, there's a bright new Camaro to choose — Berinella. With a specific suspension engineered for long-distance touring, special bucket seats, and luxurious appointments that are distinctly Berinella. And we still offer the popular Sport Coupe and the ultimate Camaro — Z28.

Some of the equipment illustrated is available at extra cost.

Oldsmobile
HAVE ONE BUILT FOR YOU

DELTA 88. Oldsmobile's expression of full-size cars... Delta 88 and Holiday 88. Both a special breed, a step up from the others. And both may be equipped with a V8 diesel.

CUTLASS. For '79, Cutlass is different cars for different people. Those who want style and value choose Cutlass Supreme. Available with a new 4.3 litre V8 diesel engine.

TORONADO. A new state of the art in personal luxury car design. A forerunner of engineering leadership in front wheel drive. '79 Toronado is shorter and lighter but gives up nothing in ride and comfort. With the new four wheel independent suspension and improvements in road-holding and handling. Have one built for you!

PICKUPS come in either Fleetside (shown) or Stepside box styles. Fleetside Sports come with two-tone paint, special sport striping, chromed grille, colour-keyed carpeting and extra-thick floor insulation.

CHEVY VANS seat up to twelve people inside with comfort. High-back front buckets, cut-pile carpeting and the luxurious Beauville interior appointments.

CHEVY BLAZER. Snow, ice, and mud barely faze it with the full-time 4WD system, available with automatic transmission, that gives good traction off road, good tracking on road without shifting in or out of 4WD.

CHEVY SUBURBAN seats up to nine people in comfort, or totes 144 cu. ft. of cargo. And with special trailering equipment, Suburban moves up to 15,000 lbs. of trailer, cargo, passengers and itself.

HERE'S GOOD NEWS!

- GM Continuous Protection Plan. We think it's the most important new option in GM history. Available for vehicles in non-commercial use. Ask us about it.

AND HERE'S MORE GOOD NEWS!

- All General Motors passenger cars and light-duty trucks (10 through 30 series) are covered by the three-year perforation from corrosion warranty. Ask us about it.

Drop-In Centre open daily

Commencing Monday, October 2, the Strome Senior Citizens will be serving coffee in their Drop-In Centre daily on a regular basis from 9 - 11 a.m. and 2 - 4 p.m. Everyone is welcome. The recreational facilities are primarily for use by the senior citizens. Non members may use them by invitation only.

Mrs. Anne Malick of the Crossfield Senior Citizen's Lodge stayed at the home of Mrs. Mary Smith Gauder and visited friends in town from last Wednesday to Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Sprague were recent visitors with his sister, Mrs. Glenis Downey of Elkville, Alberta.

Mrs. Casper Mody of Camrose was a visitor with Mrs. Theresa Scheeler last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Potlie, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Morgan and Mr. Don Erickson visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Potter of Loughheed last Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Sprague and Janet drove to Marwayne last Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Guild.

Mrs. Bonnie Hill arrived home from the Dayland Hospital last Saturday with her baby daughter, Kelly-Ann Marie.

The Ladies' Binge Club dropped in on Mrs. Moller to help her celebrate her birthday.

Mrs. Grace Laing of Bruce and her daughter Mrs. Helen Moore and her son of Vancouver visited with Alice Pooler last Friday.

Mr. Joe Robertson and son George of Ottawa visited friends in town last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Vawart of Calgary were visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Gordon last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hauch of Camrose visited his parents last Sunday. Jim also celebrated his birthday.

The community wishes to welcome Mr. Art Nalder of Vancouver to town, who has bought the home of Mrs. Anne Malick.

Paul and Bernadette and Jim Allers spent last weekend at their parental home.

Mrs. Lorraine Schulte of Edmonton was a visitor with Frances and Johnny Allers last weekend.

The Senior Citizens will be having a pot luck supper September 28.

Mrs. Alice Graham of Swift

Current, Saskatchewan and her daughter, Mrs. Jean Hlaman of Cardston, Alberta, stopped in for coffee at the Drop-In Centre last Monday morning and visited awhile with friends. They lived here in 1927 and 1928 when Mrs. Graham's husband, Art, Graham ran the Federal grain elevator.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Heitler (nee Mary Taylor) of Wetaskiwin and Mrs. Gordonie of Ponoka visited with Earl and Marge McDougall last Sunday enroute home from visiting Mr. and Mrs. McKinnon at Sedgewick.

Seniors take scenic trip

On Wednesday, September 13, a group of senior citizens from Killam, Loughheed and Sedgewick boarded a coach in Killam. Leaving at 7:50 a.m., they proceeded to Strome where more folk boarded the bus and on to Wetaskiwin where some senior citizens from Edmonton joined the group to fill the rest of the bus.

After a coffee break, the bus headed south and then west following the David Thompson Highway through Rocky Mountain House and Nordegg. At the Goldeye Lake Camp a delicious meal was thoroughly enjoyed; then it was off again to the Big Horn Dam. Here we stopped for awhile to take a look at this project and to take some pictures and then off again to the David Thompson Resort, arriving about 4:15 p.m. Some members of the group took a walk to a very beautiful lookout, then all had supper and spent the evening visiting.

After a good night's sleep and breakfast, the coachhead left at 9:10 a.m. and drove to the Columbia Trefills. We spent awhile there, some of us walked to the edge of the glacier and had a snack at the chalet. On to Jasper where a substantial meal was appreciated.

Then we were off again heading through Hinton into Edson where we again stopped for lunch. So into Edmonton. Here the Edmonton ladies left us and the bus proceeded along Highway 14 to Viking and then south to Killam where the Killam, Loughheed and Sedgewick group left the bus around 10 p.m. So to Strome where the rest of the group was dropped off.

This was really too long a trip to make in two days and be able to stop at all the beauty spots passed. But it was two days of beautiful scenery and good company, and most of those on the tour are looking forward to another one.

Dayland kindergarten underway

The Sunbeam Club met September 20 in the Dayland hall with 30 members present. There were seven tables of whist played and people played crib. There were two with a high score of 36. Mrs. Tansy and Mrs. Manning, Law of 15 went to Mrs. Agnes Twitcheil. Mrs. McMurphy gave a talk on the talking and large print books the Dayland Library has now.

The Dayland kindergarten parents held the first meeting of the new term on Tuesday, September 12. Several mothers were present as well as Mrs. Rittammer, Mrs. Reist and the teacher for the Special Education Class, Miss S. McGill. Nineteen children attended the first half day of kindergarten on Monday morning, September 18. The children will now attend each Monday, Wednesday and Friday morning until Christmas when they start on a two-day a week schedule. Their program consists of many learning situations plus opportunities for singing, group games, craft work, personal growth, paper work, language development, motor co-ordination and the enjoyment of a nutritious snack.

Visiting at Mr. and Mrs. Jim McMurphy is Jim's mother, Mrs. Iris McMurphy of Reston, Manitoba.

The Dayland Rural Library Board met at the home of Mrs. E. McMurphy. Also present was Rudolph Kerhoven of N.A.L.D.S. to talk about services and books available to rural libraries; Mrs. Susan Bratty of Calgary representing Alberta Library Services for the Handicapped was present to demonstrate the use of recorders and cassette talking books. The Library has talking books for demonstrating to interested patrons. Please contact Mrs. McMurphy or any library board member for further information.

Visitors for Mrs. Fred Makarowski's birthday were Kay Lassenew from Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hamilton, Pamela and Fred, granddaughter Susan Schottland of Kamloops B.C., Marvin Makarowski and family and grandson Barry Lassenew from Camrose.

The Friendship Club meeting was held September 19 in the United Church social room. The president, Lydia Wendt, opened the meeting with a welcome back and the hymn "Bringing in the Sheaves" was sung. The devotion was read by Laura Graham (Pleading Atonement). The roll call was answered by 24 members and there was one visitor present. Minutes were read by Susan Midbo, and also the treasurer's report.

A motion was made to answer the roll call by sick visits made. It was decided to have our turkey dinner at our next meeting October 17 instead of at Christmas. A motion was made to hold our Bazaar on November 21.

Mrs. Tansy and Laura Graham gave a demonstration of the talking books from the library. They played a cassette and passed out papers on the large print books that are also available from any member.

The winners of the Rodeo Raffle were: 1st prize, Elaine Dietrich of Camrose; 2nd prize, D. Carter of Edmonton; 3rd prize, Nan Paulgard of Dayland - $100.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Jim Manning of Dayland on the passing of her brother, Mr. George Erickson of Melville.

in celebrating the 40th anniversary of our Killam Branch on September 29th.

Killam was one of the first nine Treasury Branches to open in Alberta forty years ago in 1938.
Now we have 98 branches and 93 agencies and provide a full range of financial services for Albertans.

We've come a long way. And we'd like you to join us in a celebration of our progress. Whether you're a Treasury Branch customer or not, drop in on September 29th for coffee and a chat.

Branches to meet with customers and friends.

It was on September 30, 1938 that Treasury Branch opened in Killam. Jerry Hoyarchuk, manager of the Killam Branch, and his staff of 12 look forward to celebrating Treasury Branch's 40th anniversary throughout the day.

Treasury Branches were established primarily to ensure that adequate financial services were available to rural Alberta through a network of Branches and Agencies. Services are now provided by 96 branches, one dependent branch, two sub branches and 89 agencies in 136 communities, with the head office in Edmonton and regional offices in Calgary and Grande Prairie.

"There are requests for full branch services from more than 80 communities, and we are moving as rapidly as possible to meet these requests," Mr.
Sparrow stated. "During the current year, new offices will be opened at Milk River, Col-dale, Twifield, Sundre, Red water and Red Deer, and there are nine additional branches in varying stages of development scheduled for rural communities."

"We will be pioneering a new approach to community service with the introduction of a Branchmobile in Fort Vermilion and La Crete," said Mr.

Sparrow. "Based at High Level, the mobile unit will visit both Fort Vermilion and La Crete twice a week each providing a complete financial service to residents of the area. We anticipate an expansion of this type of service in other areas of the province once we have assessed the operation," concluded Mr.
Sparrow.

In recent years, Treasury Branches have implemented many major programs which have placed special emphasis on serving the needs of rural Alberta. As a result, deposits have grown to more than $14 billion, while loans and investments have surpassed $1.1 billion.

New shopping complex opens soon

Ed Heisler

A new shopping complex, the Killam-Strome Co-op in Killam, is scheduled to have its grand opening starting Thursday, October 12, announced store manager Ed Heisler.

A special ribbon cutting ceremony is due to take place at 10 a.m. on Thursday.

This complex, which was built at a cost of $1.2 million, will feature two new areas of customer service, the bakery and the cafeteria.

The bakery, staffed by three fulltime employees, will be making all the baked goods that any other bakery would carry such as breads and cakes.

The cafeteria will be able to serve 52 people at a time and will also be staffed by three full-time employees as well as part-time people, added Mr. Heisler.

The Killam-Strome Co-op will also be offering its customers the convenience of six day shopping. The complex will be open Mondays through Saturdays from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. with Thursday set aside for late night shopping. Hours on Thursday will be from 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m.

This extra shopping day is due to the fact that the lumber facilities will be housed in the main complex whereas, before, the lumberyard was in a separate building.

"Since we're the only lumberyard in town, we thought it was necessary to stay open the extra day," explained Mr. Heisler.
Keeping pace to other modern day shopping complexes, the Killam-Strome Co-op has also allowed ample parking space for its customers. The parking lot has room for 72 vehicles.

The site of the new centre is almost double to that of the old building. The new site of the Co-op is 30,486 square feet while the old structure was only about 12,000 square feet, said
Mr. Heisler.

Other departments to be included in the new structure are grocery, meat, produce, hardware, appliances, dry goods, animal health and building supplies.

Hutterite's cause worry

Residents of the Viking area have recently held meetings over the issue of the possible establishment of another Hutterite colony in their vicinity. This possibility has also spread to the Sedgewick and Killam area.

As a result of this knowledge it was thought that a summary of an article printed in the Viking Review about the issue, would be of interest to residents of this area as well.

The first meeting in Viking was held on September 18, 1978 after some area residents learned of efforts by the Win-chou Real Estate firm from Millett to gather a large parcel of land for a Hutterite colony.
Mr. Minchew said that he had a net amount of money for the purchasing of land and that he was attempting to buy as much as possible with the money. A colony elsewhere in Alberta was splitting in two and needed a new location.

He said he felt the establishment of another colony in the area would have no adverse effect.

The people who attended the meeting did not share Mr. Minchew's sentiments.

Discussion at the meeting began with one citizen saying he felt that the Hutterite brethren contributed little, if any, to the economic life, social life, entertainment or the school life of the community, while the displaced farmers contribute

Neighbors keep an eye out for each other

Being your brother's keeper is what the Neighborhood Watch is all about, says Sergeant Black of the Killam
RCMP detachment.

The concept of being your brother's keeper is not a new one but a way of thinking that has had a recent rebirth.

People are becoming concerned about rising crime rates and they want their neighborhoods to be safe. This new concern is spreading throughout cities as well as smaller communities like those in Flagstaff County.

As an outgrowth of this new concern, the province of Alberta has initiated a program called Neighborhood Watch.

It's designed to have citizens keep an eye on the property of neighbors who are away on holidays, sick or otherwise away from their place of residence.

To start, a Neighborhood
Watch, a community must first set up a meeting with the nearest RCMP detachment.

At the meeting, RCMP lay out the groundwork for the communities by helping them divide the town into zones and appointing some foremen. It's usually service clubs who get involved during this stage of the program, acting as initia-tors.

When talking to the service groups, the RCMP trust them as assistants explaining what should be done when a neighbor is absent, how to observe suspicious movements and what action to take when something out of the ordinary is noticed.

During the meeting, RCMP also issue the groups with special equipment that allows them to mark personal property in such a way that it is unrecognizable to the human eye. RCMP also demonstrate ways and means

COME ALIVE...

by Stewart Abel

A THANKFUL HEART
Thanksgiving Day, such as is celebrated in Canada and the United States, is not a Christian holiday as Christmas and Easter are. Nevertheless, the overtones of thankfulness as a habit and a way of life are very Christian.

In nearly everyone's life letters to the church, the Apostle Paul emphasizes the necessity of thankfulness as a quality and a way of life. To the Thessalonians church he states, "To everything give thanks, for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you." (I Thess. 5:18) To the Colossians church he speaks of an "abounding therein with thanksgiving." And to the Philippians church he says even their prayers should be filled with thanksgiving - with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God." (Phil. 4:6) In the Roman letter when analysing the cause of serious backsliding he says, "they glorified Him not as God neither were thankful." (Rom. 1:23)

It is easy to gather from God's Book that thankfulness is basic to a happy and healthy way of life. We have all read books that have helped us to have a positive attitude toward life. We have been thankful for their help. But one of the most basic qualities, and one that will

Past resident of Battle Bend laid to rest

On Thursday, September 21, 1978, Mrs. Elizabeth Rittenhouse of Sylvan Lake, Alberta (formerly of the Battle Bend, district) passed away at the age of 89 at the home of her daughter in Edmonton.

She leaves to mourn her loving family, two sons and four daughters: Dorothy (Mrs. William Wilson) of Kelowna, B.C.; Hans (Mrs. Barry Lindemann) of Edmonton; Leslie of Alberta; Dick of Leithbridge; Grace (Mrs. Charles Smith) of Sherwood Park; and Elva (Mrs. Jack Zimmerman); as well as 23 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren.

Services were held Monday, September 25 at the Battle Bend Community Hall with the Reverend John Yoe of Sylvan Lake officiating. Interment was in the family plot of the Battle Bend cemetery. Fox & Sons Funeral Service of Kilham was in charge of arrangements.

KEEPING IN TOUCH

by Arnold Malone, M.P.

Are You a British Subject?

Some day there will be a federal election. It is true that it is not an overstatement. If, however, you are a British subject who has not yet taken out Canadian citizenship, you should be aware that there are changes to the Canada Elections Act that affect you.

Under the Canada Elections Act prior to the amendments of 1970, the people who could vote in a federal election were classified as "Canadian citizens or other British subjects." The 1970 amendments restricted the right to vote in a federal election to Canadian citizens only. This Act definitely affects the voting rights of British Subjects, including those who have exercised their franchise in one or more past elections.

The Act provided that British Subjects, who were not Canadian citizens, but who qualified at the time of the 1966 general election, could continue to vote in federal elections for a period not longer than five years. Accordingly, since June 28, 1975, only persons with Canadian citizenship have the right to vote in Canadian federal elections.

The Canada Elections Act is quite specific that after June 28, 1975, an elector registered as a Canadian citizen in order to vote. It should be noted, however, that proof of Canadian citizenship is not required at the time of enumeration or when voting at the polls. However, a person may be challenged to prove he is a Canadian citizen by the deputy returning officer, the poll clerk, or one of the candidates or his agent, or any elector.

or present at the poll. If a potential voter has been challenged, he must either produce evidence of citizenship or take an oath that he is a Canadian citizen. Anyone refusing to do either of the above will not be readmitted to the polling station.

Under the new Citizenship Act, proclaimed on February 18, 1977, all landed immigrants must wait a minimum of three years, rather than five years previously, before applying for Canadian citizenship. These people living in Canada who are British subjects and have resided for a period longer than three years could obtain their citizenship papers quickly and without difficulty. On the average, the granting of citizenship to a qualified person usually takes a period of three months from the date of application.

Moreover, it should be understood that British subjects who have lived in Canada for the past 50 or 60 years without taking out Canadian citizenship should take note of the following points quoted from a letter received from the Registrar, Canadian Citizenship Branch of the Government of Canada, dated June 28, 1978:

"In this connection, I should like to point out that the following categories of British subjects became Canadian citizens with the coming into force of the Citizenship Act on January 1, 1947:

(a) A British subject who had Canadian domicile, i.e. a British subject who had been admitted to be a landed immigrant before January 1, 1947;

(b) A British subject who had his place of domicile in Canada for 30 years immediately before January 1, 1947 and who was not under an order of deportation; or

The next election now appears to be some months away. It would be most unfortunate if anyone who has traditionally exercised their franchise or wanted to vote in the next election was unable to do so for the lack of knowledge of the new amendments. If the above information is personally applicable to you, may I suggest that you contact the nearest Court of Canadian Citizenship, listed in your telephone book under "Government of Canada"; write to the Registrar of Canadian Citizenship, Department of the Secretary of State, Ottawa, Ontario, K1A 0M5; or write to me c/o Room 545 CB, House of Commons, Ottawa, K1A 0S2.

I have not tried to editorialize in agreement or disagreement with the federal Act, but would want to alert all constituents who might be British subjects presently, that the rules of the game have changed and they would want to continue to be able to keep in touch with your federal government through the privilege of your vote.

Beef and grain producers bulletin

GREENWICH BY YOUR LOCAL D.A.

Cattleman: Alberta Agriculture's Minister Marvin Mason has announced the Cow-Calf Advance Program will be extended in a modified form for one year past the current expiry date of January 1, 1979. The revision has been announced encompasses curtailing any new loans and increasing interest rates on existing loans as part of the current phase out. People who still have loans will be able to extend the terms within 30 days after the date of his original loan, at an interest rate of prime plus one per cent. Producers wishing to take advantage of the extended guarantee option should contact the lending institution that provided their current loans before its anniversary date arrives.

Another reminder from Alberta Agriculture is that the treatment season is just around the corner. All producers are urged to treat their cattle promptly to avoid costly losses in production and marketing of their cattle.

Grain Farmer: Alberta Premier Peter Lougheed has announced that the Alberta Government will institute an interim program providing a 10 cent per gallon transportation allowance for use in grain drying. The program is intended to assist farmers whose grain drying requirements cannot be provided by a natural gas Co-op. To obtain the rebate, farmers will need to apply to an individual natural gas Co-op who is unable to supply natural gas for drying.

Application forms will be available in November from propane distributors and district agriculturalists. In the meantime, farmers are urged to retain receipts for propane purchased on or after September 1, 1978 for use in grain drying.

An increasing number of reports are being received on grain infestations of the Rusty Grain and Red Flour Beet in 1977 stored grain. Dry grain is one safeguard against a pest infestation. You are urged to check your bins regularly.

West Coast Grain Tour: We would like to announce that we are again trying to organize an annual West Coast Grain Tour for the last week in November. This is a one week tour of Vancouver Grain Ports and grain handling facilities. In the past, the tours have been very interesting, informative, and very well received.

Any farmer interested or wanting further information are asked to contact the Sedgewick D.A.'s office.

Syd Walker: man of vision honoured

by Carol Wilson
The following is a tribute to the first beef leader in the County of Flagstaff, Alberta as well as a Hereford breeder since 1940—Syd Walker of Iron Creek Herefords, Kilham, Alberta.

The Kilham 4-H Beef Club celebrated 52 years in existence having been started in 1946 by Ken Gibb, Frank Wilson, Dave Anderson and Syd Walker, all of Kilham.

Syd also gives credit to Geo. Goldberg and Bill Moisey, Camrose, consecutive D.A.'s at that time, and later Larry Williams, D.A., Sedgewick (Flagstaff).

Syd was born in Tattersett, England in 1893. He came to

Syd Walker

Canada in 1912, after he had unsuccessfully tried to book voyage on the Titanic.

Syd relates how he had seen an ad in a Canadian paper with an annual salary of $250 per man. Wages in England at that time were 12 shillings. "4-H has proven to be so good that it has spread to many countries and you should be proud to be a member," says Syd. "4-H members learn best by actually doing the work: the most practical way of all. The measure of each individual's success is what he or she achieves personally."

"If you practice the teaching of the 4-Hers" you will grow up to be the kind of citizens that our country needs and of whom we shall all be proud."

Syd feels 4-H has improved. Other than learning to do by doing, he says the best aspect of 4-H is learning proper business procedures in meetings, how to speak publicly and gaining self-confidence.

Syd has actively supported 4-H throughout the years and we consider his experience and consideration a worthwhile heritage. Syd has retired now from raising cattle, having sold his last bull this spring.

We thank you, Syd Walker, and countless others like yourself who believed in the youth of yesterday, today and tomorrow.

Visiting with Mrs. Heron was son, Jim, and his wife, Shirley.

If your Canada Savings Bonds mature this year Now's the time to reinvest in new Canada Savings Bonds

Here are three easy steps to keep your money working for you.

- 1. Locate and identify your bonds
Two Series of Canada Savings Bonds mature this Fall:
1969/70 Series ($24) maturing November 1, 1978.
1968 Special Replacement Series (SR) maturing October 1, 1978.
Look for "S24" or "SR" preceding the serial number on the corner of your maturing bonds.

- 2. Find out the cash value of your bonds
At maturity every holder of "S24" or "SR" bonds will receive the face value shown on the bond, plus a special cash bonus payment and any interest payable on the bonds.
If you have any questions about the value of your bonds, just ask the people where you bank or invest.

- 3. Special arrangements make it easy to reinvest Simply present your "S24" and "SR" Series Canada Savings Bonds to your bank or other authorized redemption agent. All the paperwork in connection with the redemption of your bonds will be done for you at that time. For "S24" bonds the transfer of funds will take place automatically on November 1.

In the same transaction, you can sign up for the new 1978/79 Series Canada Savings Bonds. You may reinvest all proceeds from your maturing bonds in the new Series. Also, you may buy an additional amount up to $50,000, the purchase limit of the 1978/79 Series. It's a great way to keep your money working for you!

Act now
There are more than 900,000 Canadians who own maturing bonds. If you are one of them, go to your bank, investment dealer, trust company or credit union and make arrangements to reinvest in the new Canada Savings Bonds. Do it now and avoid the rush!

New Canada Savings Bonds offer you a great choice

With the new Series, you have a choice of bonds. There's a Regular Interest Bond that pays interest each year. And a Compound Interest Bond that reinvests your interest automatically, earning interest on your interest.

The Regular Interest Bond
If you want a regular annual income from your investment, you'll like the Regular Interest Bond which pays interest automatically each November 1.

If you'd like many bondholders, you'll appreciate the direct deposit feature. With this convenient option, your interest is deposited directly into your chequing or savings account. Simply ask for it when you buy your new bonds. Or, you can receive your interest by cheque through the mail.

The Compound Interest Bond
If you seek savings growth, or an investment for the future, or a retirement fund, you'll choose the Compound Interest Bond which earns interest on your interest, after the first year, at the guaranteed annual rate of 8.90%. For example, a $100 bond will grow to $181.74 at maturity in just 8 years.

Security and Instant cash
Whichever type of bond you choose, you will own a safe, secure investment which can be turned into instant cash whenever you need it.

Agood return

New Canada Savings Bonds are dated November 1, 1978 and yield an average annual interest of 8.90% when held to maturity in 1985. Each new bond earns interest of 8.50% the first year and 9% for each of the remaining 6 years.

Buying Canada Savings Bonds has been a great Canadian tradition for over 30 years. They're the proven choice.

Galahad school 'welcomes' students

Our annual initiation was held on September 28. An assortment of "creatures" paraded downtown during the one hour and under the watchful eyes of their masters performed various tasks. Kangaroo Court followed at 3:30 and despite the strict obedience throughout the day, the initiates found themselves declared guilty anyway. The day ended with a party and lunch.

This year, the school is having House Leagues. All the students take part. The teams will play for points, two for winning and one for good sportsmanship and participation. Points are also being awarded for marks on our Report Cards. To make it more interesting, the winning team, at the end of each semester, is being treated to hamburgers and fries.

Our teachers have begun a morning fitness program with us. We jog and exercise for 20 minutes before school every morning.

The Students' Union Executive has been elected for another year. They are: President, Stuart McMahon; Vice-President, Lyle Buchholz; Secretary, Della Hunter; Treasurer, David Kertin; Social Convener, Paul Kertin; Sports Convener, Dan Rosing; and News Convener, Leslie Ledoux.

Mr. Dick Donald was a visitor at the Wise home Tuesday while Mrs. Betty Donald accompanied her father, Bill Wise, to the official meeting of the Weathy Grand Matron. Mrs. Kay McElin and Worthy Grand Patron, Mr. Jack, to Forestburg.

Mrs. Adeline Kuefler visited her mother, Mrs. Matt Nishaus on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Winters were Sherwood Park visitors last weekend visiting their children, Mr. and Mrs. Sim Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Ward.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Strub were guests of her father and brother, Mr. Mike Mecher and Teddy.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Wise were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Donald of Ponoka. Mr. Wise was a business visitor in Wetaskiwin on Thursday.

Miss Iva Kuefler was a weekend guest at her parents, the Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kuefler's.

Mr. Bill Wise and Mr. Gerald Oberg accompanied Mr. Herb Dietz to Forestburg on Thursday to a Masonic meeting where Mr. Gerald Oberg received his 50-year pin. Congratulations.

Randy Stenwand of Halkirk was guest speaker at the Missionary on Sunday evening, September 24. Randy is a student of Mountain View Bible College in Didsbury. He spent the summer as a short time missionary to Haiti. His presentation of Haiti and its people by slides and comments was very interesting and informative.

Randy and his parents were supper guests at the Gene Whitelands.

A number of former Galahad folk visited the village this week. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Farquist of Camrose, Art Jackson of Edmonton, Paul Perreault and son Phillip of Three Hills and Mr. and Mrs. Doug Fox of Calgary.

The Allan Bowens were callers at the Robert Bowens home. Roy and Joe Burke of Devon also were visitors in Galahad on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Howlett of Sherwood Park are enjoying a holiday at the Robert Bowens home.

Home last weekend were Brenda Buchholz and Karen and Ken Minter. Shirley Wetmore is enjoying a week's holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wetmore.

Mr. Peter Miller accompanied

Mr. Bill Wise to Forestburg on Friday on a business visit.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. Ken Radomski, who got word Tuesday of the sudden passing of his father, Mr. Lawrence Radomski of Valley View. Funeral service was held in Wetaskiwin on Monday.

Bob and Sheila Radomski of Saskatoon, Wayne and Ricky Radomski of Stettin, and Virginia Mitchell of California were weekend visitors at the Otto Blumhagen home.

Mr. Allen Rao and Sheila Pals of Stettin were Sunday visitors at the Otto Blumhagen home.

Heisler south dairy club holds year's first meeting

Monday, September 18, the Heisler South Dairy Club held its reorganizational meeting with 12 former members and one new member present.

Our new member is Grant Lantz.

After the regular business, the new executives for the 1978-79 term were elected. They are: President, Karen Lantz; Vice-President, Jane Martz; Secretary, Shama Lantz; Treasurer, Michelle Strauss; Librarian, Grant Lantz.

Our regular meeting night is the third Monday of every month.

82nd year celebrated

The Birthday Club gathered at the club home to help Mrs. Theresa Schuster celebrate her 82nd birthday. Hostesses were Mary Heisler and Frances Nicholson.

Ed and Johanna Dietrich of Sylvan Lake spent the weekend with Johanna's mother, Mrs. Theresa Schuster.

Born to Doug and Mary Minken of Okotoks on October 1, a boy, Doug and Mary are naming him David Albert. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Candion and Mr. and Mrs. John Minken of Kelvington, Saskatchewan.

Josie Congdon is taking her nurses aid training at the vocational centre and staying at the General Hospital in Calgary.

Clarence Reuther spent a week in the Daysland Hospital. Visitors over the weekend with Clarence and Emma Reuther were Lillian and Ray Hutchinson and Frank and Vivian Banack and family of Fort Saskatchewan.

Visitors with Lawrence and Rita Sunderman were their

NUTRITIOUS SNACK IDEAS

Snacking is a part of our everyday life. The snacks we consume should contribute to our daily nutrient needs. When choosing a snack, consider milk or juice instead of pop, coffee, or tea; peanuts or sunflower seeds instead of a chocolate bar; or perhaps an apple instead of a piece of chocolate cake.

Here are a few nutritious snack ideas you might like to make for your children.

Yogurt Popicles: are a simple, nutritious snack. Combine 2 parts plain yogurt and 1 part thawed concentrated fruit juice. Add 1 tsp. vanilla per cup of yogurt. Pour into plastic popsicle molds or paper cups. Place sticks or spoons in center and freeze. Experiment with portions. You may wish to dilute the fruit concentrate or blend several flavours together.

Banana Popicles: are a banana cut in half, a popsicle stick pushed into the cut end, and frozen. Skin on. Just peel off the skin and serve as is or dip in melted chocolate. (I bet it would be good rolled in cinnamon or hot chocolate, or in a mixture of the two.)

Peas and Butter Rolls:

1/4 cup Peas (frozen) Boiled 1/4 cup white corn syrup 1/4 cup skim milk powder Roll into balls. Roll in crushed cornflakes.

Legal age dropped, 16 for boys and girls

EDMONTON — The age at which girls can no longer be dealt with in Juvenile Court has been changed in Alberta from 18 to 16 effective October 1, it was announced by Attorney General Jim Foster.

At the request of the Alberta government, a proclamation under the juvenile delinquency act which allowed boys to be treated as juveniles until the age of 18 and girls until 16, has been revoked by the government. Although the provinces use different ages for juveniles, only Alberta made the distinction between the sexes.

Alberta Supreme Court Justice W.J.C. Kirby recommended in his report on the juvenile justice system last year that "the distinction prevailing in Alberta between the maximum ages for boys and girls for the purpose of jurisdiction of the juvenile delinquents act should be discontinued."

THE NEWCOMER
 As the new day dawns
 A discovery is made
 The robins and starlings flit about Announcing the arrival

A dog peers around the corner
 Two mice and their young
 Peer curiously from their warm nest
 A rabbit listens attentively
 In a patch of clover
 A mother cat and her kittens
 Climb down from the loft
 The animals all gather round the stall
 And watch as mare and foal
 Meet for the first time
 Then the foal turns and nickers
 Gently
 To those who have come to welcome her
 Into the world

REMEMBER, SABER!

Remember, Saber, the long, clandestine walks in the field by the pond, chasing birds and butterflies through the meadow!

Remember?
 Remember, Saber, playing hide and seek in the old house, racing through the powdered snow in the winter?

Remember, Saber, exchanging hopes and fears in private moments, sharing joys and sorrows, the good times and the bad?

Remember?
 I remember that you asked for so very little, yet you gave so very much.
 And for that, Saber, I love you,

Legislative Report

Heated discussions over energy

After a long truce, the dispute over energy resources between Ottawa and Alberta just kept coming to the same well worn theme.

The talks, which will continue, over the January 1 oil price rise are not just because they involve an agreement that Alberta leaders view as binding. Fundamental economic strategies are affected.

Gillespie said Canadian industry must not be crippled on markets by excessive energy prices and he wants a pause in increases. He insisted Canadian gas markets must be served first, and by "flexible" pricing.

On the other side, Premier Peter Lougheed last February told Quebec and the Atlantic provinces he wanted to hear within a few months if they will buy more Alberta gas. His alternative was more exports to the U.S.

During the recent Peace River area cabinet tour, he urged Ottawa to permit more gas exports. And he promised to report significant progress this fall on efforts to improve access to U.S. markets for other Alberta products in exchange for more gas exports.

As a result, Gillespie's tough talk comes at a very sensitive time from the Alberta government's perspective. Lougheed has been working at parlaying gas into more favorable trade arrangements with the U.S. for more than two years. His administration shows no signs of knocking under to Ottawa's new version of the economic "national interest" easily.

Neighbours

for homes and businesses to provide themselves with better security, such as locks that could be used on doors and windows.

After this meeting is over, the RCMP step out of the picture. Then it's up to the community to take charge and handle the organization of their Neighborhood Watch.

"We like to get the community involved and then let them work it out for themselves," explained Sgt. Black.

Adding that the program will only be as good as what the people put into it.

Kilham was the first community in the county to get started in the Neighborhood Watch and has been busy expanding the operation for several months.

Dayland and Hardisty are in the process of joining the ranks now too.

The meetings have been well attended and the people seem to be enthusiastic about the formation of the watch.

"We hope this will aid us quite a bit. If the communities become involved wholeheartedly, it should work."

The Kilham RCMP detachment has 1,800 square miles to patrol daily and generally with only three officers on duty each day. A task that is almost impossible to carry out.

The Neighborhood Watch is a fairly new concept for Alberta.
"It's young and there's no feedback that is forthcoming as of yet."

However, police officials are hopeful that this type of program will help cut down drastically on the amount of theft and vandalism which has been on the continual increase and shows no sign of retreating.

Taking the temptation away from theft and vandalism!
Putting locks on doors is part of a self protection routine that could stop a potential thief.
Vandalism, such as the broken window at the County building, could have been avoided with a Neighborhood Watch, a new program the RCMP are now promoting in our communities to reduce crime rates.

Cambridge Community Assoc.

Group meets after two months

The Cambridge Community Association got underway on the afternoon of September 30 after a two-month recess due to harvest.

We did hold a brief meeting in June following the closing of the Cambridge School. During June, we held open house for Jack and Ruth Potter, and combined this with our annual picnic which we all enjoyed, even though it was a cloudy, cool day.

This month's meeting was held in the basement of the Lutheran Church in Sedgewick as Valda as hostess and Irene as co-hostess. We had a good turnout with 12 members attending and two little visitors.

Several got well, sympathy and thinking of you cards were sent out during the summer, so even though we missed some meetings, our club was still active.

We again discussed our name quilt and decided to try to complete it as soon as possible. We are to try to get the blocks finished and brought in by the next meeting if possible.

We received the material to canvass for the blind and had some discussion and changes in some of the routes to suit these canvassing. People of the Lougheed district can expect to be canvassed in the near future.
We have had good responses in the past.

Our roll call called for hints on gardening. These turned out to be mostly comments about our gardens - mainly the same, frost and drought. But perhaps next year things will be better.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Valda Cookson with Leslie Wylie as co-hostess. The roll call will be an item for our Sister Sister with the Halloween theme, so these should be interesting.

For our contact, we had to identify 10 objects in a paper bag by feel only and write down as many as we could remember.
Valda Cookson and Donna Martin were the most successful at this, with Elsie Cookson and Valda Storhagen low. Dorothy, Valda, Irene and Leslie donated to the Birthday Box.

Elsie Cookson adjourned the meeting. We repeated the Lord's Prayer and then Valda and Irene served a delicious lunch.

Super guests at the home of Mrs. Essie Drager were: Mr.
Ted Drager of Wetaskiwin,
Norman Wickman from Bitlers
Lake and Mrs. Susie Drager of Camrose.

Molly Farnsworth had her brother, Henry Farnsworth, and also Mr. George Gibbs of Chauvin visiting her last Tuesday.

Mr. George Wota of the Flagstaff Lodge in Sedgewick was around town visiting one day last week.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Westra who were married in July.

Essie Drager has a cotton plant growing in her home. The cotton balls are very interesting to see, so, keep them growing.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Wylie and Molly Farnsworth were in Camrose last Thursday, also at Bethany Children's Home at Gwynne. They had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Les Smith (nee Sandra Wylie) and family. They help to manage the Home there. It was a lovely drive out there with all the lovely-colour-

Mr. Bill Yates has nearly all his family home these days for his son Bob's September 30 wedding. Congratulations to the newlyweds.

Valda Probst of Edmonton and Gary and Sharon Jeffery of Whitecourt were home visiting their parents and family last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Leebing of Camrose called in to visit with Mrs. Essie Drager one day last week. They were on their way home from Saskatchewan.

Debbie Meakin and Brian Twenty have been very busy getting their future home (the house once owned by George Hotal) redecorated and cleaned up and ready to live in after their lovely big day coming up in October.

Get well wishes to Mrs. Inga

With the assistance provided by Manor Manufactured Homes you can be your own contractor, do much of the work yourself and save on the costs of your home. Your total Manor Home package includes:

- A home design to suit your family's requirements.
- Advice on securing building permits and financing.
- Detailed building information required to build your own home.
- Pre-cut or pre-assembled material required for the carpentering of your home.

Select your new home from an award winning design series

Choose your new home from an extensive selection of floor plans. These designs incorporate the newest ideas and features available in today's homes.

One-stop shopping

The Manor Home foundation package includes pre-cut floor joists, beams and subfloor. The framing and exterior interior finishing package includes pre-manufactured wall panels, roof trusses and sheathing, furniture finished kitchen cabinets with cabinet tops, and all windows and doors.
Virtually all the material required in the carpentering of your Hospital administration explained

The following review of hospital districts and boards in the area is presented in the interests of public awareness. Individuals or organizations wishing more detail should feel free to contact any of the hospital trustees named. Members of the boards are also available to meet with organizations at mutually convenient times for the same purpose, should this be requested.

Flagstaff-Hughenden General Hospital District #55

This general hospital district was established in September, 1972, by provincial Order-in-Council as a result of notification by the Sisters of Charity of their wish to withdraw from St. Ann's Hospital in Hardisty (then a voluntary hospital). In establishing this district, the province decided to include in its bounds those areas served by three other voluntary hospitals, namely, Providence Hospital in Daysland, St. Joseph's in Galtland and the General Hospital in Killam, as none of these were then located in an organized general hospital district. The newly-created board of trustees, however, assumed ownership and management of only the Hardisty hospital at that time. In 1974, this board was granted jurisdiction over the Daysland Hospital with the withdrawal of the Sisters from that point. On September 1 this year the same board assumed ownership of the Galtland Hospital with the departure of the Sisters of St. Joseph from that community. With the addition of this general hospital district in 1972, it was decided to form one Ward in the western part of the M.D. of Provost (an area surrounding Hughenden that used the Hardisty Hospital) and eight Wards covering the County of Flagstaff and the towns and villages therein. The present trustees, as appointed by the respective councils, are: F.E. Blair, Hardisty (Ward 1); Alfred Randa, Alliance (Ward 2); William Sandmaier, Forestburg (Ward 3); George Mathews, Hardisty (Ward 4); Chairman: Arthur Easty, Sedgewick (Ward 5); Edward Fee, Killam (Ward 6); Sylvester Kuntz, Heister (Ward 7); George Borgel, Strome (Ward 8); and Eugene Waldorf, Daysland (Ward 9). This Board of Trustees has appointed Wilfred West as District Administrator. In this capacity, Mr. West is responsible to the board for day-to-day operations of the three general hospitals in Hardisty, Daysland and Galtland.

Flagstaff Auxiliary Hospital and Nursing Home District #22

In 1962, the province incorporated the Flagstaff-Beaver Auxiliary Hospital District #22 including therein the County of Flagstaff, the County of Beaver and the towns and villages in both. When the board of trustees of this district was named, it proceeded to plan and build an Auxiliary (long-term care) hospital in Killam. This project was completed in late 1965 in close co-operation with the Sisters Council and Advisory Board of the Killam General Hospital, who were building a new general hospital at that time.

With the establishment of an amalgamated Viking General Hospital and Nursing Home District in the County of Beaver in 1975, the boundaries of the Flagstaff-Beaver Auxiliary District were amended by deleting therefrom the County of Beaver. The name was accordingly changed by government order to Flagstaff Auxiliary Hospital and Nursing Home District #22 and the wards redefined. With one exception, the new wards in the Auxiliary district are the same as the wards in the Flagstaff-Hughenden General Hospital District. (No part of the M.D. of Provost is in the Auxiliary District.) Current trustees of the Auxiliary Hospital Board are: Alfred Randa, Alliance (Ward 1); William Sandmaier, Forestburg (Ward 2); George Mathews, Hardisty (Ward 3); Arthur Easty, Sedgewick (Ward 4); Edward Fee, Killam (Ward 5); Chairman: Sylvester Kuntz, Heister (Ward 6); George Borgel, Strome (Ward 7); and Eugene Waldorf, Daysland (Ward 8). While the ward representatives on the Auxiliary Board are, at present, the same individuals who represent Flagstaff wards on the Flagstaff-Hughenden General Hospital Board, this is simply because the contributing councils saw fit to appoint the same individuals to both boards. The Auxiliary district board is responsible for the Auxiliary Hospital and Nursing Home care within its bounds and to that end owns and operates the Auxiliary Hospital in Killam. Due to the extensive shortage of services with the Killam General, the Auxiliary board works in close co-operation with the Sisters and Advisory Board of that hospital. The extent of the co-operation between the two is demonstrated by the fact that the Administrator appointed to the Killam General (Sister Rose Ellen) is employed also by the Auxiliary board as the Auxiliary Hospital administrator.

Killam General Hospital Advisory Board

In 1959, the governments of Canada and the provinces entered into an agreement that resulted in the Alberta Hospitalization Benefits Plan wherein in all approved hospitals (including private or voluntary hospitals such as Killam) were largely funded by public money. The Sisters at Killam were among the first to agree with suggestions of government that Advisory boards of local citizens should be formed to assist in operating the hospitals. The Killam General Hospital Advisory Board came into being in 1959 and has continued working with the Sisters Council over the years. Members are drawn from the general area served. Present membership is: George Borgel and Donald Hayes of Strome; Irene French and George Wellman (recently resigned) of Sedgewick; and Dr. M.H. De Abree, Edward Fee (Chairman) and Dr. T.C. Adams (medical representative) of Killam. This board works closely with the Flagstaff Auxiliary & Nursing Home District Board in the operation of the two hospitals which comprise the Killam Hospital Complex.

Hutterites . . .

Continued from front page: communities as all they have is land and there is land available which is not near visible communities such as Viking. It was also pointed out that once established, colonies never sell land, they only expand.

Many of those present echoed these same concerns. Since the passing of Alberta's Human Rights Act, however, any regulations dealing with the establishment of Hutterite colonies have been removed. There is no legal means of preventing the formation of a colony.

The land surrounding the Viking area was not all of high farm quality. It was noted that the best land was being sought for purchase, and that the amount of high income producing land in the hands of independent farmers. An action that could have a very noticeable effect on the community at large.

As a result of these meetings, the Viking people have formed a panel that will approach the provincial government with a recommendation that all types of government work together, including Hutterite colony councils, and develop long term zoning plans encompassing the expansion of future colony needs.

District ladies attend Bible workshop

On September 30, a Bible study workshop was held in Hardisty for members of the ACW and guild of St. Edmunds, with members of the Hardisty UCW and CWL also invited. Due to the lovely weather and urgency of harvest, attendance was less than expected.

The ladies gathered at St. Mark's Church at 2 o'clock for registration and a service of Holy Communion, then proceeded to the Drop-In Centre where coffee was served. Before settling into an hour of Bible Study led by Rev. Richard Conrad.

Sections of the Ten Commandments and apparent contradictions in parts of the Old Testament were discussed, resulting in a most interesting afternoon.

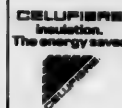

A recreational hour followed, after which the members of St. Mark's Guild served a delicious supper. The guest speaker was Rev. Bob Chappel of Sedgewick United Church. His topic was 'The Church and Social Work'. Special attention was devoted to the help that can be given to those released from mental hospitals and prisons. A general discussion followed the talk, and the ladies departed with the feeling of a very worthwhile session.

Former residents visit area

Mrs. Harry Perkins and her daughter Graymath, both of Victoria, spent a short time in Hardisty while here. Mrs. Marjorie Drager gave a tea in their honour and 13 of their old friends attended. They spent a happy time remembering "way back when."

The ministers of the Coronation Presbytery held a very successful meeting at the United Church camp at Hardisty Lake.

While in Camrose, I saw a familiar Hardisty car drive up to Allen Hope's house. It must have been Jake visiting his uncle Allen.

Recent visitors at the Herb Rombough home and Alwyn Mose's were parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Landale from Edmonton, also Bill's sister, Mrs. Jean Fisher from Farmington, New Mexico. She is 90-years-old and lives in Edmonton. With her were two daughters, Mrs. Isabelle Herrick of Farmington, New Mexico and Mrs. Norma Mangum of Eugene, Oregon.

The sisters drove there around the country and to their old homestead which was the Pitter place. They had been on the homestead from 1900 to 1921.

Also visiting with Jean and Alwyn was their brother, Keith from Calgary. Alwyn and Jean's cousins are also cousins of Paige Fisher's. The Skobergs also came to the home to visit their cousin.

June Bote, Phyllis Downie and Delbert Galloway attended the funeral of Wilbur Armstrong in Wetaskiwin. Also attending was Phyllis' sister Lela and Lloyd of Edmonton.

Harry and Esther Moody, with daughter Colleen of Calgary, were there also, as well as Bill Sankey and Wilbur's immediate family: Denia, Walter, Frances, Orest and Melia, also some of the grandchildren. Wilbur and family had lived in these parts for many years.

How many readers realize that Dr. Jeannette MacQuarrie of Camrose has been named Medical Director of the East Central Alberta Health Unit? The excellent Dr. D.M. McKay of Stettler who has been medical director since 1952 and who would occasionally inspect the calves in our area along with former health inspector, Mr. Art Yeack.

Dr. MacQuarrie has taken a special course in this line of work in eastern Canada and has a diploma of public health.

We know that many people down this way remember her when she and family lived in Hardisty and her husband was doctor there for some time. We surely wish her well in her new line of work and are glad that a woman is at the head of such things.

Vivian Robinson's daughter, Frede, with husband Al Jackson and two children, David and Christine, are leaving Camrose for Edmonton where Mr. Jackson will work with the Provincial Government at Westfield. Westfield is a diagnostic and treatment centre for emotionally disturbed children.

Other news is that Darlene Schmidt and Laverne Whitehead gave of their talent at a county music play at Denbigh recently. Those participating in this are highly commended for their talent, which was enjoyed by many.

Sympathy is extended to the members of the Rittenhouse family on the passing away of their mother, Mrs. Leslie Rittenhouse, who passed away at the home of her daughter Hazel in Edmonton at the age of 88.

Leslie and Al Rittenhouse lived in the Science Hill district for many years, their family all giving to Science Hill School. Daughters Dorothy and Hazel are well remembered for the years that they worked in the Hardisty Hospital and the two younger girls, Grace and Elva, became nurses.

Dick lives at Lethbridge and Les is in Alliance.

The Battle-Bend Hall was full to capacity where old friends and neighbours paid their last respects to a well-loved neighbour.

Solow were sung by Ruth Peacock and accompanied by Elita Huse were "The Old Raggedy Crown" and "How Great Thou Art."

The service was taken by the Rev. John Yoon of Sylvan Lake officiating, and interment was in Battle-Bend Cemetery.

Seen at the funeral were Mrs. Gladys Slover and her three daughters, all of Edmonton except Irene who lives in B.C. Dick, Ivan and Thelma Downie of Edmonton also, Dave and Joan Gascayon of Sherwood Park and many from Sedgewick area, also close friends from Sylvan Lake and Hardisty. Mary Griebel from Castor.

Many who rode the school bus driven by the late Len Walker will remember the party, were there also, as well as worked for Everett Goodrich one summer.

There was Roger, Percy and Lorne and we were saddened to learn of Percy's passing in a car accident near Calgary on September 18. He leaves his mother, Olivia Herron and step-father of Carl, also a wife and two children in Cochrane, Alberta. The service was held in Camrose with interment in the Camrose Cemetery.

Berky Johannesson, who works for the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, was home for the weekend.

Mr. Jim MacEwan of Calgary, formerly of the CPR was a visitor at the J. Johannesson home.

Congratulations to Annie Whitehead on winning the Elks Blackout bingo and to Barb Matthews on winning a substantial sum on the banana bingo.

Congratulations too, to Thelma Dixon on winning the beautiful quilt raffled by the CWL.

Congratulations are sent out to Mrs. Wilfred Dewitt, a Wainwright who submitted the winning name for one of the senior hockey teams, calling them "The Wainwright Rufflers." For this, she receives two season tickets.

Recent visitors to the Lester Mota home were Mrs. Bronson (nee Harvey) and her daughter Shirley of Westminster, California. They had attended a Harvey reunion at Denbigh. The Harveys used to live between Hardisty and Irma.

Seen in town was Mrs. Elmer Dadds of Lac La Biche.

Mrs. Henry Mota of Red Deer was also a visitor at the Lester Mota home. When winter comes, she makes her home with daughter Shirley in Nashville, Tennessee.

Isabel Nelson was pleased and surprised to have as a dinner guest, Mrs. Ruth Brynild of Alliance last Friday.

About 20 members of Flagstaff Lodge went for a drive around the Hardisty area to see our beautiful scenery now that the leaves are so colourful. Then they dropped in at the Drop-In Centre where a basty, but lovely lunch was provided.

It was nice of the volunteer drivers giving these folks an outing on such a nice day and they all seemed to enjoy the good fellowship among Hardisty citizens. We hope that they will come again.

When in Camrose, Isabel Nelson and her daughter, Mary Brown, visited with Edna Woodcock and Iris Whitehead and enjoyed a cup of tea with them.

The Drop-In Centre had enough good play Trumple Whist for six tables Saturday night. The high game winner was Mary Goodrich while low was Bertha Chapman. High ladies was Mrs. Ida Black and low was Ruth Longman. The ladies are still in the majority and we were happy indeed to have Mrs. Ida Black, Mrs. Skobergs and Mrs. Essie Drager attend as well as our faithful Annick friends.

Fifth generation get-together at family reunion

Pictured are the five generations of the Matthews family. Seated are: Barbara Matthews of Hardisty; her uncle, Alex Middleton of Victoria, B.C.; and the fifth of five generations, Johanna Torpe of Killam. Standing are: Dick Matthews of Sedgewick and Lorne Torpe (nee Matthews) of Killam.

The photo was taken at a family reunion held at Rundle Mission, Pigeon Lake. Johanna is also fifth generation on Myrt Matthews' side of the family - five generations of girls this time.

Sedgewick guides and brownies meet full year of activities in the planning

In Sedgewick, the P. owies and Guides have commenced their year of activities. Meetings are being held Mondays, and new girls are welcome. Brownies are under the leadership of Mrs. Emory and Mrs. Young, and the Guides are being led by Mrs. Keith. An assistant is needed for the Guides.

The Mothers' group, the Local Association, met September 22 in the Anglican hall to elect a new executive and set the fees. Mrs. Helga Affolter will be the new chairman, while Mrs. Barb MacArthur will remain as secretary and Mrs. Helen Whitten will remain as treasurer. Four Guides enjoyed a Rally at Camrose on September 23, accompanied by Barb MacArthur. A hike and cook-out was part of the program and the girls enjoyed meeting some old and new friends.

On Saturday, September 30, the Guides went on a hike to the Bill Lewis farm south of Sedgewick. They camped overnight and returned home Sunday, bicycling back to town. In their spirits, and three girls made the trip all the way to town: Sun Harris, Pat MacArthur and Michelle Wahlund. Highlight of the outing was the birth of four kittens at the Lewis farm. On Sunday morning, the Guides were joined by the Lewis family for a "Guide's Own" service, conducted by Susan Harris.

It was difficult to choose, but it was finally decided that Heather Wallace, Debbie Smith, Darlene Colburn, Cathy Djos, Grace Swainson and Susie Lee would be our cheerleaders this year. They will be practicing on Mondays. Posters are now being sold to raise money to buy uniforms.

The gymnastics club was held Friday at noon with a good turnout. Our cheerleaders were chosen last Monday after school. They were all so good that it

Week's events include seniors' whist, visits and stays in hospital for residents

Seven tables of whist players enjoyed the Senior Citizens' Card Party at the Legion Hotel on Wednesday afternoon. Prizes for the highest scores were won by Mrs. Bessie Grier, Mrs. Jim Walsh, who tied with Mr. Steve Potage but cut a seven to Mr. Potage's six. Consolation awards went to Mrs. Jessie Clark, who tied with Mrs. Cleverly Hope but cut a nine against Mrs. Hope's eight, and to Mr. Nels Djos.

Mrs. Patricia Devitt came home Friday after a week's stay in Killam Hospital.

Mrs. Thelma Tanton and Mrs. Doreen Conrad left on Sunday for a trip to Calgary to continue their stamping around Alberta.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hallum of Camrose picked up Mrs. Jean Barry at the Auxiliary Hospital in Killam and brought her to the Jim Hallum home for a visit on Sunday.

Get well wishes to Mr. Frank Mayne, Mrs. Maud Sather, Mrs. Tillie Knutson, Mrs. Emma Berry, Mr. Joe Flanagan, Mr. Bob Roisichuk and Mrs. Beatrice MacFadden, and all my fellow patients at Killam Hospital.

At present, Mr. Andy Os bakk is employed at Hillard.

Mrs. All Aronson of Hay Lake brought Miss Hanna Alheim of Oslo, Norway down to visit Mr. and Mrs. L. Aronson last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Djos accompanied Mrs. Alma Reid of Camrose to Swift Current, Saskatchewan to a funeral.

They also visited friends at Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan.

Home for Gary's graduation were his brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Farquharson and Mr. Larry Farquharson and Mrs. Mabel Brenda Jackson. Also home was Gary's sister, Mrs. Teresa Spitzer, all the way from Ft. St. John and Dawson Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rathje of Edmonton were recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. H. Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hart and Joannee of Vermilion, Mr. and Mrs. Greg Richardson of Edmonton, and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Richardson of Watson Lake, Yukon recently visited with parents and grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Richardson, who hope that Mr. H. Richardson will soon be feeling better.

On Tuesday, September 26, a group of Metropolitan district ladies gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Russell to celebrate Bessie's birthday. For the occasion they brought a luscious birthday cake and other goodies. Mrs. Russell says it is a good feeling to be thought about, and expressed a sincere thank you to all.

A large congregation gathered on Sunday at St. John's Anglican Church to mark the annual Harvest Festival. Following the service, a coffee hour was held. Like so many others recently, Rev. Richard Conrad has been struck by the flu. Get well wishes to Mrs. Betty Walsh, Mr. Bob Roisichuk and any other local people who are patients in Killam Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Scotty Jack and Mrs. Elsie Cookson were Sunday visitors to Ekville, Alberta, calling on Mr. and Mrs. W. Darlington and Mrs. Mabel Darlington. Mrs. Cookson remained in Ekville for a week's visit with the Darlington family. Mrs. Mabel Darlington, a former Loughheed district resident, is celebrating her 87th birthday.

Spending a busy weekend with the Greg Martin family were Margaret's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Martin of Penhold.

It was a pleasure to see so many Sedgewick residents at the Flagstaff Writers' Workshop on Monday evening. Mr. John Patrick Gilles, director of the Film and Literary Arts Branch of the Department of Culture, was an inspiration to all of us.

Mrs. E.J. Elder of Calgary and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. L.B. Elder of Edmonton, were overnight visitors with Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Hallam. While here, they called on Mrs. C.W.H. McCre.

Mrs. E. Muirhead returned home Sunday evening after visiting with relatives in Calgary.

Please leave your news with Donna Martin at 384-3544.

Kindergarten in Sedgewick starts with 14

The Sedgewick Kindergarten got on the way on September 12 with Mrs. Helga Affolder as the teacher. Each week, one mother goes in to assist her.

During the year, field trips will be arranged. On Friday, September 29, the children visited the Health Unit where they were weighed and measured in kilos and centimetres. The kindergarten children have started swimming lessons also; these will go for six weeks.

I understand the kids are going to make homemade soap on Tuesday, October 3. Sounds finger-licking good.

Children attending kindergarten this year are: Sandra Day, Chris Erickson, Gary Jackson, Rosanne Johnson, Scot Lewis, Crystal Lucki, Dennis Meertz, Debbie Markworth, Tina Miles, Jason Noseworthy, Karen Pelner, Marie Sansone, Christine Swainson, and Tracy Thompson.

Modern Co-op holds opening Thursday, October 12

Construction of the new, $12 million Co-op store in Killam sees completion Thursday as a ribbon cutting ceremony and first time glimpse of the complete takes place.

Past presidents of the Co-op, Herb Wilson, Charlie Hayes and Fred Forster, will take part in the opening of the store, which will serve the Killam-Strome district.

Almost double the size of the old Co-op, the new facility offers its patron 20,485 square feet of services, including grocery, meat, produce, hardware, appliances, dry goods, animal health and building supplies.

Two departments new to the Killam-Strome Co-op are the bakery and cafeteria. The cafeteria will be able to provide for the dining requirements of 82 people.

Customers also will be able to enjoy six-day shopping in the centre, it will open Monday, effective October 16, as well as Thursday evenings until 9 p.m.

Interior amenities are not the only crowd-drawing features. The new store's location is also the site of a 72-vehicle parking lot.

Prior to the grand opening, Store Manager Ed Heister hosted a wine and cheese social Wednesday evening for contractors, local business, Co-op board members and employees to stroll the aisles of the new premises before the doors officially opened.

Sedgewick News

We have just heard that Mr. Bob Muirhead has suffered a massive coronary and is critically ill at Fort St. John. His wife Jean has gone to Fort St. John to be with him.

The staff of the Community Press were jubilant to learn they had won the 8th draw of the Legion Bonanza Draw.

Barry, Rick, Monte and Gordon are $250 to the good. Mr. and Mrs. Clair Scott of Hinton arrived on Tuesday evening to spend a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Beattie and to visit friends and relatives in the district.

Strange goings-on in Wetaskiwin

by Tony Crossley

Perhaps as the result of constant propaganda from the Participation program, or possibly a severe case of self-delusion, a weird and wonderful collection of players known affectionately as the Dayland Odds and Sods soccer team gathered in the pre-dawn gloom at Wetaskiwin on Sunday, October 1, to take part in the town's second annual soccer tournament.

This varied pool of talent and ability was comprised of a group of old pros now a little past their prime: Tony Crossley, Peter Gray, Terry Whittey, John Murray, Chris Neville and Brian Bernard, all former members of the Golden Bears. Another group, young, fit, but somewhat inexperienced in competitive games were Kevin Carlson, Brian Carlson, Randy Roth and Dean Walker.

Participants in between were: Brian Chave, Richard Deboch and Ed Meeding, the team's secret weapons to be unleashed in emergencies!

Arraigned against this gallant bunch were 11 other teams ranging from the big guns of Red Deer and Edmonton to similar collections of local youths from the soccer backwoods of Drayton Valley and Ponoka.

Game one against Leduc ended in a 1-1 tie after Peter Gray managed to squeeze in a goal from an impossible angle. Game 2 against Wetaskiwin: a 1-0 victory after the aforementioned Mr. Gray did his best imitation of a charging water buffalo and frightened the opposition goal-tender into conceding a goal.

These two results ensured that the Odds and Sods would now progress to the semi-finals and spiritual morale of the team was never higher.

For those not very familiar with the game of soccer, it must be pointed out that a great deal of running is involved and with only one substitute player available for the total 120 minutes played so far, it was fairly obvious that all legs, be they 28 years old or 18 years old, were getting fairly tired. Added to the discomfort was the weather which then did its best to initiate a cross between a North Atlantic gale and a tropical downpour. With legs as blue as the team shirts and goose pimples the size of soccer balls, the from band of heroes but a narrow decision, 5-6, to Drayton Valley: a cruel blow indeed, but not as cruel as the discovery when huddled in the warm sanctuary of the changing rooms, that a playoff was necessary to determine third and fourth place.

The opposition, almost as cold and tired, from G.V.G. Edmonton, put up a spirited display and tied the game 1-1. Final positioning therefore was determined on penalty shots, the Odds and Sods winning by 5-4, even after your's truly set an inspiring Captain's example by missing with the first effort.

Tangible rewards for these Herculean efforts were soon forthcoming: one six-inch silver trophy and one Wetaskiwin silver dollar (expired) per player.

Other gains were slowly dissipated by the liberal application of long, hot baths and the passage of time. Rumour has it that Peter Gray can now put his own socks on unassisted!

The captain apologizes to the team for the long delay in the production of this account and begs to report he is now fully recovered.

TO FLEE OR NOT TO FLEE? THAT IS THE QUESTION

Flee as a bird to your mountain... If the foundations be destroyed, what can the righteous do? (Psa. 11:1-3)

The nation of Israel had fallen to a very low state under the ruthless hands of King Sennacherib.

The integrity of the king was constantly in question, national laws were in disrepair, the law of God went unheeded. The ministry of priests and prophets was discouraged. The king was on a suicidal path but blind to it. Good men who saw the trend and the condition were desperate and discouraged. A hopelessness had taken over.

At the point, King Sennacherib was killed in battle and a young man by the name of David was anointed king. King? Yes! But king of a very discouraged and discouraged kingdom.

Well-meaning counselors came to the new king to give him advice. Good advice they thought. They loved their new young king and wanted to help him. They said, "King David, please listen to us. The kingdom is hopeless. There is no use in trying. Our advice to you is: Flee it all. Flee as a bird to your mountain. The very foundations have been destroyed under Sennacherib, and if the foundations be destroyed, what can the righteous do?"

The young king faced a monumental decision. The gravity of the moment gripped him like the jaws of death. What should he do? Should he run or should he stay? To stay might cost his life and all that was dear to him. But to run - a thousand times not he wasn't built of cowardly stuff. Through his mind ran the thoughts of his great and powerful God - the God who had helped him face a lion and a bear when just a boy, as well as the great Goliath of Gath. The God who could give him victory over them could help him now.

The spirit of the young king arose. He did not disrepair the well-meaning advice of his counselors, but he said, "Our God is still in His temple. His throne is still in Heaven. They haven't moved Him. And He is a God who hates wickedness."

He tries and judges the wicked. And He is a God who loves righteousness and loves the righteous. He will not forsake us. He will lead us to victory. We will march forward under His banner."

It was a humble but a very courageous start for the young king. But the nation of Israel was soon to see a new hope, a new faith, a new health, a new joy. The law of God was again established. National laws were respected. The rights of the individual and the family were honored. Truly, it was a new day. History goes on record to say it was one of the best days in Israel's long history.

Could it be that our day, our nation or even our community in this life we need the re-creation of the life that only faith in God can give? That is, if God occupies the same position of respect and trust in our minds as He did in the mind of the young King David. Shall we flee? No, never! Like David, we shall believe God.

Births of interest to Killam area

Happy birthday to Miss Olive Kelly, who was 89 years young on October 5. And young she still is. Who else can grow a more beautiful garden and flowers than Miss Kelly.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Blaise Jensen, who are the proud parents of a baby girl born September 29 at 7 lbs. 10 oz. Her name will be Tanya Be-Lange. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ole Christensen and aunt and uncle are Mr. and Mrs. Svend Christensen. Tanya was born on her brother Brian's birthday. What a nice birthday gift. Little Tanya had to be taken to an Ed-monton hospital after her birth, and it is nice to hear she is home now with her parents. She's also a first Canadian-born in the Christensen family.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Warren Merkle (nee Lois) of High River, who are the proud parents of a baby girl born September 24. Her name will be Teri-An. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wechs, and great grandmother Mrs. Lund. Mrs. Jim Wechs spent the past week helping out at the Killam area. On Tuesday, October 17, all newcomers to town and all first-time bowlers are invited to attend a free night of bowling at 7 p.m.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McLaughlin on the long weekend were McLaughlins, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Miller and Laurie, Mr. and Mrs. Alf Bunkall, Mr. Don Fraser of Edmonton, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bess and Richard of St. Albert, Miss Katherine Frost and fiancée of Calgary, and Mr. Bill McLaughlin. Bill also visited Mr. and Mrs. Toby Schweitzer.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Young and family, and mother, Mrs. Lund, on the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Alf Hovos of High River and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wechs of Hinton.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Morgan and family, Mr. Ted Morgan and Marion, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morgan and family of Edmonton were long weekend visitors at their parents' homes, the Bill Morgan's and Dick Kinn's.

A bridal shower honouring Miss Glenda Kaute will be held at the Killam Elks Hall on Friday, October 13 at 8 p.m. Everyone welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Stever and family of Valmont, B.C. spent the long weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Doyle and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Fosses and family.

Congratulations to Mr. Ron Borgel and Miss Robin McRae who recently became engaged.

Mr. Darren Erickson of Edmonton spent the long weekend with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Erickson and family. Darren was promptly put to work helping with the harvest.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Panch-mann and Connie of Drayton Valley were visitors to town.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Boas and Billy of Calgary, and Mr. and Mrs. Brian Koticki and Steven of Edmonton, were visitors with their mother, Mrs. Jean Boas and family.

Mrs. Margaret Gillespie spent the weekend at Camrose with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bonnet and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Fosses and Mrs. George Natras were the long weekend at Mann Lake.

Talking Books come to Killam Library

The Alberta Library Services to the Handicapped (ALSW) is a project funded for an initial three-year term by Alberta Culture.

What is it? Books, magazines, plays and short stories recorded on cassette tapes. Presently, there are about 900 titles in the Talking Book format.

Who are Talking Books for? They are for people of all ages who cannot read regular print because of a physical, visual or perceptual handicap.

What do you need? Talking Books are recorded on standard cassettes. To listen to them, a cassette player is required. It is preferable that you use your own machine, but if you do not have one, a machine is available to you on a short-term loan from your local library.

How can you borrow Talking Books? To be eligible, you must be certified by a qualified authority, such as a doctor, optometrist, ophthalmologist, social worker or a nurse. Since this is a service for the handicapped only, this certification is necessary. Request an eligibility form from our librarian, Bonnie Fredrick, at 385-3886 or at 385-2111.

A Talking Book is now on hand at the Killam Community Library for demonstration purposes. Please do stop in and let Bonnie show you this latest exciting aid for those, who for some reason, are denied the pleasure of reading in the conventional manner.

If you are unable to drop in at the library, Bonnie would be pleased to answer any queries by phone regarding Talking Books.

Remember, this is a free service for handicapped persons. Do make use of it!

With a change in provincial electoral boundaries, most county residents will have to change their voting pattern. What once was Sedgewick-Coronation has now been divided into five other areas.

A nomination meeting of interest to Alliance and Sedgewick areas will be held at Vermilion on Monday, October 16 at 8 p.m. At that time, the Progressive Conservatives will nominate a candidate to contest the Viking-Vermilion riding. To date, the present MLA Tom Lyons is intending to run.

Nature's guide

THE MAN WHO SAW THE LIGHT

Bird migration is one of nature's great mysteries. Why do birds fly south in winter, north in summer? How do they know where they're going and the route to fly? How do they know when to migrate?

The last question was answered here in Alberta by zoologist William Rowan (1891-1967) in the early 1930's. At that time, many people believed that changing temperatures triggered bird migration. Rowan, who headed up the zoology department at the University of Alberta, disagreed. He argued that birds migrate almost on the same day each year, but that temperature crises are too irregular to act as the trigger.

He hypothesized that the timing of migration was connected with the constancy in the cycle of changing daylight hours.

He experimented with several hundred crows and placed selected groups in aviaries in which he could control, artificially, the amount of light they were exposed to each day.

Thus, in mid-winter in Edmonton — where the experiments took place — he produced daylight conditions similar to those in spring. He found that the birds' reproductive organs normally contracted in winter, responded to his synthetic spring by developing in their spring and summer.

Rowan then released the birds and they, evidently deciding it really was spring, began heading north.

Rowan's experiments showed that it is the increase in daylight hours, not changing temperatures, which triggers both the reproductive behaviour of birds and their migration.

This zoologist was also a talented artist. In 1966, one of his drawings of whooping cranes was used by the Canada Post Office in a series of wildlife stamps.

Flagstaff youths run to victory

The County of Flagstaff ran country races were held at the Hardisty on Wednesday, October 4. There was a very encouraging number of participants and a high standard of achievement.

The Girls' Junior High Individual Trophy was won by Laura Smith of Heister, who led her team to victory over the Sedgewick A team. The Junior High Boys' Individual Award went to Darryl Sommers of Heister, but excellent team running by the Hardisty boys enabled them to take the team award. Senior High winners were Karen Crouse from Central in the girls and Russell Meers from Central in the boys.

Good tactical team work by the Daysland High School boys resulted in their gaining the trophy.

107 runners from the Junior High Schools and 19 from the Senior High Schools took part in the races. Special mention goes to Sedgewick Junior High who fielded 38 runners. It was also encouraging to see first-time appearance by Alliance, both boys' and girls' teams, and Strom, represented by a boys' team.

AGRICULTURE FROM MY VIEWPOINT

BY MARTIN A. GOSWAMI

ALBERTA MINISTERS OF AGRICULTURE

Two weeks ago I had the opportunity to attend, together with the Manitoba Minister of Agriculture, James Downey and a representative of Saskatchewan Minister of Agriculture, Edgar Kuehn, the opening of the new Prairie Agricultural Machinery Institute (PAMI) testing station in Lethbridge.

PAMI is unique in the Western world. Its machinery test reports are in constant worldwide demand. And every year it continues to release about 50 new reports on various implements (everything but tractors) with the information — strengths, capabilities and weaknesses. Alberta farmers need to judge a machine's worth. These reports also note the willingness of a manufacturer to acknowledge and overcome diagnosed faults, and sometimes include the date when a manufacturer hopes to have corrected the faults.

Since it first became operational four years ago PAMI has built a reputation that continues to grow on Alberta farmers. Thus, the new Lethbridge station promises even more benefits for our farmers, in both the immediate and longer term, and at the same time represents the completion of a long commitment of the three western governments of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba to provide adequate facilities for developing, researching and evaluating farm machinery that prairie farmers need.

Implement testing and evaluation is PAMI's major function. By getting solid, factual information to farmers, PAMI engineers hope producers will use this knowledge to purchase the most efficient and reliable equipment available, and in turn, use this equipment to gain better returns.

But PAMI also means much more. At present about 80 per cent of its capability is directed to machinery testing, leaving a significant 20 per cent for research and development (R & D) of new and existing implements. In the near future, PAMI hopes to increase its R & D.

When PAMI reports come out, I trust you will read them with an open mind. They're as objective as possible, and if you find them worthwhile, I would ask that you pass along the information to your neighbours, for nothing informs people faster than good old-fashioned word of mouth.

Smoke alarms give you time to escape fire

You can't just rely on your own senses and presence of mind to detect and escape from fire. The very nature of smoke and other products of combustion may prevent you from realizing the danger and reacting properly.

Most fatal residential fires strike at night, when people are asleep. To be alerted in time to escape, you need a system that will react to smoke.

A home fire detection system can provide you and your family with an early warning warning that will give you the extra minutes you'll need to escape.

Hot gases and smoke rise, filling the highest points in a house or room first before building down toward the floor. This property of hot gases and smoke can be turned to your advantage. A smoke alarm, located high on a wall or ceiling where smoke first collects, can sound an early warning even before you smell smoke or see flames. In addition, cleaner air is near the floor. Your best chance of escape is to keep low and crawl on your hands and knees toward the nearest exit.

The very smoke that can kill you, can save you - by activating the smoke alarm. Successful escape from a home fire hinges on reaction time and preplanning. The early warning of a smoke alarm can actually add to your escape time. Use that extra time! Preplan your family's escape routes now! Installing a smoke alarm is not an absolute guarantee of safety. However, it's a very important part of your total fire-safety plan.

Which Nitrogen Fertilizer Do I Use?

With most of this year's crop in the bid and fall fieldwork underway, many farmers are again looking at fall fertilizer application. Here's a guideline to selecting what type of fertilizer to use and why.

First of all, for an accurate rate to produce your best yield without wasting excess fertilizer, you should soil test. Pick up an information form and supplies from the local D.A. office and for a $2 charge, Edmonton will analyze your soil and recommend the best fertilizer rates for the crop you are planning to grow.

There are several types of fertilizers available, and each should be used in the situation where it may be most effective. Here are the most common and their characteristics.

38-0-0 (Ammonium nitrate) - this fertilizer is in the granular form, and when in the soil it is subject to some leaching. It is recommended in non-flooding areas.

46-0-0 (Urea) also in the granular form, it should be incorporated shortly after application. It is applied after the soil temperature is below 10 degrees C and air temperature below 5 degrees C.

32-0-0 (Anhydrous Ammonia) - this is a gas which is handled as a compressed liquid. It is injected into the soil and reacts immediately with the soil water. When applying, there must be adequate soil moisture, and the soil must close in behind the shanks to avoid loss. It is resistant to leaching and can be applied any time in fall or spring.

The advantages of fall application are that you save time and soil moisture next spring. Granular fertilizer applied in spring very often will not reach the root zones (4-6") of most plants. Fall application allows the nitrogen to move down ward in the soil to where it is needed.

Further information on these and other methods of fall nitrogen application are available at the D.A. office.

Exchange vows in fall ceremony

Fall colours predominated as marriage vows were exchanged between Kelly Whalen and Gordon Keith on September 5 at Bethanias Lutheran Church in Sedgewick, Alberta. Pastor Ray Nieberg's performed the double ring ceremony.

Coronation Review and Kelly is employed at the Credit Union.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Jackie Christensen of Sedgewick and Mr. Norman Whalen of Rycroft, Alberta. The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Monte Keith of Sedgewick.

Janice and Ray Arntsen, Laurie Forster and Greg Fredricks preceded the bride and groom into the church. The girls were dressed in yellow gowns and carried bouquets of fall flowers. The groomsmen wore dark brown tuxedos.

The bride and groom walked up the aisle hand in hand to the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus. The bride was radiant in an ivory satin gown featuring chapel sleeves and a train, complemented by lace inserts on bodice and down front. Her matching headpiece held an ivory lace veil and she carried a bouquet of fall flowers. Her jewelry consisted of a diamond necklace and earrings, gift from the groom and a gold bracelet which was worn by her grandmother at her wedding 65 years ago. The groom wore an off white tuxedo and a yellow daisy boutonniere.

During the signing of the register, Kelly Whalen sang "You Light Up My Life" accompanied by organist Nancy Keith.

Following the wedding, an openhouse reception and dance was held at the Sedgewick Community Hall, where Ladies of the Lutheran Church provided a lovely dinner. Dancing was to the music of Lytle Metz and his men. Many friends and relatives attended from points in Alberta and B.C.

Kelly and Gordon left Sunday after opening many lovely gifts for a honeymoon in B.C. They are now making their way home in Coronation where Gordon operates the

Sedgewick and District News Items

Although I didn't see any of the Gary Meadus family, their trailer was parked at the Meadus farm on the weekend so I imagine they were there with it.

I came home from hospital on Saturday so will be pleased to receive any news anytime. A hearty thank you to Mrs. Donna Martin who so willingly and capably takes over for me when I'm not around.

Mr. and Mrs. Greg Martin and daughter Margaret spent the weekend at Penhold with Greg's parents. They travelled by bus and had a two-hour wait in Wetaskiwin on the way home as the bus from Edmonton had a minor fire and was met by an ambulance and fire engine, neither of which were needed. All so waiting at Wetaskiwin was Mrs. Elaine Cookson, who was returning from Riverview where she had been visiting.

Mr. Cecil Gould is back in the University Hospital after spending the weekend with his family. He expects to undergo surgery this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Laddie Leeb of Edmonton and Mr. and Mrs. Grant MacPherson and family of Stettler were Sunday dinner guests along with the rest of the family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Simons.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Barry Nordstrom on the birth of a fine son, Sean Andrew, who arrived at the Killam Hospital on Thursday, October 5.

Miss Ruby Tuck of Scarborough, Ontario, was visiting at the home of the H.L. Beirsto's.

Hunley drops out of race

Social Services Minister Helen Hunley had the last word in the caucus from the Conservative cabinet when she became its ninth member to drop out of the running for re-election.

"I'm tired," said the 58-year-old former Canadian Women's Army Corps Lieutenant, farm machine dealer, insurance agent and Rocky Mountain House tour councillor and mayor.

But, "I'm not a lame duck."
Despite the thinning ranks and Premier Peter Lougheed's plan to shuffle all ministers who stay, Hunley maintained that the 24-member cabinet is not crippled.

The high turnover amongst Conservatives shows signs of becoming a plank in Lougheed's re-election platform next year.

The departures underline pledges to overhaul the government and attract new faces and ideas - a workmanlike response to charges that the seven-year-old administration had aged prematurely.

Nearly a third of the 60-strong Tory majority elected to the 75-seat legislature March 26, 1975, is out of the running.
Of the 73 Tory candidates for the redistributed house, at least 25 will be new entries.

All the ministers who are withdrawing are completing the current term except Bill Yurko, who resigned the housing portfolio to become the Tory candidate in Edmonton
East for the next federal election.

Besides Hunley and Yurko, the ministers leaving are Don Gerry of energy, Gordon Minley of hospitals, Allan Warrack of utilities, Bert Hobel of advanced education, Bob Dowling of business development, Solicitor General Roy Farnam and Attorney General Jim Foster.

Only four of the rest - Lougheed, Deputy Premier Hugh Hosner, Agriculture Minister Mars Moore and Consumer Affairs Minister Graham Hlebe-re are not already re-nominated, and they are running again.

A dozen Tory backbenchers have dropped out to date: Fred Peacock (Calgary Centre), Tom
Donnelly (Calgary Millar), John Kushner (Calgary Mountainview), John Ashton (Edmonton Oldswater), Mark Fluker (St.
Paul), Winston Barbas (Grande Prairie), Cliff Dean (Innisfail), Don Hansen (Bonnyville), John
Walker (Macleod), Ron Tesolin
(Lar La Beche-McMurray), Jack
Butler (Hanna-Oyen) and Rusty Zander (Drayton Valley).

Ron Githier (Calgary Business Development) has also dropped out.

Unless Lougheed breaks precedence, he will not show his cards or even hint at his plans for his next cabinet; all he promises is change.

Credit Unions grow, become one of leaders

International Credit Union Day, October 19, marks the growth of Canada's 3,800 credit unions to include more than eight million members from coast to coast, according to Gerrit Olekampi, general manager of Canmore Savings and Credit Union Limited.

Combined member savings and total Credit Union assets are both close to $20 billion, making credit unions one of the nation's major financial systems.

The Canmore Savings and Credit Union Limited has been one of this growth, with membership of 11,200 and assets of $53 million, Mr. Olekampi said.

fals, who is better known on the back bench than some ministers and has openly disagreed with Lougheed over cabinet control of the Heritage Fund, is wavering.

Social Credit Leader Herb
Clark contends that with the withdrawals, especially of Getty, a strong minister with a following of his own - are a symptom of undemocratic "central control" by Lougheed.

None of the retiring ministers have expressed any misgivings about the premier. All

People urged to fight fire

Fire Prevention Week gives me an excellent opportunity to remind everyone in Alberta to work toward reducing the loss of human life and the staggering amount of property damage that occur every year as a result of fires.

During 1977, 92 persons lost their lives by fire, 386 were injured by fire and more than 60 million dollars of property were destroyed by fire. In an effort to prevent such tragedies the Alberta Government has enacted legislation to make it mandatory that approved smoke alarms and smoke detectors be installed in certain buildings. For example, all buildings with sleeping accommodation, where construction began after July 5, 1977, must have smoke detector protection installed as part of the building's electrical system. By January 1, 1979, smoke detector must be installed in existing buildings with sleeping accommodations, except for one and two-family dwellings.

Smoke alarms do save lives.
Approved smoke alarms, suitable for your house, can readily be purchased for less than the $30.35 per capita figure that the destruction of property by fire cost every Alberta last year.

It's about time . . .

While strolling by the park in Sedgewick one evening recently, several things became apparent. This park is a very nice place, a credit to the community, and a favorite resting place for people of all ages. Now, it seems, it has become the evening meeting place for the younger generation of the town and area. This, of course, will result in normal user damage, but when a whole bush is trampled and some trees uprooted, it becomes a case of damage to public property, accidental or otherwise.

A casual remark to one "young man about town" resulted in a quick remark "it wasn't me." When I asked my young son about some of the damage and mischief going on, such as damage at the old bank building, apples missing from various trees, harassment of certain people in town, I got the same remark "it wasn't me."

You ask your youngsters, likely you will get the same remark and as parents, we are inclined to believe them. But, if it wasn't your child or mine, then who did it?

This problem is not only confined to Sedgewick, but similar problems are occurring in many of the towns in Flagstaff County.

These young people have a strong feeling of togetherness that seems to be directed to the wrong things on some occasions. The whole idea seems to be that, "if John and Mary can do it, why can't I?" And if we are found out, we'll stick together and they won't be able to pin it on us. This has a faint smattering of an informal or sacred pledge and reminds me of a "den of thieves" or the "Mafia" and their code.

Well, maybe it's time parents got together. If my kid or your kid is not responsible for mischief at the bank, destroying gardens and fruit trees, harassment of people, wrecking parks, breaking windows, racing with dad's car, then maybe it's OUR kids.

Could we as parents, put out a little more effort, and perhaps an informal or formal pledge to see if the excessive energies of these young people could be put to more productive use?

This country is where it is today on account of the real common sense of the big northern majority.

A good boss is someone who takes a little more than his share of the blame and a little less than his share of the credit.

What Others Say

CLUBS MAY HAVE TO SHUT DOWN
If you don't sit on the executive of any club in town, and the idea of doing so bothers you, you may not have to worry much longer. Many of the clubs and organizations in town seem to be going belly up.

It is not a new problem. But it is rapidly reaching the panic stage. Although many people seem to like to belong to clubs, few seem willing to dedicate themselves to any particular cause.

Those that have ruled the roost and subsequently done much of the leg work on many of the clubs in town are threatened with extinction.

It is no longer like it was in the good old days, before television. Then when you wanted to be entertained or to have a good time, you had to put a little effort into it. Now you can go to a show, and for those even less ambitious, you can curl up in front of your T.V. set. And if you want to socialize, there's several handy bars and lounges in town.

It isn't easy being on the executive of a club. You find yourself doing much of the work while others tend to freeload. There's none of this "let's work together as a team." The teams have all folded. There's no longer depth in the rosters—only death.

Perhaps it is a cycle and we're on the lower end of the moment. Maybe the wheel will keep on turning and in a year or two, the many clubs in town will revive. But then again, maybe not.

Being a club president, secretary or treasurer is a thankless job. You all know it. That's the guy that gets phoned in the middle of the night, while his job suffers and provides a target for all as boss.

But it can be. It's a challenge and if tackled by the right group of people—with a little organization—it can be free-moving and for the large part trouble-free.

What it takes is grass roots support. If you are not on an executive, you don't have to be. But if you rally around a hard-working conscientious guy and offer him your support whenever he needs it, you can make it work.

But then there's the other alternative. If people are too busy or have too many other commitments to want to work for a club, they can be shut down. Just how important is it that we have curling, archery, minor hockey, figure skating, ballet, golf or senior hockey?

Don't feel pressured in to making a decision. Just keep going the way you have been and things will work themselves out—one way or another.

The Third Column

by Truicaine

IT HAS BEEN SAID BEFORE, but it bears repeating, that you simply cannot make an all-inclusive statement concerning people or situations because there are always exceptions. However, in keeping a fairly close tab on things over the past few years, we have become convinced that we in this country are the most dissatisfied, "fly, transient, abusive, silly, stupid and near-sighted people on the face of the earth. A harsh assessment, you say. Yes indeed.

TAKE A LOOK at what has been happening over the universe recently: devastating floods in India which cost the lives of many hundreds and laid waste untold thousands of acres of land and leaving many more thousands homeless; high-rated earthquakes in Iran with the death toll in the thousands and still counting and with towns and villages entirely wiped out; civil war in Rhodesia with neighbour killing neighbour and armies invading other countries to kill and maim; mass murders and insurrection in Nicaragua, civil disobedience, starvation and utter hopelessness; alcoholism, drug addiction, suicides all on the increase. All of these may be classed as major catastrophes which cannot fail to arouse the compassion of the most of us. By comparison, we here in Canada live in a paradise.

HERE WE ARE enjoying an extremely high living standard, if not the highest in the world. We are comparatively free and above and yet we may well be described (as above) as a people who fail to appreciate the real amenities of our situation, and rather spend our time and effort wrangling, nattering and bickering over comparatively mundane things as a few cents increase in pay, a few hours less work time, more and better fringe benefits and more and better government assistance every time we encounter difficulties. More free social benefits, larger pensions and more handouts. We better get our thinking back to the realities.

YEARS AGO in the deep southern United States in a great horsehoe bend there lived a herd of wild hogs. Where they came from no one knew, but they survived floods, quicksand, fires, droughts and hunters. So wild were they the greatest complaint a man could pay to a deer was to get that he had fought the hogs in Horsehoe Bend and returned alive. One day a lean-faced man came by the country store on the river and asked the whereabouts of these wild hogs. He drove a one-horse wagon, had an axe, some blankets and a lantern, some corn and a single-barrelled shotgun. He was slender, a slow-moving, patient man. He showed his tobacco deliberately and spat seldom. Several months later he came back to the store and asked for help to bring the wild hogs out of the swamp. He said he had them all in a pen. Bewildered farmers, dubious hunters and storekeepers all gathered in the heart of Horsehoe Bend to view the captive hogs.

CAPTURED VIA THE HANDOUT. "It was all very simple," said the lean-faced man. "First I put out some corn. For three weeks they wouldn't eat it. Then some of the young ones grabbed corn and ran off into the bush. Soon they were all eating corn. I then commenced building a pen around the corn, just a little higher every day."

"When I noticed they were all waiting for me to bring the corn and that they had stopped grubbing for acorns and roots, I built a trap door. Naturally," said the patient man, "they raised quite a ruckus when they saw they were trapped. But I can pay any animal on the face of the earth if I can just get him to depend on me for a free handout."

THE MORAL in this story is no obvious that it needs no explanation.

Letters to the Editor

SAFETY PATROL

The Grade 6 class at Sedgewick Public School is continuing to operate a Safety Patrol at the street crossings near the school. The purpose of the patrol is primarily to help ensure the safe crossing of younger students. It is also to help regulate the movement of pedestrians and vehicles at the busy crossings.

This year, the patrol has reported a number of drivers who have violated the patrols. Drivers are advised that a violation of a safety patrol is a violation under the Highway Traffic Act. Our patrol will be reporting any violations and these will be passed on to the RCMP.

We request the co-operation of all drivers to help the patrol members in their important duty.

INTRODUCING 1979

another evolutionary year for Pontiac, Buick and GMC.

PARISIENNE Full-size beauty. Pontiac style

RIVIERA New! front wheel drive. New! independent 4-wheel suspension. New! V8 or Turbocharged V6.

It began with the totally-new full-size Pontiacs and Buicks for 1977... an evolution in concept, technology and design. It created our evolutionary mid-size cars of 1978. And now, it's on to the next stage. For 1979, Pontiac-Buick-GMC dealers proudly introduce an all-new personal luxury Riviera, completely re-designed and re-engineered. Just one of the great 1979 Buicks. Pontiac has its own news, with refinements and improvements in a distinct breed of cars for the times. While GMC offers truck people many opportunities to stretch their imagination. See the 1979 cars and trucks designed and engineered for a changing world at your Pontiac-Buick-GMC dealer.

GMC PICKUP

How about a new Pickup with an available V8 that can turn on both wheels? And regular gas! Or a Pickup with a V8 Diesel option! This time, make it a GMC truck.

LeMANS

In Pontiac's class, nobody's got the magic of mid-size like LeMANS. Make it a LeMANS Grand LeMans or Grand Am Coupe, Sedan or Safari Wagon.

ACADIAN

Small car, big value. Acadian hatchbacks come with a 2-bbl. 4 cylinder overhead-cam engine, wall-to-wall radials, reclining buckets, console and AM radio standard!

REGAL
If you thought you'd had your last fling, drive a base Regal, a turbo-charged Regal, Sport Coupe or a Regal Limited. After all, life is to enjoy.

LeSABRE
There's really nothing quite like Buick's LeSabre. LeSabre Limited Coupes and Sedans... the turbo-charged LeSabre Sport Coupe... or spacious Estate Wagon.

GRAND PRIX
The legend is thriving. You'll find something new to love every time you drive the inimitable Grand Prix. sporty or luxurious Grand Prix LJ.

RITERS RAMBLINGS

OUR FRIEND IN THE SKY

"Hello... God? Are you there? Listen, I really have talk to you. I'm in a jam and could use some help. It's like this..."

So the story goes. We, as troubled human beings, talk to the Almighty at one time or another for some extra help. But is he listening to us or are we just talking to the air above us? If he is there, does he really care? I mean, we sometimes interrupt his dinner and he just tunes us out because he wants to eat a hot meal for a change. Our confessions must get tedious after a while. Maybe God looks on earth through a screen and when one part of the planet bothers him, he switches the channel. I wonder if he switches channels in the middle of our prayers. Without him listening, we could get in trouble. Or does he even help us at all?

Perhaps someone long ago, who was sad and lonely, made up this imaginary friend who he named God and he pretended God lived in a fantasy land which he called heaven, and he was superior to say mass on earth. Inventing such a character who he could believe in and trust, like a teddy bear that he could feel comfortable with and talk to without backlash, would get him through the days. We all need someone to rely on; someone we can confide in. When friends or family aren't around, we can turn to the God who became renowned and respected throughout the centuries because someone wrote a book about him called the Bible, because he'll listen. We hope.

Another thing, this 'being' we trust may not be a he. Maybe he's all along we have been talking to a Goddess. Maybe it's neither. Some people say God is a supernatural power, a supreme being not of human qualities. How difficult to understand. Most of us prefer to think of God as one of us, only superior. But how can 'one of us' see and hear all things? How can he distinguish our prayers when we're in the dark whispering? Maybe God is just a crutch to lean on, someone or something that is always there, that will always help us. But we know that can't possibly be true. This world of ours is constantly ravaged by wars, terrors, bloodshed, and murder that kill our people. Where was God when the Jews needed him? Why would he allow their enemies to kill them so cruelly? Where is God when earthquakes swallow thousands of people? If God sees all things and has such great power, why doesn't he stop insanity, retardation, terminal diseases, and so on? Doesn't he know we need his help? Religion may help to answer this. God supposedly made the world and created Adam, and once Eve was created and placed on earth beside Adam, the world's people would multiply and soon there would be many people to control the planet without God. Or maybe now God can't control so many. Perhaps he created nations for mankind to keep the population down. Often I hear people say during storms that God is angry...

And though his church may be bombed by terrorists, the preacher tells his congregation to love and have faith in our friend in the sky. What is his answer to death?

"It is God's will." Can we believe that? Maybe death is inevitable no matter what God intends. The problem is, are our lives determined by God's will?

Sometimes we thank God for getting us through a difficult situation. What did he have to do with it? Does he really do a lot of power at us when we need strength? If God's heaven is so far away that scientists can't even find it, how can God be concerned about our day-to-day problems? Looking after our problems must cause him some difficulties, too. Even in the highest form of organization, mistakes can be made. Could one of God's mistakes cost us our lives?

We want someone's help, so since the holy Bible declares God exists, we believe it and pray to him. But we really do not know. Maybe our friend in the sky is just a legend... "And, God, you look after my wife up there, okay? I told her, but as long as I know... as I hope you're caring for her, I'll be okay. Thanks God. It was nice talking to you again. Amen."

POPULATION COUNTS BY AERIAL PHOTOGRAPHY

Photographing resting waterfowl flocks for the purpose of population counts is effective where large compact flocks of one species occur. Portions of large flocks may be sampled as done with canvasback on the Mississippi River, or total flocks may be pictured on one print as is done with snow geese in the Arctic and along the sea coast in the United States. Birds are then counted by automated equipment.

KEEPING IN TOUCH

by Arnold Malone, M.P.

SMALL BUSINESS

The small businessman is the very backbone of democracy. It is that fact of enterprise that creates the majority of our wealth and employment. Family-sized businesses and democracy go hand in hand.

At present, the small business community creates more than 90 per cent of Canada's total wealth every year. That is a situation similar to other industrialized nations such as Japan, West Germany and the United States all derive more than one-half of their export wealth from small businessmen. The large corporations are often overrated as a source of efficient development of capital into products. It is now clear that the family and medium-sized businesses are the most efficient converters of money into usable services for products.

Employment is also small related to the success of small business. Today in Canada, two-thirds of all our jobs are in the small and medium-sized businesses. The ratio is even higher in Japan. Moreover, the independent operator is credited for making significantly more job opportunities for the unskilled worker than does big business or government.

Yet, despite the importance of the small business community as a creator of national wealth and a major source of employment, the government is forever raising interference with private initiative. Statistics Canada is a businessman's bane, always searching for useless information. The private entrepreneur is bludgeoned with undue paper work created by the initiative of the civil servant. Moreover, the tax structure is often a disincentive for development and growth.

In principle, and with deep philosophical commitment, I am strongly opposed to capital gain tax. It is an enormous disincentive. It retrieves such a very small per cent of our government's total tax income that it's purpose should be questioned. Also, it is one of the most expensive of all taxes to collect. Capital gains tax falls mercilessly on those primarily in the small and middle income enterprise. The fact is that big businesses like General Motors are seldom sold. They continue to create capital; they expand... they diversify, and they diversify, but they are seldom up for sale.

By contrast, family-sized business change hands every generation. Therefore, every 25 to 30 years, a small business pays the federal treasury 30 per cent for its success in growth. After the next generation, it will pay again.

The real acid dip in the fact that Revenue Canada deals with tax numbers rather than real value. A barber shop bought in 1972 for $3,000 and sold in 1978 for $15,000 is assumed to have a gain in capital of $12,000; and upon that figure, the government taxes for its pound of flesh. No consideration was given for the fact of inflation, for the devaluation of the dollar, for the increase in consumer costs, let alone the basic principle that a hard-working individual has a right to improve his capital worth across a productive lifetime.

We have a need for a democratic turn-around in our approach to our economic woes. We must shuttling learn that most of our jobs and wealth are created by the small business community and not by the job creation programs of the federal government.

The small business operation is the umbilical cord to democracy; let's continue to keep them in touch.

Manager: Claude Piche

Matheson to speak

Two very interesting people are expected to be present at the 11th Annual Meeting of the Battle River Tourist Association on Wednesday, October 18, 1978.

Among those to perform special duties will be the Honorable Bob Dowling, minister of Business Development and Tourism for the government of Alberta. He is coming to Camrose to personally present sets of bronze, silver and gold medals to any member of the B.R.T.A. who has his, or her, Holiday Passport stamped in all 14 tourist zones.

In view of Dowling's recent announcement that he will not be seeking re-election in the next provincial election, this may very well be his last official visit to Camrose in his capacity as a minister of the crown.

Longtime citizens of Camrose and Oshawa are pretty proud of this "lost boy makes good" personality.

Born in Camrose in 1924, Mr. Dowling has chalked up several successful careers: as a pilot during World War II, as a business man and pharmacist in Jasper where he is the owner of two drug stores, and as a member of the Legislative Assembly since 1960 - seven of these years as a cabinet minister in the Loughheed Government.

Guest speaker at the event will be W.R. (Bill) Matheson, well-known TV and radio personality, of Radio Station CFSA in Edmonton. Matheson too is a native-born Albertan - Lethbridge, 1898 - who has done very well. In the Parachute Corps during World War II, Matheson is a university-trained meteorologist. This particular training has been the basis of stints with the Canadian Government Department of Transport (weatherman), followed by positions in radio and television at Lethbridge, New York and Edmonton. His address is expected to be meaningful and humorous.

Other features of the Annual Meeting will be the reports of the association's activities during the past year, installation of 1978-79 officers and the presentation of a number of awards. The affair is to take place at the Crystal Springs Motor Hotel in Camrose, and price of admission is $7 per person. Tickets are obtainable from the B.R.T.A. office at 6218 - 48th Avenue, Camrose (Phone 672-4217), or from many B.R.T.A. members who regularly attend meetings.

Hobbyist talk photography

On Wednesday evening, September 20, the Amalgamated Hobbyists of Camrose met in the Sedgewick United Church Hall. There were 28 present.

Following a short business meeting, Mr. R. Patterson showed some slides he had taken and also some Mr. J.J. Potage had taken about 20 years ago. We were very fortunate to have Mr. and Mrs. V. Dawson from Viking visiting for the evening for he showed slides he had taken on his summer vacation in Devon and Cornwall and Scotland.

Lunch and social hour concluded a most enjoyable meeting.

The next meeting of the Hobby Club will be held in the Sedgewick United Church Hall Wednesday, October 18 at 8 p.m. Slides will be shown and we will also be having a discussion on photography in general with people on hand to answer questions. So come along and bring your problems. The photographic ones, we may be able to help you solve, and you might forget the other problems for the evening.

KALEIDOSCOPE

Rules for Healthy Conflict:

Below is an article I collected from another home economist. I'm not aware of who the author is, but the article has lots of food for thought.

1. Be specific when you introduce a gripe.

2. Don't just complain, so matter how specifically; ask for a reasonable change that will relieve the gripe.

3. Ask for and give feedback of the major points, to make sure you are heard, to assure your partner that you understand what he wants.

4. Confine yourself to one issue at a time. Otherwise, without professional guidance, you may skip back and forth, evading the hard ones.

5. Do not be glib or intolerant. Be open to your own feelings, and equally open to your partner's.

6. Always consider compromise. Remember, your partner's view of reality may be just as real as yours, even though you may differ. There are not many totally objective realities.

7. Do not allow counter-demands to enter the picture until the original demands are clearly understood and there has been clear-cut responses to them.

8. Never assume that you know what your partner is thinking until you have checked out the assumption in plain language; nor assume or predict how he will react, what he will accept or reject. Crystal-gazing is not for pairing.

9. Don't mind-read. Ask. Do not correct a partner's statement of his own feelings. Do not tell a partner what he should know or do or feel.

10. Never put labels on a partner. Call him neither a coward, nor a neurotic, nor a child. If you really believed that he was incompetent or suffered from some hopeless basic flaw you probably would not be with him. Do not make sweeping, labelling judgements about his feelings, especially about whether or not they are real or important.

11. Sarcasm is dirty fighting. 12. Forget the past and stay with the here-and-now. What either of you did last year or last month or that morning is not as important as what you are doing and feeling now. And the changes you ask cannot possibly be retroactive. Hurts, grievances and irritations should be brought at the very earliest moment, or the partner has the right to suspect that they may have been saved carefully as weapons.

13. Do not overload your partner with grievances. To do so makes him feel hopeless and suggests that you have either been boarding complaints, or have not thought through what really troubles you.

14. Meditate. Take time to consult your real thought and feelings before speaking. Your surface reactions may make something deeper and more important. Don't be afraid to close your eyes and think.

15. Remember that there is never a single winner in an honest intimate fight. Both either win more intimate, or lose it. Remember: The Forestburg Sub-Office is open: Wednesdays - 9 a.m. - 11 a.m. - District Agricultural.

Thursdays - 9 a.m. - 11 a.m. - District Home Economist. Our office is in the Provincial Building. Phone number is 385-3761

Visitors at Strome and District

Mr. Alice Pooler went to Edmonton by bus last Friday, and from there accompanied Michael and Charlotte Lantz to Winfield to spend the weekend with the Leo Carignan's and Michael and Janet McCulloch.

Susan Pooler, who is attending the University of Alberta, spent Thanksgiving weekend at a camp near Rocky Mountain House with the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship group.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hartstock and family, and Janis Gordon of Edmonton, spent Thanksgiving with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Gordon.

Visitors with Mrs. Peggy Richmond last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Woodhouse and family of Edmonton, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Makarowski and family of Drayton Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Fuechtman and family of Drayton Valley spent the long weekend with friends and relatives.

Kurtis and Bonnie Hill hosted their families to a coffee hour after the christening of their daughter, Kelly Ann Marie, at the Roman Catholic Church in Drayton last Sunday evening.

Brue Erickson of Iron River visited the Hill families while working on an oil rig in Alberta.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Wisner had all of their family home for the Thanksgiving weekend.

Peggy Ann and Barbara Hayes spent the long weekend at their parent's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lars Larson of Springfield, Saskatchewan, were coffee guests at E. Auburn's home last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Honey Curtis visited her brother Charlie at the Parkland Nursing Home last Saturday afternoon enroute to Edmonton to visit Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Snider (nee Donna Auburn) over Thanksgiving weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Wally Pettum were visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ziebel over the weekend. Bruce and Pat Curtis spent Thanksgiving with Pete and Mina Curtis.

Darcy, Kelly and Corey Knul of Wetaskiwin spent the weekend with George Curtis and had fun riding their ponies.

Get into the real thing: Make friends with your Moto-Ski Man.

"Never take Bombardier for granted. I realized that three weeks ago when I went by Darryl Johnson's place. He's the Moto-Ski Man around here. The man who showed me my little Mirage"

I spent four hours with this new lightweight. It's gutsy, good to manoeuvre, economical. It's also loaded with big sled features. Like Torque Reaction slide suspension. A Mikuni carb and that light-gripping "V" shaped track.

With Mirage, you float well, because of a clever kind of spindle that stretches those skis out to nearly 30 inches. Hills are easy. An instant Torque drive clutch is there to give you more power at lower rpm's.

All in all, Mirage has to be the sled of the year. Another thing, it's backed by the Moto-Ski Two Season Warranty."

Mr. and Mrs. H. Potter and Joy of Calgary spent a few days in the area visiting their son Cliff and family and other friends and relatives.

Mrs. Agnes Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Horvick motor-ed to Wetaskiwin on Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. George Griewe who are hospitalized there.

Jack and Shirley Johnson spent Thanksgiving weekend in Edmonton with friends and relatives.

Miss Molly Ferneyhough is recuperating from surgery in Daysland Hospital. Get well soon, Molly. The news isn't the same without you!

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Griewe are on a little holiday. Mrs. Dolores Coates is helping Wendy and Dale keep things going at the store.

Ed and Shirley Hartleber and family of Thorby visited her parents, the Vern Storbakken's, last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Clouston were evening guests at the home of Mrs. Jablonki, with her sister and husband from B.C., her daughter Ruth from Ottawa and son Melvin from Niisku.

The occasion was Mrs. Jablonki's 77th birthday. Friends and neighbours also dropped in during the afternoon and evening.

We say, "Happy Birthday to you!"

LOUGHHEED LIBRARY
The library will now be open Saturday afternoons from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. starting October 14, as well as on Thursday afternoons from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.

The kindergarten class was again our guest this year for a story time and to borrow books. Their time is Thursdays from 2 to 2:30 p.m.

We have received a box of books from the Northern Alberta Library Services. These books cover a wide variety of crafts, sports, novels, and an encyclopedia to be used in the library.

Loughheed Rebekah's donate monies

Nineteen members of Loughheed Rebekah Lodge met for the regular meeting on Wednesday evening, September 24 with N.G. Sis Verona Cookson in the chair.

Several members reported having visited Dayland, Killam and Hardisty Hospitals.

The date was set for the annual tea and bake sale to be held on November 4.

It was agreed to give helpful money donations to the Pi-gure Skating Club and the Kin dergarten.

The next meeting will be the installation of officers not previously installed and the official visit of the D.D.P.

Sis Gayle McClements read from the Rebekah news, "Do You Know?"

Lodge closed in harmony. Lunch was served by Sisters Smith, Riddoch and Paterson. Sis Paterson shared her annual versey cake with the members.

COME ALIVE

by Steven Abbi

RELIVERANCE

The victorious life of a true Christian cannot be over-estimated. These are wonderful words in the seventh chapter of the Book of Hebrews which says, "... he is able to save them to the uttermost who come unto God by Him (Christ). Save to the uttermost! Is it really true? Can God take a man who is really down and make an upright man of him?

Some 50 years ago I met such a man. He had been in life's gutter and had walked the thunder roads for many years. But one day, after he had tried everything else, he tried God. A new day broke for him. He became a new man.

D.C. St. John, author of the book The Wall of a Drug Addict was 40 years of age when I met him. A friendship started which lasted until the day of his death. As a young person, he formed the common habits of young men. He smoked and he drank. But drink got an unusual hold on him and he became a confirmed alcoholic. He struggled with this awful habit for 10 years, losing job after job and losing face with his friends and his family. He wanted to be a man, but King Alcohol had him. The struggle was terrible.

A well-meaning friend suggested that if he would only take a little morphine now and again it would greatly help him. D.C. thought anything is worth a try, and without knowing the effects of such a drug, he started to use it. For nine years he literally lived a "hell on earth." It was his bad before it was 10 times worse now. He wanted for a cure, even submitting himself to a prison term to be under doctor's care - it was the only way the doctors agreed to take him. After his release, he was warned by his doctor, "D.C., we have taken it out of your body, but we cannot take it out of your mind. We can never do that. You will need to return for repeated treatments." It wasn't long until he found the doctor's statement to be true. He was still a hopeless drug addict. He was again on the way to the bottom again to live a literal "hell." For some reason, his grandmother and her faith in God crossed his mind. The thought gripped him with unusual power. "I've tried everything, but I haven't tried God," he thought, "and if grandmother's God is what she claims he is, he can help me."

He started his search for God, and to make a long story short, he soon found the God, who through Jesus Christ, could save a man from uttermost degradation to uttermost salvation. And never again did D.C. go back to the old thunder roads. I know him until the day he died. He was a living testimony to the grace and power of Jesus Christ who is really down to live a literal "hell." For some

Daysland sees full week of meetings and visits

The past two weeks have been interesting times for the Daysland Kindergarten Class as the students become acquainted with fellow classmates and their teacher Mrs. June Bilamner. Teacher's aide Mrs. Kay Reist and helper Mrs. Linda Tulloch. They have spent time working on colours and shapes, collecting and painting a pet rock and various things for the Thanksgiving theme. They cooked some delicious appetizers and enjoyed the time spent with Mrs. Eleanor Davidson making marshmallow cheddar candies.

The UCV meeting was held October 5 in the church social room. The devotion was read by Zerah Candish of Be Thankful to the Lord, and the hymn sung was Praise Him. The roll call was answered by 18 members and 19 visits to the sick and convalescing. The minutes and treasurer's report were both given and approved. The fall Presbyterial meeting in Estevan October 25 - a discussion to see if we could get a car load to go.

A skit named Moon Dance was given by Helen Paulgard, Eleanor Davidson, Kay Reist Margaret Schmidt and Betty Koehl, which was enjoyed by all.

A lovely lunch was served by hostess Erna McCarroll and her helpers Betty Koehl and Eleanor Davidson.

The Sunbeam Club met in the Daysland Hall October 4 with the tables of white and red flowers present. High scores went to Mr. A. Stang and to Mrs. Manning and Mrs. Sereda. The next game will be October 18 at 1:30 p.m.

Mr. Herbert Lane and sister Edith Hulet from Albarque, New Mexico, and son August Lane from Calgary visited among the McCarroll's and other relatives last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Pryor drove to Malibu, Manitoba, for Daysland girl passes

Final rites were held for Mary Julia Minichin of Daysland on September 18, 1978. Rev. Elkin officiated at the funeral service.

Mary was born March 27, 1901 and passed away August 30, 1978. She attended school in Daysland until her passing. She leaves to mourn her mother, Julia Minichin, and two sons and three brothers: Catherine Minichin of Daysland, Monica Komarnitsky of Holden, Eugene Chromik of Strome, Orest Chromik of Edberg, Benjamin Chromik of Edmonton; sisters-in-law and brother-in-law; three nephews and two nieces; and boyfriend Dan Kohnman.

Funeral services were held at the Royal Alexandra Hospital, doctors and nurses at the Daysland Hospital for taking care of Mary Minichin. Also, Rev. Elkin, Kratoch & Gunnell, Pallbearers, and for flowers, cards for all contributions and food that was brought to the house.

The CWL Ladies for serving lunch at the church hall after the funeral.

Our heartfelt thanks to all in many expressions of sympathy in the loss of my daughter, sister and auntie.

Julia Minichin and family

Strome and District News

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Horn and Robert Jr. of Edmonton were Thanksgiving guests with the and Bernice Morgan and Hugh and Karen Morgan and family last Monday.

When Mrs. Theresa Scheveler and Julian returned from Camrose last Monday afternoon, they had a nice surprise. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Scheveler of Lloydminster, who were married recently, dropped in for a visit and Marvin's wife made supper for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Scheveler of Port Moody, B.C. visited Mrs. Scheveler and Julian last Tuesday.

Mrs. Honey Curtis, Mrs. Peggy Richmond and Mrs. Pearl Angus spent a few days at Pearl's old home north of Edson last week.

A few friends dropped into the Pottis home last Saturday evening to a lovely turkey supper to help Gordon celebrate his birthday.

Mrs. Anne Hill of Calgary is a visitor with her sister, Mrs. Mae Hawkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Heiser and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burnap visited their mother, Mrs. Anne Heiser, last weekend.

A few families of the district helped Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baist of Daysland celebrate their 28th wedding anniversary last Saturday evening.

Dr. Helen Huston visited with Mrs. Alice Foster last Sunday night enroute from Camrose to Killam to attend a medical meeting.

Congratulations are extended to Mrs. Alice Foster on a new granddaughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Michael McCulloch of Windfield on October 16.

Congratulations are also extended to Mr. and Mrs. Pete Curtis on another grandson, born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stoddart of Lloydminster on October 14 weighing 7 lbs. 12 oz.

His name is Christopher Rodney Alexander.

Mrs. Peggy Richmond received word from Barrie, Ontario to say her sister-in-law, Mrs. Bert Huddleston, was the victim in a fire at Ayers Cliff, Quebec. Mrs. Huddleston's sister, Elsie Osborne, also died in the fire.

Mrs. Mabel Robson spent a few days in Edmonton visiting at the Stewart Seward and the Bruce Woodhouse homes.

Galahad Friendship Club holds its October meeting

The Galahad Senior Citizens' Friendship Club met in the Drop-In Centre on Thursday evening. The meeting opened with President Anne Wise repeating the Serenity Prayer and extending a welcome to all present.

The minutes were read and approved. Correspondence was read. Pensioners Concern. After much discussion, we felt we may not need it. There are other folk who do need help, so we have become a member.

The Annual Turkey Bingo was discussed and it was decided to hold it on November 25 at 8 p.m. The usual 20 turkey games and one door prize for advance sales. A radio raffle will take place in December. Tickets are being made.

People in Profile: Flagstaff's Charlie Hayes

Charlie Hayes, a Flagstaff resident for close to 70 years, has seen the district grow from small towns with main street hitching posts to the modern modern centres residents enjoy today.

Mr. Hayes came west as a young man from southern Ontario, lured by advertisements promising $2.50 a day for working in the fields.

Since farm work was the only thing he knew at the time, he thought the trip might be worth the try.

He came as far as Strome, Alberta to look for Michael J. O'Brien, a very successful businessman whose company is now a family operation. He offered Mr. Hayes the opportunity to work on one of the O'Brien farms in Kindersley, Saskatchewan, or Strome, Saskatchewan.

The Strome farm was a smaller operation, but since Mr. Hayes had known another man who had been in the area, he chose to make Strome his destination.

"The towns didn't amount to a row of beans back then," remembers Mr. Hayes. "We used to tie the horses in front of the stores on hitching posts. I'd never seen that in Ontario."

It was quite a change in life-styles, Mr. Hayes admits, who hadn't planned on staying past the summer.

He enjoyed working for M.J. O'Brien, "an ordinary rich man... one who knew how to get along with people," and who built the first flour mill in Strome. The building still stands - and Mr. Hayes has kept a share in the mill as a souvenir.

"I came west with a good education," Mr. Hayes explains, "but one thing I didn't know anything about was gas engines." Since O'Brien needed a man knowledgeable in that particular field, he sent Mr. Hayes to Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, for a course in internal combustion.

Thanks also to O'Brien, Mr. Hayes became as knowledgeable about cattle as any veterinarian.

"O'Brien saw in me what I didn't see in myself."

Farm wages during that period amounted to $40 a month. But after completing the course on engines, O'Brien raised Mr. Hayes' earnings to $100 a month.

Mr. O'Brien taught Mr. Hayes one other thing he has held to all his life: "Never worry about what you own - just what you control."

Although the variety of businesses and services enjoyed by residents today were not available in towns of the early 1900's, there was always some kind of health scheme in every community, says Mr. Hayes.

Sedgwick, for example, had both a doctor and nurse. The latter had one room in her home reserved for patient-use only while Strome residents had the services of a mid-wife. Each town was different, "but the idea of assisting people was the same."

Mr. Hayes had been elected in 1927 as a councillor for the district of Stirling. He and Bob Johnson were the only original councillors elected to the enlarged municipal district which was formed from: Iron Creek (old Flagstaff), Kinross, Stirling, Aquist, and Wheatland. This change in municipal structure also brought a change in Mr. Hayes' political career.

He was elected the new councillor's first year, heading the poll by several hundred.

By this time, Mr. Hayes had started his own farming venture, leaving the employment of Mr. O'Brien after five years. The Hayes' farm is now run by Mr. Hayes' son Donny.

Mr. Hayes moved off the farm in 1941 and has lived in Strome since.

Mr. Hayes has three other children: George, a surveyor presently employed at the Calgary International Airport; and daughters Ruth and Alice, both living in Edmonton. As well, he has eight grandchildren.

One who has led, by his definition, "an active life," Mr. Hayes also has been involved in a more than average number of boards, including the Alberta

Co-op Livestock Commission, Blue Cross, the Killam-Strome Co-operative Association, the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, and the Alberta Farmers Corporation, a board he has been on since 1966, 12 years as its chairman.

Mr. Hayes is also a Royal Commissioner and a member of the Agriculture Hall of Fame.

"I have been very fortunate in having worked with good people. That doesn't mean only their intentions were good - they were people who really worked at it."

Mr. Hayes has a great respect for those who give of themselves for others. "I had a lot of opportunities not given to the average person," and out of that, he explains, grew a feeling of responsibility to make a contribution toward people and society.

Mr. Hayes doesn't credit his not smoking or drinking to why he's enjoyed a full and healthy life. "If there's a secret to living a long life, it's moderation," he says. But he does offer some insight on how to have a better life. "Don't spend so much time making a good living that you don't have any time left to live."

"The contrast between the old and the new is so great - there doesn't seem to be anything inbetween." Charlie Hayes

Take a long look at this new symbol.

It stands for conservation.

It stands to reason that if we all use energy wisely, we can reduce our energy use. That means we can take the pressure off Alberta's non-renewable resources. It also means we can curb the ever-increasing costs of providing generating facilities to produce electricity. That's good for Alberta - and for you! If we all work together, rate increases in the future can be held to a reasonable level.

It stands for co-operation.

Alberta's electric utilities are working together to promote the wise use of energy. But we won't achieve our goal without your help. Individuals and businesses alike can help in many ways to reduce energy demand. These steps can add up to substantial savings. Watch for messages featuring this new symbol.

Conserve.
It's worth the energy!

DAYLAND

— THANK YOU —

To the many hundreds of people who were in during the Grand Opening and made the opening a terrific success. Sales during the 3 days were over $53,000.00. This speaks for itself. Also the many people who told us they were impressed with their new shopping center.

Thank You To - The department managers and staff for their extra time and duties performed, especially to the dept. managers who have been working between 50 and 60 hours per week for the past 2 months. Those extra 10 to 20 hours per week were all hours donated.

Thank You To - The Directors who donated their time and made 2 trips to Drumheller Co-op to pick up shelving and fixtures, which were purchased from this Co-op to reduce the cost of the expansion, this cost was a saving of over $40,000.00 to your Co-op, as the price of new fixtures has increased immensely.

Thank You To - The Strome Girls who have been picking up their merchandise and meat on their own as they have been neglected in the past 2 months. However, with the extra fixtures purchased from Drumheller we will update their facilities as soon as possible.

Thank You To - All those who purchased Debentures, over $140,000.00 to get the new complex started, although these are an investment on your part, it also shows you have faith in your Co-operative and community and also gave your Co-operative the extra borrowing power needed for the financing.

Thank You To - All those who dropped in and offered their help.

Thank You To - The volunteers who sent bouquets of flowers, Kilam Hotel, Kilam Hotel Cafe, Noble Bakery, Forestburg, Fee and Sons, Kilam Electric, U.F.A., Kilam, Treasury Branch, Kilam, Allstar Construction, Kilam Tire & Rubber, Town of Kilam, Camrose and Sedgewick Credit Union, Tasty Mill Cafe, McLeod Ltd., Viking Co-op, Sedgewick Co-op, Lougheed Co-op, Girls at Strome, Federated Co-operatives, Edmonton, Scott National, Edmonton.

Thank You To - Monte Keith, who tried his best to meet all the advertising deadlines because of the opening date we kept changing on him.

Thank You To - All those involved in the Ribbon Cutting Ceremony. A special thank you to Herb Wilson, Chas Hayes, and Fred Forster, three dedicated past presidents that kept the Co-operative moving ahead for many years.

Thank You To - The Co-operatives in the area who sent down some of their staff to give us help during the Grand Opening.

Thank You To - All those from Federated Co-operative Edmonton and Sask. who helped us in the merchandising and setting up and those who made a special trip to our opening.

Thank You To - All these people that made my job easier.

A Billion Thank You

Galahad senior citizens hear of 50th nursing anniversary

At our September Senior Citizens meeting, we were privileged to have Eunice Don (nee Lindsay) of Provost as a guest.

While visiting with Eunice, she revealed that an interesting 50th anniversary celebration had been held in April for the Royal Alexandra Hospital Graduating Class of 1928.

Last weekend, a letter came from Eunice supplying the following information.

"A short synopsis of our 1928 R.A.H. class 50th anniversary. Twenty-five nurses graduated, 16 of those were honoured in April, 1978. One came from Kamooche, Lower and four grandchildren.

Another nurse who Galahad folk will remember is Tilda Drummond Island, Michigan; 11 from Alberta, one from Marysville, Washington; one from Nampa, Idaho; one from B.C.; one from Victoria, B.C., who was unable to attend due to illness. We missed the eight who had passed away.

Many in and around Galahad will remember Gladys Ledingham (nee Kinsler). In 1928, she married and the untimely death of her husband in 1940 left her with two sons to care for alone. She served as administrator in the General Hospital at Nampa for 30 years and was now retired there, where she enjoys her sons and four grandchildren.

Holm, who also resided here in the past.

It was a wonderful weekend. Three of our classmates opened their homes to the out-of-city guests and it was just like a big family gathering.

A large tea was given for all Royal Alexandra graduates, also a lovely banquet was held at the Basil Centre on the south side with more than 400 guests in attendance.

Four years ago, while visiting Hawaii, I was privileged to spend two days with my roommate, Elsie, at her home in Kamooche. Most of us have kept in touch through the years. However, about four of those ladies in the United States and B.C. I had not seen for the 50 years.

Fifteen of the graduates were grandmothers; one remained single; three had daughters who were also graduates of R.A.H. my own daughter being one of those as well as the daughter of the lady from Victoria, who was unable to be with us due to her health problems."

We are grateful to Eunice for taking time to hear the 50th anniversary of the R.A.H. with us. We are happy to hear that Gladys and Tilda are both enjoying good health.

Eunice also mentioned that she and her sister Ethel Doss and Edna Maier were just ready to leave by plane for Ottawa, where they will be guests of Eunice's daughter Mary, and her husband and sons.

Week of visiting in Galahad

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kuefler over the Thanksgiving weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Armstrong of Edmonton and Miss Iva Kuefler of Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Washburn were Thanksgiving guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Washburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Koenig of Estevan, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Koenig and Tracy of Strome, Mrs. Crookery and Chester Alexander of Strome, Mrs. Joan Eidi and children of Rocky Mountain House were weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sandy McDonald.

Mr. Bill Englehardt of Langley, B.C. was an overnight guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Washburn.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Wain were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rogers of Bentley on Friday. Visitors with the Buchholz families for the Thanksgiving weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klau and daughter Matilda of Medicine Hat. They were accompanied by Grandmother Buchholz, also of Medicine Hat, Mr. and Mrs. John Buchholz and family of Red Cliff, Brenda Buchholz of Edmonton, and Diane Buchholz of Red Deer.

The Herchel Jacksons had the following guests at their home on Sunday to help them celebrate Thanksgiving: Sandra and Carleen Briggley and their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Art Smith, all of Edmonton, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Trevor Jackson of Hinton. The Trevor Jacksons arrived by plane, courtesy of Grant Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Allan of Onda spent the long weekend with Kate Kuefler.

The Ervin McKee family of Edmonton spent the Thanksgiving weekend at the Clarence Jackson home.

Congratulations to the Keith Elty's, their daughter arrived at the Camrose Hospital Tuesday afternoon, September 10. She weighed 8 lbs. 14 oz. Her name is Barbara Joyce, a sister for Heather. Proud grandparents are the George Elty's and Buddy McFarland's.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Allan returned recently from a holiday spent with relatives in Saskatchewan.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Falsen were visitors at the John Arnell home at Kinross on Sunday.

Sympathy is extended to the Don Broder family. Don's mother, Mrs. Minnie Olson, passed away on October 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Oberg joined other family members at the Wilmer Oberg home on Sunday where they celebrated Thanksgiving as well as the birthdays of Gloria and Jerry Oberg and Donna Oberg. Also celebrated was the anniversary of Gloria and Jerry's wedding. Not all the birthdays and anniversaries fell on the 18th, but the gathering provided an opportunity to wish all many happy returns of their special days.

All were pleased that Mrs. Sarah Bish of the Killam Auxiliary Hospital was able to be with them for the day. Mrs. Amy Stewart was a guest also.

The members of Mrs. Rose Borgel's family gathered at her home on Sunday, October 8, to celebrate Thanksgiving and also their mother's birthday.

Mr. Hugh Bowmes and Carrie enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mayres and Jane. Also present were Billy Mayres from Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Vitezhuk and Ryan of Sherwood Park, Mrs. Nan Kuefler of Forestburg and Lyle Blumhagen of Galahad.

Holiday visitors at the Robert Bowmes' home were the Glen Nelson and John Muirhead families of Camrose, Mr. and Mrs. Keany Bowmes and family of Provost, Miss Lois Sandmaler, Danny Bowmes, Miss Peggy Bowmes and friend of Edmonton, also Doug and Bev Bowmes and children, and Mr. H. Bowmes and Carrie.

The former Lynn Lewis, whose parents homesteaded north of the Plesington district in 1906, was renewing acquaintances in the Galahad and Plesington districts. She now lives in Vancouver.

Rolland Van Dewark (left) is ably assisted by Gus Johnson as the two worked the levers to start and steer the engine. It was surprising how quiet the machine ran, and as it idled away, only a whisper of escaping steam could be heard. The boiler, which carried 80 pounds of steam, were stoked by Gus, an experienced steam operator. Staff Photo

Galahad Missionary Church meets with Scottish theme

The October meeting of the Missionary Church was held on Wednesday, October 11 with 17 ladies present.

Ethel Black opened the Devotional period with a content on the meaning of Scottish words.

Ethel McGowan gave a very interesting talk on their visit to Scotland and England. She also displayed a number of articles from Scotland and explained the Scottish tartans and family crests of the British Isles. Spices will not permit a detailed account of her discourse.

Ethel Black used the life of David Livingstone, a medical missionary and explorer to Africa, to bring out Scotland's contribution of culture as well as their spiritual gifts to the world. She closed her talk with prayer.

Carrie Bowmes read a Thanksgiving poem. Marguerite Scott served a delicious lunch. President Anna Whitehead opened the business meeting with prayer.

Allison Vincett read the minutes of the September meeting. Marguerite Scott gave the treasurer's report. A number of items of business were discussed. One that will be of help to folk in need of bedding and clothing was considered.

Since we have located two places where used clothing can be made use of. The ladies decided to accept good, used clothing that they may be passed on to those who lack what we take for granted and consider that everyone has. These gifts will bring comfort to those in need.

Some of the ladies remained to quilt after the meeting was adjourned.

Years of work and saving were culminated when this 20-ton monster roared to life last Sunday at the Van Dewark farm south of Loughheed. This cast and steel steam engine measured 20 feet long by 10 feet wide.

Pieces for this Case steam engine were gathered from a variety of parts in Alberta and Saskatchewan. The boiler came from Maraden, Saskatchewan, and the latest acquisition of wheels and gears was from Wainwright, Alberta. The original boiler was built in 1912 and was sold in 1914, according to Mr. Rolland Van Dewark, who has spent many hours restoring the engine.

Plans were to hook the steamer up to a large, modern field cultivator to see how its 80 horsepower rating compared to Holland's new 250 horsepower tractor. A minor malfunction did not allow the trial to take place, but it will some day soon, promised Mr. Van Dewark.

Preserving that car's new look is sure to enhance its value

Rust, which usually does more to depreciate a car than any other single factor, is ravenous. It moves in fast, feeding on chips and scratches, until what started out as a minor scrape (possibly one that you might have been able to fix up yourself) now may require considerable grinding and refinishing to make the car presentable. In terms of protecting the substantial investment you probably have in your car, quality body repair can pay big dividends at resale time. Watch for minor scrapes and scratches and take care of them before rust does.

Possibly you have experienced something like this with your car. The minor parking lot dent or split upholstery seam, which upset you considerably at first, gradually becomes part of the scene.

You get used to it after the initial jolt and tend not to worry about it after that. The same with subsequent dents and dings.

Unfortunately, the appraiser will not find these things particularly appealing when you start shopping for a new car. A well maintained automobile may bring several hundred dollars more at trade-in time than one that has been allowed to deteriorate.

Sometimes the neglect of a car's appearance is not deliberate. A few scratches you may not have noticed, covered with dirt and salt through the winter, suddenly appear as rusty gouges when you get around to giving your car its spring clean-up.

FALL

What makes the fall?
Hills bare of their green;
Storks stand in the distant
Nippled harvest scene.

Golden grain is bursting bane
Bale stacks piled so high;
Flight of birds on southward wing
Their solace homegoing cry.

What makes the fall?
Colors of scarlet and gold;
Purrs cats on animals
Cobwebs shimmering untold.

Autumn leaves falling everywhere Cellars full and gardens bare;
Beauty of flowers past and gone
Frosty air at break of dawn.

What makes the fall?
Brown vines hanging low;
Frost now has captured
Their past green glow.

Hands are busy preparing
For a new season ahead
The long approach of winter
And cold that they so dread.

SILVER WINGS

Silver wings fly overhead
Wild geese in pale blue sky;
Murmuring back of a thousand wings
Softly fluttering by.

Gilding, drifting, in perfect form
Nodding they float on and on;
For miles I scan the horizon
And watch their glittering form.

Swiftly, instinctively, onward
Their flashing sparrows soon go Majestic beauty and haste
Into the great beyond.

The Southern larkens to them
Fly, soon north winds blow;
Harvest fields now lie golden
Soon comes the winter snow.

By Rose Marie Rose
It is not in doing what you like, but in liking what you do that is the secret of happiness.

* An average serving of beef liver provides 55 to 60 per cent of the recommended daily allowance of protein, 90 to 100 per cent of the recommended allowance of iron and more than 100 per cent of the recommended allowance of Vitamin A, riboflavin and niacin.

* Calves' liver is tender, lighter in colour, more delicate in flavour and more expensive than the darker beef liver. Both types should be sautéed or pan fried; but remember, overcooking toughens liver.

* If you have beef liver and would like to tone the flavour down - soak the raw liver in a solution of 1 Tbsp. vinegar and 1 cup water for 30 minutes before cooking.

WOMEN IN THE LABOUR FORCE

The Alberta Human Rights Commission published the following facts that I found rather interesting:

* 51.9 per cent, or more than half, of adult women in Alberta are in the labour force. This is the highest participation rate for women in any province in Canada.

* 98 per cent, or more than one-third, of working women in Alberta are self-empowered.

* 81 per cent of all clerical jobs and 60 per cent of all service jobs in Alberta are held by women.

* More than two-thirds of all working women in Alberta are in clerical, service or sales occupations.

Nazarenes stage shower

More than 65 ladies gathered Friday evening to honour Sharon Waite with a bridal shower.

During the program, Shireen was given the ingredients for a cake, but no recipe! The cake was a success and ladies enjoyed sampling her cooking. Gifts were presented by Gloria Leslie, assisting with opening gifts were Mrs. Warren Waite, Mrs. Jim Rancier and Joan Wright. Shireen expressed gratitude for the gifts and invited the ladies to the Open House in Lougheed October 27, and to visit her in her home.

Congratulations to two ladies who celebrated birthdays this week, Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. Frevling.

Richard DeBock, on behalf of the puppets, presented Breast Polyps with a prize for his name suggestion, Christian Powerhouse for the puppet group.

Get well wishes are sent to Mr. George Merts of Kinross, a patient in the University Hospital.

Thirty children attended a rally Tuesday featuring Wayne Burtness and his puppet Randy, telling the story of the lost sheep.

Miss Lydia Wilke, missionary to the Cape Verde Islands, will speaking in the Sedgewick Nazarene Church on October 25 at 8 p.m. As Miss Wilke has spent many years as a missionary in this area, as well as former work in South Africa, her presentation in word and picture will prove most interesting. The public is cordially invited. A fellowship coffee time will follow. Adv.

Edmonton visitor, attending an impromptu family reunion. She was accompanied by her father, Mr. Ted Lister. They returned home Monday, bringing with them Rev. Arthur Pruitt, Archdeacon of the Anglican Diocese of the Yukon. Rev. Pruitt, who is based in Whitehorse, delivered a very interesting side presentation to the public on Monday afternoon at the Anglican Parish Hall, describing the work of the Church in the Yukon.

Rev. Richard Conrad spent a few days last week visiting in Lethbridge. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Culbert have returned from a week's visit with relatives in British Columbia. Mr. and Mrs. David Reay of Edmonton spent the weekend at the Grig Maria home. His wife, Mary, was one of the interdenominational hymn singing, sponsored by the Anglican, Lutheran, United and Nazarene Churches, to be held on Thursday, October 19 at 8 p.m. at the Anglican Church.

Get well wishes to Mr. Cecil Gould, who underwent surgery in the University Hospital on Friday. Mrs. Ardith Gould, Mrs. Mary Simons and Mrs. Linda Barclay spent Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Edmonton and Mary reports that Cecil is coming along fine. Mrs. Ardith Gould and Mrs. Helen Leck were in Edmonton to visit him on Monday. The sympathy of the community is expressed to the Mulroney families on the death in Edmonton on Thursday, October 12 of Mr. Bob Mulroney. The funeral was conducted by the Rev. R. Chappell at the United Church at 2 p.m. on Monday, October 16. An overflow crowd was present to pay its last respects to Bob, who was well-known and well-loved by many. The Gerry Millers of Calgary were here on Sunday to pick up Mr. and Mrs. Rod MacKinnon and take them to spend a while at the Miller home in Calgary. Congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kjelland (nee Laurin) of Calgary who were married by the Rev. Thomas McLaughlin at the Sedgewick United Church on Saturday, October 14. A good crowd attended the Open House and dance in the Community Hall in the evening. There were six tables of whist players at the Senior Citizens' Card Party at the Legion Hut on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Thana Skene and Mr. Frank Mayne won prizes for the highest scores while consolation awards went to Mrs. Beanie Russell and Mr. Harry Potage. Mr. and Mrs. J. Craig spent the Thanksgiving weekend at the home of their daughter and her family, the John Korkak's at Leduc.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A.B. Falls included Mrs. and Mrs. Francis Moore, Mrs. Hazel Taylor, Mrs. Bertha MacPherson and Miss Ethel Falls, all of Edmonton. Also spending a while at the Falls home were their cousins, Mabel and Lawrence Riss and Henry and Agnes Johnson, all of Balfour, North Dakota. Mrs. Denny Bergum spent the long Thanksgiving weekend at Port St. John, B.C. where her husband Vernon is employed. Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bradley of Rocky Mountain House were here over the weekend to visit their father, Mr. Port Sparrow, who is a patient in the Killam Hospital. Hope you're feeling pretty good, Mr. Sparrow. Mr. and Mrs. E. Freeman and Mrs. Jones spent the Thanksgiving weekend with their son and his family, the Duane Freeman's at Sherwood Park. Mrs. Mary Nordstrom left on Saturday to visit with her daughter in Seattle. On her way home she will visit in Vancouver with another daughter and other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Len Rumbough of Edmonton were here at the weekend and visited with Miss Joy Barton at Flagstaff Lodge and with the Hallmans and the Sparrows.

Mr. E. Altheim is home after spending awhile with his daughter, Mrs. Maria Palmer at Drayton Valley. Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Bates of Hallett, Saskatchewan enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Bates in Vancouver on Saturday to visit with her mother and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Harris of Canmore had supper at the Charlie Lane home after attending the funeral of Mr. Bob Mulroney on Monday.

Mrs. Ruby Turk of Scarborough, Ontario, was visiting with her cousin Mrs. Lorraine Beirato, came out of Killam Hospital on Wednesday and is home. Mr. and Mrs. Stan Bowen of Fortinault visited with the H.L. Beirato's on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Lane spent the weekend in Hardisty babysitting their grandsons while Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Fisher and Mr. Sherman Lane were in Edmonton. On Sunday, they and their grandsons enjoyed a turkey supper at the home of Daisy Chymenah. Then on Monday, they enjoyed supper with their daughter Lora and family, the Dennis Fisher's, and the Ross Shermans.

Mrs. Beth Bensen, with sons Jeff and Mac visited briefly with her parents, the Jim Walsh's, on Tuesday afternoon. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Brian Bensen on the birth of an 8 lb. 8 oz. daughter, Kimberly Marie, who arrived at the Killam Hospital on Thursday, October 12.

JUVENILE HOCKEY NEWS
A basketball tournament will be held Saturday, October 20, here in Sedgewick, so if you want something to do, drop by and watch a game or two.

There was a large turnout for the cross-country meet in Hardisty on October 4. There were 42 Junior High girls and 67 boys competing altogether. Thirty-seven of these were from Sedgewick. Our girls' team placed second overall. The boys had some difficulty and placed fifth. Denise Hagen was the first Sedgewick girl in; she placed second overall. Robert Jones was the first Sedgewick boy in; he placed 16th overall. Everyone did a fine job. Congratulations, runners!

Premier sees trouble

Premier Peter Lougheed has opened the fall legislature session with a sobering reminder that "limitations" face the province's economic ambitions — and not all of them are imposed by Ottawa.

Petroleum and farming are "bulwarks for the future," even though stable prosperity, less reliance on one-only resources and more trade abroad continue to be targets, Lougheed said.

"We're facing difficulty," the premier said. He described his low-key, 90-minute speech later as an attempt to "express the magnitude of the problems" which his government faces.

"Despite the promising forecasts of the Alberta economy... we face some important obstacles by the federal government."

Lougheed's list of hurdles included federal policies on energy pricing and marketing, grain exports, transportation, international tariffs and the Canadian constitution.

He said the Trudeau government is fostering "aid" misinterpretation in the west and until first-ministers' meetings in Ottawa next month on constitutional reform and the economy.

"But we also have to face a reality that we live in an area with a small population, not on a snowdrift and a long distance from markets," the premier said.

"And that has a great bearing on the economic activity and diversification we can look to."

He said critics of his Conservative "reflexive" to use the Heritage Fund — set up with a pledge to parlay energy revenue into new industry — have to start making specific suggestions.

Lougheed outlined an economic diversification strategy which has not changed significantly since before the fund was born. The plan covers development of the oil sands, agricultural processing, petrochemicals, recreation, tourism and links to the north.

The Tories this fall will seek approval of further expansion for the fund toward $8 billion in 1979-80. Social Credit leader Rob Clark has already served notice that he will fight the request.

Meanwhile, Lougheed reported only uncertain prospects for his government's efforts to obtain full value for energy resources and to trade natural gas purposes for better access to U.S. markets.

The province is reviewing federal proposals to postpone a January 1 hike in the oil price by $1 to $15.75 and to change gas pricing to expand Canadian markets.

Outside the house, Lougheed said the trade conditions he has linked to additional exports of Alberta gas might have to be abandoned eventually if he preserves the petroleum industry's health.

The success of requests for lowered taxes against farm and petrochemical products is a handicap and is unable to use conventional print material is eligible and is urged to make application for this service. There is no cost involved. Simply call Bonnie at 385-3690 or at 385-2131 for more information or an application form.

Paperback racks will be required to accommodate the many such books being ordered by classrooms. The cost of some such suitable shelving unit is to be sought out by our librarian.

Bonnie reported of a new scheme whereby books purchased through one Canadian firm would result in a very substantial saving. This would eliminate dealing with several companies. Hopefully, it would simplify the task as well as cut costs.

Young Alberta Book Week is to be observed November 12 to 25. Posters and promotional material will be displayed.

Some problems are being encountered with servicing the library during weekly evening hours and on Saturdays. We regret any inconveniences which may have resulted from doors being locked although library hours were to be observed. While this does occur, we wish to again extend our appreciation to those faithful volunteers who do provide the service as agreed upon. Without their generous gift of time, our library's operation would be far less efficient.

A decision was made to change the hours in hopes that this might be more acceptable to the public.

Effective November 1, 1978, the hours of operation are to be: Monday - 7 to 8:30 p.m.;

Oldtimers hockey team reorganizes

The Wainwright Battle River Buffalo Oldtimer's Hockey team has reorganized for the 1978-79 season. The team will have the same personnel as last year with another 22 years added to the total age. The management and players are as follows:

Manager - Walt Loughy, Edmonton; Treasurer - Any Barry, Wainwright; Equipment Manager - Jan Jensen, Wainwright; Publicity - Ray Matthews, Alliance; Coach and Captain - Brent Macnab, Vermilion.

Players: Alliance - Alvin Miller; Irma - Ruth Fischer, Albert Glasgow, Larry Lemieux; Hardisty - John Golka, Lee Hendricks, Betsy Morrison; Lloydminster - Bill Armstrong, Ken Kile, Paul Koster; Provost - Mark Degeneration; Strathmore - Jim Ianason; Strome - Vern Miller; Vermilion - Brent Macnab, Wainwright - Dale Evans, Ralph Bell, Fred Bonk, Don Kien, Richard Canon, Roger Lebr, Peter Peterson, Vic Zepherian.

At a meeting held September 20 it was decided to forgo the trip to Japan. The team will take part in the following tournaments: Lethbridge - November 17, 18 and 19; Canmore - December 1, 2, 3, Victoria, B.C.; January 28, 29, 30, St. Petersburg, Florida as follows:

Richard Canon reported on the house building project 38, St. Petersburg, Florida which was a success. Thanks go to all who helped the team in anyway with this project, it was greatly appreciated.

Right now the players are busy thinking about getting into shape for the new season. They hope to have several exhibition games during the year. If a no-body contact and a no slap shot and sometime a old no-punch kind of game is your kind of game, come out and watch these Oldtimers.

Graduates as RN

What news is

One of the better publications in the nation is the well researched, well prepared and interesting newsletter published monthly by The Royal Bank of Canada.

The topic of one of the recent newsletters was The Role of the Newspaper, which carried information of wide interest ranging from the role of the first newspapers to a dissertation on newspapermen.

Here is what the newsletter related on "What news is."

News is accurate information about any event of public or human interest, or the record of significant acts or opinions. It tells about something that is different from daily routine.

Airplanes that fly safely and without being hijacked, people who live together without quarrelling, rivers that flow within their banks, and the nations that conduct their affairs and resolve their differences without fighting — these are not news. An ordinary person doing an ordinary job in an ordinary way is not the subject of a news story, but if you have an extraordinary man or woman in action, or an ordinary man or woman doing an extraordinary job, or doing an ordinary job in an extraordinary way, that is news.

There are sorts and degrees of news. Some things which happen in a village are news there but not in a town a few miles away. Happenings on the stock exchange are news on the financial page, and not anywhere else except on days when there is a financial upheaval.

What Others Say

PROVINCIAL PARK PLANNING PATHETIC

With regard to the recent ad campaigns to buy and vacation in Alberta, we feel justified in directing some constructive criticism at the provincial government. When we first came to Alberta, we were astonished to find so little in the way of camp facilities for tourists as well as Albertans. Every weekend in the summer the radio and T.V. stations tell campers about the full camp grounds. We also think it is about time the government started a serious restocking program for the existing rivers and streams of southern Alberta. Ask people where they go fishing. Most will answer they go the Montana, even when the Canadian dollar is in its present state. We can think of no better way of bringing tourist dollars into Alberta and keeping Albertans at home than to spend some money on our parks and fishing areas. Is this not what the Heritage fund is supposed to be for? The tourist and sport fishing areas are definitely renewable resources. The building of areas like the Kananaskis park are nice, but could not the same amount of money spread over a wider area be a greater benefit to the tourist industry of Alberta as a whole. Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

I would like to comment on the editorial on kids in the October 11 issue of the Press.

The statements made had an uneasy ring of reality. Working with these kids for the summer, I noticed, even in the short time we had, what real potential they do have. I noticed, in some cases, what little interest is taken by some parents.

These kids have ambition, imagination and energy. It's all in how you use it. I found my respect for them was rewarded with their respect for me and their co-operation.

Youth in small towns has little to do. Sure, they could be studying or working — but tell me that you did that when you were young . . .

Not mentioning individuals, I took those "young men about town," plus girls on a camping trip this summer. With merely me for supervision, they were left to govern themselves by their own self-discipline. No misdeeds, no problems and I was just spent one of the most enjoyable summers of my experience. I arrived in Alberta fresh from "down-under," having just finished the Australian harvest and not knowing what to expect in Alberta. Now I can look back over the last six months much the wiser as to just how beautiful the prairie can be through the seasons, how friendly and hospitable all the people of the district are, and of course, how much hard work and expertise is involved in a farming operation.

Unfortunately, the predetermined length of my stay here under the International Exchange Association trainee program was far too brief to use and do all I wanted, so naturally I shall make hasty my return to Canada in the near future.

Meanwhile, I would like to certify that I had ever met. From that day in early spring it was made more and more at home in the Sedgewick area.

Dear Sir:

In mid-April of this year, I was greeted at Edmonton International Airport by Edith and Wayne Luntz, the first Albertans that I had ever met. From that day in early spring it was made more and more at home in the Sedgewick area.

no much to it. I feel I have just spent one of the most enjoyable summers of my experience. The Third Column

In Truncate, overheard, headed for the river in the valley below where, mingled with the mallards and the pintails, they will live in harmony until the morning breaks and then will take off for the fields for their daily meal. They will land amongst the scarecrows to which they have become accustomed and have no fear. Maybe she will ring out in the early dawn and the flocks take off for safer areas across the river.

BEFORE YOU MOVE ON you take a closer look at the foliage beneath your feet and find you are unable to name or count the variety of flowers, shrubs and low bushes all decked out in fall array.

DOWN INTO THE VALLEY where new sights greet the eye. A glance back to from whence you came gives a different view of the sidehill with the trees slowly but surely discarding their summer garb and taking on the gaunt spectre of winter wilderness sentinels.

ASTOP HERE on the bridge which spans the river, murky from the many freaks of nature and the delusory of man. A fish swims lazily past on the water to cower in a stream of water waded to an eventual ending somewhere far off.

AS YOU TRAVEL UP THE RISE look back to the valley and marvel at the scene which you missed from the other side. The sturdy structure of the bridge which attests to the genius of man who has spanned the width of a wilderness stream with steel and concrete. As you travel on your way, a wild mini skip bump backed across the road, a deer leaps a fence with the ease of a ballet dancer and scurries out of reach only to turn and stare the intruder with distrustful eyes and listening ears. A cat walks quietly along the ditch in search of an evening meal, and you keep your distance. A V-shape wedge of geese sails gracefully

BE STILL AND KNOW that things are going on around you, things which you have never really seen before. A small rodent busily engaged in storing a winter supply of food, watching you missed from the other side. The sturdy structure of the bridge which attests to the genius of man who has spanned the width of a wilderness stream with steel and concrete. As you travel on your way, a wild mini skip bump backed across the road, a deer leaps a fence with the ease of a ballet dancer and scurries out of reach only to turn and stare the intruder with distrustful eyes and listening ears. A cat walks quietly along the ditch in search of an evening meal, and you keep your distance. A V-shape wedge of geese sails gracefully enabling me to be part of it all. Your's sincerely, Ben Chapman

Dear Sir:

The Iron Creek Museum Association would like it known that our organization would like to see the Bott Lakes developed as a park area.

It would be a natural park and has easy access. The park would be a benefit to our community as well as many others.

Your's truly, Ann Fournier, secretary Iron Creek Museum

The economy of Alberta is in a healthy situation in comparison to the rest of Canada. We must constantly monitor and adjust our economic position, but the one position that remains constant is this province's desire to develop the province throughout Alberta rather than just Edmonton and Calgary. I intend to help in this

Looking back at the encouragement of rape seed crushing plants and this type of assistance, it has really helped local in that more farmers were able to grow this earlier maturing crop and get ahead of the weather. With the advent of better grain dryers, better harvesting machinery and earlier maturing grains and oil seeds, the problems are less severe than has been in the past.

The province encourages the development of earlier varieties through a research fund second to none in Canada. This is

Killam Sr. citizens enjoy turkey supper

Members of the Killam Senior Citizens Club enjoyed a Thanksgiving turkey pot-luck supper October 12 in their lounge with 56 participating.

The dishes and tables were quickly cleared away by volunteers and the regular monthly meeting was called to order by President E. George. Secretary M. Gibb read the minutes of September meeting and were adopted.

Treasurer T. Lackey gave the financial report and presented bills for turkey and utilities. A motion was made and carried to pay bills.

Correspondence included a reminder of membership dues of $10 for the monthly paper, The Alberta Council on Aging News of Canadian Pensioners Concerned. Also, a letter from Mr. Cantelon, who is consultant from the Department of Culture, suggesting we sign a petition to re-establish the provincial grant to assist senior groups who have recently been organized. This petition is to be sent to Mr. Kruger and Horst Schmidt.

Visits to the sick and shut-ins were reported. Happy birthday was sung for four members. It was decided to have two card parties each month on the second and last Thursday night at 8 p.m. What will be played on October 28.

With the busy season over, we hope to have a good turnout. Next meeting is in the afternoon of November 9 at 2 p.m.

A big thank you goes to Robert Borth, who donated a large dart board. After adjournment, a meeting of bowlers was called to organize a senior league again this year. Various committees were appointed. Teams are being formed and League bowling will start Monday, October 30 at 1:30 p.m. Anyone wishing to bowl should get in touch with Emma George.

Safety poster winner named

One of four first-place winners in the recent Alberta Agriculture Farm Safety Poster Contest was Derek Hruska, a Grade 1 student at the Forestburg Elementary School.

Other first-place winners in the contest were: Kirsten Maier, a Grade 4 student in Coaldale; Wayne Bors, a Grade 3 student in Picture Butte; and Danny Vroom, a Grade 2 student in Neeranda.

The purpose of the contest, which attracted more than 1,000 participants from Grades 1 to 4, is to focus the attention of young children and their parents on potential farm accident situations so that they are better able to avoid them. The winning posters from each grade of the schools that participated are being used in a colouring and work book for school children in Grades 1 to 4 as well as for preschoolers. All the first prize picture winners will be used as official Alberta Farm Safety posters.

Participants in this year's contest, organized by Solomon Kyeremanteng, research coordinator of Alberta Agriculture's Farm Safety Program, were asked to draw and colour a picture of a safe or an unsafe situation on a farm, taking into account such things as livestock, agricultural chemicals, and machinery, and to forward the picture to Alberta Agriculture.

Mr. Kyeremanteng says the colouring and work books, a teacher's guide on their use and the posters will be distributed to selected rural schools in those areas of the province where farm accident monitoring is being carried out by Alberta Agriculture. A few copies of the colouring and work book, a parents' guide and some posters will also be sent to all the extension offices in the province for distribution.

Second- and third-place winners were: Brady Moser of Coaldale; and Hilda Vander Hook, also of Coaldale, for Grade 4 entries. Kim Velenik of Valleyview and Merna Giesler of Innisfail were the second- and third-place winners from Grade 3. Sharon Atwood of Coaldale and Kevin Denis of Three Hills won the second- and third-place prizes for Grade 2, and Carmen Smith of Innisfail and Kelly Gaboury of Sunset House were awarded prizes for second- and third-place honours from Grade 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cairns and daughters of Doroche, B.C., Mr. and Mrs. John Cairns of To-field, Mr. and Mrs. Les Smith and family of Ceyrae, Mr. and Mrs. David Wylie and family of Sedgewick, and Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Wylie and family were Thanksgiving Day guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Wylie.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Gus Probst on the birth of a baby girl born October 13 in the Dayland Hospital. Congratulations also to Mr. and Mrs. Brian Berg on the birth of a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Clouston and Darcy drove to Lethbridge Thanksgiving weekend to be with Raymond and Brenda. A beautiful outdoor supper was put on by the wives of W.D. Ditching for all. Then we were invited to Mr. and Mrs. Pete Davey's for a social evening and had a good time. We also drove to Calgary to spend the rest of the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rietter and family. We called in on Mr. and Mrs. Les Kelly and family at Red Deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Niehaus of Camrose were Saturday night guests at their son's, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Niehaus and Kresha.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Davis and Dast of Edson were weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Keith Davis and Darcy.

Sergeant and Mrs. Billy Pushe of the Vainwright Army Camp visited Mrs. Dast Drager on Sunday. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dave Black of Sedgewick and Harold Hagen and Ings.

Weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kilgarn were their daughter and her family from Edmonton, and a good friend, John Sinclair, from Peace River. On Sunday, another friend from Edmonton dropped in to visit. Mrs. Kilgrain was pleasantly surprised to receive a call from a cousin, Chris Peterson of Cottonwood, Minnesota, wishing her a happy birthday.

Couple exchanges vows in summer ceremony

A lovely summer wedding took place at Trinity Lutheran Church at Lougheed, Alberta, Saturday, August 28, 1978. Pastor Ray Niebergal performed the double ring ceremony which united in marriage Miss Brenda Elizabeth Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Edith Wilson of Hardisty, and Mr. Raymond Derek Clouston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clouston of Lougheed, Alberta.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law Ed Dowker of Hardisty. Her Matron of Honour was Mrs. Debbie Hagen, sister of the bride from Sedgewick, and her bridesmaid was Miss Diane Metz, friend of the bride, from Hardisty.

Attending the groom were Mr. Ken Clouston, brother of the groom, from Lougheed, and Mr. Allan Wilson, brother of the bride, from Hardisty.

Out-of-town guests were from Vancouver, Edmonton, Calgary, Provost, Vermilion, Alliance, Camrose, Wainwright and surrounding towns.

Following a brief honeymoon the happy couple are now residing in Lethbridge where Raymond is now employed.

49 MPG* NOW

THE 1979 JAG

It couldn't have happened to a nicer snowmobile. The 79 Arctic Cat Jag 2000 was crowned the '79 mileage champ in a US industry wide independent mileage test. Not bad for a machine that was designed to be 'little brother' to Arctic's honest performer, the El Tigre. Jag's agreeable balance of speed, power, weight, and price look just as much more agreeable at 49 MPG. We think you'll agree. See the 79 Jag at your Arctic Cat dealer.

Local artist has showing

Marg Skoberg, former resident of the Hardisty area, will be holding an exhibition of her paintings in the Moose Jaw Saskatchewan Art Museum National Exhibition Centre October 17 to November 15.

Previously, Mrs. Skoberg has exhibited landscapes, still-life and portraits in Ottawa, Regina, Moose Jaw and Swift Current. A number of her works are found in private collections throughout Canada. Born on a farm at Hardisty in 1929, Mrs. Skoberg completed her primary and secondary education at Sedgewick. She made her first attempts with pastel and oils in 1965, taking a six-week course conducted by Ann Wilson of Moose Jaw. Following this she took several years of instruction under Bill Anderson, then stationed at the Canadian Forces Base in Moose Jaw.

From 1960 to 1973, the family lived in Ottawa where she studied under leading artists Larry Holpin, Henri Malasse and Fred Maheu. Since returning to Moose Jaw in 1973, she has attended several Summer School of the arts classes at Echo Lake.

A reception will be held Friday, October 20 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Moose Jaw Art Museum for anyone interested in meeting Mrs. Skoberg.

Lutheran women meet

A regular meeting of Bethania Lutheran Church Women was held Tuesday, October 10. Thirteen members were present.

In the absence of Beverly Neulgar, Molly Magee presented Bible Study. She enlarged on the theme "Not Only On Sunday," bringing an outline of the Sunday worship service, pointing out the value and the need for a scripture-based type of worship, always remembering that our words, whether in praise, prayer, thanks, or our offering, are a response to God's action for us, and that the gospel must be central in any worship service. While there is something bracing and exhilarating about joining the believing company in worship on Sunday, it will not be meaningful unless we are living a life of worship during the week. Our lives should be filled with a spirit of thanksgiving and characterized by dependence on him. Not only on Sunday should we worship, but we should be willing to present our bodies as living sacrifice, acceptable to him. We are constantly warned in scripture against going through the rituals of worship yet not allowing it to influence our daily lives. Sunday is the high point of worship which empowers us to live a life of service which glorifies God.

Many of our friends in the community, as well as members in the congregation, have expressed their interest in the annual "Frolics to Christmas" at Bethania, and it will be taking place again this year, December 8.

The LCW Christmas party will be Tuesday evening, December 5, and the men are to be our guests. Following the Lord's prayer and the singing of Table Grace, refreshments were served by hostesses Hedra Nordstrom and Denise Schweizer.

Sedgewick Co-op facelifting

The Sedgewick Co-op is undergoing a facelift which will show a new front on the building that has been renovated only a few times in its almost 70 year history.

The project involves stripping off all the old stucco, closing up some windows, and removing the grey siding on the office part of the premise's exterior, explained Al Strobel, manager of the Co-op.

Herb Rott and Albert Dyck of A & H Construction are doing the renovations, which are expected to be finished in 10 days to two weeks.

From then on, cedar siding, new stucco, and a new door and sign will greet store patrons.

The building has housed a variety of businesses since built in the early 1900's. It has been a hardware store, machinery co-op's store, an addition onto the back of the building was used as a public garage.

Police ask support for Halloween eve

As you all know, Halloween is once more approaching at the end of this month.

Halloween is basically a chance for our kids to dress up in various costumes and collect an assortment of goodies from the neighbourhood. It is too bad that this "evening of fun" for the kids seems to be interpreted as an "evening of vandalism" by the older "kids."

We realize that the traditions of Halloween go back a long way and we try to be a little of the lenient side when either criminal or provincial statute charges are warranted.

It is becoming increasingly more difficult, however, when the breaking of windows, setting up of barriers, and the burning of bale stacks are considered fun and harmless.

The damage of private or public property is a criminal offence for which a person is fingerprinted. Once this happens, you have a criminal record and this has a considerable effect on any future careers, such as the Armed Forces or any government position, whether it be a federal, provincial or municipal level.

This article is directed mainly toward the teenagers, and all we wish for is to have you display a "commonsense" attitude and to determine in your own mind the difference between right and wrong. If you do this, I'm sure you will not get yourselves into a position which may necessitate police action.

It is requested that all parents with teenage children bring this article to their attention, and it would also be appreciated if teachers would also stress the importance of this message to their classes.

Kilam Detachment, RCMP

Merna 4-H holds meet

On Monday, October 23, the members of the Merna 4-H Horse Club met at the Merna Church for its first meeting of the season. There were 14 members present and everyone was glad to see we acquired six new members since the last meeting.

To start off the agenda, the club elected a new executive. The results were: President - Paul Alderidge, Vice-President - Sharon Burr, Secretary - Karen O'Reilly, Treasurer - Thessa Leslie, Club Reporter - Deb Eidey, Social Convener - Tracy Bradings, and Club Leader - Ella Whitehead.

We would all like to thank last year's leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Quast, for the fine job and help they gave the club. There was lots to be discussed in regards with new business. First, we set the date for meetings to be the second Monday of each month and fees for the club would be the usual $1. It was also decided that since the club used the church for its meeting place, it would be nice to donate $100 to it.

Everyone seemed quite enthusiastic as we planned a trail ride, which is scheduled for the following October 29. The trail ride will start at 11 a.m. and we plan to end up at Whitehead's and enjoy a pot luck supper.

Sedgewick Chamber discusses policing

The two meetings of the Sedgewick Chamber of Commerce since the summer recess have been concerned with the brief presented to the cabinet, as well as town policing and other local matters.

The government has agreed that the highway sign east of Strone should have included Sedgewick and has ordered a new sign made. However, in the matter of improving the access road into the town, they felt the number of fatalities at the intersection did not warrant upgrading it at this time. The joint airstrip is still under evaluation and should be settled in the near future.

The new town office on Main Street is expected to be ready for occupancy by January 1. A donation of $100 was made to the Central High football club to help pay for new equipment.

The possibility of a second access road into town was discussed and a report on this from town council was requested.

The date for the Santa Claus party was decided upon, and extra shopping hours for Christmas were discussed.

Community urged to help prevent Halloween hazards

Ghosts and goblins and witches all add to the excitement of Halloween night as children go from door to door collecting goodies.

Every year, tales are told of children falling victim to tragedy on a day that was meant to be a day of fun for all.

In talking to our local police about it, I found that they have a number of good suggestions for parents who are concerned that this night be hazard-free.

Costumes for children should be made of fluorescent or light-colored materials. If not, attach long strips of fluorescent tape to both sides of the garment.

Makeup is far superior than rubber or plastic masks. Be adventurous. It's amazing what affects you can achieve with makeup pencils and lipstick tubes.

Masking behind children's eyesight and for that one reason alone they are something to avoid.

Review rules of the road with your children before they leave the house. Also, be sure to set a time limit for them so that you will know when to expect them. It's a good idea for a parent or teenager to accompany children up to 10 years old.

They will probably argue over this - but what's more important, their safety or their wish for a night out on their own?

Last, but not certainly least, instruct children to bring all their loot home before eating it. Then you can examine it for potential hazards - the most we've all heard about but can't imagine anyone doing!

Be good to your children - at Halloween night, make it fun and make it the fun night it was meant to be.

Halloween will be a highlight on every child's activity, and a safe one too. If parents plan and assist their child's activity with safety as well as fun in mind, providing the Alberta Safety Council.

To assist the providers of Halloween treats, the Council suggests the following items: Play comic books, Finger puppets, Pennies, Small box of raisins, Candy corns, Balloons.

COME ALIVE

by Stewart Abel

COME ALIVE

I was not living in Sedgewick

when the captain, "Come Alive," our ministers' column in the Community Press, was declared upon. And I could have asked at my monthly ministerial meetings what we as ministers may be such a title but I never have. And it may be very naive of me to pose the question, "What do we really mean by Come Alive?" Within this past week I have been asking myself, "What does the reading public think of when they see this caption at the head of our weekly column?"

Does it infer to them that we as ministers think most of them are dead? Does it say that many of our churches or church people are dead? Or is it a surrection? Of course, we have often heard that ministers are naysayers, but what do they do?

I guess I should have gone to the street and taken a "Gallup Opinion Poll" before writing this article, but I didn't. I'm sure the answers would have been interesting.

Nevertheless, I have come to the conclusion of what I think we as ministers mean. We mean to "Come Alive in God through Jesus Christ." This is the gospel; this is bible and certainly, it is in keeping with the central message of a pastor. The great apostle Paul said in the sixth chapter of the Book of Romans, reckon yourselves to be dead indeed unto all but alive unto God through Jesus Christ.

"Alive unto God through Jesus Christ." This the ever-

Daysland and District News Items

Mrs. Anna Boggs attended the wedding of her grandson, Thomas Cottrell, only son of Dr. Jack and Hazel Cottrell of Mill Bay, B.C. to Miss Joanne Akkerson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Akkerson of Port Alberni, B.C. The wedding took place at Oak Ridge United Church in Victoria, B.C. on October 7.

Mrs. Boggs spent a week with her daughter Hazel and Dr. Cottrell and also visited her granddaughter, Mrs. Bonnie Klatt, in Victoria.

Miss Sylvia Koford RN of Calgary is spending the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Koford.

Mrs. Eleanor Davidson left Monday to visit her daughter Lorna and family for a month at Coquitlam, B.C.

The ladies at the morning coffee table in the Steak House had a come-and-go party there to say farewell to Mrs. Eleanor McMurchy. There were also two angel food cakes enjoyed with the coffee. A lovely vase was presented to Eleanor as a farewell gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim McMurchy and family have now been transferred to the Camrose Bank of Montreal and Mr. Stan Hobbs from Killam has been transferred to the Daysland Bank of Montreal.

Mrs. Lydia Wendt received word that her father was very sick in Vancouver, so she has gone out to visit him.

On October 13, there were 14 ladies gathered at Mrs. Jim Brown's to wish her a happy birthday. Bingo was played with Ethel Graham winning one blackout and Rose Makaraki winning the last one. A birthday cake was made by Margaret Schmidt and happy birthday was sung by all.

The Friendship Club held its meeting in the United Church Social Room October 17 with President Lydia Wendt opening with a welcome. The devotion was read by Mrs. Anna Boggs. There was a reading of the Old Bible and II Jesus Came to Your House. The hymn sung was What a Friend we have in Jesus. Anna Boggs also read a poem of Thanks for Thanksgiving.

The roll call was answered by 21 members. The minutes and treasurer's report were read and approved. The Bazaar was set for the next meeting, November 21. Devotion for November is Maxine Faye and lunch will be L. Wendt, E. With, A. Boggs, D. Tancy, M. Berry and H. Bromeling. The meeting adjourned. We then set tables and served a delicious Thanksgiving supper for members and invited guests which was enjoyed by all.

The Bonanza Club met in the Daysland Hall October 18 with 27 members present. There were five tables of whist and two played crib. High score went to Mrs. Miller with 44 and low went to Mrs. Viola Weller with a score of five. A vote was taken to lower the age for members to 50 years now.

A coffee party was held October 12 for Barbara Terway at her place when one of her girl friends called to help her celebrate her birthday.

A very enjoyable social evening was held in the Killam Elks Hall October 14 at the Solo Ladies Night Dance. There were about 70 who signed the guest book, but due to harvest time, there was a shortage of men.

Wednesday night, October 18, the Solo meeting was attended by nine members in Killam. The December Christmas dance and supper tickets are now on sale. The next dance will be in Killam November 11 with the Everett Mayne Orchestra.

The ladies at the morning coffee table in the Steak House had a come-and-go party there to say farewell to Mrs. Eleanor McMurchy. There were also two angel food cakes enjoyed with the coffee. A lovely vase was presented to Eleanor as a farewell gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim McMurchy and family have now been transferred to the Camrose Bank of Montreal and Mr. Stan Hobbs from Killam has been transferred to the Daysland Bank of Montreal.

Mrs. Lydia Wendt received word that her father was very sick in Vancouver, so she has gone out to visit him.

On October 13, there were 14 ladies gathered at Mrs. Jim Brown's to wish her a happy birthday. Bingo was played with Ethel Graham winning one blackout and Rose Makaraki winning the last one. A birthday cake was made by Margaret Schmidt and happy birthday was sung by all.

The Friendship Club held its meeting in the United Church Social Room October 17 with President Lydia Wendt opening with a welcome. The devotion was read by Mrs. Anna Boggs. There was a reading of the Old Bible and II Jesus Came to Your House. The hymn sung was What a Friend we have in Jesus. Anna Boggs also read a poem of Thanks for Thanksgiving.

The roll call was answered by 21 members. The minutes and treasurer's report were read and approved. The Bazaar was set for the next meeting, November 21. Devotion for November is Maxine Faye and lunch will be L. Wendt, E. With, A. Boggs, D. Tancy, M. Berry and H. Bromeling. The meeting adjourned. We then set tables and served a delicious Thanksgiving supper for members and invited guests which was enjoyed by all.

Galahad District News Items

It's that time of year again when our primitive instincts take over and he tries to out smart the crutches of the wild to fill his larder for the winter season.

Six of Galahad's stalwart hunters spent a week this weekend on a hunt for moose.

Scotty Blomhagen, Milt Williams and Lynn Ponto also took to the wilds, but their moose call must have been more effective as they returned with no Friday afternoon. They were on their way to visit other members of the Campbell family at Rosalind.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Sleep of Fleet were guests at Mrs. Carie Jackson's on Sunday. Herschel and Marg, Stan and Faye were also there to visit their sister Goldie and husband.

Mr. Hugh Bowmen and Carrie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bowmen to Sedgewick on Monday, where they attended the funeral of Mr. Bob Muirhead.

Mrs. and Mrs. Emil Dux (nee Verma Shogren) stopped in for coffee with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schlatt one day last week. They also visited the Ernie Coopers and Bob Cooper in the Galahad Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schlatt were in Stettler and Calgary for a few days. They helped the Orville Wiemanns move from water in this area. His desire is to get a good clear picture of them.

Curt and Henry Lyne re returned recently from a holiday spent in Norway.

We were sorry to learn that Mr. and Mrs. August Hengel of Nanaimo, former residents of Galahad, were bereaved when their grandson was killed in the area north of Norman Wells, apparently by a bear.

The terrain yielded nothing but spruce trees and Jackfish with many a mouse in sight.

Miss Alice Campbell of Vancouver and Rhonda Schindler of Lethbridge were visitors at the Pete Willis' home on Friday afternoon. They were on their way to visit other members of the Campbell family at Rosalind.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Miller and sons were Galahad visitors on October 11 to surprise Mrs. Ruby Miller on her birthday.

Mrs. Dwayne Whitney of Benalto spent the day with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Wise, on Friday.

The Galahad and District Lions met in the York Cafe on Wednesday, October 18.

President Lion Herb Dietz opened the meeting. The minutes were read and approved.

Plans for a Halloween Masquerade Dine and Dance were made, to take place in the Hall on Saturday, October 28. Plans are slowly being made for the Winter Works Program.

Miss Bonnie Ferguson and a friend of Rimbey are guests of her mother's this weekend.

Sprouted and Moldy Feed Useable

Although the quality of a large portion of Alberta's grain and hay crops has deteriorated badly, in most cases such crops can still be used for livestock if feeding is controlled and supplemental feed is used when required.

Ruth Berg, animal nutritionist with Alberta Agriculture, says the inclusion of sprouted or moldy feed in livestock rations should always be done gradually to avoid digestive upsets and other possible problems. Also, the animal should be watched carefully during the transition from a normal ration.

Ms. Berg points out that sprouted grain is safe to feed, but that it will probably have a lower than normal bushel weight, which means that the digestible energy content will be lower than normal also. Consequently, the amount of grain fed will have to be increased to ensure that the animals are getting the required amount of digestible energy.

"Moldy feed," says Ms. Berg, "should be introduced into livestock rations slowly and the animals should always be watched carefully for possible adverse effects. These can include reduced production, reduced feed intake and sickness."

Although most molds are harmless to livestock, there are some risks involved. As a general rule, sheep are more susceptible to molds than cattle. Pigs are rarely affected by molds, but moldy grain or roughage should never be fed to horses because they may cause a condition known as "heaves."

Moldy sweetclover hay or silage should never be fed to any livestock. Even when spoilage appears to be minimal, moldy sweetclover hay or silage may contain dicoumarol. Since dicoumarol can prevent blood clotting, an animal on such feed could bleed to death from a minor injury or from spontaneous internal bleeding.

Although the use of moldy feeds has been associated with premature births and resorptions, Ms. Berg believes these problems may be caused by malnutrition resulting from the use of feeds that are low in digestible nutrients, as well as from the effect of the mold.

Since there are still no satisfactory methods of analyzing feed for the presence of toxic molds, any production problem or fatality suspected of being associated with moldy feed should be discussed with a veterinarian.

Because moldy feeds are often dusty and unpalatable, animals may take a few days to get used to them, and even then they may not eat enough to meet their requirements. Also, some of the available energy and protein in the feed may have been used for the growth of the mold, thereby leaving the feed with insufficient nutrients to meet the animals' requirements.

For these reasons, Ms. Berg stresses that good quality feed should always be added to a ration containing moldy feed.

Killam man weds during summer

Gladiolus and lilies decorated St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Killam on August 5, when marriage vows were exchanged between Agatha Golewicz and Craig Grant.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Verna Golewicz of Pierceland, Saskatchewan. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Grant of Killam.

Father Peres performed the double ring ceremony assisted by Rev. Don Carson of the Presbyterian Church.

The bride looked radiant in a pleated chiffon gown complemented with lace inserts on the bodice. Her matching head piece held a lace veil and she carried a bouquet of red roses. Her jewellery was a diamond necklace, gift of the groom.

The groom wore a white tuxedo and a red rose boutonniere.

Marilyn and Brian MacPhail, friends of the bride and groom from Calgary, were the couple's only attendants. Marilyn wore a princess style, white lace gown and matching picture hat. She carried a bouquet of white and red roses. Brian wore a white tuxedo.

During the signing of the register, Loretta Golewicz, sister of the bride, sang "Wedding Song" accompanied on the organ by Debbie Gocher from Goodenot, Saskatchewan.

The bride's mother wore a beige, floor-length gown with a corsage of yellow roses.

The groom's mother wore a blue, pleated chiffon gown with a corsage of red roses.

Ushers were Wayne Grant of Killam, brother of the groom, and Leonard Neidermeyer of Pierceland, brother-in-law of the bride.

A reception was held in the Legion Hall for the immediate families, served by the Presbyterian Ladies' Association. The hall was tastefully decorated with red and white streamers and red roses. The bridal table was centered by a two-tier wedding cake decorated with red roses and lilies.

Toast to the bride was given by Barb Clements, cousin of the bride from Lethbridge, to which the groom is responding.

Master of ceremonies was Ken Mallett, cousin of the groom from Calgary.

Mom Golewicz, sister of the bride, attended the guest book.

Open House and dance was held in the Legion Hall, to which a large crowd attended.

Many friends and relatives attended from points in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Craig and Agatha left for a honeymoon to Penticton, Vancouver and Victoria, B.C. For going away, the bride wore a red figured sundress and a corsage of white and red roses. The groom wore a grey suit and boutonniere.

They are now making their new home in Killam, where the groom is farming.

People in Profile

Originally from Yorkton, Saskatchewan, District Agriculture Extension Officer Glen Werner has been in the County of Flagstaff since May, 1973. His territory covers 10 towns and villages and slightly under 1,200 farms. "It's a fulltime job," Glen says, "even though I wish I had the time to farm myself."

Glen looks at his work in the community as a "liaison" between the government and farmers — and vice versa. He communicates to farmers what is new and valid in the industry today, and he provides the government with the all-important feedback from farmers.

Glen works with the people of the community on a single or group basis. He's rather flexible — farmers can come to him at his office in the County building, or he'll go to them. But he prefers the "personal contact right in the field."

On a group basis, Glen explains, he is involved in courses on subjects relevant to today's agriculture industry, or on any other subjects for which farmers express an interest.

Working on a single basis with a farmer involves meeting his requirements "one-to-one." This week, for example, Glen was involved in sub-soiling on a district farm.

For the past half-year, Glen has had the services of Dave Platt, a D.A. who has been completing his training under Glen's guidance. Both men hold four-year degrees in agriculture, however; you have to "apprentice" for eight to 10 months before given the responsibility of your own district, explains Glen. The same rule holds true for District Home Economist, Flagstaff's D.H.E. presently is Diane Bourne, who also holds a four-year degree in her field. Although Glen has had the opportunity of working with two trainees in the past couple of years, there is no guarantee that he'll have one every year.

So far, Flagstaff has been a "one D.A. district." There are approximately 110 districts in Alberta and between 60 to 70 D.A.'s employed to serve them. Employed by the Alberta Agriculture Extension Division, Glen stresses that all services provided to the community are "100 per cent free, as long as you're a taxpayer." The county does not provide any funding for D.A.'s or D.H.E.'s, it all comes from the provincial government.

"Every farmer has the right to expect me to respond to him. He can't expect I'll always be able to solve his problem," Glen says, but if he doesn't know the answer off the top of his head, he'll be sure to try and find one.

An extensive reference file is the first place he'll look, and if an adequate answer can't be found there he'll search it out through a research station or the university. "If there's no answer to the question at first," says Glen, "given time, I can get the answer."

"We're quite a doorway to a lot of information," he adds, and most farmers usually come back once they've contacted the office for the first time.

There are a lot of farmers in the area who don't make use of the services offered by a D.A., says Glen, simply because they aren't aware of what's offered. These services include conducting applied research.

"Farming is a highly technical, complex business," explains Glen. An example of applied research or technology with which Glen can lend a hand is for soil problems. Research has found what works best in this area, which is made up of "dark brown and thin black" soil types. "We're taking what has theoretically checked out and applying it," he explains. It not only shows farmers new methods used in agriculture, but hopefully solves some problems as well.

Sedgewick couple takes vows

A lovely summer wedding took place August 12, 1978, in the Sedgewick United Church when Laurie Gay Harris and Brian Foster were united in a double ring ceremony by the Rev. Bob Chappell. The church was decorated with bouquets of gladioli and white candelabras. Laurie entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of the Wedding March and looked radiant in a beautiful summer gown of white organza and lace, complemented by a matching hat. Her only jewellery was a gold necklace, gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Brian and his groomsmen, Pat Schlosser, Lionel Peterson and Don Douglas were similarly attired in grey suits with black trim and ruffled shirts. The bride's attendants, Kelly Weiland, Debbie Gale and Debbie Huchak, wore identical gowns of grey and coral-flowered jersey with matching jackets. They all carried coral carnations. The ushers were Ken Harris, brother of the bride, and Dale Fossen, cousin of the groom.

The bride's mother chose an ivory Indian cotton, complemented by a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother wore a coral jersey dress and corsage of yellow roses.

During the ceremony, Linda Hebert sang two songs accompanied by Orville Limeska, the organist. After the ceremony, the bridal party formed a receiving line outside the church and welcomed all their guests. A reception, open house and dance took place in the evening in the Sedgewick Community Hall.

Out-of-town guests came from several parts of the province.

On Sunday, open house was held at the home of the bride's parents for gift opening. Laurie and Brian will be making their home on the farm north of Sedgewick.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Harris and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Porter.

Agriculture Canada: Meat inspection thorough

When Alberta consumers buy meat, they do so with the assurance that they are getting a clean, wholesome food product.

In a large part, this confidence in meat supplies is the result of Agriculture Canada's meat inspection program. The federal agriculture department inspects more than 85 per cent of all the meat eaten in Canada and sets the standards which meat-packing plants must meet in order to export their products or ship them between provinces. It also checks meat and meat products being imported into Canada from other countries.

Last year, Agriculture Canada inspected more than one billion pounds of meat in Alberta.

And to make sure that consumers in Alberta and other provinces are getting safe and wholesome meats, the department's inspectors sampled meat from across the country and tested it for various contaminants. The results show Canadian meat continues to meet high standards for food safety.

More than 4,000 samples were tested for residues of antibiotic drugs used to treat cattle and hogs. Only about 0.12 per cent of the samples had even a trace of such drugs. The samples were taken at packing plants and the department's veterinarians say these traces would likely be reduced to undetectable levels by the time the meat reached retail stores. But even though none of the samples tested gave cause for

At the Legion Hut on Wednesday afternoon six tables of senior citizens enjoyed their usual card party. Mr. Art Palla and Mrs. Rose Palla won prizes for the highest scores while consolation awards were received by Mrs. Harriet Wilson and Mr. Harry Potage.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walsh were in Edmonton on Saturday. As I am entering the Royal Alexandra Hospital this week, please leave your news with Donna Maria at 384-5844, or take it directly to the Community Press. Hopefully, I'll only be away a few days and be back on the job soon.

The sympathy of the community is expressed to Dr. Meier and his family on the death of Dr. Meier's father last week. Mr. Ted Lister was a visitor last week with his sister, Mrs. Mary Green of St. Paul.

Mr. Ben Chapman of Sydney, Australia, who has spent the past six months at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lundy on an agricultural exchange, has now left to spend six months on a farm in Sweden. Thereafter, he will return to his home in Australia.

Mr. Ted Lister, Mrs. Thelma Tanton and Mrs. Doreen Conrad have achieved their gold, silver and bronze medals for "stamping" around Alberta. Congratulations to the three happy travellers.

Mr. and Mrs. David Schlosser and Catherine of Vegreville spent the weekend at the home of Cathy's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Richard Conrad.

Don't forget to dress the kids in their spiciest Halloween costumes and take them to the Halloween Party, to be held at the Anglican Parish Hall on Saturday, October 28 between 2 and 4 p.m. Bring along something for lunch and have a great time. Everyone welcome.

SEDGEWICK TUNING HIGH

We've had a pretty exciting week here at Sedgewick Junior High. On Thursday afternoon, the Grade 6 and 8 classes went swimming for an hour. On Friday at 11 a.m., the Grade 6 students left for Hardisty on a field-trip for Environmental Education. During the day they looked for different objects and food possibilities pertaining to their Wilderness Survival Course.

The cheerleaders looked pretty good in their new uniforms, but despite all their cheers, Sedgewick didn't manage to win its basketball games on Friday night. The girls' score was 20-1 for Hardisty and the boys' score was 26-18 in favour of Hardisty.

Alberta Agriculture Distribution

Crops grown in Alberta's six agricultural regions do not show any great diversity yet some areas have a natural advantage in producing certain crops.

Row crops for the canning and processing industries are almost entirely restricted to the southern region centred around Lethbridge. The availability of irrigation and the accumulation of heat units make it an ideal place for the production of sugar beets, corn, potatoes, fresh vegetables for processing, and field peas and beans.

Almost all Alberta's commercial production of these crops is in this region, as is the greenhouse production of vegetables. Despite this specialization, this area claims over one-third of the province's wheat acreage. In fact, in all but two of the province's six agricultural regions wheat is the major field crop.

In the south-central region near Calgary, wheat and beef account for the largest proportion of farm income. About one-quarter of the province's wheat acreage is in this area, and about one-fifth of all cattle. It is a significant poultry producing area as well.

Around Red Deer is the north-central region, grain production and some intensive mixed farming are found side by side with raising livestock and poultry, overwintered cattle, hogs and dairy cattle. About one-fifth of the province's barley, oats, tame hay and one-quarter of the cattle and hogs are raised there, along with about one-third of the province's dairy cattle. Milk processing is an important secondary industry.

In the northeast region surrounding Vermilion where the growing season is somewhat shorter than in the south, rye is an important crop with 30 per cent of the provincial total, as well as one-third of the oats. Oats tolerate a more acid soil than wheat, which is still the chief crop in number of acres. Mixed farming, ranching and raising forage crops are the predominant agricultural pursuits.

The northwest region is a major dairy production area. Barrhead, the centre, is within one hundred miles of Edmonton. One-third of the province's dairy cattle are found there, and not surprisingly, about 25 per cent of the tame hay acreage. The number of acres used to wheat is small; oats, barley and repeated are the predominant field crops.

Only a small portion of the vast Peace River district is cultivated. Mixed farming, cattle raising and forage crops are common. The main field crops are barley, perennial forages and repeated. Forty per cent of Alberta's repeated production is in the Peace. The area is also a Canadian centre for the production of forage seed, especially red clover, creeping red clover, bromegrass, alfalfa, and to a lesser extent, timothy. Beekeeping is an important activity. The long daylight hours characteristic of the region combined with the Alberta crop acreage make this the honey capital of Canada: almost 40 per cent of Alberta's honey comes from Alberta, most of it from the north-west.

Looking at farm income over time, farm cash receipts have risen, and a further increase can be expected in 1978.

Higher prices now being received for beef and hogs are expected to offset lower prices received on the international market for most grains and clover. Livestock cash receipts are increasing in importance and will likely exceed crop revenues this year. As the total number of farms is around 57,000, expected farm cash receipts for 1979 will average out to around $85,000 per farm. But expenses are high: operating costs and depreciation would take over half the income.

Historically, about half of Alberta's agriculture export earnings have come from the sale of wheat, barley, and repeated. Total agricultural exports for the province were $1.5 billion in 1978. Not all farm production is exported or even sold. Grain, particularly barley, may be sold locally on Monday, October 30. If anyone is interested in attending, give us a call. You are welcome to ride with us. We will leave at 8:30 a.m.

Maurice Kraut, who writes the market weekly, will discuss the various types of livestock marketing including the outlook for the next few months.

The Counties of Flagstaff, Paintearth and Stettler are combining to put together a West Coast Grain Handling and Marketing Tour. We will fly to Vancouver, visit several handling facilities, tour the railroad marshalling yards, tour some terminals, and have a side trip to Seattle to look at the USA system of handling grain.

The tour will be about four days in length and seems like a full schedule. However, free time will be provided and arrangements for an NHL hockey game and a seafood smorgasburg can also be made. Anyone wishing to stay a few extra days at their expense can do so. Places will not be the same, but reservation changes will have to be made.

The tour will be December 4 to 8. We will leave Edmonton International Airport on Monday and return on Friday. The cost of the tour will be about $280 per person. This includes everything except a few beverages and supper, and personal spending.

This year Mr. Kyrreman expects farmers will go full tilt when fields dry out and they can finally get back to full time harvest operations.

But, he says, fatigue and tension will probably exact a big toll during the next month. So, if you are interested in going, call me right away at 384-3737.

If wet weather stays with us, it may also be a good idea to do machinery repairs and maintenance in the yard rather

Breakdown of Albertan Farmers Income for 1978

Agriculture has been the mainstay of Alberta's economy since the turn of the century. While the number of people living on farms and earning their living directly from agricultural production has steadily decreased, the productivity of the individual farmer has risen. Today the Alberta farmer is able to produce enough to feed over 80 people.

Looking at farm income over time, farm cash receipts have risen, and a further increase can be expected in 1978.

WESTERN BRAIN TOLE

Ever wondered who it is that messes up the grain handling in the west coast? Is it the grain company, the railroad, the union, the weather, or the government? Why not find out for yourself by going to Vancouver and looking around.

Farm Accidents Expected to Increase

Compared to previous years this October promises to be a pretty bad month for farm accidents.

According to Solomon Kyrenman, co-ordinator of the Alberta Farm Safety Program, the reason for increased accidents will be the prolonged bad weather we had during September over the province.

With harvesting at a standstill in many areas, farm machinery was shut off and that eliminated the greatest cause of accidents during September. In past years 50 per cent of all farm accidents during the harvest season were machinery related.

This year Mr. Kyrenman expects farmers will go full tilt when fields dry out and they can finally get back to full time harvest operations.

But, he says, fatigue and tension will probably exact a big toll during the next month. So, if you are interested in going, call me right away at 384-3737.

If wet weather stays with us, it may also be a good idea to do machinery repairs and maintenance in the yard rather than in the field. This will prevent stress from breakdown times and save time as well as money since shop tools will be closer at hand.

Finally, during harvest season, be sure to watch out for kids. Every fall farm children become major accident victims when they are run over by trucks or bale wagons. Pay close attention to children - if they stay healthy, many of them may turn out to be the future farmers of Alberta.

To so many farmers. Working against time brings pressure. In past years 50 per cent of all farm accidents during the harvest season were machinery related.

The week of weeks

All Albertans have a role to play in agriculture, one of the most important elements of Alberta's economy. They're consumers and they may also be working members of the industry which provides two out of three jobs in the province.

About 500,000 Albertans are employed directly or indirectly in agriculture. Farms and ranches employ 100,000 people, and many more work in the long chain of industry carrying Alberta's food products from the farm gates to their final destination.

Much of Alberta's agricultural production is exported, (almost two billion dollars' worth last year) but the province produces a wide selection of foods for domestic consumption.

The processing of these foods keeps approximately 400 plants in business, and their employees on the job.

Wheat, for example, must be milled, baked, packaged and marketed before it reaches the dinner table as bread. Each step means jobs for Albertans.

The week of October 22 to 28 has been set aside, in recognition of the agriculture industry and its importance to every Albertan.

What Others Say

THE BEEF BOOM

The rise in beef prices has caused some speculation that in 1979 consumers could be paying $4.50 per pound for the best steaks. Now "ain't that too bad?" We presume that everyone will now feel that the cow calf man has struck the bonanza of all bonanzas and they will "have money in the bank and cattle on the range".

With a half century of association with cattlemen in this area, we know full well that it costs money to produce a critter, and all the requirements such as feed, machinery, fencing, lease rentals, ranch equipment, etc., are like the beef themselves "they have gone up".

We can recall when good beef was sold on the hoof at a cent and a half a pound, and we sort of relish the situation at hand, when many of those same one-and-a-half-cent stockmen are now "getting in their ticks" at the fall sales.

We have only one suggestion: "Clean up your plates and polish up the T-bone. It may become quite a conversation piece."

The Third Column

by Truncate

IN AN ANIMATED discussion recently with a retired lawyer who had spent many years in the profession and also as a judge, we got around to the wheezing and dozing item of capital punishment. When asked for his educated opinion on the subject, his reply was, "Hang the '64's and '61's". He is a dedicated member of those who consider that capital punishment should be re-instated in Canada. The way he replied with the emphasis on the last word led me to the opinion that he considered there were various degrees of murder, with some being more punishable than others. For instance, in the case of the old love triangle where heated emotions take over and spur-of-the-moment action is taken, the crime is less severe and less punishable than the idiot who holds up a business and starts shooting at the least provocation, or one who kills a policeman in a jealous attempt, or kills a prison guard in an escape attempt.

OUR LAWYER FRIEND, who listened to hundreds of cases which appeared before him, was involved in every kind of criminal and civil action, was of the considered opinion that judges and magistrates have become far too lenient with criminals, and thought that today mercy extends more towards the criminals than with those who suffer from the results of his actions. With his theory we categorically agree. To illustrate the point we tell the following story which indicates that today's attitudes are becoming a Grimm story of today's values:

ON THE BASIS of these considerations, it was decided that there was no valid basis for charges against the wolf. Moreover, the woodcutter was indicted for aggravated assault with a deadly weapon. Several nights later, the woodcutter's cottage was burned to the ground.

ONE YEAR FROM THE DATE of "The Incident at Grandma's," her cottage was made a shrine for the wolf who had died and died there. All village officials spoke at the dedication. But it was Red Ridy Hood who gave the most touching tribute. She said that she had been so selfishly grateful for the woodcutter's intervention, she realized in retrospect that he had overreacted.

AS SHE KNEELED and placed a wreath in honor of the brave wolf, there wasn't a dry eye in the whole forest.

It's amazing how in this country where we have every advantage to hear the gospel but few believe it - judgement awaits. We believe from studying God's word that this judgement is coming very soon in a very terrible time here on earth and our only salvation is by accepting Christ's death on the cross for ourselves.

Sedgewick man dies suddenly

Robert H. "Bob" Muirhead was born in Loughborough on September 13, 1921. He grew up on the farm south of Sedgewick and attended school at Fairbrove.

Bob enlisted in the army in June 1941. He married Jean Lowrey of Tofield and they lived on the home farm until he became involved in the pipeline business. They then moved into Sedgewick where he resided until his sudden death on October 12, 1978 in the University of Alberta Hospital in Edmonton.

He leaves to mourn his passing, his loving wife Jean, two sons John and Gordon, their wives Gail and Judy, two daughters Janet Jean and Donna.

four grandchildren, his mother, one brother, five sisters and numerous other relatives and friends. His father predeceased him in 1967.

All who knew Bob found him to be a very honest, friendly person, and he will be greatly missed by many, which was shown by the large crowd attending his funeral on Monday, October 15, 1978 from the United Church. Rev. R. Chappell officiated. The Royal Canadian Legion performed the graveside service. Piper Mr. J. Blake played the last post. The pallbearers were Tom Wilson, Eldon Ferrier, Doug Bury, Neilson Bergman, John Hopkins and Matt Kobier.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks and appreciation to our friends and neighbours for their many acts of kindness during our bereavement in the loss of our loving husband, father, son, grandfather, uncle and brother.

For the lovely floral tributes, cards, memorials, visits and notes of encouragement and sympathy. To the ladies who brought and served lunch after the service and to those who sent or brought food to our home.

Special thanks to Rev. R. Chappell for his fine message, to the choir, to the organist, Margaret Simpson, to the Royal Canadian Legion for the touching graveside service, to the piper, Mr. J. Blake, to the pallbearers and Fees Funeral Home.

We thank you all. Your kindness will always be remembered.

Seven Gretna members meet

This month's meeting was held at the home of Etta Huse October 11. Seven members and one visitor were in attendance. Mrs. Margaret O'Reilly was the visitor.

The secretary read the previous minutes and they were adopted as read. No business rose from the previous minutes. The treasurer gave a good report on the financial statement. The sick convener gave her report: she had sent two cards last month and we all signed two cards at the meeting. These cards were all sent to hospital patients.

Some of our face cloths were sold, also a box of assortment cards from our supply box.

A very touching letter was read from USC, pleading for clothes and donations for the children and adults of the far-eastern countries. We made a donation of $10.

The roll call was answered by bringing or talking about, "Your oldest dish or jewellery." Some of the ladies brought some very interesting items, many more than 100 years old, such as gold watches, Mother of Pearl heart necklaces, moustache cup and saucer of bone china, a beautiful pot for plants, green in colour and a stork mounted on it, an original Blue Willow platter and other antique dishes that were of little simply beautiful.

Our next meeting, roll call is "Go visit a shut-in or one who is in a hospital before the meeting." The meeting is to be at Helen O'Reilly's home. Helen O'Reilly and her husband, Mr. Helen O'Reilly, will be co-hostesses. We're all to wear a Halloween mask.

Christine read a little poem, "Which End to Use." Mary A. had a contest, "Articles to be found in the pantry," from old sayings. Helen S. was the winner and Margaret O'Reilly the loser. The hostess prize was won by Helen O'Reilly and the lucky tea cup by Marlene.

You can help keep electricity costs in line.

We don't like rising energy costs any more than you do. But the costs of building and operating additional facilities are escalating, and we must use Alberta's non-renewable resources to generate your electricity.

The more you do to manage energy at home, the more you can save on your electricity bill now—and help to keep future cost increases to a manageable level.

There are many things you can do to keep these costs in line, yet still enjoy a good lifestyle.

Good energy management can be as simple as:

- using a timer for your block heater
- using your frypan as a "mini-oven" for small amounts of cooking.
- Generally, small appliances such as broiler ovens, crockpots and toasters use less electricity than your range.

Remember — use what you need — but need what you use!

Conserve. It's worth the energy!

Dear Sir:

Some of your readers will be undoubtedly interested to know that the Dayland Badminton Club has now opened its eighth season.

The club meets each Wednesday in the Dayland School gym at 7:30 p.m. and draws members from all the surrounding towns.

Ability of members ranges from beginner to expert so no one should not feel at ease.

and does he have any effect on our lives.

One thing she says is that some men wrote about God and called it the bible, but we live the bible is God writing about himself. No human being or group of human beings could possibly have written the bible with its wisdom and guidelines spelled out for us to live by and especially its prophecy. There is prophecy throughout the bible and it has never been wrong. Only God could have written the bible.

Lynne asks the question, Why doesn't God look after us better when we see suffering all around us, in the Jews? By asking questions like this we are throwing the onus on God to do what we think he should, when in reality God has already done his part. God has set his standards for us to live up to (in the bible) and when we go on our own selfish way, God has no choice but to punish us, he the Jews rejected his son. "He not deceived, God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man sows, that shall he also reap." (Galatians 6:7)

Does God care? (Isaiah 41:10) God says, "Fear thou not: for I am with thee: he that despises me, I will strengthen him; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of righteousness." So we see God says he will help us and strengthen us but many things happen that we don't understand. The bible says God is eternal, omnipotent, omniscient, omnipresent. I'm thankful that we finite humans have a God we can't understand or he wouldn't be God. One thing

THE MUMAL MAIL BOX
I went for our mail just this noon hour and when I came upon our mail box I was just furious - perhaps I should capitalize a bit to emphasize my anger - FURIOUS.

Our mail box had been destroyed by vandals. Perhaps they were teenagers, or perhaps they were grown men who should have known better. The box had been painted by my daughter a number of years ago, a nice navy blue, and on the side of it she had printed in white paint with a rather unsteady hand -

D.E. Forster

Douglas Shirley

Dennell & Stuart

It, no doubt, stood out from its neighbour - the mail box of Kenory Frederick - and this was the reason it was fired upon.

Our's had originally belonged to my husband's father and his (Dad Forster's) initials on it, the postie asked us to change the initials, so we did that, but in doing this our girl felt the need to be a little creative. Creativity with a difference can sometimes cost.

One before, the box was unhinged from its post and somehow or another was thrown on Highway 96. As luck would have it, it was right on our pathway coming home from town one evening. So, we placed it back again, this time on a firmer post.

It's not as if the vandals had simply shot a hole or two into the box - that, I think, I could forgive. There are huge holes in the door and on the two elongated sides. Ragged, ugly holes made by a shotgun. There's not much left of our mailbox.

I don't know just how much a new box is worth. Very likely, it will be more than $50. I had kind of sentimental attachment to "Old Blue."

This is a federal offense though, and people are fined for it if caught. Wish I knew just where to begin! I know we aren't the first to have this kind of thing happen, but I do believe it should be brought to the attention of the public. If you see or hear vandals firing at mail boxes, report them, because this kind of destruction we don't need.

Police Brutality?

The following article came from the Maple Creek News. It has been making the rounds for some time now and possibly it has been printed in previous issues of the Brooks Bulletin; however the message bears repeating. It is entitled Police Brutality.

One of the most common phrases heard in our society and city today is "police brutality".

Perhaps I don't understand the meaning but I would like to give you one mother's point of view on the subject.

To begin, I should first tell you that I have two teenage sons, and being a Mother I cannot help but want the best of everything for them. I am a "Typical mother" in that I don't want to see them hurt by anyone. I am not a typical mother in that I don't want to see things many mothers never hear of, much less become involved in, because my husband is a minister and we see the very best and worst of it.

I would like for you to be brutal with my sons. Is that a surprise. If you find them speeding in cars please be brutal. I have sat at a hospital holding a grieving mother's hand because of someone's mistake. That was brutal.

I have gone with my husband to tell a wife her husband was killed. That was brutal. I have helped nurse a beautiful teenage girl crippled in a wreck. That was brutal. I have played organ music at funeral services for babies teenagers and adults because someone drove too fast. That was brutal.

If you should catch my husband with liquor in their possession, please be brutal.

I have sat all night by my husband's side trying to piece together two underaged young men's lives both broken by drinking. That was brutal. I have listened to the horrors experienced by another man while he was drunk and heard him recall the many jabs he had served time in for this. I have helped feed hungry children because a drunken father didn't come home. That was brutal. I have tried to console a mother whose daughter was killed after being struck by a drunk driver. That was brutal.

If you should find my sons with drugs in their possession, please be brutal.

I have tried to rehabilitate a woman just out of prison for shooting her husband while she was drugged. That was brutal. I have seen a handsome young man turn into an ugly one because of drugs. That was brutal. I have seen a young mother who was addicted to a drug express and rave for lack of a "fix". That was brutal.

If you find my sons committing any kind of immoral act or carrying any paraphernalia materials, please be brutal. I have listened to the sad cry of a young girl who was pregnant but not married. That was brutal.

If police ever see persons doing something that isn't thoroughly in the interest of the society, please be brutal. I have walked into a hushed sacred church that was stripped of everything that could be sold. That was brutal. I have seen lovely expensive homes and yards completely torn up by vandals. That was brutal. I have seen schools and its marvelous equipment torn apart by young vandals. That was brutal. I have wiped a little boy's tears and helped him hunt for his stolen bicycle. That was brutal.

If you should ever catch my sons doing something illegal, but in case they forget, we look to you and others who influence, coaches, etc. to see that they remember.

I do not want my two sons to grow into two grown-up boys. I want them to become men, able to assume their places in this world and make good contributions to it. I sincerely hope they won't need your help; and if you must, be brutal. A concerned Mother.

Agriculture Week
October 22-28

THE BUSINESS OF FARMING

Farmers are fond of saying "farming's not a job, it's a way of life." Don't let them kid you. Farming can be just plain hard work — to the daylawn who rises at dawn for milking, to the grain grower driving a combine nearly around the clock at harvest — but most of all it's a business, with all the responsibilities and demands of any business. How good are farmers at this business? Let the statistics tell you — in 1977 the sale of agricultural products turned over a cool $1.3 billion.

THE SCIENCE OF FOOD PRODUCTION

Today's farmer inherits the down-to-earth experience of generations, but he also teams modern science and technology to produce a bounty of quality foods in our short growing season. There's nothing ruled-thumb or word-of-mouth about Alberta's agricultural expertise — or about the federal, provincial and university research institutes which year-round provide our food producers with the most important farm tool — knowledge.

THE CORNERSTONE OF THE ECONOMY

Of course, being part of Canada's broad-based, Alberta has always exported wheat and other grains, but this year beef and hog exports may earn more for Alberta than grain. About a fifth of Alberta's total earnings come from agriculture, and the business of processing agricultural products into food and beverages employs more Albertans than any other manufacturing industry. Farming, our foremost renewable resource, is a study base for the Alberta economy.

KALEIDOSCOPE

by House-News, 1978

AGRICULTURE: OUR RENEWABLE RESOURCE

The week of October 22 to 28 has been designated Agriculture Week. It's a time to reflect on what agriculture means to Albertans. Agriculture is:

* FOOD ON THE TABLE: You may think wheat when you think Alberta, and it's true that your crusty roll or stack of pan-cakes started life in a wheat field. But Alberta farmers also raise barley for your brew, cattle for your hamburger, crisp garden vegetables for your salad, cheese for your pizza. Our farmers grow enough to feed themselves and 67 other people.

* JOBS: Plant breeders, machinery operators, grocery store clerks, dairymen - skilled, unskilled, professional, technical. Agriculture is a good employer, and a major one. Almost half the province's labour force works directly or indirectly in agriculture. Unemployed farm workers or agriculturalists are as scarce as prairie coyotes.

* THE ECONOMY: Agriculture is a constant business - no fads, no hype, no stockpiles of unwanted goods. Supplies and prices rise and fall, but you can bank on crops being sown and harvested every year. Dozens of service industries depend on the constancy of farming in their marketing of fertilizers and chemicals, farm equipment, transportation, processing and consumer goods. Restaurants, for instance, they're eager to prepare only the best for your plate and send you on your way smiling.

What's it to you? Something to savour. — Agriculture.

READ BOOK DEALS

Belonging to a book club can be a convenient way to enjoy reading your favourite novels or any other books. But before you join, read the introductory offer thoroughly. It'll probably sound very tempting, such as six books for $1. Some clubs send you a card every month promoting the book chosen for that month. If you don't want it, you have to send the card back to the company immediately so the book isn't sent. Also, be careful when thinking about starting a collection list. Find out how many volumes the collection, number of pages, and authors. Only if you're cautious can a book club introduce you to a world of great reading. (Source: Summer 1978 issue of Everybody's Money.)

HOME ECONOMIST

As of October 27, I have been granted a six-month leave of absence from the department. During these six months I will be in New Zealand with the International Agriculture Exchange Association working on a sheep farm.

The department has hired Marilyn Mathieson to take my place while I'm away. Marilyn is a graduate from the University of Saskatchewan and a District Home Economist with Barbara Green in Camrose.

Marilyn is an excellent home economist, and I hope you will call on her.

See you next May. Have a happy and safe winter!

Edmonton were A. Nebouk, O. Nebouk and C. Nebouk.

Frank Baska of Hardisty visited with Mrs. Irene Baska. Also in to see her were Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Baska and family from Provost.

Carl Farvolden of Forestburg visited with M. Farvolden and Mr. Saur.

Mrs. Seward enjoyed visiting with Jean Cathart of Edmonton and Miss Curtis of Strome.

David and Ida Black, Mrs. J. Sidel with her son and daughter visited Grandma Black.

K. Krausert, Ellen Myer and Marie Myer visited with Fred Krausert. Also in to visit him were Marg and Ken Loesch.

Mr. Solbak had as his visitors his family, George and Hilda Camrose, of Puchaki, B.C. and Thelma and Curly of Amisk.

Lottie Kells enjoyed her visit with daughter, Vivian Hampshire.

Happy birthday to Mrs. Black, Mrs. Wensink, Mr. Pitts and Mr. Heron.

Albert and Gladys Lyall of R.R. 1, Kelowna, B.C. visited with Peter Lyall.

Bill and Marlene Mundle of Red Deer visited Mr. J.C. Mundle.

Mrs. Somers enjoyed her visit with her daughter, Belle Cranston.

Mrs. L. Howes visited her mother, Mrs. Agda Lund.

Jerry Richardson had many visitors to see him: son Darrell and wife from Surrey, B.C. Pat Morgan, Deanna, Chad and Scott of Sherwood Park; Betty and Bill Rahe of Edmonton; daughter Kay Hart of Vermilion; wife Amelia Richardson from the Lodge in Sedgewick; son Greg Richardson and family of Edmonton; son Gary Richardson and wife of Watson Lake, Yukon; also Jean and Bruce and Trevor of Watson Lake.

Ann Oberg visited with Mrs. Bink and Hogan Saur. Also visiting with Mrs. Bink were Jane Robertson of Calgary and Donna Oberg from Forestburg.

Mrs. Jean Barry enjoyed her visit with Marg and Michael Bell of Edmonton.

Locals help in big fish... story?

To add to the story of the big fish at Namier Lake we caught, we offer this picture as proof. Back row, left to right, Leon Ramstad, Al Wright and Denis Cameau. Middle Row, Bob Commins, Tom Brown and Glen Roggensack, holding Bob Whitecotton's 23 lb. 11 oz. fish, and James McClements holding his 20 pounder. Front row, Murray Whitecotton, Ron Tanton and Kerry Wright. In the background is a string of fish weighing from 17.5 to 11.5 lbs. Missing from the picture is Bob Whitecotton, who was resting after a terrific battle with his fish, and we were on the end of the camera. Bob Commins took a group of three up via his aircraft as did Ron Tanton from Sedgewick. The remainder went by van to Ft. McMurray, and from there flown in to the lake by Contact Air in their float plane.

AGRICULTURE FROM MY VIEWPOINT

BY MARVIN E. MOORE, MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE

Last week I wrote a column about the Prairie Agricultural Machinery Institute (PAMI) and its relationship to the ongoing emphasis on research and development (R&D) in Alberta's agriculture industry.

This column came about because I attended the opening of a new PAMI testing facility in Lethbridge in late September. Just three days after that inaugural ceremony I attended another official opening, for a discipline far removed from machinery testing, but still in the same sphere of agricultural R&D.

The new building was opened in Saskatoon, and the organization was the Veterinary Infectious Disease Organization, VIDO for short. VIDO is an infant organization of scientists and researchers whose main task is to solve or provide effective solutions for some of the more common, costly and lethal diseases affecting livestock operations across the Prairies.

For the most part the time and money spent on large-animal diseases in Canada has been limited to the diagnosis, control and research of exotic diseases. These include foot and mouth disease and blue tongue and diseases affecting human health such as tuberculosis and brucellosis. This research is important, but because of its limitations, diseases like shipping fever, worms, neonatal diarrhea (scours) and pneumonia have not been given enough attention. In the end the cost has been high to livestock producers and consumers alike.

Therefore, a need has existed for a major research facility for the common infectious diseases, the everyday ones that cause our livestock industry the most in lost production. VIDO answers that need.

Begun in late 1975, VIDO is the first co-operative venture of its kind between the private sector and provincial governments. Moving from temporary facilities on the University of Saskatchewan campus, the 17-man VIDO staff now occupies a new $4.4 million research centre (approximately $1.8 million from Alberta) that is jointly funded by the Devonian Foundation of Calgary and the provincial governments of Alberta and Saskatchewan. The University of Saskatchewan contributed the land site and basic services.

The centre will provide top-notch facilities such as isolation enclosures for diseased animals which will help researchers find solutions to the mentioned diseases. In fact VIDO has made finding a cure for scours its number one priority.

Finding solutions to problems such as scours or shipping fever is not a short-term project. In many ways VIDO is starting from scratch. Primary background data such as the actual cost of animal disease in Canada, or indeed the world, is approximate at best.

Therefore, one of the first goals of VIDO will be to gather statistical information on animal disease. This will allow stock growers and veterinarians to judge the cost/benefit ratio of the treatments and management practices which are now used in disease control. In turn this research will, we hope, help producers obtain maximum production efficiency and reduce their cost per animal from infectious diseases.

Many areas of disease control, whether through drugs or simple herd management practices, will be investigated. For instance, a vaccine made from a part of the bacteria called 'E coli' has already entered preliminary field tests and given positive results. Development of the vaccine to a commercial stage is expected to take about two years, and when available will be a great aid to livestock producers in controlling scours.

We started small, our service made us big.

When Credit Unions first started, they were small groups of people with very little money. But they had a strong desire to help each other, and a firm resolve to manage their own affairs.

The small groups have now grown to seven million people; with assets totalling more than 21 billion dollars. Today, the Credit Union is one of Canada's largest and most dynamic financial institutions, offering full financial service.

Savings, loans, term deposits, RRSP's and RHOSP's are all available at most Credit Unions. Other services include safety deposit boxes, travellers' cheques, money orders and utility bill payments.

Right now, our larger Credit Unions are setting up automatic tellers to serve you "after hours." And many Credit Unions have "drive-in tellers" where you can make deposits or withdrawals without getting out of your car.

Credit Unions today are big businesses. That's what happens when you put people — and service first. To get the kind of service we're so big on, just open an account at any Credit Union.

*Some services are not available at all Credit Unions.
